Why, then, did he make such a bid? For this reason—he reckoned from his own skimpy defensive values that they probably could make 4-Hearts and would double him if after that bid he called 4-Spades.

He felt certain, however, that a show of strength by that prompt jump to game would make them think he could fulfill that contract and that the bid therefore would tempt them to sacrifice with an overbid of 5-Hearts. That is exactly what happened. They fell for the bait, and were set a trick, giving Mr. Ellis the best North-South score made on that tournament deal.

Tomorrow's Problem

(Dealer: South. Neither side vulnerable.)

How should South play for 3 Spades after West leads the singleton of his partner's bid diamonds?

6—In Memoriams

EVANS—In loving memory of Llewellyn Evans, A.B. R.C.N. and all shipmates of the St. Croix, lost September 20, 1943.
Somewhere back of the sunset
Where loveliness never dies
He dwells in the land of glory
Mid the blue and gold of the sky.
—Always remembered by dad, brothers and sisters.

FOSTER—In loving memory of our dear mother, who passed away September 19, 1946.
The midnight stars are falling
Upon her silent grave
Beneath it sleeps the one I love
And the one I could not save.
—Sadly missed by daughter (Thelma), Mrs. W. F. Wilson and family

FOSTER—In loving memory of a dear wife, Mrs. John Foster, who passed away September 19, 1946.
Her weary hours and days of pain,
Her troubled nights are past,
And in my aching heart I know
She has found sweet rest at last.
—Sadly missed and ever remembered by her husband.

PAUDASH—In loving memory of Flight Sgt. Elmer Paudash, reported missing September 21, 1942, later presumed dead.
There's a sad but sweet remembrance,
There's a memory fond and true
There's a token of our love, dear Elmer
And a heartache still for you.
—Ever remembered by mom, dad, sister and brothers.

ROWLAND—Sacred to the memory of our dear little Phyllis, who left us nine years ago yesterday, aged 1. years.
Dear God —
Hold your loving arms around her
And keep her in your care.
—Forever in our thoughts, mother and family.
Goodnight dear Phyllis, good night.
—Love always mother.

Obituary

HENRY HARRY JOHNSON

Henry Harry Johnson, 71, of 978 Monaghan Rd., died today in a Kingston hospital following a long illness. He was born in Nottingham, England, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Harry Johnson, and had lived in the city for the past 29 years.

He leaves one daughter, Mrs. C. Moore (Theodora) and six son, Raymond, Alfred, Lawrence, Fred and Cecil, all of Peterborough and Douglas of Hamilton. A brother Lawrence lives in Windsor. His wife, the former Harriet Crowe, predeceased him.

Mr. Johnson was a butcher by trade and was an adherent of the Anglican faith. He was a veteran of World War 1 and a member of Branch 52 of the Canadian Legion.

Funeral service will be held on Wednesday at 2 p.m. at the Comstock Funeral Home. The Rev. W. J. Gilling of St. Luke's Anglican Church will official and burial will be at Little Lake Cemetery.

Mangrum To Play

VANCOUVER, Sept. 20—(CP)—The prestige of the Canadian open golf championship, with particular attention to healthy bank accounts, was emphasized today with annouucement that Lloyd Mangrum will be on the job Wednesday. Mangrum at the moment is top money man on the North American pro circuit. Entry of the Chicago Tam o'Shanter pro sent the total field to 138 and provided him with an opportunity to add $2,000 first-prize money to his 1948 collections.

Pitches A No-Hitter

Rouyn, Que., Sept. 20 (CP)—Left-handed Arnold Cooper Sunday pitched a seven-inning no-hit, no-run game when Kirkland Lake Greyhounds shackled a team of all-stars from the Northwestern Baseball League in the last half of a doubleheader.

Kirkland Lake took both ends of the doubleheader, 5-4 and 5-0.

In the second game Cooper allowed only three men to reach first and one as far as second. He struck out eight.

Reception Given For Dr. Smart

A reception for the Rev. Dr. J. D. Smart of Philadelphia, followed the evening service at St. Paul's Presbyterian church Sunday. The event was arranged so that members could renew friendship with the former pastor who left this city four years ago. Mr. Jas. Anderson of the Men's Association was in charge. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Herb Hewitt and served by the Married Couples' Club.

Dr. Smart made a short address which was of particular interest to parents of young children. He outlined the new curriculum for Sunday schools just introduced in the United States, of which he has charge. By this system each child is given a set of books for the year, each quarterly text book being well written and illustrated. There is also a "Parent Magazine" with different issues for the various age groups.

The speaker was much pleased with the response of parents, 500,000 subscriptions having been entered immediately the system was announced. He pointed out that it has been found that 95 per cent of parents in Protestant churches are not giving religious teaching in the home.

The Rev. C. G. Boyd spoke briefly, paying tribute to Dr. Smart. He expressed much pleasure at the encouraging re-opening services.

Tribute to the friends of Murray St. Baptist church was made by Mr. James Dutton, also mentioning the close fellowship between the Rev. Ivan Morgan and the Rev. C. G. Boyd. He reviewed the renovating program carried out this year and asked all members to attend the congregational meeting being held Wednesday evening, September 29.

Dr. C. M. Lawrence was chairman for the evening.

4 Minor Cases Heard In City Court

There were three minor liquor cases and one disturbance charge disposed of in police court today.

J. R. Robertson, Lakefield, was find $10 and $2.50 costs for being drunk in public.

Roderick Mathers, 469 Albert St., was fined $15 and $2.50 costs for illegal possession of liquor. Thomas Midland, 115 Hilliard St., was fined $10 and $2.50 costs for being drunk in public.

Reginald Moore, Howden Ave., was fined $7.50 and $2.50 costs for creating a disturbance in a George St. restaurant.

Mrs. Douglas Stocker Buried At Marmora

MARMORA, Sept. 20.—(ENS).—St. Paul's church, Marmora, was filled to capacity Saturday afternoon for the funeral of Mrs. Douglas (Betty) Stocker, whose death occurred under tragic circumstances on Thursday afternoon. The choir, of which she was a member a few years ago, was well represented and led in the singing of two hymns, "There Is No Night in Heaven" and "Abide With Me." The rector, Rural Dean J. M. Brownlie, officiated. Burial took place in Marmora Protestant cemetery.

Pallbearers were Basil McTaggart, Everett Barrons, Clayton Bedore, Robert Gray, Guy Robson and Thomas Ross.

Mrs. Stocker, who was born inn Marmora township, was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bailey. She is survived by her husband and parents, four brothers, Douglas, Robert, Charles and Allan Bailey and one sister, Anne.

Emil Ludwig Biographer Dies Suddenly

ASCONA, Switzerland, Sept. 20. (AP).—Emil Ludwig, world famous German-born biographer, playwright and political essayist whose books were burned by the Nazis, died at his home here last night. He was 67.

Ludwig had been suffering from a heart ailment for several years. Living quietly in Ascona, he recently completed a book of memoirs. He returned to Switzerland in 1945 after spending the war years in the United States.

Born in Breslau Jan. 25, 1881, he moved to Switzerland as a young man. He made no attempt to return to Germany after the rise of Hitler. The Nazi burned several of his works.

The biographer is survived by his widow and two sons.

Funeral services will be held at his home next Thursday.

Well Known Books

Among Ludwig's works was the "Life of Napoleon," which he adapted to a motion picture in Hollywood in 1933. His biographies included Jesus, Goethe, Bismarck, Beethoven, Prime Minister Mackenzie King, William II, Lincoln and Wilhelm Hohensollern.

Ludwig began his career as a dramatist and wrote nothing but plays, nearly all in verse, for 12 years. After his 30th birthday, he took up psychological essays and biographies.

As a boy he wrote a 10-page essay on Goethe. At 25 he wrote a play on Napoleon. He made his first attempt at dramatizing the life of Bismarck, German's "Iron Chancellor" five years later.

Ludwig was educated at Breslau and Heidelberg. In 1931 he was awarded the degree of Doctor of Letters by Rutgers University.

He was a war correspondent for the Berlin Tageblatt during the First World War and interviewed Talaat Bey in Istanbul in regard to Italy's entry into the war.

News .... In Brief ..

By The Canadian Press

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich.—All shipping traffic on the St. Mary's River was routed through the American locks for several hours after a cable, used to open and close the Canadian locks, snapped. Shipping was also delayed by fog which sut off visibility on the river for four hours until 8 a.m.

Minden Raises $18,000 For New Arena

The village of Minden, Haliburton County, is sitting back and taking an honest check of its summer doings and finds itself in a fair position. In the matter of tourist business, they feel they have received their share, but are not so complacent that they are willing to sit back, for, according to their weekly paper, there is still much improvement to be done by lodge operators; village fathers want more of that type of business, and with winter sports rapidly approaching, they hope for a return of some summer tourists to participate in skiing, hockey and curling.

As far as hockey goes, work will soon start on their $21,000 recreation centre and $18,000 has been raised toward the objective already. The centre will be a two-storey structure with an arena on the main floor and a dance hall upstairs. Ground adjacent to the centre will be developed next spring into a children's playground.

Another first in Minden is the opening of a new veneer plant which turned out its first new product this week. Additional smaller machines are to pue in operation shortly which will increase production and give additional employment to local men.

Hugh Nichol opened the first law office in the village this week and district people are looking forward to some interesting cases in local courts and feel there will not be so many people pleading guilty to minor law infractions from now on.

The week was not all a series of bright pictures. Small Rickey Harding received badly burned feet while playing outside the Minden Bakery. The ash container toppled over while the lad was playing on the premises and his burns were treated at Ross Memorial Hospital Lindsay.

Bert Maine parked his car in front of the Post Office and while he was inside doing business, the vehicle ran away plunged over a high bank; it was badly damaged but no one received injury over the accident.

MEMBERS OF TWO SQUATTER FAMILIES who were recently evicted from the Jacques Cartier barracks in Montreal South, huddle around a stove in front of the tent on a vacant lot where they spent the night. In all 49 persons, 35 of them children, slept in tents put up by local Boy Scouts.

Move Natives From Island In The Pacific

SUVA, Fiji, Sept. 20—(CP).—The mass migrations of Europe and India are being matched on a smaller scale by the moving of whole populations from tiny islands in the Pacific.

Man-made forces moved one community—the people of Bikini. Natural forces compelled another to leave Niuafoou, or Tin Can Island, because their villages were being overwhelmed by repeated, violent eruptions of the island's volcanoes.

The very richness of their home has been responsible for the departure of 1,000 Sanaban natives from Ocean Island, just south of the equator. Ocean Island and nearby Nauru Island have some of the world's richest phosphate deposits and their output is of vital importance to the farmers of Australia and New Zealand.

The encroachment of the phosphate workings finally made it necessary to find a new home for the native inhabitants. The luxuriantly fertile island of Rambi, in the Fiji group further to the south, was selected and the Ocean Island natives were established there with 40 picked Fijians to teach them new habits and ways of life.

Cling To Old Ways

The bewildered Banabans have clung doggedly to their old ways. On Ocean Island they had lived on cocoanuts, fish and purchases from the general store and knew little about crop cultivation. They had to be taught to grow crops. They continued to build their own style houses, although Rambi is in the hurricane zone and the first blow would have reduced these constructions to debris.

The Banabans are still one of the wealthiest communities in the Pacific, as they draw rich royalties from the Ocean Island phosphate workings. They have a further source of revenue in their new home as it includes 2,800 acres of cocoanut palms formerly owned by an international industrial firm.

If they can be taught to work the plantation they should continue to prosper, but all the post-war migrations in the Pacific have shown that even transfer from one tropical island to another means a great change in ways of life to the local people and the adjustment takes time.

BACK TO LONDON — The Hon. Norman Robertson, Canadian High Commissioner to the United Kingdom, who recently returned to London after conversations in Ottawa with Hon. L. B. Pearson, Minister for External Affairs.

Broadway Hit By Theatrical House Problem

By PAT USSHER.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20—(CP).—A theatrical housing problem threatens Broadway.

Some 70 productions are scheduled to open here before Christmas, compared with a total of 89 for all of last season. Even with the closing of some holdover shows from the spring, existing bookings leave only about 10 theatres available.

Just to sample the indicated arrivals, George Kaufman and Edna Ferber, a noted playwriting team, have finished "Bravo" for all presentation; Marc Connelly's "A Story for Strangers" is due September 21; William Saroyan has two plays, "Don't Go Away Mad" and "Jim Dandy," and Saroyan has set the latter, he says, "inside a transparent eggshell."

Noted Names

Then there is Moss Hart with "Light Up the Sky"; Elmer Rice with "Not for Children"; Tennessee Williams with "Summer and Smoke," and S. N. Behrman with "Jane" and "Speak to Me of Love." Other celebrities who probably will be represented on Broadway before the season ends include John Van Druten ("Make Way for Lucia"); Thornton Wilder ("The Victors"); and Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein ("Tales of th South Pacific").

Cronyn Script

Hume Cronyn, from London, Ont., has on his hands at the moment the script of "Now I Lay Me Down to Sleep." This Elaine Ryan dramatization of the Ludwig Bemelmans book has been in control of Peter Foster for nearly two years. When Foster's option lapsed, Cronyn decided to take it over. It is a difficult and expensive production and the Canadian-born actor, who will direct it, now is reported seeking a producer.

For the Record

"Sundown Beach," the Bessie Breuer play about psychiatrics, closed last Saturday in the face of a disapproving barrage from the critics. The season's first play was a flop, lasting but seven performances....."The Heiress," the successful adaptation of Henry James' "Washington Square," and "Command Decision," a hit war play, both close to-night. Each ran for approximately one year ..."Finian's Rainbow," the popular musical which has been on Broadway for 17 months, closes here after two more weeks and then goes on tour.

110 MPH Hurricane Lashes Florida Keys, Miami Braced For Big Blow

Red Cross Opens Shelters, Schools Closed
Navy Planes, Ships Flee
Storm Enlarged, Torrential Rains Reported

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 21—(AP).—Winds of 110 miles an hour lashed Key West today as a big and growing tropical hurricane brushed near or over the island city 175 miles south of Miami. Torrential rains accompanied the winds. In Miami, sustained winds reached 60 miles an hour and visibility was almost wiped out by the blowing rain.

The storm has enlarged and hurricane winds and strong gales now cover an area about 300 miles in diameter, the weather bureau reported. It is moving northeast at about 10 miles an hour.

The slow movement of the storm will keep the centre over south Florida for a longer period and delay the arrival of hurricane winds somewhat, forecasters said.

As the storm bore down on the peninsula, the Keys and the Miami area were swept by near hurricane-force winds and a pelting rain.

The storm came to a halt 55 miles south of Key West during the night.

The southern part of the peninsula was battened down for the blow. The storm crossed Cuba last night with highest winds of 86 miles an hour at Havana.

Miami, preened for the winter tourist season, braced for the big blow.

Hurricane warnings fluttered in increasing winds along the east coast as far north as Melbourne and storm warnings extended to Daytona Beach.

On the other side of the peninsula, hurricane flags flew to Fort Myers and storm warnings to Tarpon Springs.

The rich "salad bowl" area around Lake Okeechobee also was in danger. Hurricane warnings were hoisted there.

Florida Ready

Florida was ready. The Red Cross opened shelters and disaster units were on the alert. Schools were to be closed today.

The island city of Key West early today experienced winds of 50 miles an hour with gusts up to 65. The United States Navy there went under hurricane conditions. Shelters were stocked with food and opened to families of navy personnel and civilian employees.

Navy planes and ships based at Key West sped to calmer waters as the small but severe hurricane boiled through the Florida Straits.

The hurricane, born in the Caribbean almost due south of FLORIDA KEYS

Irgun Accepts Ultimatum For Disbandment

TEL AVIV, Sept. 21 (Reuters) —Irgun Zvai Leumi, Jewish terrorist organization, today accepted an Israeli government ultimatum ordering its disbandment and the handing over of its "army" to Israeli defence forces.

The government yesterday gave Irgun 24 hours to comply with its ultimatum. Most Irgunists now are affiliated with the political party called the "Freedom Movement," headed by Menachem Beigin, one-time commander of Irgun in Palestine.

The government threatened to "act with all the means at its disposal" if Irgun did not comply. It promised to forgive "infringements hitherto committed against the law of Israel."

Most Irgunists now are affiliated with the political party called the "freedom movement," which is headed by Menachem Beigin, once the Palestine-wide commander of Irgun.

Won't Release Names

TEL AVIV, Sept. 21 — (Reuters). — An Israeli government spokesman said today the names of suspects arrested in connection with the murder of Count Folke Bernadotte will be withheld "until we are certain all members of the gang have been rounded up."

Investigation and screening of suspects still is going on, he said.

Official reaction to Count Bernadotte's report on Palestine published in Paris yesterday is not expected until the Israeli government has time to consider the full report.

Freight Rate Tussle Begins

OTTAWA, Sept. 21—(CP).—A Provincial attempt to delay hearings on a railway application for new freight-rate increases was fought by the railways today before the Board of Transport Commissioners.

Declaring a rate increase was "inevitable" because of higher operating costs, railway counsel urged a temporary boost in tolls should be put into effect as soon as possible.

Spokesmen for the provinces—all except Ontario and Quebec—said hearings on the application, involving around $85,000,000 a year in freight tolls, should not be heard until after the Federal Cabinet has disposed of their appeal against an earlier rate increase granted by the board.

Their joint submission was aimed at holding up hearings on a railway application for a 20-per-cent. rate increase, which follows upon a 21-per-cent. increase granted by the board in March.

Report Arab States Reject Count's Report

CAIRO, Sept. 21.—(AP)—The newspaper Al Misri today quoted Abdel Rahman Azzam Pasha as saying the Arab states will reject Count Folke Bernadotte's report to the United Nations on Palestine.

Azzam Pasha, secretary-general of the Arab League, said the Arab countries are "in accord regarding the measures they will take to prevent the evils plotted against Palestine."

He did not elaborate.

Killed By Blast

VAL MORIN, Que., Sept. 21—(CP).—Emile Maupas, Laurentian Mountains health camp operator, was killed today while blasting rock in the North River near his camp between here and Ste. Marguerite. Maupas, a former middleweight wrestler, established his camp some 25 years ago and many top sports men, such as wrestler Yvon Robert and the late hockey player, Howie Morenz, used to get in condition there.

UN Doesn't Want Any Exclusions Bramuglia Says

PARIS, Sept. 21 (CP) — Dr. Juan Atilio Bramuglia, Argentina's foreign minister, opening the third General Assembly of the United Nations here today, said they did not want any country of the world excluded from the United Nations. There could be no chosen and no outcasts.

"We believe that the application of the theory of the hierarchy of states, to direct the organization and establish general lines of policy, should be revised, not only because it is contrary to the Democratic status deriving from the juridical equality of states but because it places in the hands of a few nations the destiny of all peoples.

"And we do not want anyone to decide the fate of peoples without their own participation so that they may have satisfaction in right decisions and consolation in wrong ones.

"Government by force means only subjection owing to the absence of elements dictated by moral conviction, and in that way disunion, hatred and secret desire for revenge are bred. Wherever force serves the ends of coercion, the ethical and legal principles of the charter are transmuted into impracticable abstractions."

Peace Appeal

President Vincent Auriol of France, in a passionate appeal for peace, told the delegates:

"The peoples of the world look to you as their supreme resort, as the fount of their hopes, as the guarantors of security and international justice."

Trygve Lie, Secretary-General, told the Assembly that Count Folke Bernadotte and Col. Andre Serot were "killed in cold blood by deliberate assasination, and in open defiance of their privileged position as neutral and unarmed officials representing the whole United Nations."

"This grave incident would seem to make it evident to everybody that the United Nations in certain circumstances cannot depend on local authorities for the safety of its representatives, and consequently, must be prepared to ensure their safety by instruments of its own."

The Soviet blockade of the German capital and the issues involved with it were the chief topics of conversation among the delegates, although Berlin is not on the Assembly's agenda as yet.

Jury Decides Death Accidental At Fair

SUTTON, Sept. 21 — (CP). — The death of Shirley Harris, of Toronto, killed by a midget racing car at Sutton's Fall Fair Sept. 6, was ruled accidental by a coroner's jury Monday night. Miss Harris was killed when a car driven by Barney Robinson went out of control and ploughed into the crowd.

Australian Defence Cabinet To Speed 5-Year Program

CANBERRA, Sept. 21—(CP)—The Australian defence cabinet and the heads of the country's armed services met today to discuss speeding up of the five-year defence program and reorganization of scientific research on defence.

Purpose of the meeting was to review Australia's defence set-up in the light of possible failure of the four-power talks on the Berlin issue.

Although recruiting for the post-war army and a citizen force of 50,000 men has fallen far short of requirements, introduction of conscription is ruled out by informed sources as it is a basic policy of the ruling labor party to oppose any move in that direction.

Moreover the government is known to be reluctant to make a move that would take men from industries already starved for labor unless it becomes obvious that the big powers cannot reach an agreement.

Ministerial sources claimed that today's cabinet meeting has no special significance and is merely in accordance with the general practice of checking up on the defence program. But trained observers in Canberra see in the presence of security officers, headed by Col Longfield Lloyd, director of the Commonwealth Security Service, an attempt by the cabinet to tighten up alleged leakages of vital military secrets.

The cabinet is expected to establish a joint war production staff to co-ordinate strategic plans with production requirements, particularly from the angle of developing Australia as a main support base for the empire in the Pacific.

Plans for creation of a joint war production staff were announced in the Speech from the Throne at the opening of Parliament Sept. 1.

Defence Tops Discussion With Cripps

Potential War Goods Given Priority Over Food Orders

OTTAWA, Sept. 21 (CP)—Defence emerged today as the No. 1 factor behind the economic and financial talks now unfolding here between Sir Stafford Cripps, Britain's Chancellor of the Exchequer, and Acting Prime Minister St. Laurent and other members of the Canadian cabinet.

As the discussions opened this morning in the east block, site of the prime minister's office, authoritative sources disclosed that Sir Stafford sought from the cabinet information about the types and quantities of strategic materials Canada would be able to ship to Britain on a long-term basis.

Sir Stafford and the half-dozen members of his staff met with the cabinet committee on external trade.

War Goods

These sources said that while the discussion was about trade the emphasis was more on the potential goods of war than on the goods of peace and that Sir Stafford spoke more as the father of Britain's austerity program, with the say as to what Britain may import, than as Chancellor of the Exchequer.

The question of the stockpiling of strategic and raw materials was said to have entered the talks and Sir Stafford was reported to have asked about Canada's ability to supply finished goods, such as vehicles and armaments.

But, while stress was placed on strategic goods, the discussions also ranged over other products and included the question of foodstuffs which Canada is shipping to Britain under contract.

The discussions with the cabinet committee are expected to continue throughout the day. Later in the week, Sir Stafford will confer privately with the various ministers concerned.

Gang Attacks Cafe Patrons

AURORA, Sept. 21.—(CP). — One man was injured and a woman had her glasses smashed when a Toronto group known as the McCormack gang attacked restaurant patrons Monday night in this town some 25 miles north of Toronto.

Police said today they are attempting to locate four of the 20-member gang and are making a special effort to track down a youth known as McCormack, said to be the leader.

They said the brawl broke out when McCormack raced into the restaurant with several other gang members and attacked onlookers of an altercation between an Aurora man and a drunk.

One witness said the youths struck a young woman across the temple, smashed her glasses and fought with everyone in the restaurant.

Restaurant patrons chased the gang to a nearby tannery where a free-for-all broke out. Gang members were waiting for restaurant patrons with lead pipes, police said. One Aurora citizen was struck across the face.

When the gang was outnumbered they ran from the scene after warning the Aurora group that they would return in greater numbers and "really clean up" on them.

Evatt Elected Assembly Pres.

PARIS, Sept. 21—(CP).—Herbert V. Evatt, Deputy Prime Minister of Australia, was elected president of the United Nations General Assembly's third meeting. Evatt was elected on the second ballot.

The Australian received 25 votes on the first ballot and a second vote was called as at least 27 votes are required for election. On the second vote Evatt received 31 votes.

Set Up Schedule For Possible Mobilization Day

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—(AP).—The New York Times says the joint chiefs of staff have set up a tentative schedule of armed services requirements for a possible "mobilization day."

In a dispatch from Washington by Charles Hurd, the Times says today that the tentative schedule was delivered to the Munitions Board of the National Military Establishment.

The Munitions Board now is in a position to construct a firm plan for the industrial mobilization necessary for conducting modern war, the Times says.

It reports the following:

The Munitions Board has made considerable progress in its planning and substantial gains in stockpiling of critical materials.

About $700,000,000 worth of critical materials has been stockpiled against potential military and civilian needs if war should cut off normal sources.

These materials include about 50 raw materials, mostly obtained from foreign sources. Among them are bauxite, cadium, cobalt, copper, industrial diamonds, mica, quartz crystals, tungsten and zinc.

Of these materials the Board has bought $500,000,000 worth with appropriated funds and accepted transfer of some $200,000,000 worth from the War Assets Administration.

A major function of the Board is surveying manufacturing facilities to determine the most efficient producers of specific military items.

Thus far 12,000 plants have been surveyed and tagged for specific types.

Export Decline Worries Experts

TORONTO, Sept. 21—(CP). — The Canadian Exporters' Association is concerned over the decline in Canadian exports to Empire countries other than the United Kingdom. It expressed the hope today that measures to counteract this would be taken at the present conference in Ottawa of Sir Stafford Cripps with the Canadian Cabinet.

This falling off results from dollar shortages in the sterling areas and consequent restrictions put upon imports from dollar countries.

In today's statement, Harold V. Lush, president of the association, which has a membership of nearly 700 firms, says

"If there is to be an unfreezing of the remaining $235,000,000 of our loan to Britain, it would seem valid, that in return for this concession, a generous plan of token shipments to the colonies under Britain's control should be the price Canada requires....

Hundreds At Army Show See Gun Crews In Action

Peterborough had an opportunity to see a heavy anti-aircraft unit in action for the first time on Monday evening, when Mayor W. G. Ovens officially opened Canada's Army Week in the city at the Armoury parade ground. Gunners of the 50th HAA Regiment RCA engaged an aircraft flying on bombing runs over the city, and a large crowd watched the operations of all the various units of a modern AA site as they went into action, including predictor, height-finder detachment, radars, 40-mm Bofors light AA gun, Polsten 20-mm quad and 3.7 AA batteries.

Lt. Philip Turner, adjutant, introduced Mayor Ovens, who warned that the political situation today is extremely serious. "Here in Peterborough," he said, "we are vulnerable to an air attack, keeping in mind our diversified industry. Our best defence is the equipment you see before you and in our Armouries. If you want to render a worthwhile service, I strongly recommend you to join this 50th HAA Regiment."

Lt.-Col. Max Clarke, ED, commanding officer, made a short appeal for recruits, both in Peterborough and in Cobourg, Port Hope and Lindsay, where local units are open for recruiting this week. He said that the regiment was endeavoring to be prepared.

Bandmaster Albert Crossdale also made a short appeal. He urgently asked for young men, preferably musicians, to join the newly-formed regimental band.

Training Staff

Training was under the direction of Capt. P. W. R. Sargent and the other Active Force administration and training staff, which includes BSM W. H. Pushie, Sgt. B. L. Smith and Sgt. G. A. Dunn. Capt. J. D. Londerville was in charge of the gun position, assisted by Sgt. A. J. Hughes. RSM H. B. Davidson and Sgt. S. R. French were in charge of gun detachments. Sgt. W. G. Webb was in charge of the predictor and Sgt. D. T. Jones of the height-finder detachment. Lt. C. R. Payne and Lt. R. Bowie handled the recruit centre, and BSM R. G. Huggins and BSM Hayes were in charge of recruit detachments. Sgt. E. Killingbeck was in charge of wireless duties, and Sgt. L. Bennewith of operations at the radars.

Among the guests at the officers' mess after the demonstration were Reg Faryon of Quaker Oats, Frank Pope of Westclox, Gordon Monkman of Whitaker's, E. H. Howson of Peterborough Lock, B. Cutmore of De Laval, Howard Doolittle of Peterborough Lumber, Mayor Ovens, Alderman Hurrell Dodds, Alderman Grant Miller, Alderman Gordon Armstrong, Alderman Herb Young, Councillor Dick Stewart of Otonabee and Provincial Constable John Rogers.

There will be military displays again tonight and Thursday night.

Indonesia Begins Move Against Reds

BATAVIA, Java, Sept. 21. — (Reuters).— The Indonesia Republic today began to move against the newly-proclaimed Communist government in Madin Province, East Java, messages from Jogjakarat, Republican Capital, said.

Col. Sungkono, appointed by the Republican government to fight the Communists, set up headquarters in Kediri, 25 miles southeas of Madin, the dispatches said.

All government offices and strategic positions in Kediro were placed under military guard, Antara, the Indonesian Republican News Agency, reported.

Big Apartment Party Flop Five Slain In Gunfight

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 21. (AP) —Five men were fatally shot and two wounded Monday night in a gunfight growing out of a routine police call. Three of the dead and the two wounded were policemen.

The shooting occurred in a Negro apartment house district after two patrolmen answered a routine disturbance call about a "loud party" in an apartment building.

Charles Neaves, 30, and Sandy Washington, 26, patrolmen (both Negro), were shot to death in the building. Policemen Charles Perrine, 46, who responded to a call for aid, was slain outside the building.

Police identified the other dead as William Bell and Edwin Burton Warren (both Negro) who were in the apartment building. Warren died in a hospital today.

50 Police Sent.

Police said Bell and at least one other man participated in the fight against the officers in and around the three-storey building. Approximately 50 policemen and deputy sheriffs were sent to the scene, 15 blocks from the main business district.

Police said Bell shot to death two of the officers and was killed by patrolmen in a gun fight that followed the incident in the apartment house.

Patrolman Earl Scott, 56, said he exchanged shots with Bell from behind a tree. Scott said he fired a blast with a riot gun and saw Bell fall.

Police rounded up about two dozen persons from the apartment building and took them to headquarters for questioning.

Britain Halts Commercial Ship Building

Navy Reports Vessels Ready Before April - As Situation Grave

LONDON, Sept. 21 — (AP). — Britain considers the international situation so grave that it suspended commercial work in the Royal dockyards today in order to refit about 100 warships for service.

An official navy announcement said the ships are to be made ready for duty before April. An admiralty spokesman said, however, the work can be done quickly — perhaps within two months.

The announcement of the big naval preparedness move came soon after the government slowed down demobilization of the armed forces, stepped up recruiting of new troops, began doubling the production of jet fighter planes and started preparing civilian defences.

The overhaul and refitting of the naval vessels will involve smaller ships chiefly. The Royal Navy's big battleships, cruisers and aircraft carriers, though not all in use at any one time, are kept in a comparative state of readiness.

Choose From Reserves

The admiralty did not say exactly when the ships are to be refitted. Admiralty records showed that last spring the navy had in reserve 65 destroyers, 136 frigate, two monitors, 31 submarines, 51 minesweepers and three fast minelayers.

The admiralty spokesman said it was from these reserves that the ships to be refitted would be chosen. Work will be carried on mainly at the large naval dockyards at Devenport, Portsmouth, Chatham, Sheerness and Rosyth.

These yards have been working on small civilian projects such as making prefabricated houses, garbage cans, gas stoves and oil burners.

Special Service For Bernadotte

PARIS, Sept. 21—(AP).—The body of Count Folke Bernadotte arrived in Paris today in a flower-filled plane from Geneva.

Representatives of 58 countries gathered at Orly Airfield to pay homage to the slain United Nations Palestine mediator and his French aide, Col. Andre P. Serot.

Another UN transport brought the Count's aides, headed by Swedish Gen. Aage Lundstroem, his chief of staff, who witnessed the slayings.

At the airfield for the memorial ceremony were Foreign Minister Robert Schuman, Foreign Secretary Bevin, State Secretary Marshall, Alexander E. Bogomolov, Soviet Ambassador to France; Trygve Lie, UN secretary-general, and representatives of all the other UN member countries.

A French honor guard presented arms as the planes landed. The troops remained at attention until the bodies were removed.

A band played a French funeral march as French airmen carried the two mahogany caskets to small platforms in front of a hangar draped with the French, Swedish and UN flags.

Allied Envoys Leave Moscow For Paris

MOSCOW, Sept. 21. (CP) — Frank Roberts, British special envoy to Moscow, Walter Bedell Smith, United States Ambassador, and French Ambassador Yves Chataigneau left Moscow by air early today for Berlin.

The envoys are expected in Paris tomorrow to confer with their respective ministers tomorrow.

Representatives of the three western embassies and Dr. Foo Ping-Sheungn, Chinese Ambassador, saw them off at the Moscow airport.

The envoys are believed to have failed in their final meeting with Foreign Minister Molotov Saturday to get a clear answer on questions of principle which might have been the basis of a Germany settlement.

See Mirror Message About Plane

Group Of Villagers Report Aircraft Down In Nearby Wood

THE PAS, Man., Sept. 21 — (CP). — Messages flashed to a searching plane by mirrors and spelled out by strips of cloth on the ground were being investigated today as a clue to the possible fate of a United States Navy plane, missing for the last 10 days with five men aboard.

The messages came from a group of villagers in the tiny, remote community of Skownan, Man., 100 miles southeast of here. They were relayed to a Canso aircraft which had been hunting for the missing C-45 Beechcraft, unreported since Sept 12 when it left Churchill, Man., for The Pas.

The villagers caught the searching plane's attention by flashing mirrors into the sun and by setting strips of cloth on the ground, the aircraft's wireless operator reported.

When the plane dropped a message to the residents asking if they knew anything about the missing aircraft, the message "east in woods on ground" was spelled out below.

A second message elaborated on the first. It said: "About 25 miles east."

When those in the search plane dropped a second note asking "are personnel safe?" the reply was: "we don't know."

Seems Promising

Group Capt. Z. L. Leigh said that while this report was "definitely promising," there still was a possibility it would prove wrong. A number of aircraft were assigned to scan the Skownan objective early today but others also would continue the search in other districts.

Sqdn. Ldr. Jack Hone of The Pas, R.C.A.F. reserve officer and one-time bush pilot, Monday landed his Norseman in a nearby lake and questioned Skownan residents.

He reported that the times they gave did not coincide with the time the aircraft was believed most likely to have been in that area. However, he said, the difference was "not too great."

A six-man paratroop team took off this morning in a Dakota plane for Skownan.

Only A Honeymooner

EDMONTON, Sept 21 (CP) — Police Saturday detained a U.S. tourist on suspicion that he was Donald (Mickey) McDonald, notorious Canadian bank robber who escaped from Kingston Penitentiady last year. The man was stopped as he boarded a plane for the United States, but he convinced police that, though he closely resembled McDonald, he was an innocent honeymooner.

Industrials Continue To Dip Downwards

TORONTO, Sept. 21 (CP) — Industrials continued dipping downwards on losses ranging up to two points today on the stock exchange here. Junior Golds weakened and base metals were steady on mixed gains and losses. Western Oils showed a slightly weaker tone.

Papers led the downward trend in industrials. Trading was moderate but losses more than tripled gains. Utilities weakened and Liquors showed a solid list of losers. Steels were a little easier and refining oils, textiles and agriculture weakened. Foods were the only stocks to show more gains than losses.

Senior Golds were steady while losses ranging up to 6 cents were scattered throughout juniors. Pickle Crow, Sylvanite, United Keno Hill, Upper Canada, Malartic and Eldona were among the losers.

A dull base metals list mixed gains and losses. International nickel dipped ⅜ and Noranda ⅞.

Taken To North Bay

NORTH BAY, Sept. 21. (CP)— The body of Flt. Lt. Leslie Thomas Banner, North Bay jet plane pilot who was killed Sunday when his Vampire fighter crashed near Trenton, was to arrive at North Bay airport this afternoon.

It is being brought here, to his home town, in an RCAF bomber with an escort of air force personnel. Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 2:30 p.m.

130 Delegates Attend Deanery Meeting

More than 130 women, including representatives from Apsley, Buckhorn, Campbellford, Hastings, Lakefield, Lasswade, Roseneath and Young's Point, attended the opening today of Women's Auxiliary conference of the Deanery of Peterborough.

The conference opened with celebration of Holy Communion. Celebrant was the Rev. W. J. Gilling, of St. Luke's, and the preacher was the Rev. C. H. Boulden, of St. Mark's, Port Hope.

The visitors were guests at a luucheon in the Parish Hall prepared by St. Luke's branch. The Deanery officer, Mrs. Gordon Langley, of Peterborough, is presiding at the conference.

Seize Indonesia New Red Order

INDONESIA, Java, Sept. 21 — (AP)—The Communists called for the complete overthrow of the Indonesian Government and brought the young republic to the brink of civil war.

Quickly following up the weekend coup at Madioen, Communist leader Musso broadcast a demand for a revolution encompassing the entire republic. The Madioen radio station of his new "Peoples' Republic" said the government of President Soerkarno must be destroyed.

A parliament committee gave Soerkarno unlimited powers to cope with the crisis. The Indonesian news agency Antara said mass arrests were carried out in the capital city of Jogjakarta.

The Madioen radio outlined a program that also included confiscation of all industrial enterprises by the government, and setting up of internal security committees.

ABSENT WHEN ELECTED

At the meeting of the Utilities Commission Monday it transpired that G. S. Matthews, chairman, was not at the Kemptville convention of the Eastern Ontario Municipal Electric Association of which he was elected a director. Business at Canada Packers prevented him from going. The Commission was represented by R. L. Dobbin, manager. Mr. Matthews is planning to go to Stewartville Saturday to see the 80,000 h.p. Hydro-Electric Commission on the Madawaska river. It was begun in the fall of 1945, and its estimated cost is $10,500,000.

Moose Season To Open Oct. 8

ST. MONIQUE DE HONFLEUR, Que., Sept. 21 — (CP). — The moose are calling these days in this Lake St. John country of North central Quebec but this year there's a difference. They are calling mates in comparative safety for the first time in history.

The reason: A push-back in the opening of the moose hunting season from mid-September to Oct. 8, as a conservation measure.

Then the bull moose will be oblivious — except in the odd case — to the deceitful blandishments of the moose caller's horn with which hunters in the past have imitated the call of the cow moose and lured the bulls to their death.

For the hunters the later opening hunting date means they must work harder for their kills and track the animals through the bush in many cases. And conservation workers say such conditions mean many moose that would otherwise have been killed will live through this hunting season.

Still Guard Treasures Duplessis Announces

QUEBEC, Sept. 21 (CP)—Premier Duplessis today told newspaper men that Polish treasures taken into custody by provincial authorities in February are still in the care of his government.

The Union Nationale government leader made a brief statement following a week-end flood of unconfirmable reports here to the effect the treasures had been moved from provincial museum vaults.

Premier Duplessis said he did not know if treasures which had been stored elsewhere in Canada had left the country. Those in the custody of his government, he added, are still in the hands of the provincial government and will be given up only to a "competent tribunal."

Want Street Lights

"The city council usually tells us what they want us to do," was the comment of G. S. Matthews in regard to the petition of Western and Ford Avenue residents for street lights, which was received by the Utilities Commission from the council.

St. Mary's St. is also included in that southwestern section request.

The council had hesitated in the present power shortage to endorse the petition which was received a week ago. The Commission asked R. L. Dobbin, manager, to report on the petition at an early meeting.

Swim Club Meets With 30 Members

Thirty members, including nine prospective members, attended the opening of the new season at the Y.M.C.A. Swimming Club on Monday evening. G. H. Roper, general seecretary of the Y.M.C.A., officially opened the proceedings and wished the club every success during the year.

Gordon Dobbin, representing the swimming committee, assisted in recording the times clocked in a 100 yards free style event. Honorary coach Gordon Minty reports improved times were made by Louis McClennan, Ron Wood, Gary Gilders, Fred Russell, Stewart Brooke and Ross Dobbin.

Charge Germans Groomed for War

BERLIN, Sept. 21 (AP)—The Russians charged today that Germans are being groomed for the role of mercenary soldiers in a future war against the Soviet Union.

Taegliche Rundschau, official publication of the Soviet military administration, said the "criminal policy" supported by Gen. Lucius D. Clay, United States military governor, "will provoke a new war."

In this war, the paper said, western Germans "will play the role of mercenaries."

The political leaders of western Germany and Germans drafting a new western government at Bonn were termed war-mongers serving "imperialistic capital."

Mrs. F. Richardson Buried At Lakefield

LAKEFIELD, Sept. 21 (ENS).— Funeral services for Mrs. Frederick Richardson, whose death occurred at Civic Hospital on Friday, were held on Sunday afternoon from the Tedford Funeral Home.

Many friends from out of town as well as villagers were present. The service was conducted by Rev. W. R. Archer, and burial was in Lakefield Cemetery.

Car Driver Fined On Two Charges

Robert J. Collins, 262 Munro Ave., was assessed fines and costs totalling $130 in police court today. The accused pleaded guilty to a charge of reckless driving and driving while his licence was under suspension.

Provincial constable Archibald Grayling testified that the accused had been the driver of a car in an accident recently on the Indian River Road. Collins and another passenger had been taken to hospital as a result. The accused was in hospital about seven weeks and appeared in court with his arm in a sling.

The officer added that marks on the road showed the car had followed an irregular route before going into a clump of bushes where it overturned. The vehicle was a "total wreck."

Magistrate Philp fined Collins $100 and $2.50 costs for driving with his licence under suspension and $25.00 and $2.50 costs for the reckless driving charge.

The car was ordered impounded for three months.

Use Madawaska Plant To Help Power Supplies

By The Canadian Press.

Scheduled to begin operating to-day, the first unit of the 80,000 horse-power Stewartville, Ont., generating plant on the Madawaska River will somewhat augment Ontario's diminishing electric power supplies.

Ontario Hydro Commission chairman Robert Saunders announced in Toronto Monday night that the unit will produce 37,000 horse-power. A second unit is slated to begin production Wednesday, and a third and final unit on Saturday.

Stewartville is about 45 miles west of Ottawa.

Mr. Saunders said all auxiliary generating equipment is being pressed into service to keep as many industrial workers as possible employed during the power crisis. A survey of factories, waterworks and industries is being conducted to determine what generating equipment is available.

Rain Did Not Help.

Heavy week-end rain storms in Ontario did not improve the situation much. Only .02 inches fell in Eastern Ontario, where storage water is needed badly.

The Dominion capital will undergo a partial blackout in the next two weeks, S. W. Canniff, manager of the Ottawa Hydro-Electric Commission, said Monday, to help save power, industries may have to work Saturdays and Sundays to avoid complete production standstill during the blackouts.

Other Ontario towns and cities are inaugurating plans to comply with the Ontario Hydro Commission's plea to conserve electricity.

Business firms at Preston on Monday entered into an agreement with the town's water and light commission to introduce a staggered working week to help cut down Hydro consumption. Commission officials said that, beginning Wednesday, Preston must reduce its power consumption by 3,000 kilowatt hours.

At Brantford, a labor-management conference decided Monday to name a special committee to work out a schedule of Saturday and Sunday operations in plants and factories. Under the re-arranged five-day week, the two-day holidays would be changed monthly.

Car, Truck Collide

Slight damage to a car and truck was caused in a collision on Water St., near Hunter St. about six o'clock Monday night. Driver of the car was Claire McGillen, 6 Knox St., and driving the truck was Donald Hume, 6 Benson Ave. PC. Gordon Trennum investigated.

Confusion In Foreign Policy Exists, Dr. Smart Tells Rotary

"You can't put the clock back," was the warning given by the Rev. James Smart, of Philadelphia, speaking to the oRtary Club on Monday at the Empress Hotel. He said he gave his speech that title, "because I think it is one of the things that hasn't been learnt."

"There is a confusion of mind at this most vital point to know where we are at," he continued, "and the most stirking confusion is in policy." He pointed out that as regards the Palestine problem, both political parties in the United States at first supported Zionism in an attempt to curry favor with the 5,000,000 Jewish voters in the New York area. After the US War Department emphasized the need for Arabian oil, American policy changed, but when Israel won its battle, President Truman recognized the new state.

In Western Germany, France is dismantling industry through a fear of a revival of German military power, but at the same time in the American zone, factories are being rebuilt and the United States is trying to create a buffer state against Russia. The basis of reconstruction in the American zone is unrestricted private enterprise and all controls have now been removed, creating a paradise for shopkeepers and farmers and a hell for the man who has to buy from either. Britain, however, has not sympathy with unlimited laissez-faire enterprise and there is a consequent split in the plans for Marshall aid.

The one unifying factor, said Dr. Smart, was fear of Russia, "a negative factor." "There are basic disunities and unless we overcome them, we are facing a pretty sad picture."

There were three things, he said, that should be realized today. First, that "it is no longer a white man's world exclusively." Exploitation of Asia and Africa was ended, but much thinking was based on the idea that it was not so. He praised British statesmanship in India and pointed out in contrast the French attempt at domination in Indo-China and the Dutch attempt in Indonesia. "Thank God," he said, "our British Government is not fighting a war of white supremacy."

Two disturbing factors he mentioned were the political situation in South Africa and the American attitude towards the colored man. "News travels fast. In Georgia, a negro is lynched and the report is in Singapore by the next morning. This is of great political significance at present, for it is turning the awakening East away from us."

Secondly, he said, "it is a world in which America is an oasis of plenty, along with Canada and parts of South America, and the rest of the world is hovering on the edge of bankruptcy." Already this is affecting our whole economy and we have inflation in America, with the result that a large section of the population is being pauperized. He regretted the loss of a great opportunity in the Marshall Plan, the political strings of which were antagonizing Europe. He pointed out that poverty drives men to desperate expedients and that we cannot escape the effects of world poverty. "We are one world, whether we will have it or no."

The last point Dr. Smart stressed was that "it is a world in which we will have two great powers for a long time to come." Neither the United States or the Soviet Union are used to their present roles in the world today, but they must come to an agreement and there is no reason why each cannot go its own way.

In concluding, he said we must think in world terms and must counteract hysteria, and emphasized that fear was no basis for strategy. "We have to recognize," he said, "that the shaking of our times is not a superficial incident in history, or a passing phase. Turning back will only accentuate the shaking. We must choose definitely and quickly."

Dr. Smart was introduced by James Dutton and thanked by Roy Girven. W. J. Hamilton presided at the meeting.

Barrage Kills 500 Starlings

COBOURG, Sept. 21 (ENS). — Sponsored by the Northumberland Fish and Game Club, twenty Cobourg citizens with shotguns ranging from 20 to 12 guage, held a shoot last night in an effort to dislodge the huge flocks of starlings which each night descend into the trees in the Chapel street area. It is estimated that 500 birds were shot and thousands of them were driven out of the neighborhood. The ammunition was supplied by the town council.

Win Fisher, treasurer of the fish and game club, was in charge of the shoot and at seven p.m. the group met at Medhurst's store on Chapel street where Fisher handed out 12 boxes of shells. It was arranged that the barrage would start as soon as Mr. Fisher fired two signal shots. The men were stationed on Chapel, Walton, Henry and James streets and also on University avenue.

As soon as the two shots were fired, the shooters roared into action. Black bodies pelted down to the ground as the shot searched out the birds up on the trees. The spatter of b.b. shot dropping on the pavement and roof tops came next and soaring in a dense cloud from the trees went the starlings. As quickly as they lighted elsewhere they were met with more shot and this was kept up for about ten minutes. As soon as the birds had settled again, the guns opened up in a second barrage. The flocks after that broke up into comparatively small groups and within an hour the enemy was hopelessly confused and left many of their dead behind them.

The concensus is that the shoot was very effective. The results will be apparent in the number of birds that come in tonight and a further shoot will likely be held on Wednesday night.

Rev. John Foote, VC, Special Speaker

HARWOOD, Sept. 21—(ENS)—Bethesda United Church held its anniversary services Sunday, when the Rev. John Foote, V.C., M.P.P. of Port Hope was the special preacher at morning and evening services. The church was filled to capacity for both services, and had been redecorated for the occasion, and was decorated with autumn flowers.

In the morning Bethesda United Church choir was in charge of the music, with Mrs. Garnet Isaac, organist. The choir had their new robes, which were worn for the first time. In the evening, Baltimore United Church choir sang the special music. Rev. Albert Larke was in charge of the services for the day.

The offering was $720.

Cottage Robbed At Elephant Lake

An American who owns a number of cottages throughout the Kawarthas has been advised that a second vacation home of his has been subject to break-in. The loss was discovered last week. Owner of the cottage, which is at the head of Elephant Lake, is William L. Clay of Rochester.

A three-burner gas stove and some other equipment was taken.

Another cottage of Mr. Clay's was found to have been invaded earlier this season.

Power Demand Up 3,000 H.P. On August 1947

Peterborough's peak use of electric power in August was 24,700 h.p. as compared with 21,700 horse power in the same month last year, Ross L. Dobbin, manager, reported to the Utilities Commission Monday afternoon.

"This increase, 3,000 h.p., is unusual for August," Mr. Dobbin saaid. "The number of kilowatthours delivered at the sub-station was 7,439,500, which is 25 p.c. more than in the same month last year."

"We completed 77 three-wire services during the month, making a total of 531 for the year so far. We also ran five two-wire services, making a total of 92. Thirty-eight flat rate water heaters were conneected, making a total of 3,922 in the city, with a total load of 2,900 h.p."

"The extension to our office building on Aylmer St. has progressed to the point where all the exterior walls and roof are being competed. All concrete floors are in place, and interior partitions are being put in. We expect to have the building closed in before the end of the month.

Electric light lines into the Brookdale sub-division were begun in August.

New Water Record

The new water pumpage record last month was mentioned by Mr. Dobbin. It was published some weeks ago.

"August pumpage was 147,826,000 gals. as compared with 135,724,000 gals. a year ago. This is an increase of one-half a million gallons a day. The maximum day's pumpage occurred on Aug. 27, when we pumped 6,500,000 gals. This was an all-time record. The maximum rate of pumpage was on the same date, when water was used in the city at the rate of 9,750,000 gals. a day."

"In water-wheel driven pumps we have a capacity of about 14 million gallons per day. If one of those units should break down at the time of the peak pumping rate, a serious situation would arise."

"The filtration plant was called upon to supply on some days close to seven million gallons, and, as the rated capacity is only six millions, it was necessary to sacrifice some quality for quantity. However, we were able to keep the water in its usual sterile condition, so that there was no danger to consumers."

"We completed the mains and services into the Brookdale subdivision, laying 2,660 ft. of 6-inch main and 560 ft. of 8-inch main, and 55 water services."

"Even additional water services were laid to other new homes."

Heads Of Industry Discuss Hydro

COBOURG, Sept. 21 (ENS). — The Cobourg Public Utilities Commission will meet today with local indusuturial heads to see what can be done to meet the power quota. Manager William Woods of the Utilities, said yesterday that consumption last week was away over the quota. Cobourg had a quota last week of 32,000 but on Wednesday the consumption was 38,880; Thursday, no change; Friday, 40,080, and Saturday, 34,800. Sunday the consumption dropped to 24,240, but this was because no industry was running. The new quota for the town is 29,750 and on the basis of Sunday's consumption, the domestic consumer must use a great deal less electricity if there is to be enough left for industry.

GENEVA, Sept. 21 (Reuters)—Labor Minister Mitchell of Canada told the General Council of the International Refugee Organization here Monday that 30,000 refugees and displaced persons have been assimilated in Canada since the war. Mitchell, on a tour of displaced persons camps in Germany, said Canada expected to reach with ease her goal of 100,000 refugee immigrants by July, 1950.

Becalmed Waters May Have Killed Cows

LINDSAY, Sept. 21.—A disclosure made as a result of investigation into the unexplained deaths of cattle in the Bobcyageon area is that they all died on calm days.

It is one opinion that if the wind had been blowing steadily no cattle would have died because it would have dispersed poisonous algae.

Another point is that no cattle have died inland, all deaths have occurred near the lakes' edge — Pigeon and Sturgeon.

Dr. B. E. Kelly, Medical Officer of Health for Bobcaygeon, has ordered that signs be posted warning that the lake waters are deemed unsafe for swimming. He said that he did not think any human beings would ever get enough water in their systems while swimming to do them any harm, but that the move was a precautionary one. He pointed out that cattle drink whatever is available and consume large quantities of it.

It is not know if the waters are contaminated, but farmers have been ordered to keep their cows from grazing on the lake shore.

For the first time, Buckhorn, Pigeon and some part of Lake Chemong have been impregnated with a yellowish green substance that so discolors the water it is impossible to see more than two feet down. Tourists who have been coming to the Kawarthas for 20 years claim it is the first time this condition has existed.

The discoloring has not affected the fishing, but it intereferes with washing of clothing in the lakes.

Some cottagers claim the waters in the bays give off a musky odor, and they blame this on the discoloring. It is generally believed that the color comes from the pollen of some marsh plant, but nobody can account for the fact that the condition did not exist in other years.

The condition is gradually disappearing in Buckhorn Lake, but is still bad in some parts of Pigeon.

Double Murder

GLEN BURNIE, Md., Sept. 21.—(AP).—The battered bodies of a young couple missing since they went on a date Friday night were found today in a woods. "It looks like a double murder," said police who identified the bodies of John Mahlaw, 25, postal clerk, and Mary C. Kline, 18-year-old typist.

GRANDSON of an American Negro slave, Dr. Ralph J. Bunche (above), 43, of Detroit, Mich., was named by the United Nations as successor to assassinated Count Folke Bernadotte. Dr. Bunche, who had been principal secretary to the U.N. mission in Palestine and chief aide to Count Bernadotte of Sweden, has been given "full authority until further notice."

Utilities Commission Orders Overhauling Of Gas Meters

Utilities Commission accepted Monday afternoon the recommendation of R. L. Dobbin, manager, "for an extensive overhauling of our gas meters in the near future.

"It is now evident that a difference between the amount of gas we made and the amount we sell is due mostly to under-registration of consumers' meters. We have been handicapped in the last few years because new meters and repair parts were in very short supply."

"In August, the Heath Company made a survey of our gas distribution mains and services. They found only seven minor leaks in the whole city. These will be repaired as soon as possible."

Mr. Dobbin said the Heath people expressed the opinion that the small number of leaks in the mains and connections was remarkable. Having gone thoroughly over the major branches of distribution, the Commission is going to examine the meters next.

"We have called on all gas consumers in the city, but 300 of them were not at home when our men called. We shall make recalls early in September."

Made 5,453,900 Cu. Ft.

"In August we used 35,500 gallons of liquid propane. It takes 6½ gallons to make 1,000 ft. of gas at 710 BTU's per cubic foot. So, we estimate we made 5,453,000 cu. ft.

Income and other information indicates the amount registered in consumers' meters. The Commission have ordered a meter for their new plant.

The manager's comment indicates a discrepancy somewhere between production and the flames. Discovery and terminating it is the proposed security of all meters.

Citizen Welfare Labor Objective

By FRASER WIGHTON

LONDON, Sept. 21.—(Reuters).—Advancement of the welfare of the individual in a socialized Britain will provide the keynote of Labor's second five-year plan, now taking shape in preparation for the 1950 general election.

The plan will picture contented workers in state-owned industry, with security provided by the government's national insurance schemes.

The plan aims to consolidate the party's 1945 election victory by a switch from the present technical achievement of socialization to the human factor in the socialized state.

Main points, it is understood, will include:

1. An ovehaul of the nationalized industries to ensure that the workers enjoy the maximum benefit of public ownership.
2. Effective national control of the distribution of foodstuffs.
3. A complete overhaul of the distribution of foodstuffs.
3. A complete overhaul of the British civil service.

With the end of the first five years of Labor government the main aspects of industrial nationalization, including public ownership of the iron and steel industry, will have been completed.

Several nationalization projects are also likely to be included in the second five-year plan, though they will not necessarily affect key industries.

Take Courage, Fainthearted

Peterborough's tax rate has gone up nine mills in two years. It will probably rise again next year. Public works now being undertaken and which may be undertaken in the next decade will, according to a current estimate, cost $5,075,000. That figure, from a report submitted in August to the Finance Committee of the Council, includes two million dollars for the civic hospital (the sum may be inadequate), one and three-quarter million dollars for sewage disposal, new sewers and drains; three-quarters of a million for schools. The estimate is based on the assumption that these public works will be begun before the end of 1951. They are towering sums for a city the size of Peterborough. The pessimists wail that Peterborough will go on the rocks. They warn that the new civic hospital will be a white elephant, with gold-plated intestines.

* * *

We ruefully admit that the new hospital's corridors will be paved with debentures, but if the people of this city and the Council face the future with vigilant courage rather than imprudent caution we shall keep our heads above the Otonabee.

* * *

Let us look behind and around us. The year 1946 is the last one for which we have tax figures of various Ontario cities. In that year Peterborough's tax rate was the third lowest in Ontario's 28 cities. Its per capita levy ($30.46) was seventh lowest. In both mill rate and per capita levy it was below the average of all Ontario cities. With a good financial past like that, are our councillors suddenly losing their heads? We think not.

* * *

All costs have mounted. Is it reasonable to expect that with the cost of living rising, a city's costs can stand still? Our tax rate has risen sharply in the last two years but so have the rates in other cities. Peterborough has had to spend money, as well as they, to keep up with mounting costs and post-war expansion. The estimate of $5,075,000 need not alarm us. Even if all the work considered in the estimate were begun by the end of 1951 the increase in the mill rate in the next decade would be only 14.01 at the highest. It need not be that high. All the work cannot be undertaken by 1951—for instance it takes 2 or 3 years to transfer a school addition from paper to brick, and no further additions are now on paper. Further, the 14.01 increase in the tax rate is estimated on an assessment increase of 22 per cent. The increase has already reached 33 per cent.

* * *

A paramount consideration in undertaking and paying for new public works is this: as we build for the future we enlarge the future. If we have more people, more houses and more factories the assessment will rise. Increased assessment spreads the costs thinner and keeps down the mill rate (provided of course the increased assessment is gained by new revenue-producing buildings not by increasing the assessment on existing properties). The best way of increasing assessment directly and indirectly is by securing new industries. We shall not be taking a leap into the dark if we leap into the future with a great program of public works, provided we take enough people into the future with us—more people, more factories, more homes to help pay for what we must or should have.

* * *

In the last several years Peterborough has been lamentably slack about providing the means for its future. The Lethbridge Herald recently compared Peterborough's building activities for this year up to the end of August with Lethbridge's. Peterborough issued building permits totalling $1,623,369. This included non-revenue-producing building like the additions to Queen Mary and Confederation schools. Lethbridge, a city half the size of Peterborough, issued building permits totalling $2,849,511. This figure did not include three new schools being erected. The Ottawa Journal, reprinting the Lethbridge Herald's comparison, headed it "Poor Old Peterborough".

* * *

What is wrong with Peterborough is not the tax rate but the improvident fear of the future, not the want of caution but the want of courage. Too many of us have sit-tightedness, rather than far-sightedness.

Candidates For P.C. Leadership: Gordon Graydon

Fifth on the alphabetical list of those mentioned as possible candidates for leadership of the national Progressive Conservative Party is the name of Gordon Graydon, B.A., LL.B. Mr. Graydon represents the Ontario riding of Peel in the Federal House of Commons; he was first elected there in 1933 and was re-elected at the general elections of 1940 and 1945. He has been an active worker for his party during the past thirty years, and has become one of its most prominent figures during the past eight years.

Born at Snelgrove, Ontario, in 1896, Gordon Graydon was educated at Brampton and Toronto, graduating from the University of Toronto and Osgoode Hall. He is a member of a Brampton law firm; he is married and is the father of three children. He is a member of the United Church.

Gordon Graydon's official career in politics began when he was attending Victoria College at the University of Toronto, when he was elected leader of the college's Conservative Party. Since then he has held office in county, provincial and federal organizations; he displayed unusual organizing ability as national chairman of the Conservative Party of Canada and as president of the reorganized Progressive Conservative Association. He was also House leader of the Progressive Conservative Party from 1943 to 1945, and leader of the Opposition during that period, giving vigorous and able direction to criticism of the Government.

Recognition of Mr. Graydon's ability has not been confined to the Opposition side of the House, for when the House of Commons Committee on External Affairs was set up he was made deputy chairman, a post usually given to a Government member. His familiarity with international affairs thoroughly justified the appointment, and he has also served the Dominion as a member of the delegation to the San Francisco Conference and other meetings of the United Nations. In these and other posts he has shown that he possesses unusual capabilities as a committee worker.

Mr. Graydon, at the time of writing, had not announced whether he would be an official candidate to succeed Mr. John Bracken at the Progressive Conservative Convention at Ottawa next week. However, unless he definitely withdraws before the balloting begins, it is certain his name will be brought before the convention by Progressive Conservatives who thoroughly appreciate his fine record of service to the party.

Ludwig The Biographer

The death of Emil Ludwig last Saturday reminds us of a salutary dose of common sense which he administered to a Los Angeles audience in 1944. "We find that music and the arts are not necessarily characteristic of democracy", said he; "in fact the greatest music that has ever been composed was composed under tyrants". This seemed to be a slap in the face at a time when the western world was busily assuring itself that democracy in the American sense was the only governmental system under which anything of any consequence could flourish.

Ludwig might have expanded what he said. By 'tyrant' he meant simply 'absolute ruler', and history shows many examples of absolute rulers who were extremely enlightened men, who would never have dreamed of dictating to a writer or a musician what he should think or say. History, alas, can also show examples of democratic states which deny the artist the right to express unpopular opinions.

Ludwig's own work was uneven, ranging from admirably written, scholarly biographies, to mere potboilers. He had a characteristically German love of mystification, and he did not always know when to stop writing; in his biography of Beethoven, for instance, he attempts analyses of the composer's music which make musicians cringe with their heavy-footed ineptitude. But at his best he was a distinguished man of letters, and his loss, at the comparatively early age of sixty-seven, seems untimely.

A Chinese proverb says: "All men are your brothers—therefore expect trouble from them". Just as we've always thought: the world is one big, unhappy family.

Revolution In Hollywood?

By H. STEINHAUER In The Winnipeg Free Press

THE other night I saw Danny Kaye in "The Secret Life of Walter Mitty." The public exchange of compliments between James Thurber, the author of the sketch, and Samuel Goldwyn, the producer of the film, had led me to expect the worst. But I decided to go anyhow, because Danny Kaye is undoubtedly one of the great comics of our age.

❖ ❖ ❖

MR. Thurber's accusations that Mr. Goldwyn has done violence to the story is wholly justified. This is not Thurber's Mitty. The essence of Mitty's character lies in the glaring contrast between the hare-like timidity of his daily existence and the heroic dream world into which he escapes from time to time. The point of these escapes is that after each one Walter Mitty wakes up to find that he is still Walter Mitty, an insignificant, hen-pecked little man.

❖ ❖ ❖

IN expanding Mr Thurber's short sketch into a full length film, the producers were faced by certain problems arising out of Hollywood tradition. First of all, Danny Kaye has too much sex appeal to be made into a middle-aged man of nondescript appearance. Second, where there is Danny, there is also Virginia Mayo—a far cry from what Mrs. Mitty in Thurber's sketch must have looked like. Third: it is an axiom in Hollywood that the love story must end happily. And indeed, any man with half his senses in good working order will see that a girl like Virginia Mayo is not just left dangling without a swain, not even when the swain is a schlemiel like Walter Mitty.

❖ ❖ ❖

AND so it comes to pass that Walter Mitty, in Mr. Goldwyn's version, relives the epic of the milkman from Brooklyn, who had been a sort of Walter Mitty in his own right. Far from being the mouse-like frustrate of Thurber's sketch, Mitty of Hollywood goes from success to success, wins the beautiful blonde of his dreams, tells his boss to go to a very uncomfortable place and is rewarded by being made associate editor of the pulp chain for which he has been working as a proofreader.

❖ ❖ ❖

MR. Thurber: as one highbrow to another, I sympathize with you. Mr. Goldwyn has made mincemeat of your Mitty. But let men point out several things by way of consolation:

1. This may not be your film, but in many ways it's an excellent picture.
2. What did you expect from Mr. Goldwyn, the man about whom the many anecdotes have collected?
3. In your indignation you overlook the fact that "The Secret Life of Walter Mitty" has introduced a most revolutionary thesis into the Hollywood repertoire.

❖ ❖ ❖

A FAVOURITE Hollywood theme depicts the conflict between the long-haired, highbrow-intellectual and the handsome, rugged aggressive business man, plain thinking (if he thinks at all), down-to-earth, the 100 he-man. In this conflict it, is a foregone conclusion, of course, that brawn beats brain; the philistine literally knocks the puny intellectual down and tramples on him.

❖ ❖ ❖

OR take "that Uncertain Feeling", with Melvin Douglas and Merle Oberon. An insurance man has settled down to the prosaic domesticity of married life. His wife becomes bored and, to escape from her boredom, succumbs to the immoral lure of "Art" in the form of a pianist. The artist is a puny fellow, a neurotic, a boor and a coward. The insurance man, the big and handsome Melvin Douglas, decides to humour his spoiled wife in her culture craze—for a while. Then he knocks the artist down, kicks him out of the house and resumes a happy existence with his disillusioned and repentant wife.

❖ ❖ ❖

THIS is the usual Hollywood formula. Yet what happens in "The Secret Life of Walter Mitty?" We must not be misled by the fact that Mitty works for a magazine which specializes in cheap murder thrillers; he is the highbrow-intellectual who ought to be beaten in any contest with an honest-to-goodness philistine. Yet the dreamy, useless intellectual gets the blonde; he uncovers a gang of murderers and brings them to justice; he tells his bullying boss: "for years I've done all your thinking for you" and the boss takes it and even rewards him with the associate editorship. Most astonishing is the scene in which the delicate intellectual plants his fist on the well developed jaw of his dim-wit rival in love; and that magnificent specimen of animal manhood goes down for the count.

❖ ❖ ❖

I DON'T for a moment believe that Mr. Goldwyn intended to glorify the highbrow. He was unhappily driven into a situation that he had not thought out in advance. He needed a happy ending in which the hero triumphs and wins the beautiful blonde. Unfortunately he forgot that, in this case, the hero was a screwball of a highbrow. The result is that for once the highbrow triumphs in a Hollywood film.

That you, Mr. Thurber, could bring this about, is surely reward enough!

Avoiding A Depression

United States businessmen, if they wish the economic system of this continent to be preserved, might direct their attention to the vital importance of maintaining international trade by reducing United States tariffs; to the fact, also, that since 1940 public spending in the United States and Canada has been a paramount factor in maintaining full employment, for since this continent could not trade with the rest of the world, it has had to give its products away.

A depression will come when we feel we can no longer give or loan enough money to foreign countries to buy our goods, while we yet do not permit other nations to sell enough in our North American market to buy our commodities for cash.—Ottawa Citizen.

Letters To The Editor

DEFENDS HYDRO

Sir: A good deal has appeared in the editorials condemning Hydro for the power shortage, and also other things. We are told, and it seems reasonable, that the power supply is deficient for the same reason that there is a shortage of houses, locomotives, etc.

Then the blame should be on Hitler not on Hydro, politics notwithstanding.

Yours truly,
C. W. HOLMAN.

529 Homewood Ave., City.

ED. NOTE: The trouble with Hydro began before Hitler became a factor in the situation.

SAYS PETERBOROUGH BILGE SWEET

Sir: I feel prompted to express my personal surprise at the criticism of the sanitary condition of Little Lake, contained in a letter of the 18th inst. over the signature of Bernard Radley, yachtsman of Toronto.

I also wish to correct any mistaken opinions that the above letter may have given the reading public.

Having had a boat on this waterway since the spring of 1921, and having cruised the waterway extensively, I have become familiar with the physical and geographical characteristics of the Trent system, and feel qualified to speak even of its sanitary conditions.

I have talked with many yachtsmen, enjoying this waterway, and have never heard of such obnoxious experiences before. Four years ago a letter written by myself appeared in the Examiner regarding the sanitary condition of Little Lake.

These conditions could be improved even yet, but certainly are not so revolting as to discourage or condemn our waterway as a tourist attraction.

I would refer you to part of this gentleman's letter, as follows: "Now we will have to tell yacht visitors not to come to Peterborough unless they have iron boats, or safer still, not to come at all." In my opinion this is a very poor attitude to adopt.

This gentleman very clearly depicts the condition of the bilge water in his boat, writing that she had the contents of a cess pool in her.

My boat is anchored in Little Lake all summer, and I feel free to invite anyone interested to inspect her bilge as to its sweetness or sanitary condition. This craft was evidently in a leaky condition, and took some water while left moored at the dock.

This leakage would be below the waterline, and definitely not the filth sometimes seen floating on the surface.

Any trouble with below waterline leakage that I have had, after a hull has taken up, would certainly not allow the gelatinous something referred to, to find its way into the bilge.

At this point I wish to refer to another remark, as follows: "If we don't like it we and fellow yachtsmen from Canadian and U.S. clubs need not come back."

Readers will agree with me, that this is not the impression we like to have carried away from our port.

However, I would refer Mr. Radley to the fact that we have many fine yachts cruising our waterway annually, a large portion of them of the U.S.A. registery, who highly recommend our waterway as a cruise to look forward to, and their usual leave taking is "We'll be back."

Thanking you Sir for valued space.

Yours very truly,
HAROLD N. SELLON.

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

I will extol thee, my God, O king; and I will bless thy name for ever and ever.... All thy works shall praise thee, O Lord; and thy saints shall bless thee. They shall speak of the glory of thy kingdom, and talk of the glory of thy kingdom, and talk of thy power; to make known to the sons of men his mighty acts, and the glorious majesty of his kingdom.

Thy kingdom is an everlasting kingdom, and thy dominion endureth throughout all generations....

The Lord is righteous in all his ways, and holy in all his works. (Ps. 145: 1, 10-13, 17.)

Honours For The Lowly Hen

(NEW YORK TIMES)

UP New Haven way Thursday an event of historic importance—at least to philatelists and one segment of industry in this country—took place with the first-day sales of a new three-cent stamp to mark the centennial of the American poultry business.

The occasion seems to us to merit more than passing comment. Propagandists for the chicken and the egg put over quite a coup—in this case pronounced coop—in winning this recognition from Congress and the Post-office Department. Our commemorative stamps, of which about thirty are being issued this year, usually are reserved for military heroes, statesmen, former Presidents or historic events. May we now expect sheep, hogs, cattle, oranges or stalk of corn to grace the adhesives in the upper right-hand corners of our mail, as the representatives of other industries get on the band-wagon.

The excuse advanced for the poultry postage was the 100th anniversary of a poultry exposition held in Boston, but we have a feeling that any attempt to trace the business back to its beginning would wind up with the old disconcerting question of which came first anyway, the egg or the hen.

However, our investment-minded philatelists probably will put away a big batch of these stamps as a nest egg for the future. And when we look at the up-ended version of the hen's neatly packaged product in one corner of this latest collector's item and notice that "3c" inscribed on it we can breathe a nostalgic sigh for the days when an egg was a cheap and stable item of our diet instead of a luxury, and the hen was a fit subject for the dinner table rather than a domestic animal receiving the stamp of dignity from our Federal officials.

Well-Mixed Crowd To Attend October Prime Ministers' Parley

By JAMES McCOOK

LONDON, Sept. 21 (CP)—The largest meeting of Commonwealth Prime Ministers will bring diverse personalities around the council table in London in October.

Six Prime Ministers are expected, from the United Kingdom, Canada, New Zealand, India, Pakistan and Ceylon.

The Australian Prime Minister, 63-year-old J. B. Chifley, visited London in July for consultations with the British Government. In October he will be represented by his deputy, outspoken Dr. H. V. Evatt, External Affairs Minister.

Dr. Daniel Malan, 74, South African Prime Minister, has said he will be unable to attend, although he would be willing to visit London later if there were subjects he should discuss with the British Government. A cabinet minister will represent him. He had no objection to attending the Prime Ministers' conference but his government's majority is small and home duties make it difficult to leave.

Representatives of Southern Rhodesia, with a unique status as a "self-governing colony" which conducts its business with Britain through the Commonwealth Relations Office, are also expected.

To Face Problems

If present plans carry through the following will review the changing structure of the Commonwealth and face up to its its problems:

United Kingdom—Clement Attlee, 65, son of a Conservative English family, a former social worker in slum districts, an army Major, long Labor Leader in the Commons, Winston Churchill's wartime deputy in Parliament and, since 1945, Prime Minister and leader of the first Labor Government with a sufficient majority to carry through a far-reaching Socialist program.

Canada—William Lyon Mackenzie King, 73, who will be the "elder statesman" of the conference. His grandfather, William Lyon Mackenzie, was counted "rebel" when he fought for constitutional changes in Canada, but during a record period of service as a Commonwealth Prime Minister, Mackenzie King has helped to form and maintain Commonwealth association.

New Zealand—Peter Fraser, 64, Scottish Highlander who once worked for the Liberal party and went to New Zealand in 1910 to become a leading force in the Labor movement, and Prime Minister in 1940. He retains traces of a soft Scottish accent, but his actions are crisp, decisive and consistently in favor of continued close association of Commonwealth countries, a keynote of New Zealand policy.

India's Choice

India — Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, 58, Prime Minister, son of a prosperous lawyer, who was educated at exclusive Harrow School in England, went to Cambridge University and adopted Western dress and mannerisms. He became engrossed in Indian self-government aspirations and was Gandhi's right-hand man. He went to prison for his part in Indian demonstrations against British rule, but accepted Dominion status a year ago and recently ordered "God Save The King" to precede any Indian National anthem at formal and military occasions.

Pakistan—Liaquat Ali Khan, 53, Prime Minister, who comes to London after a flight through remote Indian mountain districts trying to bring peace among ever-restless tribal forces. As spokesman for his country he often protests against Indian "aggression" in border fights, but in the interim Indian Government which preceded Dominion status, he worked co-operatively with Nehru and other Hindu ministers. Tall, bald, bespectacled, he was a prosperous landowner in old India. Like Nehru, he was educated in England.

Ceylon—Don Stephen Senanayake, now in his 60's but still known to his people as "Wild Jungle Boy" because of youthful prowess as a wrestler. A devout Buddhist, he was educated in a Church of England school. Long a protagonist of self-government, he was imprisoned briefly in the First World War when disorders broke out, but remembers with appreciation that British officials soon admitted their mistake and let him go.

"IT'S DONE THIS WAY," seems to be the message of veteran bricklayer John Parkes, Left, to his grandson Allan and son Samuel, as they work together as a unit on the brick work of the Peterborough Examiner building extension. The older man has left his mark on nearly every street in Peterborough during his past 40 years in the city. His son has been in the business for 25 years and Allen is just starting.

3 Generations Bricklayers Work Together

"There are not many streets in Peterborough that I have not left my mark on," said John T. Parkes, bricklayer for more than 60 years. For 38 years he has been in the city doing contracting bricklaying on all manner of buildings from homes to factories.

He was born 74 years ago in Blackheath, Staffordshire, England, and started his trade as hod carrier at the age of 14. He admits that he does not feel as chipper as he used to and no longer indulges in football games in the evenings. His son Samuel was taught the trade by his father and has been at it now for 25 years and he too has worked on a great many city projects.

The third generation, Allen, is now being trained by his father. The grandfather keeps a watchful eye on both. Mr. Parkes Sr., says that he has used Peterborough-made bricks by the million in his day and that they are a good product. He has even installed brick in the crown of brick kilns when they were undergoing repairs. He comes from the part of the Old Country where native clays make the world's best brick. Mr. Parkes explained that English bricks are larger and heavier than the Canadan variety.

At the present time the three-generation bricklayers are working on the new extension to the Examiner. Theirs is a job done by contract, bricks laid by so much per thousand and in a good normal working day, they lay from 800 to 1000 each. They are not ones to see how fast a job they can do but to work more slowly and do the best possible job. The pace they set is a fairly steady one except when they are forced to work in difficult positions or deviate from straight work to the shaping of window and door arches.

All three Parkes say brick laying is a healthy life and they enjoy it and considering boom times and bad, they figure on making a good wage during their lifetime of trade.

Approve Pension

GUELPH — City council approved a pension plan for police officers and voted $705 to cover the city's contribution from Sept. 1 to Dec. 31. Ratepayers may be asked to vote on a pension plan for city employees in December, council decided.

TORONTO—Toronto drugstores will have to close early after Oct. 1 under a by-law passed by the city council. The bylaw requires stores to close at 9 p.m. Monday to Friday and 10 p.m. Saturdays and evenings preceding holidays instead of the present 10 p.m. closing every night.

NIAGAGA FALLS— Although the electrical storm that swept this district did little to help the power shortage, it did help the Niagara Parks landscaping program. Grass-seeding on the new 18-hole golf course had been held up by the hard ground but now seeding is going ahead.

NIAGARA FALLS — Premier Drew became the first man to silence the carillon when it disturbed a speech he was making to delegates of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association. Half way through his speech the nightly recital began but was hastily postponed till the Premier had finished.

KANSAS CITY—Three policemen and an unidentified man were killed and four others injured in a shooting affray in a residential district. Charles Perrine, 46, Charles Neaves, 30, and Sammy Washington, 26, the officers, answered a disturbance call and were shot as they entered the house named in the call. Seven squad cars went to the scene and one man was killed in the ensuing shooting.

TORONTO—Walter Melbourne Williams, 48, traffic supervisor of the western division of the Canadian National Express, died.

PHILADELPHIA — More than 575 delegates are expected to attend the 16th biennial convention of the United Lutheran church in America starting here Oct. 6. Delegates will represent congregations from most Canadian provinces, the United States and overseas.

HOLLYWOOD—Actor Mickey Rooney was taken seriously ill with a throat abscess, his physician said. The ailment may require surgery.

WASHINGTON—United States air force officers said President Truman has approved the allocation of $103,000,000 for the purchase of 213 combat planes. The air force will buy 13 Boeing B-50-CS, a forthcoming bomber model which is to be redesignated the B-54; 100 Lockheed F-80-CS and 100 Republic F-84s. The last two are single-engined jet fighters.

Lucky Fall

PHILADELPHIA — Five-year-old James O'Brien tumbled from a third-floor fire escape and landed on his mother's back. He suffered only cuts on his chin and knees.

PRAGUE—Czechoslovakia has arrested Miroslav Stodulka, described as an agent of the United States army counter-intelligence corps. The Czechoslovak press bureau said several accomplices were seized with him.

GLENDALE, Cal.—Leo White, one of the oldest character actors in point of service in the film industry, died of a heart attack. He was about 68. Born in England, White started his career as a comedian in English music halls. He entered pictures practically at the start of the industry, with the old Essanay Company in Chicago in 1909.

BERLIN—Eighty undernourished children from the western sectors of Berlin were flown to the British-zone Baltic port of Luebeck by four RAF air-lift planes. It was the first of a series of transports of Berlin children to the western zones for recreational purposes.

LONDON, Eng.—It cost Britain £1,000,000 ($4,000,000) to supply food and fuel to Berlin by air from the end of June to Aug. 3, Christopher Mayhew, undersecretary for foreign affairs, told parliament.

Go On Strike

TRIESTE—All civil employees of the American-British zone in the free territory started a 24-hour strike at midnight for more pay. The strike involves all government services including telephone and telegraph.

SYDNEY, AUSTRALIA—About 1,400 Sydney dockers struck in sympathy with dockers suspended last week for demanding that 12 men, instead of 10, should be allowed in ships' holds to load wool.

BELGRADE—Leo Fuller, Belgrade correspondent of the Times of London and the London News-Chronicle, died from poliomyelitis.

SHANGHAI—One of the wettest summers in decades, with attendant disastrous floods, has caused unestimated damage to summer crops. China's rice and cotton yields are expected to be hard hit.

WELLAND.—Willis Pelley, 41, of Long Branch, charged with the $5,000 armed robbery of the Imperial Bank at Ridgeway, Sept. 2, was remanded to Sept. 27. He was not represented by counsel and not asked to enter a plea.

BELLEVILLE. — Struck by a passing car as he was walking on the highway east of Milltown, Freeman H. Maracle, 63, of Marysville, was killed.

COPENHAGEN. — Dr. Werner Best, Hitler's Ambassador in Denmark from 1942 to 1945, was sentenced to death by a Danish Court. Otto Bovensiepen, chief of the Gestapo and S.D. (Security Service) from January, 1944, until VE-Day, was also sentenced to death.

WHITBY.—Whitby's oldest resident, 99-year-old James Peter Dalby, died. Born in Garden of Suffolk, England, he came to Canada as a young man. He celebrated his 72nd wedding anniversary in March, 1947, prior to his wife's death later that year.

Linseed Report

OTTAWA—A suggestion in the British House of Commons that shipments of Canadian linseed contained a dangerous weed that damaged British fields stirred the Agricultural Department Monday. Nelson Young, associate director of production service, said the Department would like "to get to the bottom" of the suggestion which came from D. L. Renton, National Liberal Member for Huntingdonshire.

PRETORIA—Fifty South African airmen will leave for London to take part in the Berlin Aid Lift.

RUTLAND, B.C.—An 11-year-old boy was fatally injured and a girl of the same age is in hospital with serious burns following an explosion. The boy, Peter Skinner Manson, son of Leslie M. Manson, died in hospital four hours after the accident. The girl is Frances Angus, his cousin.

SAINT JOHN, N.B.—Electrical power developments must be launched in the Maritimes to assure these provinces of equality with Central Canada in industrial enterprise, John Diefenbaker said. He said the Maritimes figured only slightly in a vast plan of power development being undertaken in Canada.

Bomber Explodes

TULARE, Calif. — A huge United States Air Force 500-mile-an-hour jet bomber exploded with a roar heard for miles. The two test pilots aboard, George W. Kaebs, 30, and Nicholas G. Picard, 31, were killed. The plane was a B-45, the Air Force's first all-jet bomber.

DES MOINES, Iowa—Governor Thomas E. Dewey began what he called a "campaign to unite America" in a world in which "tyranny is on the march. "I pledge you a foreign policy based on the firm belief that we can have peace."

MIAMI, Fla.— Dorothy Baker, 45, and David Gilbert, 25, Britone who boarded the British freighter Lochmonar at Vancouver, are among the six passengers and 67 crew member aboard the ship, aground on Little Cayman island. Earlier reported in the path of a hurricane, the ship and all aboard now are safe. A tug is standing by.

OTTAWA—Air Cadet Sgt. Murray Watkins, 16, of Parry Sound, Ont., has been selected as first winner of the $500 Sir James MacBrien scholarship. The scholarship, which pays for the first year of an aeronautical engineering course at the University of Toronto, is awarded annually to the qualified air cadet judged to have rendered "the greatest service to his squadrons and to his community during the year."

TORONTO— Frank Wheaton, 29, of Toronto, sales representative of the Roman Catholic Church Extension Society of America, was arrested on a warrant charging theft of $283. Police said Wheaton did not turn in society collections during July and August.

Lindsay Girls Gain Win From Ashby's

Lindsay lasses pulled out a 7-5 victory over Ashby's at the Bowl last night to tie up their Girls' Softball League intermediate round-robin playoff series. It was a good, tight tussle all the way with Ashby's starting strong but being held well in check after the first frame, while Lindsay had three good frames. The hitting and wielding were quite even and there was little difference between B. Reid and M. Owens on the mounds. Each had a few strikeouts and several walks, and each had fine support.

M. Owens and P. Graham were probably the pick of the victors defensively, while J. Dunk and M. Freeman looked good for the Ashby squad. E. McFadden, J. Reynolds, J. Dunk and M. Freeman each had two safe bingles for the losers. P. Graham topped Lindsay at bat with four hits in five tries. Ashby's got credit for a double play in the eighth heat. The teams will likely be meeting through the week to settle the series.

The teams:

Ashby's: E. McFadden, 2b; J. Reynolds, c; J. Dunk, 3b; M. Freeman, 1b; D. Manley, ss; G. Dracup, lf; D. Callan, rf; D. Gilmour, cf; D. McFadden, p; B. Reid, p, cf.

Lindsay: H. Deyell, 2b; P. Graham, 1b; D. Hunter, c; M. Chase, ss; M. McGill, lf; A. McDonald, rf; M. Dawkins, rf; M. Lucas, cf; D. Madill, 3b; M. Owens, p.

Major Leagues Set Attendance Record

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—(AP).—With two weeks still to go in the 1948 baseball season, the major leagues already have set an all-time attendance record, an Associated Press survey disclosed today.

Led by the Cleveland Indians and New York Yankees, each of whom passed the two million mark, the 16 clubs have attracted 19,931,481 paid admissions through the turnstiles.

This total surpasses the previous record of 19,874,539 set by the majors last year. With the pennant races as tight as they are, the majors are certain to top the 20,000,000 mark in attendance for the first time in history.

Eight clubs have already drawn more this year than last, with five of them setting all-time team marks. The Indians are setting the pace, having played to 2,345,335 paid admissions in 72 home games, a major league season mark. The Yankees are close behind with 2,242,023.

WINS CUP—Voted most valuable player in the City Softball League this year, Howie Dalton, playing coach of the Legion, last night won the Peller Trophy. His hitting, fielding, base-running and pitching made him the choice.

Weather permitting, Toronto Staffords and the Petes open their OBA senior "A" semi-final series at five this eve in Riverside Park. Second scrap being Thursday in Toronto. Rained out here Saturday, the opener was switched over to this p.m. and no doubt a hefty crowd of twilight fans will view the playoff. Manager Eddie Murphy said yesterday he thought Gunner Whitehill will be on the home mound, the Gunner having had a big season to lead all the COBL hurlers. Can't say who will throw for Staffords, but they've got a powerful club all around. Good enough to win the TBA title. Yep, it's playoff time again for the Petes.

From what we can gather, the Huntsville-Petes' lacrosse finals, opening here Friday, are really OLA senior "B" finals. It is true that Windsor has come up with a club and is currently leading Scarboro in a playoff series. Winner will meet the Huntsville-Petes winner, but not for the OLA title. It'll be for the Levack Trophy, emblematic of all-Ontario honors—the senior "A" clubs not competing for this. Why Scarboro was elected to playoff against the Windsor club is one of those Toronto mysteries, as Scarboro didn't even make group playoffs. Oh, well . . .

PCVS Gridders Ready

Senior PCVS grid schedule is in elsewhere tonight. Lindsay dropped out of the senior bracket, leaving Peterborough and Oshawa in the west section and Albert College and Belleville Collegiate in the Quinte district. Latter two will play home-and-home games, same as PCVS and Oshawa, while inter-group games will call for double points. Top two teams at schedule's end playoff for the right to go into COSSA finals, played this year on a field suitable to the Niagara Falls-Georgian Bay districts winners. Local team will also have some exhibitions, beginning Saturday here against Riverdales of Toronto.

Officials of the men's City Softball League decided on a new departure for the annual dinner this autumn. Instead of a general league affair, each club was granted a certain amount of money to stage its own "do" when, where and how desired. Knights already had a get-together, and B-A, Legion and Comstock's will do likewise shortly. And the executive kept a piece of change out to have a little party of their own. After all, they do plenty of work, too, and are entitled to a little fun when the funds warrant it. The loop had a successful season.

Most Valuable Player

Men's softball executive, and the loop scorer, got together at the "Y" last gloaming and voted on the most valuable player for the season. Each club had submitted one name for the Peller Trophy put up by Johnny Nameth. And the winner this year is Howie Dalton, playing coach of Legion, and runner-up last year to Ray Garvey as most valuable player. Nice going, Howie, and fans generally will agree that you turned in a great chore for Legion this season. The other chaps named were Jack Mackness of Comstock's, Ron Akers of B-A and Freddy Garvey of Knights. All mighty valuable players to their team. Or on any team, for that matter.

Lindsay girls took a 7-5 win over Ashby's at the Bowl last evening, a neat number all the way. Pitching, hitting and fielding all pretty even with the victors bunching blows a bit better to earn the verdict and tie up the intermediate round-robin playoffs. Haven't heard at the moment when they go again, likely later this week as it should soon be wound up. Toronto DuVals play Ashby's here Saturday afternoon and, if necessary, in the evening to settle their PWSU two-of-three series. DuVals won the first 1-0. Merry Macs of St. Catharines, who ousted Westclox in intermediate play, defeated Kirkland Lake in a tight sawoff to take the Ontario title.

Utilities Commission yesterday okayed the lacrossers having lights on for their remaining games this season. As long as the club co-operates by dousing lights between periods and holding practices in the twilight. They have a drill tonight at 5.30 in Miller Bowl, and the bantams practice there at 6.30. There won't be so many more fixtures now. By the way, the bantams and juves will playoff with Orillia in home-and-home series, goals counting. First frays are Thursday in Orillia as first planned. With return tussles here Saturday aft.

Cricket Club Concludes Good Season

By C. H. IRBSON

The local cricket season closed with the match against Parkdale on Sept. 11.

Of course its highlight was the defeat of Wentworth County, otherwise Hamilton, in the county championship and in bringing here the R. C. Matthews Trophy. At the beginning of the season the prospect was gloomy. Several of last year's players were not available but some new arrivals compensated for their absence. There was the difficulty of getting a full schedule of matches still and only 12 could be arranged.

An examination of the appended averages shows how much the club owes to the later arrivals. It is a long time since we have had three players with batting averages of over 20—F. Booth, W. Wright and H. Pyle who are also in the first four bowlers. F. Jennings proved to be an efficient wicket-keeper and made some useful scores.

The season's results were: played 12, won 4, lost 5, and drawn 4. The season opened with three defeat but when the new players got used to local conditions it was a different story.

Accounts of all the matches have appeared in The Examiner but a few details may be interesting. In batting, F. Booth scored 58 against Parkdale on July 3, and W. Wright had 50 not out against Grove School on June 19 and it is a long time since any half centuries have been scored for the local club. In bowling, H. Pyle had some big days. In the championship final he took 5 wickets for 15 runs and against New Hambledon 4 for 6. W. Wright had a great spell against Carleton County, taking the last three wickets for 12 when a Carlton win seemed certain. The veteran local captain, Frank Dyer, also bowled consistently well and took the largest number of wickets 32, at a cost of 7.89 runs per wicket. The fielding was very good all the season and the players are looking forward with confidence to next season. They have a true team spirit and the will to win and everybody giving his very best for his side.

Matches won: Grove School, New Hambledon, Carleton County, and Wentworth County. Lost to Grove School 2, T.C.S., Oshawa and Parkdale. Drawn with Toronto C.C., T.C.S. and Parkdale.

Following are batting and bowling averages:

Bowling Averages

	Wickets.	Runs.	Av.
H. Pyle	29	154	5.21
F. Dyer	38	300	5.89
F. Booth	11	95	8.63
J. Wild	9	107	11.88
W. Wright	15	194	12.95

The following also bowled: S. Jennings, 1 for 34; F. Honour, 0 for 2; J. McKissack, 0 for 8; B. Roberts, 0 for 14; G. Collis, 1 for 14; R. Rollwagen, 0 for 4.

Batting Averages

The following also played with averages less than 3. Number of innings played in bracket after name: J. Morrison (5), 7 runs; D. Dyer (4), 8; H. Dibben (5), 3; J. McKissack (9), 24; R. Harvey (3), 3; G. Collis (2), 0; H. Steele (2), 12; A. Pagett (1), 4.

LAWN BOWLING
By HERB MARTIN

It will be the rink skipped by G. Coleman, Jr. vs. R. Knox's rink in the finals, this evening for the club championship.

In the semi-final game of G. Coleman and A. Black it was Coleman all the way. Taking a 5 lead on the first two ends he was never in trouble. He finished up the 17th end with a big 4. The Black boys came within two points of Coleman somewhere around the 13th end. There were only a few fans around—it was just a little too breezy.

There was some good bowling, and while Coleman did finish up 24-14 he had to work for it all. In the other semi-final H. Clegg defaulted to R. Knox.

Now about this masquerade tournament for Saturday night. All we need is fine weather. The news has spread among our bowlers like a grass fire and as far as we can find out it is going to go over big.

The committee wants a big turnout—32 rinks—and we nearly forgot this: The board of dirtors have very generously consented to foot all costs. That means it will be "on the house." Several of the boys have already donated for the novelty prizes and all in all it is going to be a big night. Reemember this, each member to appear in costume.

Baseball Love Of Louis' Life

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP). — Right now, Joe Louis seems more interested in talking baseball than anything else.

He was cornered in his dressing room Monday night, after he had gone six snappy rounds of an exhibition bout with Pat Comiskey of Paterson, N.J.

Here's what the heavyweight champion of the world had to say:

"Man, isn't that baseball race somethin'!

"I've wired Larry Doby (Cleveland outfielder) for tickets to the Cleveland-Red Sox game Wednesday."

Now about fighting, Joe—.

"Well," said Joe, forgetting the American League for a moment, "I felt pretty good tonight, even though I only trained two days."

What about Comiskey?

"For a young man," said Louis, "he knows how to take care of himself."

Then, after a moment's thought:

"Comiskey don't run away like some fellows I know—Joe Walcott and Billy Conn."

Obviously Louis prefers someone who will stand up and slug. And in this Comiskey was his man.

PCVS Schedule

Following is the 1948 schedule of the senior PCVS football team:

Sept. 25—Riverdale at PCVS (exhibition)
Oct. 2—PCVS at Belleville (4 points)
Oct. 9—Oshawa at PCVS.
Oct. 16—PCVS at Trinity (exhibition).
Oct. 23—Albert College at PCVS (4 points).
Oct. 30—PCVS at Oshawa.
Nov. 6 or 11—Guelph at PCVS (exhibition).
Nov. 13 and 20—COSSA playoffs.

Tomorrow night's main bout at the Brock Arena between the Masked Marvel and Strangler Bob Wagner will not be one of those typical villain-her set-tos. Instead for once, a hard, rough and at times illegal grappler will meet the always powerful and mostly shady mystery-man. Wagner, the Portland Cement-Mixer is just the man to be on to the Mark's sub rosa technique and it is very doubtful that Strangler Bob will let Mr. Unknown get away with much of it. Wagner jumped at the chance for the match and is confident he can make the Marvel like it.

John Katan and Ben Sharpe meet in the semi-final and Bill Stack the vastly improved Bowmanville youngster takes on jarring Jack Moore, the ex-footballer from Ohio.

Oliver Captures Most Of Money

TACOMA, Wash., Sept. 21. — (AP).— Ed (Porky) Oliver of Seattle took most of the money Monday from the 12,500 Tacoma open golf tournament.

He picked up something in the neighborhood of 4,000 when he jammed down an eagle three on the 91st hole of what was scheduled as merely a 72-hole tournament. By that time it was down to a sudden-death match between Ed and Cary Middlecoff of Memphis, after they had eliminated three others in an 18-hole medal-play round.

The fracas at the rolling Fircrest course came up to the 72-hole mark Sunday with five men tied for first money of $2,150 at 274 strokes, 10 under par. Monday they went out to play it off —Vic Ghezzi of Englewood, N.J., Fred Haas, Jr., of New Orleans, and Chuck Congdon of Tacoma completing the quintet.

They decided the winner would take the $2,150 and the others would split what was left of the $6,430 in the top five prizes. On top of that the winner was to get half the gate, and there were around 1,400 people in the gallery at $2 a copy.

Indians Chalk Up 6th Win Wallop Philadelphia 6-3

By RALPH RODEN

The Indians are roaring down the home stretch in their bid to bring Cleveland its first American-league pennant since 1920.

The Indians scored their sixth straight victory and their 13th in their last 15 starts Monday night in beating Philadelphia Athletics 6-3. The victory enabled the pennant-hungry Tribe to stay half a game behind the leading Boston Red Sox and a half a game ahead of the third-place New York Yanks. The Red Sox downed Detroit 7-2 and the Yanks staggered to an 8-7 triumph over St. Louis in day games.

Boudreau's warriors will rest today before taking on the Red Sox in Cleveland tomorrow night in a game that may go a long way in deciding the flag. The Red Sox tangle with the Tigers again today and a Detroit triumph will enable Cleveland to tie the Sox for the lead.

Joe Gordon, who helped the Yanks win five pennants, sparked the Indians to victory before 44,442 hometown fans Monday night. Gordon drove in three runs on his 29th homer, a double and single.

Knocked From Hill

Lefty Gene Bearden started for Cleveland and enjoyed a 4-0 lead going into the seventh when he was knocked from the hill as the A's counted all of their runs on five hits and two walks. Russ Christopher finally got the side out and safeguarded the decision the rest of the way to allow Bearden to pick up his 16th triumph.

The defeat virtually eliminated the Athletics from the pennant fight. The best the A's can do is tie the Red Sox by winning all their remaining seven games while the Sox drop all of their 10.

Lefty Mickey Harris pitched the Red Sox to victory over the Tigers Two errors in the first inning gave the Tigers a pair of unearned runs but the Red Sox blasted Freddie Hutchinson for 12 hits.

Trailing the Browns 5-3 going into the seventh, the Yanks scored twice to tie the score and then moved ahead in the seventh on three singles. They clinched the game in the eighth when Joe DiMaggio singled home two runs. Earlier in the game, DiMaggio poled his 39th homer.

Break Tie

Brooklyn Dodgers broke their tie with St. Louis Cardinals for second place in the National League, clipping Chicago Cubs 4-2 while the Cards were idle. The victory moved the Dodgers to within 5½ games of the pace-setting Boston Braves. The Braves' scheduled game with Cincinnati Reds was postponed because of rain.

Philadelphia Phillies, sparked by Del Ennis, took both ends of a day-night doubleheader from the sagging Pittsburgh Pirates, 5-3 and 7-4.

Ennis cracked his 29th and 30th homers, one in each game, and drove in five runs as the Phils extended Pittsburg's losing streak to six games.

Li'l Arthur King Retains Crown

TORONTO, Sept. 21.—(CP).—Arthur King of Toronto, Canadian lightweight boxinng king, retained his crown with a technical knockout over gamecock Harvey Mathe of Sudbury in the eighth round of a scheduled 12-round bout here last night.

King didn't altogether live up to the "tiger" nickname his battling amateur days brought him. But he had little trouble in battering Mathe with blistering left hooks. The lightweight champion weighed in at 133½ and Mathe, fighting his 11th professional bout, gave King the edge at 131 pounds.

A little stale from lack of fights in recent months, King took a few rounds to warm up and then let loose with a barrage of lefts that floored the green challenger twice before Referee Bobby Laurence called the match at the 10-second mark in the eighth.

King now is ready to leave for England Wednesday to fight coalminer Billy Thompson for the British Empire lightweight title.

Rochester Edges Montreal 6-5, Chiefs Triumph

By the Associated Press

Rochester Red Wings, last "upstarts" of the International League head back to Montreal today needing only one victory to blast the champion Royals from the Shaughnessy Cup play-off.

After dropping the first two games of their best-of-seven first-round series with the Royals, the Red Wings rallied to take the last three in a row. Rochester finished the regular season in fourth place, barely making the grade on the last day.

They eked out a 6-5 verdict before 15,790 fans Monday night at Rochester, when second baseman Jimmy Bloodworth of Montreal erred with the bases full to let in two runs in the eighth inning.

In the other play-off series, Syracuse Chiefs defeated Newark Bears 2-1, in a tight 12-inning contest before 7,626 persons at Syracuse. The Bears lead the Chiefs 3-2 in the series and action resumes tonight in Newark.

Neither Lasts

Jack Banta started for the Royals last night, while Max Surkont was on the hill for Rochester, but neither was around at the finish.

Banta was sent to the showers by a three-run blast in the second inning, and Johnny Van Cuyk came in to become the loser.

Surkont lasted until the eighth, when the Royals came from behind to score three runs and lead 5-4. Steve Gerkin came in, retired the last two batters and gained credit for the victory, although Al Papai pitched the ninth inning for Rochester and set the Royals down in order.

The Bears-Chiefs contest was a thriller, as John Hetki hooked up in a brilliant pitching duel with Clarence Marshall of Newark.

Frankie Davis gave Hetki the verdict in the last of the 12th when he singled with the bases loaded. Hetki allowed just four hits, one of them Ted Sepkowski's homer in the fourth inning to knot the score at 1-all.

Leadership Race May Narrow On Drew Entry

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL

OTTAWA, Sep. 21 (CP) — The decision of Premier Drew to contest the Progressive Conservative leadership in the Federal field may narrow down the list of leadership candidates at the party's forthcoming national convention, a party official said today.

He said the field might be narrowed down to three or four candidates by the time nominations close at the convention Sept. 30, Oct. 1-2. Deadline for nominations has been set at 6 p.m. Oct. 1. Voting will take place the following day.

Besides Mr. Drew, three other men have announced their intention of contesting the leadership which John Bracken, 65, is giving up because of his age and ill-health. John Diefenbaker, 52-year-old member of the Commons for Lake Centre in Saskatchewan, announced his candidature Sept. 17.

Earlier, J. W. Hanna, 59, member of the Ontario Legislature for Huron Bruce, and Garfield Case, 49, member of the Commons for the Ontario constituency of Grey North, announced that they would be candidates.

Announces Withdrawal

However, signs of the narrowing down already were apparent Monday night when Mr. Hanna announced his withdrawal.

He said Mr. Drew "is beyond all question the man for the job. Now that Premier Drew, my leader, is definitely in the race, I feel it is only proper that I should withdraw and throw my support behind him."

The official said there was a possibility that Mr. Case also will withdraw his name before the convention opens and throw his support behind Mr. Drew or Mr. Diefenbaker. In any event, he said, it was unlikely that Mr. Case would prove to be strong contender.

There is a possibility, said the official, that Donald Fleming, 43, Member of the Commons for Toronto Eglinton, and E. D. Fulton, 32, Member for the British Columbia riding of Kamloops, may decide to enter the contest.

Others might be nominated, but it was unlikely that they would allow their names to stand before the convention.

Urges Papers Devote Space To Education

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Sept. 21.—(CP).—Premier Drew of Ontario Monday night urged weekly newspaper editors to devote as much space as possible to "practical political education."

He told the 29th annual meeting of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association that it is essential for Canadians to understand the basic principles of the federal democracy under which they are governed, with its divided field of jurisdiction and responsibilities.

The premier, who earlier Monday announced that he will be a candidate for the national leadership of the Progressive Conservative party, added:

"I am not, of course, speaking of political education in this case as the advocacy of a particular party point of view, but rather of the need for clear and interesting information regarding our constitution and the way in which we govern ourselves at the various levels of government, whether it be dominion, provincial or municipal.

Understand Constitution

"Perhaps I need hardly say that a wider understanding of our constitution would have avoided any misapprehension as to the course followed by the Ontario government in recent years and would have made it clear why we felt sure we were acting in the best interests of the whole of Canada, as well as Ontario, in insisting upon the recognition of the basic principles of the federal system under which this country has grown to be the great and united nation it is today."

The availability of newsprint in Canada, compared with the scarcity in European countries, was a challenge to use it for sound discussion of national problems and events.

"The weekly newspapers of this country have a splendid tradition of impartial and fair reporting. Because they are so close to the people in their own communities, they have at all times maintained the highest principles of a free press.

"While vigorous in their advocacy of what they believe will benefit their own community and the nation as a whole, their advocacy and their criticism is measured by a restraint and fairness which in itself is the thing most likely to protect a free press in the exercise of its great public service."

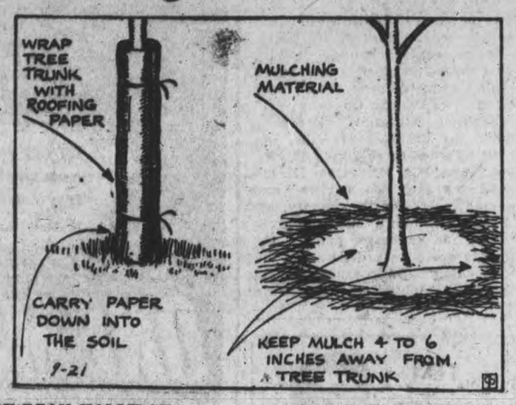
YOUR GARDEN . . .

Protecting Trees In Winter



BY DEAN HALLIDAY

In many sections of the country mice and rabbits cause considerable injury to the bark of young trees, especially fruit trees.

One easy method of protecting the young trees, is illustrated in the accompanying Garden-Graph. Wrap the trunks of the trees with strips of roofing paper, tied in position, as illustrated. Burlap, wire screens of tar paper may also be used.

When placing the tree protectors, push them down into the soil, as illustrated, to keep out the mice which will go under the guard if it is left up off the ground.

A repellent against rabbits and mice is to paint or spray on the trees, shrubbery or vines with sulfonated oil. This is made by heating linseed oil to 390 degrees Fahrenheit, and then setting it out of doors and sifting into it flowers of sulphur, stirring the mixture continually. The proportions are nine parts of oil to one part of sulphur, by weight. Apply when cooled. Most people prefer painting it on the trees. Paint up above the anticipated snow-line.

It is very important that mulching material not be placed around young trees for winter protection until after the ground has frozen. One main reason is, by that time rodents will have nested elsewhere. If the mulch is spread while the ground is still soft, mice find this an ideal place to burrow under for their winter quarters, feeding on the plant's roots.

Keep mulching materials all of four to six inches back from the tree's bark, as illustrated. When the mulch is placed close to the tree trunk it affords a sheltered access to the bark for the mice. Under the protection of a mulch around the tree trunk, they gnaw away, girdling the tree trunk at or just below the surface of the ground.

Clarify Policies Diefenbaker Aim

SAINT JOHN, N.B., Sept. 21 — (CP). — The traditional policies of the Progressive Conservative party should be "restated and clarified," John Diefenbaker, candidate for national leadership of the party, said in an interview Monday night.

"The flag of freedom should be nailed to the masthead. The proposed policy should be an expression of free initiative to the end that the development of our national resources will take place in all parts of the country."

Party followers, he added, believed in "proper methods" of social security but should not attempt to outbid the Liberal and Socialist parties in socialistic formulae."

Mr. Diefenbaker said his tour of the Maritime provinces had convinced him that a new spirit pervaded the party rank and file, which was ready for a new test of strength.

"If out of the (national) convention a strong policy is envolved and a national organization everywhere in Canada is launched with vigor, the hope of the party for victory at the next election can be achieved."

LAKE OF BAYS, Ont., Sept. 21 — (CP). — James C. Downs of Chicago, internationally-recognied real estate authority, said Monday there will be no depression in either Canada or the United States for many years. Addressing 400 Ontario real estate men he predicted prices of houses would not drop. "In fact, I honestly think they will go up," he said mentioning steadily increasing construction costs and continuing demand."

Jury Blames U-Turn For 4 Youths' Deaths

TORONTO, Sept. 21 — (CP).—A coroner's jury on Friday night blamed a U-turn on the Queen Elizabeth Highway "without taking due precaution regarding oncoming traffic" as a contributing factor in the deaths of four Toronto youths who lost their lives in a flaming truck August 12 following a collision with another truck.

The jury exonerated Ken Heslop, driver of the other truck. They said it was evident "he used all possible means to prevent the collision.

Those who died in the flaming wreckage were: Ronald Murrison 18, driver of the truck, his brother John Murrison, Gerald Weir 23, and Reginald Smith 21.

YOU CAN'T BUY A BETTER MOTOR OIL

"It's Alloyed"

1. QUALITY
PEERLESS QUALITY rates above all others . . . because it is refined from better crudes . . . with the latest scientific knowledge known to the oil industry . . . and because PEERLESS, and only PEERLESS, IS ALLOYED.

2. PERFORMANCE
PEERLESS PERFORMANCE improves engine performance. No matter how high the temperature PEERLESS won't "thin out" . . . still provide maximum compression seal at all times . . . resulting in greater power and greatly improved oil mileage.

3. ECONOMY
PEERLESS ECONOMY starts with better lubrication . . . follows through by keeping motor costs down and giving your motor longer and longer life. PEERLESS is the all-season, all-temperature, expense reducer because it reduces, the cause of many motor failures.

To improve Peerless Motor Oil and give it stamina to stand up longer under a wider range of temperatures, an "alloy" is added which forms a protective film around each molecule thus eliminating breakdown. "It's alloyed".

Society Honors Bolivar St. Home Owner

For the most outstanding accomplishment in home and garden beautification along the 17 miles of the scenic drive from Locks Bridge through the city to Lakefield, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Curry, 601 Bolivar St., have been awarded first honors by the Horticultural Society.

"It was selected as the best example of what can be done by thoughtful planning and diligent work," W. C. Wilks, secretary, informed the Examiner today. "The improvement is during the period of one year. When you think of the large number of homes along the route, it is a real distinction to have one's home chosen as the winning entry.

Competition was so keen this year that the judges recommended additional awards be given to Mr. and Mrs. Blake Collins, 57 River Road, north of Nicholls Oval, and Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Huggins, 147 River Road.

The judges were Dr. A. J. Madill, Joseph S. Bell and James Rigden.

Mr. Wilks commented: "It is through the efforts of such citizens—whether they are members of the Horticultural Society or not—and of all the others who took part in this year's competition that Peterborough has earned the reputation of being a beautiful city.

12 More Men Join Regiment

A dozen recruits joined the 50th HAA Regt. RCA, the local Reserve Force unit, during the Army Week opening demonstration on Monday evening. The recruiting centre at the Armory also had a number of enquiries regarding enlistment in the Active Force.

This week's special recruiting drive will continue this evening, when an Active Force travelling circus, consisting of special purpose command and maintenance equipment, will be on show to the public. There will be another demonstration of a gun site in action and a marker searchlight will be an additional attraction and centre of interest.

Causeway Pier Work Be Pushed

A deputation, headed by R. M. Glover, from the Peterborough County Council visited Ottawa on Friday and discussed with officials of the Department of Transport the erection of the navigation opening in the Chemong causeway. This opening which will be a swing span bridge is the care of the federal department and Deputy Minister J. C. Lessard and C. W. West, director, of Canal Services promised immediate action.

The pacing of the fill is progressing so rapidly that county officials and contractor feared that the west pier for the bridge would not be completed before the fill had reached that point and thus delay operations.

Completion of this pier will enable the contractor to complete the fill right up to the pier and thus eliminate added expense to the county.

Other matters pertaining to the final completion of the causeway were dealt with whereby the county engineer and department officials will work together on the project.

Present Flower Cups At YW Sept. 27

Annual presentation of trophies and cups will be the feature of a meeting of the Horticultural Society Monday, September 27 in the YWCA.

Thursday evening this week there will be a "grouch" session, as the secretary, W. C. Wilks, terms it, in the office of the Department of Agriculture at 8 p.m. Flower show exhibitors are especially invited for their criticisms or suggestions of how the show can be improved. Cash awards will be distributed at this meeting.

The meeting next Monday night includes presentation of prizes in the rural schools competition. Moving pictures will be shown.

Leadership Great Need John Sheperd Tells Jaycees

"Day-to-day happenings show that Canada is in need of young men for leadership—young men who have a thorough working knowledge of their country—and who care for it." This was the message of John Sheperd of Hamilton, 1st vice-president of the Canadian Junior Chamber of Commerce. He was speaker at the first meeting of the new season of the Peterborough Jaycees Monday night.

In a brief address in which he outlined the history, organization and objectives of the national Jaycees, Mr. Sheperd paid high tribute to the work of the local unit in its tourist development and encouragement program this year.

Speaking of tourism as a national project of the Jaycees, he said: "I can't tell you anything about that subject here in Peterborough—it would be like carrying coals to Newcastle. You have done a magnificent job."

First established in the United States, the Junior Chamber of Commerce spread to Canada in the early '20's. The national organization in Canada was founded in 1936. Today, with nearly 200 separate Chambers, it is the strongest per population Chamber in the world.

Expanding on the subject of the tourist business to ease the adverse Canadian-US dollar balance, he said that the "dearth of publicity on Canada in the United States is appalling. Efforts such as yours to publicize our country over there are doing a great national service to Canada.

Stressing that all members of Jaycee units are also members of the Canadian Junior Chamber, he urged close co-operation with the Senior Chamber of Commerce.

"Only in this way can both do their jobs to full benefit."

The speaker was introduced by Marlowe Banks. Thanks of the Chamber were expressed by Herb Martin.

Chairman of the meeting was President John McMillan.

Watermain Crew Busy In South-End

The watermain-laying crew of Utilities Commission are being transferred from Caddy and Beverley Streets area in Ashburnham to Rose and Wilson Avenues in the new housing section off Monaghan Road.

Utilities Commission approved that switch at their Monday meeting because 120 Central Mortgage houses are being built there by Reynolds Construction Co. Mains have been laid for some 40 others of that project in the locality north of Brinton Carpet Co. and near the Locks.

R. L. Dobbin recommended that job because of the speed of trenching with machine aid. Weller St. west and Simcoe St. to Peterborough Lock Co. will probably have to be done by manual labor, and it would not make much difference whether that work was begun before or after frost comes.

35 PER CENT FORESTS

Thirty-five per cent of Canada's land area is forested.

MAIN ST. TOPICS

ROTARY CLUB SECRETARY

Les Woodruff is to be the new secretary of the Rotary Club. He will take over his new duties from Bob Cochran, the present secretary, on October 1.

NO INQUEST

There will be no inquest held into the death Monday morning of Robert Davidson, CGE worker who was killed at the plant. Dr. Herb Young, Coroner, gave out this information late Monday afternoon.

C.C.F. CONVENTIONS

Walter Dinesen will preside at the annual meeting of the Peterborough C.C.F. riding association in the K. of C. hall Thurs., Sept. 23 at 8 p.m. Resolutions to go before the provincial convention, King Edward Hotel, Toronto, Oct. 7-9, will be discussed.

SPORTING HONESTY

F. M. DelaFosse won a prize for being "the most honest golfer" at the men's field day on Saturday at the Peterborough Golf Club. In a closing draw, he then skillfully drew out his own ticket to win yet another prize.

THE MUSKY TWINS

They're dubbing Wilfred Pettit and Frank Brown of Belleville "The Musky Twins." Three weeks ago the fishing duo hauled a 35-pound musky from the Trent River near Glenross. On Sunday from the same spot they brought out a 36-pounder which measured 53 inches overall.

MEMBERSHIP GROWS

Among new members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce introduced or announced Monday night were: Andrew Fowler, Stanley Harding, Frank Hynes, John Armstrong, Thornton Waters, Thomas Riley, Gordon Moher and Kenneth Billings.

JAYCEES FOR LINDSAY?

Douglas Delaney reported to the Monday night meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce that efforts are now underway by the Peterborough Jaycees to organize a similar group in Lindsay. He said that interested young businessmen in the town have been contacted and that action towards the formation is expected this fall.

AUTUMN EQUINOX

This is one of the four calendar days that mark the course of the sun and its effects on the weather. It is the date of the autumn equinox, equal day and night, and the beginning of the three months of the lengthening nights to Dec. 21, the shortest day in the year. Today and Mar. 21 are counterparts. Chillness in the air last night was a portent of frost. Exactly a year ago a cold dip nipped the corn crop, but was followed by a memorable October and a late fall that was comparatively mild.

City Using 40,000 kwh More Than Daily Quota Allowed

Peterborough used 280,000 kilowatt-hours of Hydro electricity Monday as compared with the daily quota of 240,000 which goes into effect Wednesday.

Consumption Sunday was 224,000 k.w.h. as against 164,000 k.w.h. on Sunday, September 12.

Expansion of industry and building in Ontario this year has caused an increased power demand of 237,000 horse power more than in 1947.

Another recently quoted fact is that on wash days, dull days and on the days of the week when industrial use is at its peak, Hydro is short about 530,000 h.p.

The exceptionally dry summer in the Ottawa river valley has complicated the Hydro problem of power production.

That week day shortage of 530,000 h.p. is the worry R. H. Saunders, former mayor of Toronto, stepped into when he assumed chairmanship of the Hydro-Electric Commission. The paramount necessity of supplying continuous power to the industries of the province has been emphasized to the domestic and commercial users for their co-operation relieving as much as possible the industrial emergency and its potential effect on employment.

Ask Dr. Worton To Give City 3-Yr. Agreement

A previous motion of the Board of Health granting Dr. Harold Worton full salary while taking a health course at the University of Toronto was rescinded at a special meeting of the board today. He will now receive $2,000 instead of the usual $2,400 for the eight-month period; there will be no car allowance, and he will be required to enter into a three-year agreement to remain as an employee of the board. The three-year agreement will become effective when he graduates.

On Monday the board reached an impasse when James Dutton Sr., chairman of the board, and Dr. R. A. Kelly, MOH, reached substantial agreement on the counter-proposal, but Alderman Grant Miller strongly opposed it. It was decided then to adjourn the special meeting until today when Mayor William Ovens would be back in the city.

Insisted On Agreement

Mayor Ovens sided with the view of Mr. Dutton and Dr. Kelly that $1,200 was insufficient for Dr. Worton to maintain a satisfactory standard of living, but he insisted upon him entering into the three-year agreement.

Stating his position, the mayor said: "If he is willing to enter into a three-year agreement with the city, and that during the term of the course he receive $2,000 and no car allowance, then I'm quite happy about it. A chap couldn't live on $1,200."

The mayor then put this in the form of a motion and it was seconded by Dr. Kelly.

Alderman Miller approved of the terms requiring a three-year agreement, but continued to oppose granting Dr. Worton more than half of his regular salary.

"I agree he couldn't live on that money," said Alderman Miller. "But I don't feel we're obligated more than half way. He must budget himself."

Tribute to Board

Mayor Ovens paid tribute to the work that has been done by the local Board of Health. "We should have a qualified staff to handle our health requirements," he said. "As mayor of Peterborough I don't want to see any backward steps taken. The subjects taught at the course are beneficial."

He admitted that he, too, had not known the length of the course at the time the original motion was passed, but he felt that it was desirable and mentioned the possibility of other health department personnel taking it some time in the future.

"I think a compromise where you're not exceeding your budget is quite satisfactory," the mayor said. "It's done in industry and other businesses whereby an employee is sent away on a course to be brought up to date on his particular calling. If this is the same with Dr. Worton then by all means send him away."

Mr. Dutton stressed the fact that the $2,000 to Dr. Worton plus the $100 a month to Dr. H. H. Hamilton who will temporarily replace him, will still come well within the Board of Health's budget for the year.

Cost $250 a Month

"If we paid another man to come in and do the job it would cost $250 a month, and we would be over our budget," he said.

Mr. Dutton said that the Board of Health had the power of a corporation and that it would be "quite justified in carrying out the original resolution." However, he said, the counter proposals had been put forward.

"I haven't disputed the authority of the Board as a corporation, or that Dr. Worton would be a better trained man," Ald. Miller said. "After a couple of chats with him I found it his desire to take the course. From my standpoint it's a clear issue of a 50 per cent desire on both sides. I feel the responsibility of a publicly-elected official, and I couldn't give my permission for any greater expenditure that the ratepayers of the city would have to bear."

Alderman Miller then warned that the Board was setting up a dangerous precedent. "There's nothing personal in this, but my first responsibility is to the people."

"The only thing that was worrying me," said Mr. Dutton, "was that we were going beyond our budget and exceeding our authority. But that's not so."

"There may be still expenses to meet within the next three months," saaid Alderman Miller.

Mayor Ovens: "When everything is considered, the proposal of $2,000 is very reasonable."

The meeting then adjourned, but Dr. Kelly made a final comment. He said that the prestige of the Board of Health had been lowered due to the controversy raised by the whole matter.

"Dr. Worton was put in a very embarrassing position. His course in Toronto started yesterday and he's still not there. And his telephone has been ringing all day long with people criticizing him."

Dr. Kelly then laid the blame for the controversy on "a biased newspaper report."

Mayor Ovens explained that a reporter had not been present but a resume of the meeting had been obtained from the city clerk.

To Mayor Ovens' explanation that this was the usual practice employed when a meeting was not covered directly, Dr. Kelly replied: "then as Medical Officer of Health I ask that these reports not be given out."

"You meau that you don't want the press to cover these meetings?" asked the mayor.

"No. I don't mean that," said Dr. Kelly.

The meeting then broke up with nothing more said.

INSIDE THE CITY

Halley Jewell, 1013 Water St. had his hands full when his troll was struck by a 22-pound lunge just above the Auburn dam off North Water St. He had his pet police pup "Major" along wth him who got so excited at the thrashing of the finny monster that he fell in. With a fighting fish on the end of a troll in one hand and a puppy getting a hoist back into the boat with the other, Halley had a few hectic minutes but he stuck with his double-barreled task and got them both aboard. Halley must be a cool fellow, at that; he could have conked the pup with a club and patted the muskie but he kept his mind on his business and untangled everything satisfactorily.

Plan Meeting To Discuss Saving Power

Assignment of a power-saving employee to make the rounds of each factory will be suggested to their representatives attending Wednesday at 3.30 in the council chamber a meeting called by the Utilities Commission to consider the Hydro restrictions.

Factories will be asked it is understood to make daily power consumption records. The Utilities Commission will instruct some employee in each plant, if necessary, in the reading of the meter.

It is also suggested that it may be proposed to some of the larger industries that they switch work in some of their departments to the week-end as a means of reducing the power consumption in Peterborough during the rest of the week from Monday morning to Friday night.

Utilities Commission is making these suggestions, it is expected, at the meeting Wednesday afternoon of the wage-earning branch of the power consumers of the community. By implication it was said that some member of each family and office should be given a similar vigilant chore, keeping switches turned off if lights and various power gadgets are not necessary.

Utilities this morning were calling about 75 of the industries asking them to send representatives to the meeting in the city hall.

Club To Spend $35,000 On 2 Swimming Pools At Lions-Riverside Park

Peterborough Lions have decided to proceed with the building of an inland wading pool and swimming pool in Lions-Riverside Park. Eventual cost of the two pools, together with dressing rooms, is expected to be $35,000. Decision to go ahead was made at the regular meeting of the club held on Monday night. This means that the present wading pool area in the river will be abandoned and materials for the construction of the inland pools will be accumulated during the winter so that work can begin immediately in the spring. It is hoped to have both pools open to the public by July 1.

The swimming pool will be of regulation size (100 ft. by 50 ft.). It will have the most modern filtration plant available. There will be a cement walk around the sides and the pool will have underwater lighting.

Small children will be able to splash about in the new wading pool (40 ft. by 30 ft.) without having to worry about the sharp rocks on the river bottom. And it was felt by the Lions that they would be safer in an inland pool, both from dangers of infection in a possibly-polluted river and from drowning.

Originally the Lions wished to construct a swimming pool in the river but they could secure no contractor who would guarantee the bottom of the river bed. A special committee appointed by the club under the chairmanship of Doug Anderson was given the task of exploring the possibilities of building a pool, either in the river or inland. The opinion of the committee was that an inland pool should be constructed.

Apart from the fact that contractors would not guarantee a successful job in the river, some members felt that the risk of contamination in the water was always present. And they felt that the inland project with he filtration system would eliminate this hazard.

Several Opposed

Several of the members strenuously opposed the project. One of them pointed out that it was a lot of money to sink in an outdoor pool which could be used for three months of the year at the most. They felt that adult swimmers would not pay admission in summer to swim when there were all the natural facilities present in the Peterborough district.

Another Lion opposed the recommendation of the special committee for an inland project as he was still of the opinion that a natural pool of a permanent nature could be constructed in the river.

But when the issue was put to a vote the recommendation of the committee received overwhelming support.

The special committee made an extensive tour of Western Ontario, including Tilsonburg, Ingersoll and Woodstock, to see the inland tanks which had been built in those centres. They returned with photographs, diagrams and estimates of cost to aid club members in making a decision.

To help raise funds for this ambitious project the Lions have set aside October 9 as peanut day. By this novel method of tagging—a patron receives a bag of peanuts instead of a tag—club members hope to launch their campaign to bring to Peterborough its first regulation-sized swimming tank as well as a safe and convenient pool for small children.

Enthusiastic supporters of this project were Mrs. Pansy Forbes and more than 20 of her Ornamental Swimming Club, who were guests of the Lions Club on Monday night. Mrs. Forbes and the girls eagerly volunteered to help as taggers on peanut day.

A spokesman for the Ornamental Swimmers, who recently won the AAU Sportsmanship Trophy at Des Moines, Iowa, said they were severely handicapped by present swimming facilities. Mrs. Forbes said it was very difficult to train speed swimmers in a tank smaller than regulation size. "When the girls turn they get caught in their own backwash," said Mrs. Forbes.

Made Many Friends

Earlier in the evening Mrs. Forbes thanked the Lions for the facilities they provided at Riverside Park this summer, allowing the club to carry on its swim program at both the H-wharf and the wading pool. "We got a lot of fun from helping out the youngsters," she said.

Referring to the recent trip to Des Moines, Mrs. Forbes said she was pleased with the showing of the girls, and she said they made many friends in the United States.

Lions who received a chevron for a year of perfect attendance were: Doug Anderson, George Colwell, George Hildenbrand, Lloyd McClure, Ed Overend, Geddes Harper, Joe Boland, Clarence Harloff, William Bennett, Lew Horning, Ray McIntosh, Jim McCullough, J. E. Girven, Gord Shier, Arnold Deyell, Bob Gibbons and Norman Hughes.

Bert Sisson, Stan Darling, Pat Scollard and Byron Bond each received two-year chevrons. Ron MacGee received a four-year chevron; and James Dutton Jr., a seven-year chevron.

Past-President Scollard reported that the recent Lions carnival was the most successful ever held by the club, particularly from the financial aspect. He thanked all those who had helped to make it so.

James McCullough was boosted by Lloyd McClure and George Hutchinson won the raffle prize.

A. A. Morrison, sales supervisor for a peanut company, outlined plans for a successful staging of peanut day. He was introduced by James Marshall and thanked by Arnold Deyell. President Simpson Gledhill was in the chair.

Rehill, advisory president of the group, briefly outlined the interesting aspects of the School of Leaders at Whitby which she attended recently. Talent and self-denial money which members saved during the holiday season was received. Devotions were led by Miss Ruth Taylor and an interesting item on Christian stewardship gien by Miss Doris Hendry, the topc being "Self-Discipline."

An alphabetical Bible quizz was conducted by the leader. October meeting will be held at the home of Miss Migneon Mayneord, 271 Reid St.

CRIPPS CONFIDENT—Sir Stafford, accompanied by Lady Cripps, who recently arrived in Montreal, expressed confidence that forthcoming talks with the Canadian Government would help iron out Anglo-Canadian economic problems. The Chancellor of the Exchequer left immediately for Ottawa.

Helen Hickson Wed Monday To Bernard Jos. Coughlin

The Church of the Sacred Heart was setting for a lovely wedding Monday morning as Helen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Hickson, Peterborough, became the bride of Bernard Joseph Coughlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Coughlin, Lakefield. The Rev. G. Sullivan said the nuptial mass.

Bouquets of pastel shaded gladioli decorated the church and traditional wedding music was played by Mr J. Armstrong. While the register was being signed Mrs. D. Campanaro sang "Ave Marie."

The bride chose a wedding gown of ivory slipper satin with full skirt and slight train. An inset yoke of nylon was edged with fine knife pleating and the bell-shaped sleeves were in push-up style. Her train-length veil of tulle was caught to a Mary Queen of Scots headdress and she carried a showered bouquet of Bettertime red roses. Mr. Hickson gave his daughter in marriage and she was attended by her sister, Miss Mary Hickson. The latter was in a frock of blue net over taffeta and wore matching gloves and a halo of blue flowers. She carried a bouquet of Briarscliffe roses.

Mr. John Coughlin of Lakefield was groomsman for his brother. Messrs. Paul Simmons and John Hennessey ushered.

At the reception held afterward in the Empress Hotel, Mrs. Hickson, mother of the bride, received in a dress of Hunter's green with which she fore matching accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. She was assisted by the groom's mother who was wearing a burgundy suit with black accessories and a corsage of pink and white roses.

When leaving later on their wedding trip to Buffalo the bride was wearing a teal blue suit with accessories in black and a corsage of pink roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Coughlin will reside at 500 Chamberlain St.

McIlmoyle-Rome Vows Are Taken

The wedding of Barbara Jean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rome, Burnham St. to Mr. Ivan E. McIlmoyle, son of Mr. and Mrs. John McIlmoyle, Young's Point, took place Saturday at the home of the Rev. E. W. Rowland who performed the cermony.

White bengaline with yoke and overskirt of white net fashioned the bride's dress and she wore a headdress of the net and gloves to match. Her bonquet was a cascade of red roses. Miss Shirley Rome attended her sister wearing a similar frock with bodice of pail blue bengaline and her skirt, headdress and gloves of white net. She carried a dainty nosegay of pink roses.

Mr. Russell McIlmoyle was his brother's groomsman.

The reception following was at the bride's home. Her mother received the guests wearing a gown in claret shade, black hat and corsage of yellow roses. She was assisted by the groom's mother who was in flowered silk jersey, with black hat and wore a similar corsage.

When leaving on their wedding trip to Toronto and the United States the bride was wearing a wine suit with accessories in blue and a corsage of yellow roses.

Mr. and Mrs. McIlmoyle will reside at 307 Burnham St.

Perry-Elliott

The wedding was solemnized in St. John's Anglican Church on Saturday of Marion Lila, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Elliott of Selwyn, and William Eric Perry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Perry, Peterborough. Ven. Archdeacon W. P. Robertson performed the marriage ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a suit of dark green with accessories in grey and a corsage of Talisman roses. Her attendant, Miss Hazel Dunsford of Lakefield, was in a suit of cameo brown and dark brown accessories and wore a corsage of cream roses.

The groomsman was Mr. Carl Bowes of Peterborough.

A reception was held afterward at the bride's home. Mrs. Elliott received wearing a two piece suit of pale blue with grey accessories and a corsage of pink roses. She was assisted by Mrs. Perry who was attired in wine with black accessories and a corsage of red roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry left later for Niagara Falls and other points. They will reside in Peterborough.

DOROTHY DIX

Betrayed Wife Preserves Marriage for Children

When a wife finds out that her husband has been unfaithful to her, her first impulse is to break up her home, take her children and rush with her grievance to the divorce court. If she loves her husband, her world lies in ruins about her, and she knows that never again can it be the beautiful place in which she lived when she trusted her husband as she trusted her God.

Dorothy Dix

Her very soul is torn to tatters with jealousy. She feels that she has been insulted and humiliated beyond endurance, for, as women judge women, the wife who cannot hold her husband has failed somehow as a woman. The pity of her friends, the shame of knowing that her husband is no longer interested in her and has forsaken her for a glamour girl, the loneliness of solitary evenings, with nobody to speak to except the baby, get on the nerves of the wife of the philanderer until she finally comes to think that divorce is her only out, and that she would be once more young and beautiful and perfectly happy if she only had a decree absolute.

So myriads of unhappy wives believe that divorce is the cure-all for all of their troubles, and they ask the courts to break up their marriages without ever stopping to count the cost. In their disappointment in their marriages not remaining love idyls and finding that their husbands are two-timers, they want to chuck the whole business and go back to Mother. They forget that marriage is a wife's career, her means of livelihood, and that many a philanderer is a good provider, and that there is a lot of consolation that a woman gets out of a comfortable home and a charge account at the best stores.

Count Cost

Confirming this theory that the woman who is married to a man with a wandering foot should sit down and do a little figuring before she lets her own feet carry her to the divorce court, is a letter from a wife who confronts this problem. She says:

"I am maried to a man to whom every fluttering skirt is a signal to get up and follow, but I am not breaking up my home for these reasons: (1) Because we have two lovely little girls, age 3 and 4 years, and I feel that I would rather sacrifice my life as a forsaken wife than have them half-orphaned and to grow up in a home in which they would never know a father's love and care.

(2) "My husband's mother lives with us where she is very happy and contented, as she would not be anywhere else. She loves her son and adores the little grandchildren, and it would b a cruel thing to deprive her of the pleasure of being with them in her old age.

(3) "My husband is a good provider, and as I do not have good health I could not support the children and give them the advantages that their father does. (4) I have friends who love and respect me and who would be hurt by the gossip that a divorce always creates. (5) I feel that this would not only affect my own life, but also that of my children. It is a matter of common knowledge that the children of divorced parents almost always have their natures warped.

(6) "While my husband is untrue to me, he is not unpleasant to live with. He is kindly, sympathetic, with a charming personality. So even if I do regret my marriage to a philanderer, by the help of God I am able to go on for the sake of those I love, and to make a happy home for my children."

"My plea to other women faced with this problem is to do the same, and I believe that if we do, we will not only be rewarded in this world but in the world to come."

To which I say fervently: Amen.

Barbara Jones Is Married At Parents' Home, Norwood

NORWOOD, Sept. 21 (ENS).—Amid a profusion of fall flowers in the home, attractively decorated for the occasion, the marriage was solemnied Saturday, at Maple Grove Farm, Norwood, of Barbara Grets, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Art Jones, and Raymond Allen Rodgers, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rodgers. Rev. R. D. Duncanson officiated.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was in a gown of blush satin on Victorian lines, with sweetheart neckline, pointed basque and full skirt. Her fingertip veil was caught with sprays of baby's breath and she carried an arm bouquet of pink roses and baby's breath. Miss Bette Bacon of Toronto, bridesmaid, was in green corded taffeta trimmed with burnished gold lace. The frock was off-shoulder style with fited bodice and peplum falling over the full skirt. She wore matching mittens and Juliet cap of gold sequins, and carried a cascade of yellow roses.

The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Delmer Rodgers.

Wedding music was supplied by Sergt. E. E. Davis of Petawawa, and during the signing of he register played "Because" and "O Promise Me.'"

The bride's mother was wearing powder blue jersey, black accessories, and a corsage of red roses. The groom's mother was in black and white jersey, black accessories, and wore a corsage of red roses. The serving table was centred with a four-tier wedding cake topped with fountain of flowers, and had been decorated by Miss Bette Bacon.

A lunch was served by friends of the bride, Misses Marion Cuthbertson and Eileen Steele, while Miss Marion Wright attended the bride's table. Tea was poured by Mrs. Arnold Baptie in pink sheer with corsage of pink roses, and Miss Lorna Hinton gowned in powder blue taffeta and corsage of pink carnations.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Rodgers left for a motor trip to Niagara Falls and Detroit. For travelling the bride wore a navy blue dress and princess style shortie coat of grey velour, navy accessories, and corsage of roses. They will reside in Norwood.

THE STARS SAY . . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

Fof Wednesday, September 22

It might be possible to arrest or bring to a halt a thriving and productive state of affairs, by overdoing, too drastic or strenuous action, or by overventuresome performance or tumultuous conduct. The latter may alleviate the good will and support in the way of capital or prestige, of vital bearing on success. Or ill temper, want of consideration, could beget difficulties and loss, in energy, harmony and peace of mind. For best results maintain equipoise and be gracious to all.

Those whose birthday it is, may find themselves keyed up to a course of action that could eventually block most promising and fertile fields of operation. This not only by tumultuous and irascible conduct, but by over-doing in a drastic and over ambitious effort to force the issues. Such ardent or belligerent tactics could drive away or irritate those whose friendly support or capital, is of vital consequence.

A child born on this day may be too ardent for its own good, hampering success and progress by driving away the needful collaboration of partners and influential persons.

27 Attend Tot's Birthday

BONARLAW, Sept. 21.—(ENS).—A pleasant birthday party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Broadworth on Friday in honor of Dorreen Broadworth, who celebrated her 4th birthday.

There was 13 ladies present and 14 children. Three tables were arranged on the lawn for the children. Lunch was served in mid-afternoon, which included a beautiful birthday cake of pink-and-white with four candles.

Those present were: Mrs. Granville Meiklejohn and Linda; Mrs. Ralph Wellman and Linda; Mrs. George Bateman and John; Mrs. Stanley Peterson and baby Beverly and Joan; Mrs. Harold Stiles and Bobby; Mrs. Geraid Burkett, Shirley, Sharon and Donny; Mrs. Bert Anderson and Marilyn; Mrs. Ward McInroy and son Eric; Mrs. Hiram Mumby and Maryiel; Dianna Edward; Mrs. Percy Bateman and Mrs. Ed. Huff.

Lebo-Brown

TRENT RIVER, Sept. 21 (ENS)—A wedding of local interest was solemnized at the United Church parsonage Havelock, by the Rev. F. R. Vanderburgh, Friday, September 17, when Helen Gwendolyn Brown of Toronto, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. J. Brown, Home Acres, Trent River, became the bride of Jack Lebo, youngest son of Mrs. H. Lebo of Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Dart of Trent River were the wedding attendants.

After the ceremony a reception was held at Home Acres for immediate members of the family. Mr. and Mrs. Lebo will spend their honeymoon in California.

Dorothy Harvie Bride of Gerald Emmons

George St. United church was decorated with baby 'mums and fall flowers Saturday for the wedding ceremony which united Grace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Harvie of Peterborough, and Thomas Gerald, son of Mr and Mrs. James Russell Emmons of Campbellford. The Rev. Dr. J. R. R. Cooper performed the marriage. Mr. Charles Allen played the wedding music.

Attired in a lovely wedding gown of white satin embroidered with seed pearls and a full length veil of white net caught to a coronet of pearls, the bride was given in marriage by her father. She carried a ring bouquet of red roses.

Bridal attendants were Mrs. F. Stephens, sister of the bride, as matron of honor, Mrs. A. Giffin, bridesmaid, Miss Nancy Townsend, niece of the bride, and Miss Mary Ellen Emmons, sister of the groom as junior bridesmaids. Their frocks, bonnets and gloves were styled of taffeta in yellow, mauve, blue and pink, and they were carrying rings of gladioli in matching shades.

Mr. Connor Milne attended the groom and ushers were Archie Townsend and Earle Fox.

The reception was held on the lawn at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. A. W. Townsend, Ross St. For the occasion the bride's mother was attired in steel grey satin and wore a black felt hat and corsage of Talisman roses. The groom's mother wore pale blue silk jersey, a black hat and corsage of pink roses. Refreshments were served by Misses Mary Agnes and Doreen Fox, Miss Mary Townsend, Miss Joan McCarthy and Miss Yvonne Harvie.

Later, wearing a dark green crepe dress, black satin hat and black accessories and shortie coat, Mrs. Emmons left with her husband on a wedding trip to Toronto. On return they will live on Wolsley St.

Fisher-Mist

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Lindsay, was the setting for a wedding of interest when the Rev. Donald McQueen heard nuptial vows of Gwendolyn Vyrtle Mist, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Louis Mist of Peterborough and Lindsay and Thomas Melville Fisher of Peterborough, elder son of Mrs. Clayton Campbell and the late Peter Fisher of Lindsay.

The bride, given in marriage by her father wore a dinner dress of dusty rose crepe, black accessories, and carried an old-fashioned nosegay of Butterfly roses and gladioli. Mrs. Neil James of Petawawa, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and chose grey silk jersey with black and white accessories and carried a colonial bouquet of Bettertime roses and gladioli.

Mr. G. Edward of Peterborough, brother of the bride, assisted the groom.

Before the ceremony and during the signing of the register, Mr. Robert Cutt played wedding music.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents.

Fairview News

Neighbors and friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Poast to honor their son, Everett, and his bride, who were recently married. Mrs. Cephas Heard read an address and Mrs. Albert Bulmer and Mrs. Harold Lewis presented a coffee table. Before her marriage, Mrs. Poast was Miss Grace Davies of Coboconk.

Fairview anniversary services are being held Sept. 26, with services at 11 a.m. and 7.30 p.m. Dr. Bruce Gordon of Trinity United church, Peterborough, will be guest speaker.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Yerex and Miss Marian Yerex of Toronto, were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Millburn. Mrs. Millburn's mother, Mrs. A. Webster, also visited and will remain with Mr. and Mrs. Milburn.

Miss Sheila Wilson, teacher at Selwyn school, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Wilson.

Thomas A. Milburn returned to Toronto on Sunday, where he will enter his third year at Toronto University.

1000 Delegates Attending Church Parley

By ROBERT PHILLIPS

VANCOUVER, Sept. 21 (CP)—A thousand delegates from all parts of Canada and Newfoundland were here today for the opening sessions of the 13th biennial General Council of the United Church of Canada.

The delegates—470 of them official ministerial and lay representatives — prepared to elect a new moderator tonight to succeed Rt. Rev. T. W. Jones of Montreal.

The retiring moderator today will conduct communion services in St. Andrew's Wesley United Church in which the council will hold its sessions. Following tonight's election and Dr. Jones' retiring address, the clergy and lay members of Newfoundland's one and Canada's 10 United Church conferences will get down to work for nine days of church business.

This will be their first meeting west of Winnipeg and the one at which they will plant to celebrate the United Church's 25th birthday, due in 1950.

Sisco's Report

High on their 425-page prepared agenda will be a report by Rev. Gordon A. Sisco of Toronto, their general secretary who recently returned from Amsterdam and the inaugural meeting of the World Council of Churches.

Dr. Sisco will speak tomorrow night and Friday will report to the United Church's highest government body on the conversations now being conducted between it and the Anglican Church of Canada on the subject of greater union within the Protestant faith.

Speaking on the subject of greater union last Sunday in Victoria, Moderator Jones said "while there may be differences, there are many more fundamentals on which we both agree."

Among notable churchmen here for the meetings, are two previous moderators, Very Rev. George Pidgeon and Very Rev. Jesse Arnop, both of Toronto.

LIFE EXPECTANCY DOUBLES

The life expectancy of man has doubled since the 18th century, from 30 years then to about 60 today.

A FLIGHT IN A Vampire jet aircraft on Sunday from Niagara Falls, N.Y., to Trenton ended in disaster for Flt.-Lieut. Leslie P. Banner, RCAF. His aircraft became separated from another jet plane shortly after take-off and it crashed near Orono. Standing beside one of the wrecked tail booms is Charles Tyrrell of Orono, the largest single piece of the aircraft found. He was last reported heading north-east over Peterborough shortly after 12 p.m. on Sunday prior to his death plunge.

100 Cadets Taking Course Under New RMC Curriculum

By DOUGLAS HOW.

KINGSTON, Sept. 21 (CP). — Defence Minister Claxton sent Canada's 72-year-old Royal Military College into a new phase of its career Monday with a warning to its first post-war class that "war is not inevitable, but neither is peace certain."

One hundred Cadets, smart as whips after 11 days in the old Stone School, heard him initiate a curriculum that makes them pioneers in a military experiment without parallel in the world. They are the first class since the College switched from one service to train officers for all three.

The plan is being duplicated at Canada's other tri-service college at Royal Roads, BC, and its originality is sapped by the fact that some RMC graduates always went into the Navy or Air Force. But, on a formal, deliberate basis, it is a step that has created interest both in the United States and Britain.

In essence, it is an extension of a policy of services integration in which Canada believes she leads all others nations.

The experiment is rooted in the combined-operations experiences of the Second World War and in a desire to have the military leaders of to-morrow familiar with both the ways and the men of the services they may fight beside.

Survivors of 400

Representing every province, they are the survivors of 400 applicants and have come through a rigorous series of mental and physical tests to get here.

Mr. Claxton's address, delivered in Sir Arthur Currie Hall as the first lecture to RMC Cadets since 1942, heard him couple his warning with a sober reference to the costs of modern military activity. The Army, he said, had recently acquired one gun at a cost of $600,000.

The Defence Department was spending "more than 10 times as much as the average in the 10 years before 1939. Our active forces are seven times as large." But Canada could not afford to ignore her defences.

"The nature of modern war has not changed nearly as much as the more fanciful have said, but it has changed and is changing. Applied knowledge has opened new horizons of defence and attack...."

As one example, more than half the members of all the services are highly trained specialists and tradesmen, Mr. Claxton said.

Better Homes For Aged Urged At Ontario Municipal Meeting

KINGSTON, Sept. 21 (CP). — The Ontario Municipal Association was on record today as urging better homes for the aged.

The Association's welfare committee, reporting to the association's 50th annual convention Monday, brought down a resolution which recommended that new types of accommodation for old people be provided to replace some of the present kinds of shelter.

T. J. Richardson, Welland welfare commission, called present facilities for the aged "obsolete." he added that the stigma of "going to the poorhouse" still persists.

"The homes are not only filled to capacity but there are no facilities for bed patients, no segregation from those who are senile and no accommodation for elderly couples," he said. "An enlightened public cannot condone such treatment."

He recommended provision of one-storey homes for the aged, well-ventilated and bright, and modern facilities and qualified nursing.

Cottage Units

"There would also be small cottage units for aged couples, both for self-paying and for those requiring public assistance."

Changes in the financing and control of Children's Aid Societies were called for by another resolution. The welfare committee urged that the province undertake 50 per cent of the cost of maintaining the societies. The province now pays $2,000 annual grants to some societies, $1,500 to others.

Seth Bush, North Bay welfare administrator, said the societies are not responsible to the public which pays 75 per cent of the money they use. He said they are governed by appointed bodies.

Mr. Bush also criticized the present system under which municipalities are not responsible for homeless children born in another municipality.

"We in North Bay are paying for two children who live in Toronto and two of the same family who reside in Timmins," he said.

Provincial Problem

"This is a provincial problem as it could happen that these children might come together in matrimony without realizing that they are related. They should be placed in the same city so they can know and help each other."

Welfare Commissioner H. E. Pense of Kingston asked that the provincial government pay more for the care and protection of children of unmarried mothers.

Municipal Affairs Minister Dunbar told the gathering that a report soon to be released will show that the total debenture debt of Ontario municipalities will not exceed $5,000,000 this year. That will be less than 50 per cent of what it was 16 years ago.

Raine On Committee

A nominating committee was appointed, comprising clerk Allan S. Stewart, Owen Sound, Ald. Richard Raine, Peterborough, and Warden Charles Cousins, Middlesex County, to bring in a slate of officers for the association.

At the session of assessors J. B. Chamberlain of St. Thomas presided. H. D. Bateman, Belleville, spoke on an assessor's standard of values."

His chief point was that there should not be an increase in assessments because of the high costs of the present day.

E. V. Radbourne, Grey County, who spoke to the delegates on problems of the country assessor, suggested adoption of a new county system of assessment.

Martin H. Laird, St. Catharines assessment commissioner, discussed "preparing for assessment appeals," in which he outlined the necessities of preparations for a court of appeal.

Annexation Question

J. F. Berry, Hamilton, presided at a clerks and treasurers meeting. "By law or resolution," by Alan S. Stewart of Owen Sound, figured a discussion of whether council should act by authority of bylaw or resolution.

R. J. Given of Waterloo, spoke to the group about disposing of unnecessary and obsolete records.

Reeve H. H. McFadden of Lindsay, presided at the meeting of elected representatives, at which Mayor W. G. Ovens, Peterborough, gave address on "Is Annexation the Answer?" The majority of annexations by city councils are prompted by the need for big housing subdivision, he said.

HAT IN RING—John Diefenbaker, MP, is shown here after conference in Parliamentary Press Gallery in Ottawa where he announced his candidature for leadership in the Progressive Conservative party's forthcoming convention. Here and There in Sport

By The Canadian Press

Twenty-five players reported to St. Catharines Monday to try out for National Hockey League berths at the Toronto Maple Leafs first fall training session.

Coach Hap Day ordered an all-out workout to get his Stanley Cup champions in shape for an eight-game exhibition tour beginning a week from Wednesday.

Managing director Conn Smythe praised the youngsters on his squad but said there is no one in sight who can fill the shoes of centre Syl Apps, who retired last spring.

"The kids are good but it will take more than kids to win us another Stanley Cup," said Smythe.

Sarnia Imperials not only lost their Ontario Football Union game to Hamilton Tigers Saturday but also the services of star halfback Andy Sokol for the season. Red Douglas, coach of the Sarnia gridders, also announced that Tony Lee, former McGill lineman, will also be out of action a couple of weeks with an injured ankle.

Detroit Red Wings of the National Hockey League and farm club Indianapolis Capitols of the American League swung into their final week of training at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., with the first cuts made in the squad. Charlie Clark, 16-year-old netminder, has returned to Hartland, NB, while wingman Jack Howes has returned to his home in Toronto. Forwards Alex Irving and Alex Del Vecchio are slated to return to Fort William, where they will line up with the Hurricane Rangers junior club.

The return to form of little Billy Reay, after a mediocre season last year has made the lightweight centreman the talk of the Montreal Canadiens pre-season training camp at St. Hyacinthe, Que. Reay scored three goals in an inter-squad game Monday to lead the Reds to a 6-3 victory over the Whites.

Stan Musial, St. Louis Cardinal outfielder, continued to wage wholesale murder against National League pitchers as the season nears its end. He jumped his league-leading mark from .373 to .375 during the last week. Runner-up in the batting race is Richie Ashburn of the Philadelphia Phillies with .333.

Boston's Ted Williams virtually had his second straight American League batting title — and the fourth in five seasons — stowed away with an eight-point surge last week to .376 some 20 points ahead of the field. Lou Boudreau of Cleveland was runner-up with .355.

The American Hockey League opens its schedule October 12 when six of the 11 teams in the circuit swing into action, it was announced on Monday in New York. Each team will play 68 games during the season, the same number as last year. Calder Cup playoffs follow the regular season wdich ends March 20.

Bruce Woodcock will try to earn his way back into the heavyweight boxing picture to-night with a convincing victory over Lee Oma of the United States in an eight-round "come-back" at London. At 27, Woodcock is young enough to have a future if he can atone for his past. Seventeen months ago he was slaughtered for seven rounds by Joe Baksi, another American, and came out with a broken jaw.

WILLIAM BAIRD, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway in London, England, and special representative to the chairman, who died suddenly in London. Mr. Baird was recognized as a leading figure in British and Canadian shipping services. He was previously in charge of the reconstruction program for the Canadian Pacific Steamship fleet and, prior to this appointment, served in Montreal as director for the secretariat of the British Ministry of War Transport.

Mayor Plans To Sue

AYLMER, Que, Sept. 21.—(CP).—Mayor J. Rene Therien of Aylmer, Que., plans to enter a $10,000 defamation-of-character suit against four of his citizens. He said Monday night four ratepayers had signed a letter to council accusing him of "trafficking in liquor."

This is Your Safeguard!
Today's present crisis, one which the whole world watches, is of the gravest importance to Canadians. According to Canada's leading statesman, Rt. Hon. Mr. Louis St. Laurent, we must be prepared to ensure peace and prosperity for Canada by being prepared to the utmost in military might and preparation; along with the other democracies of the Western World. Only by this method can we hope to survive.
Many look upon service for one's Country as something that occurs only during extreme national emergency of war. But the present day and age IS a grave national emergency without actual shooting, and your service for your country must be forthcoming. It is your duty and privilege, YOUR SAFEGUARD!
Here are two most important ways of serving Canada.
ACTIVE FORCE
The Canadian Army's Active Force is calling young men to a life career in the Army, where he will be trained to take a leading part in Canada's defence. The Army assures him every care and consideration coincident with his services, pays for his clothing, keep, medical and dental expenses, gives him ample time for recreation, educates him, houses him, and guides him.
The Army will teach him a trade to fit him for life and at the same time gives him a month's vacation with full pay each year for relaxation. And as he gains in experience, the Army will increase his pay for faithful service, regularly.
For a young man, this is an IDEAL career.
RESERVE FORCE
The Canadian Army's Reserve Force which formed the backbone of the entire Canadian Army during the Second World War, is again in the position of being the nucleus around which defences will be built.
The Reserve Force calls all men who feel it their duty to know how to defend their country, and will teach them the salient facts of this defence in evenings of the week, under competent instructors.
At the same time, the Reserve Force soldier is paid at basic Active Force rates for his time on the basis of two evenings for one day. The Army gives him a full medical examination and ensures physical training, recreation and up-to-date equipment for his work. Each summer it offers him a short Summer Training Course to round out his technical experience. It breeds for the Reserve Force soldier comradeship with his fellow citizens and provides a ready force against any emergency.
EITHER WAY YOU CHOOSE, you can find out the facts at the Peterborough Armoury, Murray Street. The Peterborough Armoury is the home of the city's outstanding Reserve Force Regiment.

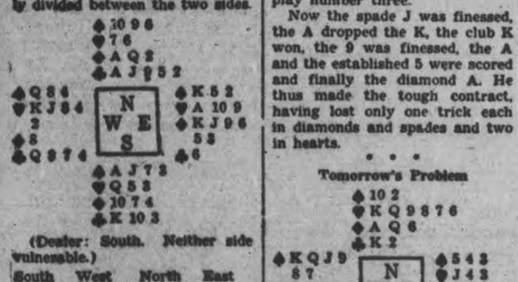
A SERIES OF PUZZLES

GOING after a slam contract, you ordinarily have one clear-cut problem to solve—how to shut out some one winning trick threatened by the defense. When you are in a mere game, the chances are you will have a number of different problems. If the contract is lower still, and yet is to the limit of the assets in your hand and the dummy, the number of puzzles increases, and you may have a whole series of them. That is basically because with low contracts the strength is more closely divided between the two sides.



(Dealer: South. Neither side vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
Pass	Pass	1 ♠	1 ♦
1 ♠	Pass	2 ♣	Pass
3 ♣	Pass	3 ♠

S. Garton Churchill, present holder with Cecil Head of the Masters Pairs title, had to do his stuff throughout to pull a good score from that contract. Besides keen planning, he had three distinct good plays to make. The first came after West led the 8 of his partner's diamonds and he put on the 2 from dummy. If he had used the A, East when he got in later could have led the a ruff by West. But with the J allowed to win the first trick he would not pitch back into the dummy's tenace.

East scored the heart A for the second trick, then led the 10, the declarer making his second good play of the Q to force West into the lead. The heart J was returned and ruffed by the spade 6, then the spade 10 sent to the Q. West switched to the club 4, the J winning and the 10 being played to unblock later as good play number three.

Now the spade J was finessed, the A dropped the K, the club K won, the 9 was finessed, the A and the established 5 were scored and finally the diamond A. He thus made the tough contract, having lost only one trick each in diamonds and spades and two in hearts.

Tomorrow's Problem

(Dealer: South. Neither side vulnerable.)

If West had rebid spades and finally doubled 7-No Trumps, how should South play following the spade K lead?

6—In Memoriams

GUTHERIE—In loving memory of John Gutherie, baby son of Mr. and Mrs. O. Gutherie, who died September 21, 1947.

A little lamb too sweet and pure
Upon this earth to roam
An Angel came
And took our dear child home.
—Lovingly remembered by mommie and daddie.

GRAHAM—In loving memory of William A. Graham, who died September 22, 1947.

Gone from us but leaving memories
Death can never take away,
Memories that will always linger
While upon the earth we stay.
—Ever remembered by his brother Jim and family.

GUTHRIE—In loving memory of our baby brother, John Guthrie, who died September 21, 1947.

The depths of sorrow we cannot tell
Of the loss of one we loved so well
And while he sleeps a peaceful sleep
His memory we shall always keep.
—Sadly missed by brothers and sisters.

'Cup of Tea' In Danger Saucer Shortage Calamity

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

That thoroughly English institution, a "nice cup of tea," is in danger.

It isn't that the tea is rationed and hard to get, or that thin milk has replaced real cream. A shortage of saucers is the real calamity.

You can drink tea without saucers, all right, but it isn't the same. As The London Evening Standard lamented in an editorial, the "full savor of the rite, its refreshing quality, is weakened if the cosy rattle of the cup and saucer is removed."

Some lucky people manage to get export rejects, but the majority struggle along with the cracked, chipped relics of a prewar set.

The saucer scarcity stems from a shortage of colored pottery, long restricted to export markets. But there is another reason why saucers are less abundant than, say, cups or glasses.

No "Snob Appeal."

They have no "snob appeal." The pottery workers regard saucer-making as beneath their dignity. Anyway, they'd rather make cups. Nigel Blanchin, 39-year-old scientist and author of "Mine Own Executioner," brought the subject up at a meeting in Brighton.

"We can't buy saucers," he said, "because saucer-makers are considered the lowest form of life in potteries."

Saucerless or not, it is hardly likely anyone will go back to the primitive method of consumption reported used by Bodhidharma, the Indian ascetic credited with introducing tea to China in A.D. 543.

Pledged to contemplate Buddha's virtues through nine sleepless years, Bodhidharma sliced off his eyelids in anger when he fell asleep after three years. Drowsy again after eight years, he plucked some leaves from a nearby bush to revive himself and thus — so the story goes — tea was born.

And the poor, saucerless, tea-sipping Englishman has one consolation today. Jam, real strawberry jam, is back in shops. Around the sizzling fire and the hissing urn at teatime, families no longer need do with the heesy of marmalade to accompany the steaming beverages.

CHAR-BOILED EGGS

A Hunter St. resident arrived home on Monday evening after a hard day's work intent on enjoying a well-earned supper. He peered in the ice box for a while ruminatively. "Ha, just the thing," he said suddenly and selected a couple of eggs. And after all what is more appetizing than some soft-boiled eggs. This careful cook then measured out some water in a pan, waited for it to boil and then dropped in the eggs. Tired, he lay down for a few minutes while waiting for the eggs to cook. That was his big mistake. Some time later he was awakened by the shouts of neighbors. The room was full of smoke, a crowd was gathering outside his place and the fire department was on its way. The bottom of the pan was burned away and the precious eggs had gone up in smoke. Maybe he should have patronized a restaurant in the first place.

SO'THE'N COMFORT

A crime characteristic of the Deep Southland is being investigated by police here in our northern climate. Visions of dark-skinned prowlers gorging themselves beneath a midnight Georgia moon come to mind at the report received from a Mark St. resident. It seems that 20 watermelons — yes, 20 — were stolen from her garden by persons unknown. Investigating officers studied footprints, a trampled space in the centre of the patch — and telltale remains of the moonlit act — seeds, pulp and well-stripped skins lying about the scene.—RB.

8 Small Bush Fires Blazing In N. Ontario

BLIND RIVER, Ont., Sept. 21 — (CP). — Eight small bush fires were blazing in dry bushland in this northern Ontario district. Six of them started Monday.

Chief fire ranger Thomas Cassidy here said his men are quickly bringing the blazes under control. The fire hazard is high because of a lengthy dry period.

"We are keeping our fingers crossed because we could have big blazes before fall rains come," District Forester Arthur W. Leman said.

Wants Children Go To Dentist Often

OTTAWA, Sept. 21 — (CP). — Canadian children will go to the dentist more often if Ottawa's director of dental health, Dr. George Clark, has anything to say about it.

At the 71st annual meeting of the Eastern Ontario Dental Association, Dr. Clark said Monday night that more dentistry for children was the key to a nation's health.

He urged the co-operation of all dentists to overcome the problem of insufficient dental treatment for children of lower age groups.

Dr. Clark said he had bits of evidence that some dentists did not want to treat children on the "flimsy grounds of unnecessary discomfort and expense."

He asked that dentists "face this question of children's dentistry squarely and if you do not operate on children, then suggest to parents another dentist who does."

14 Bank Employees Can't Identify Suspect

VANCOUVER, Sept. 21—(CP)—More than 14 Vancouver bank employees Monday night failed to identify Leo Burnell, 49-year-old Ontario bank holdup suspect, as a participant in recent bank robberies here.

Known here as Leo Adams, Burnell had been sought by Ontario police for 14 months in connection with the $190,000 robbery of the Milton, Ont., branch of the bank of Nova Scotia. He was arrested in a Vancouver cafe Saturday.

The suspect is being held in custody here until the arrival of Ontario police who will return him to Milton for trial.

New Reservation

EDMONTON, Sept. 21 — (CP). — The University of Alberta campus will look like an Indian reservation for a while. Upper-classmen have agreed that freshmen must wear Indian feathers and loincloths, must bow low to their betters and they must address them with guttural "ughs" and "hows." Professors will be addressed as "Great White One."

3 Brothers Fight It Out Texas-Style Over Ranch Profits From Yearly Roundup

FORT ST. JOHN, B.C., Sept. 21 — (CP). — Bill Boring limped into this Alaska Highway town Monday and told police a tale of ranch feudin', Texas-style, in the rolling country between the highway and the Rockies. He pointed to a gunshot wound in his arm as proof.

Police listened to his story and then sent a posse to Halfway, B.C., to pick up Bill's brothers, John and Eugene Boring, on an attempted murder charge.

According to police, the incident climaxed an annual shooting affray which had continued for the best part of the 20 years since the Texan-born brothers settled in the Halfway district.

The occasion, police say, is roundup time. The brothers have several hundred head of cattle and neighbors report hearing gunfire from the ranch every year as the brothers, their wives and numerous children differ as to the split in the profits.

Police said neighbors have learned to keep out of the ruckus. The Borings regard it as strictly a family affair and object violently to outsiders horning in.

Halfway is 140 miles north of Fort St. John and the posse will have to take to a bush trail to reach the battleground.

Benny Beginning 17th Year With Same Cast

By HOWARD C. HEYN.

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 21 (AP). —Feel that nervous fluttering in the Autumn air? Radio's old standbys are flocking back, in new trappings after as arid a Summer as most listeners can remember.

Bob Hope, Fred Allen, Eddie Cantor, Jack Carson, Edgar Bergen and others have changed their shows or their casts, some radically.

But not easy going Jack Benny. Consistency must be his mark of distinction.

Jack, just back from Europe, starts his 17th year Oct. 3. And with the same crew. This is Mary Livingstone's 17th year too. He's had the same writers for six years. Don Wilson has been with him 15 years, Phil Harris 13, Rochester 11, Dennis Day nine.

A Sinatra or Two

With Benny, every broadcast is a new show, although the basic character of the program remains the same. "It's the people that the fans like," says Jack. "As long as we stay in character we can do pretty much as we please. And we keep the show flexible. Maybe we put a guy on, like Sinatra, for one line. Some weeks one or even two of the regular company aren't in the script at all."

Praises Britons

Jack returned from Europe about two weeks ago. He got a lot of acclaim in London's Palladium and a lot of golf in the countryside. British audiences, he said, are just about the most gratifying in the world.

"I gave 'em the sort of things I do here, except that I didn't have Dennis, Don or Rochester with me. Believe me, next time I want them along. Everybody there knows who they are."

Since he got back Jack has been watching his weight and putting off, as long as possible, any serious work on the season's broadcasts. He isn't worrying about television, either. "We'll take care of that when the time comes," he said.

The cast has been together so long that Benny doesn't have to work half as hard as he did. He puts in, personally, about three days instead of six.

A LONE POLICE OFFICER of Paris, France, who had the misfortune of becoming separated from his comrades, is shown just before he was severely beaten by a group of rioting aviation workers during a violent demonstration against the government of the nationalized aviation industry in the French capital. Several persons were injured in the rioting which was touched off when the workers staged a mass demonstration and marched to the industry's headquarters in Haussman square.

Predict Drew, Diefenbaker Fight Nip-and-Tuck Battle

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL

OTTAWA, Sept 21 —(CP)— Prominent Conservative party supporters are predicting that if Premier Drew of Ontario decides to contest the federal leadership at the party's forthcoming national convention he will fight a nip-and-tuck battle with John Diefenbaker, member of the Commons for Lake Centre in Saskatchewan.

One supporter, expressing the feeling of a group, said he believes Mr. Drew will not delay much longer a statement on whether he intends to contest the leadership which John Bracken will give up at the convention Sept. 30 to Oct. 2.

Mr. Diefenbaker, 53-year-old prominent criminal lawyer who ran third in the leadership race at the party's 1942 convention, announced Saturday that he will again be a candidate. Garfield Case, 49, member of the Commons for the Ontario constituency of Grey North, and John W. Hanna, 59, member of the Ontario Legislature for Huron Bruce, announced earlier that they would be candidates.

"Up until a week or 10 days ago, I would have bet that Mr. Drew would take the leadership easily," said the supporters. Now, I wouldn't bet against the chances of either one."

May Be Changed

He said that Mr. Diefenbaker, who is completing a tour of the various provinces, appeared to have gained ground as a result of his speeches and his personal appearances. The Diefenbaker-for-leader groups in various parts of the country also were helping the Saskatchewan member's chances. But, cautioned the supporters, there was always a possibility that the pre-convention lead of any delegate would be wiped out before the voting on Oct. 2.

He said there is some talk that Mr. Case and Mr. Hanna will drop out of the race before the voting, although neither man has yet indicated that he will withdraw.

If Mr. Drew enters the race and is chosen leader, an early effort probably will be made by the party to find him a seat in the Commons. It is possible that Mark Senn, 70, Progressive Conservative member of the Commons for the Ontario constituency of Haldimand since 1921, may offer to resign to make way for the new leader. Mr. Senn has been in ill health for some time.

Adjourn Hearing In Jewish Case

TORONTO, Sept 21 — (CP). — The Ontario Court of Appeal Monday adjourned its hearing in the case of Bernard Wolf, seeking the right to live at a summer resort at Grand Bend on Lake Huron, near London, barred to Jewish persons.

The adjournment was ordered because only six of 35 Grand Bend property owners, members of the Beach O'Pines Protective Association, were represented in court. The Association seeks to uphold a judgment cancelling the sale of the land by one of its members to Wolf.

"All residents should be personally notified and given a chance to be here and participate in proceedings," said Chief Justice R. S. Robertson. "Each of the owners must be personally served and notified then will be bound by the result of the hearing."

The appeal was against a previous decision in June by Justice W. F. Schroeder, who found that a clause in the contract of sale of the property, which barred occupation of the property by a person of the Jewish race, was valid.

In the working of the clause, the sale, rental of occupation of the land was prohibited to "any person of the Jewish, semitic, negro or colored race or blood."

In ancient Greece, health was considered one of the highest goods, and disease a great evil that made man inferior.

Joint Municipal Council New Proposal

KINGSTON, Sept. 21 (CP) — The formation of a joint council of municipal associations of Ontario today was approved by the opening session here of the Ontario Municipal Association's 50th annual convention here.

The action was taken on the recommendation of the executive committee.

The joint council will study material dealing with municipal government and will develop and conduct courses of study and training for municipal employees. It will also deal with such other matters as may be referred to it by the participating associations.

Participating associations now are the Ontario Association of Rural Municipalities, the Association of Assessing Officers of Ontario, the Ontario Chapter of the Municipal Finance Officers Association of Ontario and the Ontario Municipal Association.

The executive committee's recommendation—which was adopted—suggested that the joint council may admit additional municipal associations to become participating associations on such terms and the joint council may from time to time provide.

Three Representatives

The council will be composed of three representatives from each of the four participating associations. One of the first three representatives will be appointed for one year, one for two years and one for three years. Each of such representatives appointed after the first three will be appointed for a term of three years. Any vacancy on the council will be filled by the association concerned.

The Joint Council's officers will be a chairman, vice-chairman and secretary-treasurer.

The convention granted authority for the spending of up to $500 as the association's share in the joint cost of work undertaken by the joint council.

Bethel To Observe 120th Anniversary

The 120th anniversary and Thanksgiving service of Bethel United church will be held next Sunday at 7.30 p.m. when the Rev. H. G. Douglas of Knox United church will be the guest minister and the music will be given by Keene United church choir.

Bethel is situated in Otonabee in what is known as the Fife Settlement. The anniversary will mark 120 years since the first service was held in the humble home of John Fife. The church was then the centre of community life, all denominations met for the worship. It was in this community that David Fife produced the Red Fife wheat.

Former members and adherents will return to observe this anniversary and meet friends of former years. The present church building was erected in 1896 when the corner stone was laid by the late Sir Joseph Flavelle. Bethel is in Keene United church charge, whose minister is the Rev. George Murray.

Woman Weeps On Seeing Death Weapon

TORONTO, Sept. 21 (CP) — Yvonne Brouillette, dark-haired and 38, may tell her own story today of the events leading up to the hatchet-slaying last June 12 of 33-year-old John Farrell.

She went on trial for murder Monday in the death of the man with whom she shared a room for a week last summer in a roominghouse in Central Toronto. In that room police said they found the body of Farrell, hacked almost beyond recognition.

Miss Brouillette burst into tears yesterday when Crown Attorney W. O. Gibson showed the court the 14-inch hatchet which the Crown contends was used to kill Farrell. A matron handed the woman a drink and finally calmed her.

Nicholas Tennyson, landlord of the rooming house, said that a few hours before the slaying Farrell and the girl had a violent argument. Farrell told Tennyson he was going to beat the girl because she spent his money on drink. He saw Farrell striking the girl with his fists. Eventually the landlord called the police.

Muffled Sounds

Tennyson testified that after he went to bed he heard "muffled chopping sounds."

"About how many chops did you hear?" he was asked.

"Ten or twelve, then a pause, followed by another dozen blows."

Tennyson said the woman then asked him to go to the room she and Farrell occupied.

"She said 'please come down and see him.' I said I didn't want to mix in their domestic affairs. She told me, 'He's dead.' I said, 'what are you talking about?' She said, 'I killed him with an ax.'"

Refugees Arrive

WILMINGTON, N.C., Sept 21 (AP).—Sixty-nine European refugees, including 13 children, arrived here today in a small boat flying the Estonian flag. It crossed the Atlantic in 70 days.

To Move Nomination

TORONTO, Sept. 21 — (CP).— Gen. G. R. Pearkes, Progressive Conservative member of Parliament for Nanaimo, BC, will move the nomination of John Diefenbaker for national leadership of the Progressive Conservative Party, David Walker, chairman of the Diefenbaker committee, announced Monday night. Roy Holman of Charlottetown, vice-president of the National Progressive Conservative Association of Canada, will second the motion at the party's national convention opening in Ottawa on September 30.

WEST HAS PLAN IF BERLIN TALKS FAIL

Draft Note To Moscow In Last Try

Give Kremlin Week To Reach Agreement, Then Will Go To UN

PARIS, Sept. 22 — (CP). — A new note to Moscow is being drafted here today by the western powers' three-man standing committee on the Berlin crisis, as the envoys who had been negotiating with the Kremlin arrived here by air.

The note which the committee — Sir William Strang for Britain, Rene Massigli for France and Lewis Douglas for the United States — met to draft is reliably understood to be a reply to last week's aide memorie from Vyacheslav Molotov, Soviet Foreign Minister.

Its purpose is believed to be clarification of the main issues of which four-power negotiations over Berlin appeared to have broken down.

Well-informed French sources today said the western powers have given Russia another week to come to an agreement on the Berlin situation before they take the issue to the United Nations.

The foreign ministers have scheduled another meeting for next week by which time they expect to have a reply from Moscow.

At next week's meeting, it was reliably reported, the three western ministers may decide to take the question of the Berlin blockade and its allied headaches to the U.N. Security Council if the Russian reply is viewed as unsatisfactory.

A definite decision on the dispatch of the note to Molotov was delayed, it was said, until the foreign ministers have had an opportunity to confer with their respective envoys in Moscow — the special British representative, Frank Roberts; Walted Bedell Smith, United States ambassador; and French Ambassador Yves Chataigneau.

British sources said the three powers would not commit themselves to sending another message to the Kremlin until the three envoys have been heard.

SIR STAFFORD CRIPPS, chancellor of the British Exchequer, shakes hands with Hon. Douglas Abbott, Canada's minister of finance upon Sir Stafford's arrival at Ottawa. The two ministers will "review the whole field of financial and economic relations between Canada and the United Kingdom." With Sir Stafford is Lady Cripps.

Provinces Block Rail Demands

OTTAWA, Sept. 22—(CP). — Seven provinces—all except Ontario and Quebec—Tuesday won temporary respite from new demands for freight rate increases.

The Board of Transport Commissioners ruled it could not now hear an application by the railways for a general 20 per cent tolls boost and delayed the issue for a hearing Jan. 11.

The decision meant that the railways would lose some $16,000,000—estimated as the potential revenue from the requested increase between the period October-January.

This decision appeared to take care indirectly of an argument by the provinces: That the 20 per cent hearing should not be dealt with before the cabinet grants a hearing on the protests of the provinces of the 21 per cent freight rate increase granted the railways last spring.

3 Plead Innocent To Shipping Drugs

VANCOUVER, Sept. 22 (CP)—Two men and a woman, charged with conspiring to transport $20,000 worth of narcotics from Toronto to Vancouver, Tuesday pleaded innocent when arraigned in Assize Court.

The trio — Dinny Annunziello, 33, his wife Mary, and Steeve Peters, 34 — were arrested last may after R.C.M.P. intercepted a suitcase filled with heroin and substituted a dummy package.

Special Prosecutor Gilbert Hogg told the jury that Annunziello was in Toronto about the time the suitcase was shipped from the eastern city. It was also claimed Peters wired a large sum of money to Toronto.

The suitcase was delivered to an apartment in which Annunziello and his wife were living. The prosecutor said Peters was a daily visitor.

Arrest 31 Men In $5,000 Gambling Raid

TORONTO, Sept. 22 — (CP)—Toronto morality officers sledge-hammered their way through a chained and locked front door in the Dowling Avenue district last night to arrest 31 men in what police described as a $5,000 dice game.

The owner of the house was charged with keeping a common gaming house. Police described some of the men arrested as "big time bookies."

Police said some of the men were found hiding under beds of girl roomers upstairs and in cellar coal bins. They said it was one of the biggest games uncovered since a number of roadhouses west of the city were raided some years ago.

A second raid by police late yesterday resulted in the arrest of 49-year-old Toronto man on a charge of registering and recording bets.

23 Forest Blazes Battled Near Sudbury

SUDBURY, Sept. 22.—(CP).—About 23 forest fires were being battled in the tinder-dry Sudbury and Blind River bushland districts, forestry officials said Tuesday.

Eight of 23 blazes started by lightning in this area during the week-end were reported extinguished and the rest were under control.

Fire hazard remained high around Blind River, about 100 miles west of here, where firefighters were fighting 10 new fires. Two of these broke out Tuesday.

Convict 3 Toronto Youths In Doctor's Kidnapping

TORONTO, Sept. 22—(CP).—Three Toronto youths were convicted today on a charge of kidnapping Dr. David Perlman, Toronto doctor, Sept. 13, and two charges of armed robbery. They were remanded to Sept. 29. The three—Gordon Cameron, Allen Decker and William Glover—were arrested in downtown Windsor the day of the kidnapping after Dr. Perlman escaped from a nearby tourist cabin where he had been left bound and gagged.

Also charged with armed robbery of the doctor and a Toronto taxi driver, the youths "just did not realize what they were doing," Defence Counsel E. C. Bogart told the court. Bornstein was robbed and forced from his cab on a lonely Toronto district road by three men he had picked up as fares.

Plead Guilty

When they appeared in magistrate's court today the three pleaded guilty without hesitation to the armed but pleaded innocent to the kidnapping count.

Dr. Perlman identified the trio as the men who forced him into his car at gunpoint in Toronto and drove to the Windsor area. They robbed him of $200 and his gun and left him in a tourist cabin.

The convicted men face a possible total imprisonment of 39 years on the three offences

Remand Whitby Man

WHITBY, Sept. 22.—(CP). — Charged with selling nails at a price "more than just and reasonable," Charles Mesher of Whitby, today was remanded to Oct. 18. A Prices Board official said that since last October, Mesher made $974.12 profit on 196 100-pound kegs of nails.

160 mph. Hurricane Batters Key West, Miami Gets Off

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 22 — (AP) —A tricky tropical hurricane swirled through the Florida Everglades early to-day and headed for the heart of the state's rich citrus belt. Two persons were killed and many injured, mostly by flying glass or debris. Winds reached 160 miles an hour in gusts at Key West. Highest winds on the Florida mainland were an estimated 125 miles an hour at Everglades City.

Hurricane winds — 75 miles an hour and upward — thrashed Miami and the lush resort area on the lower east coast as the "eye" of the storm bobbed across the Everglades, 50 miles to the west.

However, the United States Weather Bureau said early today "the worst is over" in that area.

Moving north northeast at eigh miles an hour, the storm headed for the citrus region in central Florida, where millions of trees are heavy with ripening fruit.

Winds increased in central Florida and the storm's present course would split the state in a north - northeasterly direction from Everglades City to Daytona Beach, reaching the Atlantic coast late today.

Two Killed

William John Evans, 46, engineer at the Tatem Surf Club on Miami Beach, was killed when blown from the roof of the five-storey building. Mrs. Ben J. Kincaid, 56, was electrocuted when she touched a live wire in the yard of her home in a Miami suburb.

Damage to Miami was limited to uprooted palm trees, broken power lines, smashed windows and billboards. Schools remained closed and business was suspended.

Miami Beach reported some show windows blown in, trees uprooted or snapped off by the gusty, twisting winds. Rough water undermined a span of the MacArthur causeway connecting Miami and Miami Beach and the bridge was closed to traffic.

Report of damage trickled in. Thirty privately-owned boats were sunk, three United States Navy craft damaged and two coast guard boats driven ashore at Key West. Houses were unroofed and water rose to a depth of three feet on the east side of the island.

25 Die In Fire At Tenement

HONK KONG, Sept. 22 (CP). —At least 25 persons were burned to death and some 66 others injured when fire gutted a tenement building and warehouse in Hong Kong's crowded West Point district today.

The fire followed an explosion among oil, rubber and film stored on the ground floor of the four-storey tenement which housed 300 Chinese.

The tenement staircases were destroyed and some Chinese, including a woman with a baby, jumped to their death from the upper floors. Others saved themselves by leaping from parapets into safety nets in the streets below.

The screams of the trapped Chinese were gradually silenced as the fire engulfed the building and rapidly spread to the five-storey warehouse containing cotton and rice. This was gutted and the walls threatened to collapse endangering warehouses on either side.

An undetermined number of people are missing. Police estimated it at 50.

Find Prospector Dead In Flaming Cabin

COBALT, Sept. 22 — (CP). — Thomas Patriquin, 77-year-old retired prospector, was found dead today in his flaming cabin on the east side of Cobalt Lake, near here. Death was believed due to asphyxiation.

Patriquin lived alone in the frame structure. Born in Halifax, he came to Cobalt in the early boom days of 1907 and made a considerable fortune through leasing the old Temiskaming silver mine with a partner.

Firemen forced their way into the burning home past the body of Patriquin, which was lying against the door. They were unable to save the house, which was destroyed. An inquest has been ordered.

Remand War Bride For Fourth Time

LINDSAY, Sept. 22 — (CP). — Charged with the murder of her husband, John, Sept. 5 in their lonely backwoods cabin at Kirkfield near here, Jane Kelly McCallister today was remanded one week for the fourth time when Magistrate E. A. Gee entered Victoria county jail.

The red-headed Scottish war bride, who has left the jail only once since her arrest in the shooting of her husband, a navy veteran from Hamilton, refuses to see anyone.

Stern Gang Threatens 2nd Mediator

Israeli Gov't Gives Bunche Guard, Will Take No Chances

HAIFA, Israel, Sept. 22.—(AP). —Reliable sources said today members of the outlawed Stern gang have made at least indirect threats against the life of Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, acting United Nations mediator in Palestine.

Bunche, an American, has taken over the duties of Count Folke Bernadotte, assassinated last Friday in Jerusalem. The Israeli government has accused Sternists of Count Bernadotte's slaying.

The sources said that because of the Israeli government's extreme concern over these threats, Bunche and his top associates have been placed under a heavy guard of Jewish police.

Count Bernadotte was known to have been offered a similar guard when he first began his mediatory work. He refused it, however, saying there should be no need for such a precaution.

Armed guards now on duty at the buildings where Bunche and his aides live and work were not requested by the acting mediator. The sources said they are on duty at the direct order of David Ben-Gurion, Israeli premier and defence minister.

Has No Choice

Ben-Gurion was reported to have said that Bunche would have to accept the guard whether or not he wanted it, since the Israeli government would have to bear the blame for further terrorist acts and has the right to take all possible precautions.

Despite the Israeli government's action in outlawing terrorist groups after the mediator's death, persons who previously had contact with dissident Jewish groups said there was no reason to suppose the Stern gang was broken yet.

These sources said the arrest by Israeli police of 250 suspected Sternists could not make the group inoperative. In the past, the Stern group was believed to have had 1,500 members.

Man Angry At Wife Tried To Dynamite Her

NORTH BAY, Sept. 22 (CP)—Henri Poisson, 25, of Sturgeon Falls was sentenced Tuesday to 12 months definite and three months indefinite in reformatory after conviction on a charge of causing a dynamite explosion likely to cause injury to persons and property.

A grand jury returned a verdict of no bill on a charge of attempted murder.

Poisson, allegedly angered because his common-law wife, Mrs. Cecile Lalanda, left him and went to live at her parents home, exploded dynamite on a shed roof outside her bedroom window There was some damage to the building but Mrs. Lalande was unhurt.

Call Secret Meeting

BERLIN, Sept. 22—(AP). — Western Berlin newspapers said today Communist leaders of Berlin and the Russian occupation zone of Germany have called a secret meeting for Friday, presumably to plot new steps in the battle for this blockaded city. The Communist meeting is scheduled to be held at Potsdam.

2 Men Killed 'Buzzing' Friend's House

TILLSONBURG, Sept. 22 — (CP). — In sight of thousands of persons at the Tillsonburg fall fair, two employees of the Woodstock radio station, were killed instantly late Tuesday when their Taylor-Craft plane crashed a quarter of a mile from the fair grounds.

Victims were Beverly Harrington, 18-year-old announcer, believed to have been piloting the plane, and Stephen Brady, 19, an engineer.

Harrington held a pilot's license

The pair had been stunting over Tillsonburg fair grounds, according to fair visitors. The craft swung low over the home of Max McQuiggan, Tillsonburg orchestra leader, whose programs Harrington announced. McQuiggan came out of his house and Harrington dipped the plane's wings in salute. Minutes later the plane lay in a ditch beside the 10th Concession of Dereham Township, its two occupants dead.

"I watched them circle around a tree, then come back around it again," said McQuiggan. "The second time around one of the wings hit the tree, knocked off a lot of branches and leaves, and the plane went into the ditch near my place.

Drag Pair Out

"My cousin, Harold McQuiggan, and I jumped the fence and ran to the plane. They were both inside. We got Bev out and a couple of farmers and a southern tobacco curer got the other fellow out. They were both unconscious, but I think they were still alive.

"The plane was in the ditch right beside the road, with one wing against a pole and the tail sticking over a fence."

William Scott, who operates a service station less than 100 yards from the crash scene, said both men appeared to be dead when he arrived after the crash.

Say Bernadotte Idea Premature

PARIS, Sept 22 — (AP). — A spokesman for Israel said today his government believes it "premature at this stage to accept" the Bernadotte report conclusions in their entirety.

The announcement was timed to follow closely Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin's declaration in London of Britain's support for the Bernadotte report.

Britain thus aligned herself solidly with the United States for the first time in seeking a specific settlement to the Palestine question.

Sure 2 Air Forces Handle Supplies During Winter, Not Committed To War Yet

Bevin Pledges Britain's Support To Report From Count Bernadotte; Made Provision To See Germany Through

LONDON, Sept. 22—(CP).—Britain, the United States and France are in "absolute agreement" on a policy to be pursued jointly if the Moscow talks over Berlin fail, Foreign Secretary Bevin declared today. Concerning the blockade on Berlin he said if "this senseless blockade continues, we are confident with the combination of the two air forces we shall be able to see the winter through."

Referring to the talks of the Western envoys with Stalin and Molotov and his expected statement on the matter, Bevin said: "I have to disappoint you. The stage is not yet reached which makes it possible to make a release.

"We are in close consultation —we are still working it out— and shall be continuing our consultation in Paris during the coming week.

"There have been rumors of disagreement between the three Western powers," Bevin added. "Not only are we in absolute agreement over our Berlin policy but also as to the policy we would jointly pursue if that failed.

Not At War Stage

"I am not saying by that, that we are committed to war. We have not reached that stage yet.

"We have made provision at least to save Berlin from the worst effects of those who sought out this dastardly scheme and who thought by this means to put pressure on the Western allies who stood with them in the war. It is a poor reward so soon afterwards."

Bevin also pledged Britain's support to Count Folke Bernadotte's recommendations for solution of the Palestine question.

The Foreign Secretary said the assassination of the United Nations mediator in Jerusalem last week was an attempt to prevent the successful completion of the Swedish Envoy's task.

Must Complete Work

"The best way for us to commemorate his death is to complete his work on the basis of the proposals which he put forward just before his death," Bevin said as he opened a foreign affairs debate a few hours after his return from Paris where he had attended the opening of the General Assembly of the United Nations.

"The recommendations of Count Bernadotte . . . have the wholehearted and unqualified support of His Majesty's government," Bevin said.

(The United States endorsed the Bernadotte plan Tuesday).

"It is our hope that the United Nations will lose no time in throwing the full weight of their authority behind these proposals."

Bevin said that Count Bernadotte referred in his report to the apprehension of the Arabs about future Jewish expansion and concluded that every reasonable assurance must be offered not only by the Jews but by the United Nations.

"I have always felt that the Arab case has been insufficiently

Light Frost Predicted For This Area

TORONTO, Sept. 22 (CP)—A bit of shivering tonight is indicated for residents of the low ground through Georgian Bay and Haliburton regions.

Frost is predicted for these regions with the risk of below-freezing temperatures extending to similar low-lying areas in southern Ontario.

A light frost was reported in some districts in the Toronto area Tuesday night but the lowest officially recorded temperature was 37 degrees at London.

Tonight should be "about the same as last night," the forecaster says. And he adds that "if we get by tonight without frost it will be quite a few days before there is that danger again."

Temperatures tonight in southern districts are not expected to go below 38 except in low ground. Only light breezes are forecast and little change is anticipated Thursday except slightly higher afternoon peak temperatures.

The cooler weather is not unusual since autumn begins officially at 22 minutes after 11 p.m. tonight. Normally fall arrives Sept. 21, but Leap Year set it back a day this year.

British Labor Given Warning

LONDON, Sept. 22—Organized labor was told today not to give way to over-optimism about Britain's future and cautioned that the path ahead still is difficult despite some signs of improvement.

The warning came from the General Council of the Trades Union Congress which represents 8,000,000 workers. It issued a statement calling for "more intelligent use by our present labor force . . . of our existing machines" as a means of maintaining the improvement.

It said increased production, which will improve living standards, can be achieved by improved methods.

The statement is a bold echo of the appeal of Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer, to the TUC annual convention earlier this month for developing brain power rather than brawn. It also echoes the cautionary note Sir Stafford sounded on his arrival in Ottawa this week, when he said the public had tended to over-emphasize the optimistic side of his economic report last week to the House of Commons while neglecting his "very definite warnings."

Some quarters interpret the statement as showing a further closing of trade union ranks against subversive influences, following the routine of the Communists at the Margate annual conference.

Cripps Encouraging On Britain's Finances

Says Canadian Farmers Needn't Be Anxious About British Markets

OTTAWA, Sept. 22 (CP)—Sir Stafford Cripps, Britain's Chancellor of the Exchequer, today gave the Canadian people an encouraging picture of Britain's financial and economic recovery and stressed the need of maintaining the "greatest possible flow" of mutual trade between Canada and the United Kingdom.

In an address prepared for delivery before the Canadian Club, he traced the development of Britain's economic difficulties since the end of the war, told of the steps taken to solve them and reported substantial increases on the British production front thus far in 1948.

He made only one brief reference to his economic and financial discussions here this week with members of the Canadian government.

That was when he said that Britain hoped she now would have the period of U.S. Marshall Plan aid in which "to work out together, to our mutual satisfaction, the problems surrounding the financial and economic relations of our two countries."

Must Close Gap

Britain's first task was to close the remaining gap in her dollar balance of payments and then to tackle the task of raising her present standard of living. This would call for still greater production. Britain already was launching a drive for improved productivity which would enable her to export more and import still larger quantities of foodstuffs.

Sir Stafford said Britons were confident that by the end of the E.R.P. period "we can balance our overseas payments, provided we continue with our present policies, and that we shall still be large customers of Canada, who will at that time be buying a great volume of our exports in exchange."

Admire Canada

Turning to Canada, he said Britons admired the Dominion for the advances in its industrial development.

". . . We regard Canada — as I believe you regard the United Kingdom— as a vitally important partner in our closest economic circle, and we therefore have no doubts or hesitation as to the desirability—indeed more than that as to the necessity—or maintaining the greatest possible flow of mutual trade between our two countries."

Reporting that Britain hoped to increase her agricultural production by more than 20 per cent by the end of 1951, he told Canadian farmers they need have no anxiety about their British markets.

Britain still would have to buy nearly one-half of her total food supplies abroad and she would look to Canada as one of her "prime suppliers" in the future as she had been in the past.

Cairo Explosion Kills Nine People

CAIRO, Sept. 22 — (AP). — Nine persons were killed and 12 injured when a heavy explosion damaged four buildings in the Jewish quarter of Cairo today.

There may be more casualties. Several ambulances were sent to the scene.

Police threw a cordon around the area while investigators went to work. Rioting started after the explosion, but police stopped it.

3 Companies To Close On Mondays

Industrial and commercial interests unanimously agreed to cooperate with the Utilities Commission in power saving economies proposed by its chairman, G. S. Matthews, at a meeting Tuesday afternoon in the city council chambers.

Manufacturing plants will appoint some employee with the responsibility of watching the use of power from day to day for the purpose of preventing any waste and also to conserve electricity as much as possible.

Three of the companies, Vermont Marble, Dewart Milling, and Martin-Hewitt Co., are closing on Mondays and will try to make up production at the end of the week.

J. H. Jamison of C.D.S., and a member of the Retail Merchants' Association expressed willingness to close Wednesday mornings, thereby completing business shutdown for the entire day, if that measure of economy becomes necessary. The Association will discuss its position in the seasonal shortage of power.

Mr. Matthews briefly reviewed the emergency directions that have been issued by Hydro-Electric Commission to all municipalities in Ontario, and outlined the proposals of the Utilities Commission. One of them is to appoint some person to keep a check on power use, and another is to read the electric meters daily. That information presents to each plant exact extent of its contribution in the saving plan.

Instructions in meter reading were begun this morning by staff men of the Utilities Commission.

The proposals may be only temporary if they fail to accomplish the reduction of Peterborough's power consumption to the week day quota of 240,000 kwh.

In Kitchener some of the larger firms have been divided into groups. One group will close Wednesday and Thursday, another Monday and Tuesday, and so on, with switching days to distribute the time off. At their meeting Monday night, Arthur Bromley, Utilities engineer, said Kitchener industries had to reduce its power use 90,000 kwh daily from Monday to Friday inclusive.

'If we don't stay within our quota the Hydro will pull switches," Mr. Bromley said.

The Peterborough expedient is being undertaken today in the hope that it will be sufficient to avoid serious interruption in productio. Results will be immediately seen in the daily record of the Utilities Commission which will be supplied to the industries.

Any further restrictive action will depend on the results of the plan that was started this morning.

Still Using Too Much Power–Lindsay Hydro

LINDSAY, Sept. 22 — Lindsay has not been able to keep within the quota of 45,000 kilowatt hours laid down by he Ontario Hydro Commission, says Lindsay Manager J. Lightbody, and still a further cut goes into effect today, bringing the quota down to 41,750 kilowat hours a day.

Mr. Lightbody said it looks as "drastic measures" must be taken to hold the level of consumption below the new quota figure.

At a special meeting of the local Hydro Commission Tuesday it was decided to make a direct appeal to undustrial power consumers to change operations from the daytime to midnight hours until the weekend.

As for the domestic and commercial users, the Hydro Manager said that an appeal is being made to ask them to cut off water heaters for five or six hours a day as well as any other saving possible from the domestic and saving on lighting from the commercial users.

The present position is very bad, he said, adding that they wanted to avoid pulling the switch if at all possible.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, Sept 22 — (CP). — Late hedging sales gave coarse grain futures prices an easier tone on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, with oats prices closing ⅜ to ⅝ cents lower and barley ¼ cent lower to ½ cent higher.

In early trading, shippers were active buyers in both grains, along with American houses in oats and maltsters in barley. But prices dropped off as the hedging increased.

Rye futures prices closed 4½ to 3½ cents lower as liberal selling appeared. Support was not as aggressive as in previous sessions. Small offerings in flax by elevators were absorbed by seaboard activity during dull trade and prices closed unchanged to ½ cent lower.

The United Kingdom was allocated 900,000 bushels of wheat under the Anglo-Canadian wheat agreement. Class two wheat prices remained unchanged from Monday.

Industrials Ease In Mid-Session Today

TORONTO, Sept. 22 (CP) — Industrials eased slightly in midsession today on the Toronto Stock Exchange after opening on a stronger note in an attempt to recover Monday's losses. Trading slackened as losses cropped up in industrials. Golds and base metals were quiet and steady and Western Oils weaker.

Papers led a steady rise in early trading in industrials but slackened off on scattered fractional losses. Canadian Vickers Ptd., was a lone bright spot in a dull industrial board, gaining $4 at a high of $182. Imperial Oil, B.A. Oil, and Abitibi preferred were among late losers.

Interest lagged in mining issues as trading was light and golds moved in narrow range San Antonio, Negus, Nicholson, Wright-Hargreaves, and Canadian Malartic were among gainers.

In base metals, Golden Manitou, Gulf Lead and International uranium firmed.

60 Mile Rate In City Brings $25 Fine

Ralph McQuade, 20, of RR 4, Peterborough, was fined $25 and $2.50 costs for careless driving, to which he pleaded guilty in court today.

Evidence given by Inspector James F. Reid was that the accused had been driving a car on north Water St. at "50 and 60 miles an hour," lost control, skidded twice more than 200 feet and snapped off three steel posts of a fence.

"What's the idea of this sort of driving?" asked Magistrate Philp.

The accused explained that he was trying to pass some cars "and when you are passing cars, you have to go faster than they do."

"Obviously, it is necessary to pass every car you meet," commented His Worship.

Name McIntyre Hood New Managing Editor

OSHAWA, Sept. 22 — (CP). — The Oshawa Times-Gazette today announced the appointment of M. McIntyre Hood, veteran newspaper and public relations man, as managing editor.

The 53-year-old native of Aberdeen, Scotland, previously worked for the Oshawa paper for six years, from 1929 to 1935. Before that he was with the Woodstock Sentinel-Review. He left Oshawa to join the Quebec Chronicle-Telegraph. In 1937 he became private secretary to Gordon Conant, Attorney-General of Ontario. In 1943 when Mr. Conant retired from public life, after a brief period as Ontario Premier, Mr. Hood became public relations man for the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

A veteran of the First World War he was connected with auxiliary services in the last war.

Obituary

JAMES GRIEVES

ROSENEATH, Sept. 22. — (ENS).—The funeral of James Grieves was held today at 2.30 p.m. at the family residence, Roseneath. Mr. Grieves' death occurred on Monday, September 20 at his home after a lingering illness. He was 74-years of age and was born at Warkworth, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Grieves. He spent several years with the International Harvester Company of Western Canada, was a former member of Toronto police force and a veteran of World War One. He came to Alnwick about 28 years ago and was a prominent farmer. He was a member of Roseneath United church, a member of Warkworth lodge, AF & AM No. 161, and a Shriner, taking his degree at Fort William. A number of years ago Mr. Grieves served as Alnwick township clerk for some years, and as Indian agent for Alderville Reserve for a number of years.

He is survived by his widow, the former Mrs. Margaret Hardcastle Braithwaite, a stepson, Allan Braithwaite, three sisters, Mrs. Robert Walker of Warkworth Mrs. M. Whatley and Mrs. A. Chester of Rochester; a sister, Mrs. M. Oakley, predeceased him some years ago.

Rev. R. C. White officiated at the service in the home and burial service, and following the latter service full Masonic rites were accorded Mr. Grieves by his Masonic brethren.

The pallbearers were Silas Sherwin, Flex McMillan, Kyle Brown, Fred Lewis, Charlton Grigg and Reginald Crego.

Burial was in Warkworth Union cemetery.

Inquest Ordered

BELLEVILLE, Sept. 22 —(CP) —An inquest was ordered today into the death of Mrs. Eleanor Heard, of Belleville, found dead in the bathroom of her home today. Mrs. Heard was the wife of a Belleville Collegiate teacher, C. G. Heard.

Immunization Of Children On Increase

COBOURG, Sept. 22 (ENS)—There were more infants and preschool children immunized against diphtheria and whooping cough by the Northumberland and Durham Counties Health Unit in rural and urban centres from January to July this year than were immunized during the whole of the previous year. Practicing physicians have reported that the number of infants and children being immunized is increasing. The Health Unit staff estimates that 60 per cent of the infants in the United Counties are immunized against diphtheria and whooping cough during the first year of life, either by the family doctor or by the Health Unit staff.

During the past year there has been an increase in the use of a new preparation which combines diphtheria toxoid, whooping cough vaccine and tetanus toxid, giving protection against diphtheria, whooping cough and lockjaw. The staff plans the immunization so that clinic is held in every rural school in the counties at least every two years. Parents bring infants and pre-school children to these clinics for immunization. In addition, clinics are held at the most central points at more frequent intervals and office clinics are held once each week.

Traffic Cases Swamp Court

Hope 5 Lost Fliers Able To Eat Berries

THE PAS, Man., Sept. 22 (CP) —The slim hope that five men aboard a United States navy plane missing since Sept. 12 still may be alive — living on wild game and the few berries offered by northern Manitoba's trackless wilds—remained today to an international search force.

As Canadian and American pilots took off to scour all territory within the orbit of the C-45 Beechcraft — unreported since it left Churchill for The Pas, 450 miles to the southwest—veteran bush pilots here were weighing the chances of its occupants' survival.

Suspect Conference

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22 — (AP). — United States diplomats believe Russia has called in leaders of the Soviet satellite countries for conferences on the next move of the Communist bloc. Communist stalwarts in several of the five satellites loyal to Moscow were reported today to be absent from their posts. One is known to be in Russia and officials suspect others are there also for talks with Foreign Minister Molotov.

John S. Black Heads Arena Drive

Organization of a final drive in aid of the secondary rink, which is now partially constructed, is being left in the hands of John S. Black, chairman of the finance committee of the Civic Arena committee. This was decided upon at a special meeting held at the Civic Arena headquarters Tuesday evening. Mr. Black is to appoint his own committee.

A Civic Arena Week is to be held and churches, schools, service clubs and other organizations are being approached to assist in the campaign.

Dick Ouimet presided at the meeting, at which A. Cameron, Alderman Hurrell Dodds, Stan McBride, Mrs. W. Addyman, G. Harper, A. Weir, Bud LaBranche, H. Winslow, Percy Killingbeck, P. Harrison and Mr. Black were present.

appreciated, and I entirely agree that the United Nations should give separate guarantees," Bevin said.

Ignore Recognition

In reply to question, Bevin said "The statement I have made does not involve the recognition of Israel. It involves the policy which the British delegation must be instructed to follow at U.N.

"We shall see what emerges from that and in the next stage we shall have to consider subsequent developments," he added.

"We do not expect that either side will welcome .... (Bernadotte's) proposals in toto but the world cannot wait for ever for the parties to agree. It is now time in the view of the government for a final solution to be found by United Nations."

Britain believes, Bevin said, that Count Bernadotte's conclusions "must be considered as a single integrated plan, and it would be best for all concerned that this plan should be put into operation in its entirety."

Want United Germany

Dealing with the political developments, Bevin said: "While we are anxious to encourage healthy development in western Germany, we are still hoping that sooner or later a German united government will be established and that nothing will prevent that establishment....

"I felt when that blockade was put on that a grave choice had to be made. We made it. It was either to stand firm there or to turn south and go on to another Munich.

"I believe that east and west have got to live together. I am ready to live together and say you live in peace in the area you have got."

SEA CADETS PARADE

First parade of the RCSC Howe after the summer camp was held on Tuesday evening. The ship was cleaned and got in readiness for the new season. Applications were received from more than half a dozen prospective recruits, but the new year's recruiting drive has not yet begun. The parade was in the charge of the executive officer, Lt. J. S. Gardiner.

Travellers Give $200 To Arena

Peterborough's Civic Arena Fund is $200 richer as the result of a draw sponsored by the Peterborough branch, Associated Canadian Travellers. Tickets were sold during the summer months for the prize of $100 worth of merchandise, valid anywhere in Canada. Winner was Gerald Gabourie, Dobbin Ave.

The first fall meeting of the Peterborough Club was held on Saturday in the Kawartha Room of the Empress Hotel. Guest speaker was Wilson Gemmel, manager of the Royal Bank of Canada. His subject was "Free Enterprise—Or Else." Mr. Gemmell's talk was a message to the travellers regarding the business world today and its possibilities. The theme was "caution should be exercised in all phases of business life."

Jack Armstrong was initiated and four prospective members were guests of the Club.

Russia Hasn't Got A-Bomb–McNaughton

PARIS, Sept. 22 — (CP). — Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton said Tuesday night "we are quite certain Russia has not yet produced an atomic bomb."

Gen. McNaughton, Canada's representative on the United Nations Atomic Energy Commission, said "the United States, Britain and Canada have leadership in atomic energy developments despite feverish Russian attempts to produce a bomb of their own."

"There is no cause now for hysteria," he added in an interview. "We have a short time, perhaps five years, in which to try to reach a system on international atomic control before a time for hysteria really arrives."

FREEDOM OF THE ROADS

In feudal England, freedom of the highways was won only after a long struggle extending over centuries.

Union Bosses Bucking Power Changes

TORONTO, Sept. 22 —(CP)— Voluntary power-saving, if continued and increased, may enable Ontario to avoid Hydro blackouts this fall and winter.

Hydro Chairman Robert Saunders said Tuesday night that replies to his appeal to eliminate waste of electricity had been encouraging.

"In some respects these are an assurance against cut-offs which would be injurious not only to industry but also to the pay envelopes of the workers," he said.

Mayor Hiram McCallum of Toronto said the situation here also appeared favorable. He said compulsory cut-offs through pulling of Hydro switches will not be necessary in Toronto if voluntary savings continue at their present satisfactory level.

A sour note was sounded by some labor union officials who balked at having unionists switch working hours to enable plants to use imported off-peak power. The Ontario Hydro Commission bought some power from a Buffalo, N.Y., company to offset the shortage brought on by a dearth of water at generating facilities coupled with unprecedented industrial demands. But the imported power is available only late at night and on Saturdays and Sundays.

Not Told Personally

Although the request for power-saving has been widely publicized for more than a week, the union bosses said they hadn't been told of it personally. Nor had they been consulted by the Hydro Commission on the question of night and week-end work without premium pay.

The reluctant unions are the United Auto Workers (CIO), the Toronto Printing Pressmen's Union (AFL) and the United Steelworkers of America (CIO).

Owen Sound, which has been exceeding its power quota, staged a half-hour power blackout late Tuesday for the second consecutive day. The Owen Sound Public Utilities Commission discussed the possibility of generating additional electricity with steam engines.

BURLEIGH SCHOOL OPENS

Twenty-five pupils who attend the Burleigh School in temporary quarters owned by Mrs. Francis Brown, storekeeper, started their regular lessons on Monday of this week. The arrangement is temporary and for an indefinite period, subject to the building of a new school. The contract has been let to Walter Mortlock of Peterborough but work has not yet commenced on the new building.

British People Fear World Heading For Another War

By HON. RUPERT DAVIES

LONDON, Sept. 15.—The situation in Berlin and the general attitude of Russia towards the United States, Britain and France are topics of conversation wherever one goes in this country these days, but the announcement of the three months' delay in releases from the armed services, has increased the interest and the unrest.

People are trying to read between the lines of Mr. Morrison's announcement, some of those to whom I have spoken are very apprehensive. They openly talk war. They are asking themseives and others, if the situation is more serious than the dispatches in the press indicated. The press, itself, is very outspoken. The Daily Telegraph, published by Lord Camrose, and a strong supporter of the Conservative party, says that "no one can doubt that the danger is there." It expects "a sorry and depressing tale from Mr. Bevin, the foreign minister, when he speaks on foreign affairs next week. It agrees with Mr. Morrison that foreign affairs are outside the realm of party politics, ordinarily, twits the Socialists by reminding them of their pacifist attitude in the 1930's, and assures them that the present Conservative opposition "will not certainly take the pitiful line the Socialistt took then."

Most Disturbing

The Manchester Guardian, which speaks for Lancashire and its vast industrial interests, is listened to with respect everywhere. It discusses Mr. Morrison's speech at great length.

It says: "We have to take account of the steady deterioration of the relations between Soviet Russia and the non-Communist world. We have to reckon with a steady Communist offensive, and with a hostility in negotiation that, when shown by a power in the past, has almost always been a prelude to war. We cannot be sure that Russia wants war, but have had enough experience with other totalitarian states to know that not to prepare adequate means of defence is the surest invitation. She is practising aggression — her tactics in Berlin are Hitler over again — and there is nothing to show where she will stop or into what manoeuvres she may plunge."

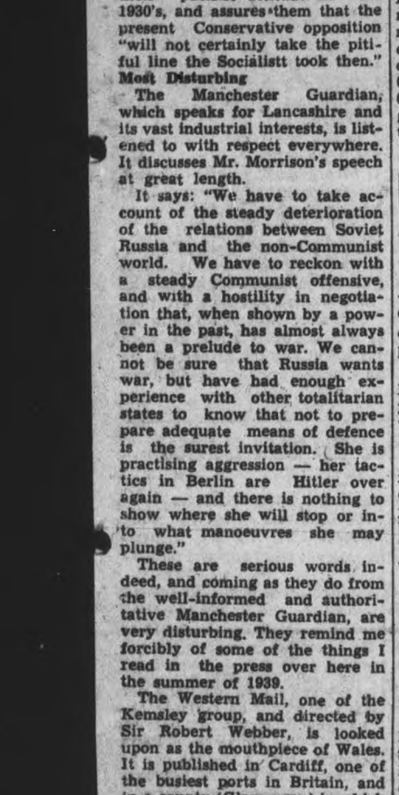
These are serious words indeed, and coming as they do from the well-informed and authoritative Manchester Guardian, are very disturbing. They remind me forcibly of some of the things I read in the press over here in the summer of 1939.

The Western Mail, one of the Kemsley group, and directed by Sir Robert Webber, is looked upon as the mouthpiece of Wales. It is published in Cardiff, one of the busiest ports in Britain, and in a county (Glamorgan) in which resides more than half the population of the principality. The Western Mail also takes a dim view of the situation.

It says editorially with regard to he three-months' deferment of releases from the services: "The retention of conscripts in the British armed forces for an extra period of three months, is no more than an instalment of the measures expected in the services pending an improvement in the international situation. Further precautionary decisions will be necessary before an adequate defence is created for the occupation forces in Germany. Any weakening in these forces before a reliable settlement of differences with Russia would inevitably prolong the crisis and increase the tension."

Fuel Situation

A matter which is of great interest to the people of Britain is the fuel situation. Coal is one of Britain's greatest natural resources, and the export of that mineral has been of significance in helping the British economy. The householder is not going to benefit by any increase in the production of coal for some time, according to Mr. Robens, the parliamentary secretary to the minister of fuel, but on the other hand he has been assured there will be no reduction. That many of the small householders find their allocation sufficient, is indicated by the fact that a great many people did not purchase what they were allowed during the summer months. I was talking to big coal dealer a few days ago. He tells me that dealers cannot get what they would like, but have to take what is given to them. What we in Canada call furnace coal, is very hard to get, and not freely available for general consumption. Industry comes first in all these things. Coal is watched carefully by all those interested in Britain's recovery. The production of last week compared with the same week last year showed an increase of nearly half a million tons, despite the fact that what is called "open-cast coal" fell off by 35,000 tons. During the next four years the minister of fuel hopes for an annual production of the deep-mined coal of 220,000,000 tons a year, of which he hopes to export 40,000,000 tons, an increase of 24,000,000 over the 1948 export target. Before the war 40,000,000 tons was a normal export.



OSWALD SMITH, Can. representative of the Youth for Christ International (a Protestant organization), is shown at left as he addressed a Y.C.I. rally in Rome. The meeting was held coincidentally with a great demonstration of Catholics, celebrating the 80th anniversary of the founding of the Young Men's Catholic Action, and bad feeling resulted. Catholic youths attempted to blockade all avenues leading to the Protestant rally and only diplomatic police work averted clashes.

MANY AN UNREPENTANT NAZI HEART felt a tremor of nostaglia at this sight during the Communist rally in Berlin's Lustgarten. The rally, ostensibly in commemoration of the victims of Nazi concentration camps, was actually a reply to the huge anti-Communist demonstration staged a few days before in the western zone. Reminiscent of the days of Nazi pomp and circumstance was the show of policewomen of the Soviet zone. Their uniforms bear a strong resemblance to those of the Hitler heyday. Incidentally, the rally was a flop, despite bribes of free beer, free food and bands.

Lindsay Fair Best Yet Expect Record Crowds

LINDSAY, Sept. 22.—The curtain has gone up on the 1948 Lindsay Central Exhibition, which opened Tuesday and the big five-day show has been set in motion. It's a big fair this year and record breaking attendances are anticipated by officials who say they have gone the limit to give the patrons the best in a big fair.

B. L. McLean, secretary, says there will be plenty of fun and interesting things for everyone to enjoy in this, the greatest Lindsay Fair he has ever managed. He included in the list super Midway attractions, excellent farm stock contests, fast track meets, scores of commercial displays and a wonderful grandstand performance afternoon and evening.

Featured for today, Children's Day, is Lucky Lot and his daredevil drivers. The Fair Board is letting the children in free to the grounds.

Thursday is Citizen's Day and it is also the first day of the horse races which will be a feature afternoon attraction. The RCR Band of Brockville and Petawawa will be on hand to provide special music. Merchants are closing Thursday afternoon in accordance with a decree issued by Mayor Lamb making it a Civic half-holiday.

Friday and Saturday also promise to have full, well-rounded out programs that will provide plenty of interest for everybody.

Charge Trent River Man In Insurance Collections

Judgment was reserved Tuesday for one week on three charges against Carl Ellis of Trent River in connection with fraudulently collecting money on insurance policies he was allegedly not entitled to sell. The accused, represented by W. J. Arthur Fair, pleaded not guilty. Several other similar charges were also held over until Sept. 28.

Two of the charges heard in police court Tuesday by Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC dealt with alleged fraudulent sales of insurance by the accused to Levi Wrightly, a farmer who lives north of Havelock.

Wrightly testified that Ellis had approached him in March of this year and sold him an insurance policy, for which he had been given a cheque for $22.60. The receipt given by Ellis was entered as an exhibit. The farmer said that he had not received the policy yet.

Kenneth M Kingston, manager of the Peterborough Branch of the insurance company mentioned in the charge, said that accused had never been an agent of the company. He said the company did not receive the money said to have been paid.

H. F. McNichol, Havelock insurance agent, said that he had given the accused four application forms for policies when Ellis had mentioned that he know some people who were interested. McNichol testified that he had never authorized Ellis to transact any business for him.

Miss Ruby Wrightly, who said she was a friend of the accused, said that she heard McNichol ask Ellis if some insurance could be sold north of Havelock. She said that McNichol offered Ellis a 10 per cent commission on any policies he sold for him. She said that McNichol had given the accused the forms and that Ellis replied he would "give it a try."

Denied Offer

McNichol, recalled by the crown to the witness stand, denied having made the offer which Miss Wrightly swore she overheard.

A second charge that the accused had used false pretences in obtaining $15.50 from Ross Richards was also heard. Richards, an elderly farmer near Havelock, told the court that he paid Ellis $15.50 cash for an insurance policy and that the policy had not yet been received nor had refund been made.

He also said that the accused had visited him this Monday and urged that he not appear to give evidence at the trial. He said Ellis asked him to "make it as light as you can for me."

Ernest Leason, Havelock agent for the insurance company mentioned in this charge, testified that Ellis was not employed by the company.

Sydney J. Fisher of Belleville, insurance company inspector, said the accused was not an agent. He said that appointments were made by him.

Another charge for allegedly selling a fire insurance policy to Levi Wrightly included evidence by Miss Wrightly again in which she said she had seen McNichol give Ellis forms for applications for three insurance companies.

McNichol, again recalled, denied that he even owned forms of any company but the one for which he was agent. He added that the conversation between the accused and himself could not possibly have been heard by Miss Wrightly, as it had taken place in a car with the windows closed and Miss Wrightly had been outside the vehicle at the time.

The Task Of The Conservative Convention

As with the Liberal convention last month, the most spectacular task of the Progressive Conservative convention will be the choice of a new leader; perhaps a more important task, however, will be the clarification of party beliefs, and the preparation of a program which the new leader will seek to carry out. The principle of conservatism has played a great part in Canadian history; it is a principle, indeed, which we could not very well get along without; in its present state of weakness, the Conservative party has somewhat lost sight of this principle, and it is to be hoped that a reaffirmation of genuine conservatism will be made at the convention. Very briefly summarized, the historical first principle of the Conservative party is this: that the best reform is constitutional and not radical, that all worthy progress has its roots in the past, and that the protection of ancient liberties is the surest guarantee of social reform. When a party with such a faith opposes the radicalism of the Liberals parliamentary government works at its best. When this opposition is lacking the Liberal party discovers that its most effective opposition comes not from the Right, but from the Left, and is itself forced to fill both the Liberal and Conservative place in national life.

* * *

What then, must the Conservative party decide? On foreign policy there is no sharp difference between the two principal parties. But on foreign trade the Conservative attitude has traditionally been one of high tariffs and protection—of national self-containment, in fact. But of late the Conservative parliamentarians seem to have thrown over this policy. They appear to think that we should seek markets in British countries, and cut off our reciprocity with the U.S.A. Is this the official party policy on foreign trade, and if not, what is? Does the Conservative party stand for protection pure and simple, or for Commonwealth trade?

* * *

Next, what is the Conservative attitude on Dominion-Provincial relations? Because it looks very much as though Mr. Drew would be the new Conservative leader, this is a matter of great importance. Mr. Drew has shown himself a strong champion of provincial rights, and has given eloquent expression to the claims of central Canada. But we need not assume that Mr. Drew would take this same attitude if he were a national leader; it would be ridiculous to expect that sort of consistency. Understandably he fights Ontario's battle when he is Ontario's champion; but in the Dominion field, what would his policy be? The country would like very much to know, and the Conservative hopes of national support will rest heavily upon his answer.

* * *

Third, what is the real financial policy of the Conservative party? In Opposition the Conservative parliamentarians have complained about high taxes and the extension of social services, while Conservatives out of Parliament promised great new benefactions if ever they were to get into power. Plainly it is impossible to lower taxes and increase government services. What, precisely, does the Conservative party intend to do?

* * *

It is important for Canada that the Conservative party should emerge from its convention purged of some of its contradictions, and strengthened in its true faith. Since the resignation of Lord Bennett as leader the party has floundered, making bids for power which weakened its credit with the country generally. Every party grows with the times, but the changes in the Conservative party during the past ten years have not been caused by evolution, but by desperation. A coherent, truly conservative policy in the hands of an aggressive leader could put the party back on its feet in two years.

Too Many People

Somebody is always trying to make our flesh creep; a fortnight ago a Mr. Hugh Auchinloss Brown declared that the weight of the ice-cap in Antarctica would soon tip the world from its present axis, causing deluges comparable to Noah's flood. Calmer scientists have discredited Mr. Brown, but a cogent warning comes from Dr. Fairfield Osborn of the New York Zoological Society; he says that the population of the world is increasing so rapidly that the earth is overcrowded, and will soon be unable to support its burden of humanity. "Freedom from want is changing from a hope to a pipedream and this disillusionment is undoubtedly one of the principal causes of the world's present unrest"; so says Dr. Osborn.

What are the facts? The first dependable estimate of the world's population —they all include a certain amount of guesswork—was made by Michelot in 1845, and he thought that the population of the world at that time was 1,009 millions. Today the figure stands at 2,150 millions, and by the year 2,000 it is expected to be in the neighbourhood of 4,000 millions. Can we pretend that in the next fifty years we shall be able to provide fully for so many extra people? Politicians who love to refer to our boundless natural resources might take time to ponder this question.

Of course the problem is more than a matter of simple mathematics. For the greater part of human history, it appears, the world's population has remained virtually stable, and it may stabilize itself again in some way which we cannot foresee—though nature's methods of stabilizing the population in the past have usually been of a disagreeable sort. It is quite possible, however, that the time may come when there is, literally, no more room on the earth for people, and when the earth's resources in food will be barely sufficient to keep the human race on a subsistence diet. Is it not time that we took some thought for this possible future? What can we do?

We can adopt more intelligent and far-reaching means of conserving the earth's wealth, for one thing. Our waste of every possible natural resource at present is criminal action against our own posterity. And we can stop breeding indiscriminately, so that our increase in population is accomplished along eugenic lines. In the days when infant mortality was high, and life expectancy for adults was 26 years there was little danger that population would grow too fast. But those days are gone, and the beliefs concerning God's will and the nature of the universe which they fostered must alter. Medical science has taken most of the risk from childbirth, and has so greatly extended our expectation of life that the old, rather than the young, predominate in civilized countries. As a result the earth is more crowded than ever, and we must expect the evils of crowding upon a global scale.

Playing Skittles With Skittish Quebec

Premier Duplessis of Quebec flicked his head and stiffened his wattles when the Dominion Government offered his Province as it did the others several million dollars to assist Quebec to give Quebec people better and larger health services. He would have none of it. He looked the gift horse in the mouth and didn't like its teeth. It was a Trojan horse perhaps. It would give an inch and take an ell. It was health ointment full of flies. A wolf in sheep's clothing. A Liberal snake in Union Nationale grass. He wrapped himself in the flag of provincial autonomy and spurned the offer.

Now Mr. Duplessis has been cajoled into accepting the handout. Mr. Martin, the Federal Minister of Health, has persuaded him that the Government at Ottawa has no mean or hidden purposes behind the Health Plan. He even goes so far as to say: "I cannot over-emphasize the importance which the Government attaches to a policy of decentralization, in the question of health administration in Canada". Premier Duplessis has accepted the grants.

Was Mr. Martin being coy, with an eye to the next Federal election? Or was it merely sweet reasonableness on both sides? Has Mr. Duplessis seen the future glow of health on his people's faces, or has free gold still a lure for him? If Ottawa has such a difficult time persuading Mr. Duplessis to accept money for jam, what, we wonder, will be the large inducements which the Conservatives must offer him to secure his support when that support might cost him much in prestige and popularity?

An English engineer says that he has evolved a helicopter which is foolproof. Granting him all his knowledge of helicopters, may we ask if he has studied the great capacities of fools?

CANADIAN CAUSERIE

Stern Parents, Canadian Style

By GEOFFREY VIVIEN

ONE curious thing about the Dominion Drama Festival last May was the number of plays in which a tyrannical parent was the central character. There were no less than three of them, featuring two frightful fathers—in "The Barrett's of Wimpole Street" and "Poppa Is All" — and one monstrous mother—in "The Silver Cord". It made me wonder how far these formidable people are creatures of fiction and how far they did or do in fact exist. One always tends to take one's own experience as the norm for humanity as a whole, and my own experience with parents (in which I include parents-in-law) has been uniformly pleasant; none of those I have been connected with has made me reach for the shotgun, ordered my spaniel to be destroyed, or endeavoured to poison my confidence in my wife (three of the milder incidents of the Festival plays). In fact they have been to me, as I to them, as acceptable, exasperating, and normal as the weather.

◇ ◇ ◇

BUT I dare say I have been unusually lucky, because a little reading has shown me that the thing is not altogether a myth, and I have even found examples in our Canadian past. This, I feel, should be considered a feast; for Canadian biography has not taken kindly to what might be called the Lytton Strachey approach—that is, the friendly, speculative examination of those incalculable, charming and provocative incongruities of behaviour which add so much to the human comedy.

◇ ◇ ◇

THE two examples I have to offer are not "characters" in the vivid style of, say, a Timothy Dexter, that fabulous figure of eighteenth century New England, who amongst many other exploits sold 42,000 warming-pans to the Cubans who believed them to be cooking-utensils. (J. P. Marquand used his bizarre story in an excellent early work.) But in their milder way my heroes (or "villains", if you are against stern fathers) do show how much we are missing by allowing our biographers to give us only the edifying and flattering aspects of a life.

◇ ◇ ◇

FOR the first we go back to 1848, that phenomenal year which brought to Europe a whole fistful of revolutions, and to the Red River Valley the polka. It came up from New York, where it was the most exciting development in public gallivanting since the waltz had arrived with the downfall of Napoleon some thirty years before. In fact for some Red River households it was too exciting—to be plain, it was forbidden. Amongst those who took this uncompromising stand against it was Dr. Pruden. Dr. Pruden was a gentleman of some eminence and—which is more important to the story—had a daughter, Caroline, "the most beautiful girl in Red River Valley." Came Christmas, and with the great event of the year, the Ball. Excitement ran high for the band was to play the new dance. Mr. Pruden was away, and Caroline practiced secretly. On the way to the Ball she begged her step-mother to let her join in, and at length won that sensible body over to her side. Trrr om—pom—pom, trrr om—pom—the polka is on! Out sails Caroline, joy of all eyes and rapture of her dashing partner. At the height of the fun the doors open—enter Mr. Pruden! Seeing Caroline he stands stock still, arms folded, brows contracted in a terrifying scowl. The moment the band stops he holds up his hand. A silence. Then, thunderously:

"Miss Disobedience, come here!"

The last we see of the Pruden family is a flurry of wraps and tearful eyes. What happened at home later that evening is not recorded. (You can find the story up to this point in "Women of Red River", an enterprising symposium of early Red River days.) Perhaps a Canadian dramatist would like to use his art upon the matter.

◇ ◇ ◇

IT is of course the "Miss Disobediences" who ultimately make the best citizens; the qualities that produce an explosion in the narrow confines of the home stand them in good stead in the big rough-house world. So it was with Margaret Anglin, my second heroine. She brought distinction to Canada and herself by being one of the earliest Canadians to make a mark on the New York stage. To do this she had to over-ride steady parental disapproval. Her father, who achieved distinction himself as speaker of the House of Commons at Ottawa, opposed her ambitions all the way and even when success came did not relent. Wild horses would not drag him to New York to see her triumph. In due course the inevitable happened: she came up to play in Ottawa. What do you suppose that stern but original man did? He went to the theatre but "kept his head bowed and his eyes tightly closed during the entire performance." It takes a Canadian to raise compromise to the level of a work of art.

Britain's Industries Passing Export Target

Some of Britain's chief industries have now passed the official export targets set them for the end of 1948. The iron and steel industry (which had already beaten the target in the second quarter of this year) has now shot further ahead, its July shipments having a total value close on $40,000,000 against a target of approximately $32,000,000. The machinery group achieved in July shipments worth $8,000,000 more than the end-of-year target of $88,000,000 and vehicles likewise passed the target, shipments valued at approximately $89,000,000 surpassing the end-of-1948 figure of $84,400,000. Britain's coal exports in July totalled $18,800,000 compared with a target of $15,600,000. Among other United Kingdom exports which exceeded the levels fixed for next December were whiskey, wires and cables, boilers and boiler house plant, and chemicals, dyes and paints. The cotton industry achieved a remarkable increase in exports during July—from the second quarter figure of $39,600,000 to $51,600,000—and fell short of the mark by only $28,000.—U.K. Information Office.

WHEN BRITAIN SAVED THE WORLD

Needs Must

(LONDON NEW STATESMAN AND NATION)

THE plain truth is that Parliament and the Government have accepted the E.R.P. agreement because they cannot face the consequences of going without the aid it brings. If we did have to do without it, we should be forced not only to cut our standard of living drastically—which would be worth while if we could see an end to it—but also to reduce our imports of essential materials, and by so doing cut down both our exports and our home programme of capital development, which is essential to long-run recovery. The Opposition's line in the debate has been to assert that this plight is due to the "squandering" of the earlier American Loan—which is sheer nonsense, unless it means that we ought to have practiced much greater austerity in 1946 and 1947. That is a case this journal is entitled to argue, but which cannot be sustained by the Conservatives, who then fiercely opposed such austerities as we did practice. In 1945-6, as our readers know, we were critical about acceptance of the Loan; and we feel surer than ever that Great Britain would have been better without it. That, however, is spilt milk; and we are in a much worse position now for looking America's gift horse in the mouth. We can't help looking, all the same; and we find the conditions of the new aid bad enough to bear, but less bad than we had feared from earlier versions of the draft Agreement. The most serious points are that we are being forced to take further loans which there is little prospect of our being able to repay; that the colonies are being brought in compulsorily as contributors to the American strategic stock-pile; and that the American administration acquires a very powerful influence over our investment policy, over our trade policy, and over our financial policy. Though our "sovereignty" is preserved in form, we can be forced into the status of an American satellite if the Americans choose to administer the agreement in that spirit. In the meantime we can only attempt the Herculean task of balancing our international accounts before the Americans tire of giving us subventions. That we have no hope of being able to do by our own efforts alone. Our chance depends on world recovery, and especially on recovery in Western Europe. On that matter Sir Stafford could only say that nothing much could be done to make European economic co-operation a reality until we and other countries affected knew where they stood about E.R.P.

Source Of Butter

While governmental authorities are up to their ears in the butter shortage, oleomargarine and associated problems, Hon. T. L. Kennedy, Ontario Minister of Agriculture, has a solution. Unfortunately, it would take about four years for it to produce sufficient results in golden butter.

It is a simple solution. Merely by using artificial insemination to improve dairy herds so that they will produce a higher quality of milk, an additional 47,000,000 pounds of butter could be obtained annually in Ontario alone. And this without increasing the size of the herds.

Now, if we can only get through about four years without sufficient butter, or without oleomargarine, Mr. Kennedy's idea might end all the arguments.—Windsor Star.

Night Migration

A unique method of studying night migration of birds is being employed by Professor George H. Lowery, Jr., curator of the Museum of Zoology at Louisania State University. Professor Lowery has solved the problem of non-visibility at night by focusing a spotting scope or low-powered astronomical telescope on the moon. By observing the angle and direction of flight of birds through this measurable, illuminated portion of the sky, observers are able to compute numbers of migrants and the direction and altitude of flight.—Woodland World.

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

In those days came John the Baptist, preaching in the wilderness of Judaea, and saying, Repent ye: for the kingdom of heaven is at hand. . . .

Then went out to him Jerusalem, and all Judaea, and all the region round about Jordan, and were baptized of him in Jordan, confessing their sins.

But when he saw many of the Pharisees and Sadducees come to his baptism, he said unto them, O generation of vipers, who hath warned you to flee from the wrath to come? Bring forth therefore fruits meet for repentance. . . .

I indeed baptize you with water unto repentance: but he that cometh after me is mightier than I, whose shoes I am not worthy to bear: he shall baptize you with the Holy Ghost, and with fire: whose fan is in his hand, and he will throughly purge his floor and gather his wheat into the garner; but he will burn up the chaff with unquenchable fire. (Matt. 3: 1, 2, 5-8, 11, 12.)

Letter To The Editor

COMMENT ON TAXI SERVICE

Sir: Much has been said in regard to the system of the local taxis. I'd like to make known a little incident that happened on Saturday.

A local taxi was called to pick up a woman on McDonnel Street to go to St. Joseph's Hospital. This woman had only been home from the hospital for a few hours and she was forced to go back owing to unexpected trouble. The taxi driver was asked to take her straight to the hospital and the driver said he would. But when he left the house he made a call at the C.P.R. station first and later took her to the hospital.

Now if this extra drive did the woman any harm or not we do not know, but I can assure you that the delay in getting this woman to the hospital could have proved very serious.

I certainly hope that this letter will have some of these taxi incidents checked up before some of their blunders cause serious consequences.

I am not much good at writing but I hope I have made myself clear in all respects and I assure you the name of the woman taken to the hospital, my name and the name of the taxi involved can all be obtained if it is necessary.

Adopt Canadian System

The R.A.F. has now adopted the "Pulheems" system of medical classification which the Army and the Ministry of Labour have been using since 1946.

The Navy is expected to have the system in operation at the beginning of next year.

RAREST BIRDS on the North American continent the Whooping cranes were photographed by the Saskatoon Star-Phoenix at Rice Lake, 20 miles west of Saskatoon last week. There are only 20 in existence and two black and white birds (centre and right) are shown flying with two sand bill cranes. This pair is one of the six mated pair left. Planes have been used in the last two years in the Canadian west and the Northwest Territories in an attempt to find the mating grounds of these birds, once so common on the prairies.

World News In Brief

Taken from Wires of Canadian Press.

LONDON, ENG. — Britain's exports dropped £15,100,000 ($60,400,000) during August the United Kingdom's traditional vacation month. Announcing the decline, the board of trade said the drop was about 10 per cent under July's record of £145,600,000 but because August had two less working days than July, the fall averaged only three per cent in the daily value.

TOKYO — Japanese complaints that Russians have fired on and detained their fishing vessels are to be investigated by the United States State Department, a spokesman of Gen. Douglas MacArthur's supreme Allied headquarters said.

ANGOLA, N.Y.—The "Hollywood Embrace" at the conclusion of marriage ceremonies in church is "in bad taste," in the opinion of Lutheran minister Rev. Frank J. Bauer, 30. He said he was still "young enough to regard kissing favorably, within its legitimate bounds," but he added: "Any public display of affection, particularly in the church, is in bad taste."

CANBERRA—Prime Minister Chifley refused to hold a secret parliamentary session to discuss the Berlin crisis. In reply to Eric Harrison, acting Opposition leader, who demanded a secret session, Chifley said any discussion on information he had received from the British government concerning Russian moves in Berlin would only embarrass the British representatives who have been been conferring in Moscow.

LONDON, Eng.—A 600-pound unexploded German bomb that had been buried in the quayside at Surrey commercial docks in Southeast London since May 10, 1941, was removed. Four Germans, former prisoners of war, volunteered for the job of digging out the missile their countrymen dropped. Three British officers, headed by Royal Engineers, worked with them.

OTTAWA — The Prices Commission, now in recess, will resume its work on Sept. 28 with a lengthy probe into the lumber industry, an official of the commission said.

DETROIT — The Ford Motor Company which began 45 years ago with a paid-in capital of $28,000 now has an asset valuation in excess of $1,000,000,000, it was disclosed as tre company filed its annual balance sheet. It showed a total asset valuation, as of Dec. 31, 1947, of $1,027,733,000.

SYDNEY, Australia—Two sample wooden houses pre-fabricated in Sweden will be erected here to test the practicability of large-scale imports to help ease Australia's housing shortage.

SAN MARINO—This oldest and smallest republic in the world complained Britain and the United States had failed to pay San Marino's claims for damages from bombing in June, 1944. The foreign ministry said the bombers, which killed 60 persons and destroyed a museum and library, were British "but we asked payment from both nations because the bombers were under a unified British-American command."

STOCKHOLM — Government sources said members of the Czechoslovak information bureau in Sweden had been compelled to leave the country. The sources said authorities refused to prolong their permits.

BRUSSELLS — A number of persons were injured here as Communists tried to stage a demonstration against the film "The Iron Curtain" which is being shown in the city. The picture, part of which was filmed in Ottawa, deals with the Canadian spy investigation.

PARIS—French Foreign Office sources said economic merger of the British and American zones of Germany with the French zone is near. Discussions of the problem are practically complete and formal merger probably will take place next month, these sources said.

Coach Derailed

OTTAWA. — One coach of a Canadian National Railways passenger train from Ottawa to Montreal partially left the rails at Carlsbad Springs eight miles from Ottawa. The train was not damaged by the derailment and there were no injuries to either passengers or crew members, an official said.

TORONTO.—The annual meeting of the Ontario Progressive Conservative Association will be held in November, President A. D. McKenzie said. He added that this might have given rise to a report that a convention would be held Nov. 8 to choose a provincial leader should Premier Drew succeed John Bracken as Dominion leader of the party.

Eye On Balances

LONDON — The Daily Telegraph says in an editorial that the "Canadian economy can only continue to be based on large exports to Britain if there is a reasonable prospect of sound and workable trade balances being achieved."

EDMONTON — Constance Drever, former British light opera star, died in Edmonton hospital of a heart seizure. Miss Drever, who settled here several months ago with her husband Randall Stevens, created in England such famous roles as Nadina in the "Chocolate Soldier" and made a notable success in Franz Lehar's "The Merry Widow" in 1908.

SYDNEY — Australia debated whether its star cricketer, Don Bradman, was guilty of "bad taste" after publication here of a photograph showing him strolling, hands in pockets, with the King and Queen in the grounds of Balmoral Castle, Scotland. The majority appeared to defend Bradman, stressing it was an informal occasion.

Talks Breakdown

ST. CATHARINES — Talks aimed at settlement of a strike which started July 14 at the McKinnon Industries plant here broke down. Local 199 of the United Auto Workers (C.I.O.) called the strike to back demands of wage increases of 18 cents an hours for day workers and 15 cents an hour for piece and bonus workers.

OSHAWA — Local 222 of the United Auto Workers (C.I.O.) is negotiating with General Motors officials for changes in their current collective bargaining agreement. Malcolm Smith, chairman of the Union's bargaining committee, said the local is asking for deletion of a clause which provides that any strike vote must be supervised by the Ontario Labor Department.

SAULT STE. MARIE — Parents kept their children at home after a large black bear and two cubs were reported prowling within the northern city limits. Several citizens said they saw the animals near a school.

NEW YORK — Robert Thompson, 33, New York State chairman of the Communist party, told police he was stabbed and beaten by two or three unidentified men in an alley. He suffered a superficial stab wound in the abdomen and cuts and bruises.

COLUMBIA, N. C.—Five men are in custody in connection with the $60,000 hold-up of the eastern North Carolina bank at Columbia. More than $58,000 was recovered in the capture of three (negro) men in a nearby swamp. Two (white) men were arrested earlier.

NEW YORK — A 19-year-old girl with a usually-fatal heart infection has received 450,000,000 units of penicillin in less than two months. Brooklyn's Beth-El hospital announced the treatment and said it was "one of the greatest if not the greatest quantity given to an individual in a concentrated period of treatment."

No Need To Worry

MILWAUKEE, WIS. — Despite a world shortage of newsprint the mechanical capacity of mills is sufficient providing all facilities are fully utilized, R. M. Fowler of Montreal said. Fowler, president of the newsprint association of Canada, spoke at a meeting of United States newspaper management executives and Canadian newsprint manufacturers called to examine the newsprint situation.

MONTREAL — Suffering a deep gash in his head that required 20 stitches to close, a 24-year-old night club dancer from Buffalo, N. Y., is under police guard in hospital following a fight that police said took place in a Dorchester street restaurant.

MONTREAL — The federation of Junior Chambers of Commerce of Quebec announced it has taken up study of the question of finishing the Richelieu River waterway, part of a 460-mile link between Montreal and New York. A statement said that only 15 miles of the waterway, joining Lake Champlain with the St. Lawrence River, remains to be made navigable.

HALIFAX — One hundred Estonians and Latvians political refugees who arrived here on the small vessels Capry and Ostervag will be admitted to Canada, mines and resources minister MacKinnon said.

HALIFAX — Miss Norma E. Smith of Halifax, secretary of the Nova Scotia college of art for 25 years, died after a three weeks' illness. One of the city's most gifted writers, she wrote both prose and poetry. Her poetry was published in Canadian, American and English journals.

TORONTO — Ontario Planning Minister Dana Porter opened the Salvation Army's immigration centre on midtown Sherbourne street with the statement "the residence has contributed immeasurably to the success of our immigration policy." Since its unofficial opening the centre has welcomed more than 2,000 immigrants.

Veteran Surgeon Dies At Cobourg

COBOURG, Sept. 22 —(ENS) —The funeral was held today of Dr. John A. Ivey, retired Cobourg doctor, who passed away suddenly at the age of 87. Dr. Ivey was born in Haldimand County, near Jarvis, but had been a resident of Cobourg since he was 28. He was the son of Henry and Permelia Ivey.

Besides his widow, who was Enid Donley of Simcoe, he is survived by three daughters, Edith of Cobourg; Helen and Marion of Toronto and a son, Jack, also of Toronto. A sister, Mrs. N. L. Alderson lives in Toronto. The funeral service was conducted at the home and graveside by Rev. W. P. Woodger and interment was in Cobourg Union Cemetery.

Dr. Ivey was born on a farm. When he reached his entrance class he left school to work on the farm but returned when he was 18 and passed his entrance. He came to Cobourg because of the educational facilities existing here where he atended Cobourg Collegiate Insitiute and also graduated from Victoria College when it was located in Cobourg. He went on to medical school and received his M.D. in 1886. He practised for a few months at Woodstock and then returned to Cobourg, practicing until his retirement in 1928. Dr. Ivey had been in poor health all summer but his death came unexpectedly.

His retirement from practice did not lessen his interest in medicine as he continued to keep abreast of all new advances in medicine through extensive reading and he contributed many articles to newspapers along medical and public health lines. He was also interested in literature and politics. The recently-published history of Cobourg records that in the early 1890's he was responsible for establishment of hospital accommodation in one part of the old people's home on James street, as an emergency hospital. In time a wing was built and this became the first Cobourg hospital.

FIELD MARSHAL VISCOUNT MONTGOMERY formally named a British railways LMR locomotive, "The Royal Pioneer Corps" during a presentation ceremony at Euston Station, London, recently. The driver at the ceremony was ex-Fireman Edward Tassiker, of Willesden Shed who served in the Royal Pioneer Corps from October, 1939, to April, 1946. He made seven spectacular escapes from the enemy after he was first captured in May, 1940. Above, Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery shares the footplate of the locomotive with Driver Tassiker after the naming ceremony.

Few Starlings Return To Trees

COBOURG, Sept. 22 (ENS)— Monday night's starling shoot, conducted by the Northumberland Fish and Game Club, proved very effective. Last night Chapel street district, which was teeming the night before with starlings, had only a very few. The gunners will be on hand Wednesday night ready for action in case the birds come back. The departure of the starlings left Chapel street free of the nuisance for the first time since early summer.

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Bill Moher, an oldtime native of this city—who writes a column for the Advertiser, New Toronto—recently saw our peewee Trojans lose and concludes: "I think it must have been the smoke from the CNR Diesels that blinded these boys from the Liftlock City, where they used to have a rink when the town was a quarter the size it is now. Where in the old days a Peterborough intermediate OHA team licked a pro outfit; on that very spot in that building is now a dance hall. But Omemee, with less than a thousand population, has a rink where the Peterborough boys must go to practice. Peterborough with a population of 35,000 to 40,000 has no rink. That's my beef. What have you got to say, Perdue?" Just that we'll have a rink this winter, Bill.

* * * * * *

He also wrote: "I had the pleasure of renewing acquaintances with a man I used to cheer when I was about 10—Jack Filling, who starred around first and at bat for the old Excelsiors at Murray St. grounds. His brother Ted was just as good at second. And there were such oldtimers as Chris Graham, Nan Belleghem, Bill Warham and the ever-cool and reliable Yebby Flaherty. And the one-armed pitcher, Dan McCabe, who received special mention one time in Coleman's column. He pitched for the Pullmans and always took his turn at bat. But you had to duck when he hit the ball, because the bat flew out of his hand, too.

"As Others See Us"

"Those were the days, and I thought they were gone forever until I saw a midget playing second for the Trojans, Gary Kearns. That kid has everything that goes to make a baseball player. Speed, a good eye, intelligence, pep galore and that never-say-die spirit. In fact, I heartily congratulate the whole team, the coach and the manager on this: they never stopped trying until the last man was out. When these kids grow up, Peterborough may get to be the city it was, and still could be." Why, Bill, it's a pretty good city right now—you ought to come back for a visit and see.

Local gridders, PCVS teams and ORFU Panthers, swing into action this Saturday. College juniors and seniors take on two Riverdale teams of Toronto at the Oval in exhibitions, while the Panthers are off to Orillia to open their schedule. They're in a four-club group again, Oakville being added along with Oshawa, Orillia and Peterborough. This makes up for Cobourg's withdrawal to balance the setup nicely. By the way, when telling of players who help to weigh down the Panthers' line, we must mention Don Lech, husky former PCVS star lineman. From now on, we'll have football every week-end (and on Thanksgiving Day) till the snow flies.

They Made It Close

It's one down and four to go for the Petes in their OBA senior "A" semi-finals, a best-of-five affair. They lost to Toronto Staffords here last eve before a good crowd, and they left two aboard when their eighth-inning rally finished. A tough one, though Staffs rolled up a comfy early lead and looked better till the late stages. The Murphylites just couldn't hit last night and they were a bit loose defensively. A couple of tough breaks or Gunner Ed Whitehill might have had the win. He was steady enough and it was 4-4 on earned runs, but the final count read 7-6.

* * * * * *

Johnny Krycia must have had something out there as he hurled hitless ball till the seventh when Edwardson homered. An error got him off to a bad start in the eighth and he then walked three in a row. Garvey bashed a double to score three, and Krycia was replaced by Spring. It still wasn't too late, but the Petes couldn't unlimber their heavy artillery and they left ducks on the pond. Still, a close one and they should beat the Staffs if they get in there fighting and get their pitchers some runs. And use their heads on throwing to bases. The odd error is to be expected but plenty of fight every minutes is needed come playoff time. And the locals were minus a couple of good players in Starr and Foley. It may be a different story tomorrow in Toronto.

Re The Lacrossers

Senior "B" lacrossers had a stiff workout last night and they'll drill again at six in Miller's Bowl this e'en, priming for the finals with Huntsville here Friday. A best-of-seven serial. Three minor OLA playdown jousts listed for the Bowl on Saturday aft. St. John's of Toronto play the local midgets at 1.30, Orillia meets our bantams at 2.45, and Orillia juves tackle the locals at 4.00 p.m. Meantime, the Peterborough bantams and juveniles are slated to open their home-and-home series tomorrow evening in Orillia, while our midgets may play their return tussle in Toronto on Monday. And this chill weather should suit the gutted-stick players better than the sticky stuff of a few weeks back.

Pro Wrestling Here Tonight

The heavyweight wrestling season which opens in the Brock Arena ring tonight is expected to get away to a flying start as a result of the match-making in the main bout. Strangler Bob Wagner has been signed to meet the Masked Marvel and that means that two of the really tough guys of the mat sport will be in action. Last spring Manager Jim Laidlaw was often asked to obtain some case-hardened opponent for the Mask after the mystery-man had succeeded in beating some nice clean-cut young opponent. Well, Laidlaw has picked one of the roughest matmen that could be found in Wagner and even the Unknown may have to back up this time.

One of the best young prospects in heavyweight ranks, Billy Stack of Bowmanville, comes in for a test against Jack Moore in the first bout. In the semi-final John Katan will try his iron-muscled technique against dashing Ben Sharpe.

JOHN KATAN

Staffords Take the Opener By 7-6 Count Against Petes

The Petes' late drive fell a run short at Riverside and they lost to Toronto Staffords 7-6 to open the OBA Senior "A" best-of-five semi-final series, second one being in Toronto tomorrow. A good-sized twilight crowd saw Staffords rack up an early lead and hold a 7-1 going into the last of the eighth. The Petes rolled then for five runs and had the tying run aboard at the third out. They also had the tying run aboard in the ninth.

Johnny Krycia was in fine form on Staffs' mound and gave up but two hits in the seven and one-third innings he toiled. But an error in the eighth, followed by three walks and then Fred Garvey's three-run double chased him. Joe Spring was reached for two hits before he put out the fire. Gunner Whitehill pitched steady ball all the way and, with a few timely blows by his side and a bit steadier fielding, should have won. It was 4-4 on earned runs.

Two For Four

Krycia led his side at bat with a homer and single in four as Goberis got one for two, and Spero a double. Edwardson hit a homer to right for the Petes and Garvey a double. But the Petes were held hitless for more than six innings with but one man reaching first in the sixth on a miscue. The locals used pinch hitters in the last two chukkers and they paid off in walks. A double play by the Petes was the only fielding feature.

Syrek's single, a hit batsman, Spero's double and a homer by Krycia meant four runs for Toronto in the second. They added one next trip on a walk, error, out and a double steal. Two more scored in the eighth on a hit by Hassard, a walk, sacrifice and a boot. Edwardson's homer gave the Petes their first in the seventh. They got in there for five in the eighth when, after Mackness' fly to left was dropped, Edger, Whatley and Dalton walked, followed by a hard double to left by Garvey to score three, Freddy later scoring on a hit by Menzies.

Soccer Schedule

Peterborough and District Soccer Association has decided to try a new venture of an early morning game this Saturday. Starting at 9:30 the Legion and Petes will play in a league game, A. Downer to referee. In the afternoon Lindsay will be here to play O'Hallorans at 2:15. They want to return to Lindsay for the Ex after the game.

The following Saturday forenoon Legion and Petes play at 9:30 with Asa Downer as the referee. CGE travel to Lindsay. O'Hallorans and Petes meet in the Mayor Ovens Cup game.

O'Halloran's were given permission to bring Slovaks from Toronto here at an early date.

TRIED HARD—Freddy Garvey tried hard in a losing cause for the Petes here last night as Staffords beat them 7-6. Besides fielding well, his double in the eighth scored three runs and he later scored himself to make it close.

BOCKMAN OF THE PITTSBURGH PIRATES slides on to score a run in the third inning of a recent game against the New York Giants at the Polo Grounds in New York. He made it on Bonham's single to centre. Westrum is the frustrated Giant catcher.

Braves Kill Pennant Hopes Of Cardinals and Dodgers

BY RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Boston Braves can clinch their first National-league pennant in 34 years today but the baseball spotlight will be centred on Cleveland where the Indians tackle Boston Red Sox in a night game first place in the American league at stake.

Billy Southworth's Braves, can mathematically win it today if they beat St. Louis Cardinals and the runner-up Brooklyn Dodgers bow to Pittsburgh.

The Braves killed off the remaining pennant hopes of both the Cards and Dodgers Tuesday. Taking both end of a twin bill from the Red Birds 11-3 and 4-0 while the Dodgers bowed 11-11 and 6-3 to Pittsburgh.

Leading Dodgers

The Braves now lead the Dodgers by 7½ games. Both teams have nine games left to play and any combination of two Boston victories or Dodger defeats will give Boston its first pennant since 1914. The Cards are eight games back with 10 to go and a loss today will knock them out.

However, in the American league, the league-leading Red Sox are only a game in front of the runner-up Indians who have won their last six starts. A Cleveland victory would put the two teams in a flat-footed tie for the lead. A Boston triumph would jump the Red Sox two games ahead with only eight games left to play for each team.

Trounce Tigers

The Red Sox trounced Detroit Tigers 10-2 Tuesday in the only game played in the American league. Lefty Mel Parnell, although rapped for 11 hits, coasted to his 14th victory.

Johnny Sain, the Braves' star right-hander, and rookie Vern Bickford, turned back the Cardinals on nine and four hits respectively. Sain's victory was his 22nd this season.

Pittsburgh's 12-11 victory over Brooklyn completed a game that began in Pittsburgh Aug. 25 when a ninth-inning protest by the Pirates was upheld.

The game was resumed with the Pirates at bat, three runs behind, two out, runners on first and third, Ed Bockman up with a 3-1 count and Carl Erskine pitching. Erskine walked Bockman to load the bases and Hank Behrman took over. Stan Rojek then broke up the game with a base-clearing double.

In the regular scheduled game that followed little Vic Lombardi held his former Dodger mates to five hits in pitching up his ninth victory.

Divide Twin Bill

New York Giants and Chicago Cubs divided a day-night doubleheader by identical 3-2 scores. In the day game Johnny Mize clouted his 38th homer.

Andy Pafko's three-run ninth inning homer enabled the Cubs to grab the nightcap and end a 10-game losing streak. Johnny Schmitz, who held the Giants hitless until rookie pitcher Sam Webb singled with two down in the eighth, received credit for his 18th victory.

Cincinnati Reds and Philadelphia Phillies also split a day-night twin bill. The Reds won the first game, 6-5 and the Phils took the nightcap, 6-1.

No Flags Flying For Woodcock

LONDON, Sept. 22.— (CP). — British boxing experts hung out no flags to mark the return to the ring of the British heavyweight king, Bruce Woodcock, and his fourth-round knockout victory over Lee Oma at Harringay Arena Tuesday night.

Morning newspaper critics, with remarkable unanimity, write it off as an incredibly dull fight which proved next to nothing about Woodcock's comeback effort from a broken jaw and subsequent eye trouble stemming from his merciless drubbing last year at the hands of Joe Baksi in the same ring.

Their opinion was shared by 10,000 fans who booed the fighter from Detroit and derisively showered the ring with coins as he lay rolling over and over on the canvas while the referee counted him out late in the fourth round.

The kayo punch was no particular sensation. It was just a right cross from which Oma was moving back when it connected to his head. But it was enough to finish Oma, who had been taking one straight left after another without any adequate reply.

Royals Down Rochester 5-2, Tie Up Series

By The Associated Press

The thrilling semi-final round of the International League's playoffs reaches a climax tonight when the four contesting ball teams square off in the final games of each series.

Montreal pennant - winning Royals and the third-place Syracuse Chiefs extended the preliminary round to its full seven-game length Tuesday night.

The Royals turned back the fourth-place Rochester Red Wings 5-2 to tie up their series at 3-3, and the Chiefs blanked the runner-up Newark Bears 9-0 to snarl their series also at 3-3.

Montreal, with its back to the wall, opened up against the Wings early before a home gathering of 15,264 fans.

The Royals hammered Bill Reeder, Red Wing ace, for four runs in the first three innings, driving him to cover in the third.

The Wings pecked away at starter Clarence Podbielan, picking up a run in the fifth and another in the sixth on a homer by Russ Derry.

Podbielan was lifted in the seventh after the Wings loaded the bases with two out. Walt Nothe came on and got the side out but he got into a jam in the eighth and Jack Banta, Montreal's 19-game winner, relieved. Banta walked the first batter he faced to load the bases but Dick Cole then grounded out to end the threat.

Dixie Howell, veteran right-hander, throttled the Bears on seven hits while the Chiefs pounded Dick Starr and three relief pitchers for 13 blows.

Coleman Rink Captures Club Honors

By HERB MARTIN

Playing last night in real chilly weather, Geo. (Jr.) Coleman's rink won the club championship from R. Knox's rink.

Taking a commanding lead in the early stages of the game, the Coleman quartet were never in trouble. They were bowling a nice game and everything came their way. On the other hand, everything that the Knox rink did seemed to work out wrong. They tried hard right to the last but it was no dice. The Coleman boys were not to be denied. It was their night and they made the best of it.

There was only a handful of spectators there to see this final game. It was just too cold to hang around. However, it is all over now and congratulations are in order for both loser and winner.

Here And There In Sports . . .

BY CANADIAN PRESS

A new national sports organization is needed in Canada in an overdue house-cleaning to prepare for the next Olympics and other world sports events, Prof. Nelson C. Hart, secretary of the Canadian Olympic Association, said in London, Ont., Tuesday.

At the same time, he backed the claim of C.O.A. President Sydney Dawes of Montreal, that the C.O.A. should be independent of any sports-governing body including the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada.

Barbara Ann Scott, Canada's Queen of the ice blades turned professional, took to the ice at Ottawa's Minto Club Tuesday for the first time since she signed her contract last June. The 20-year-old triple-crowned champion slipped into the club in preparation for her career with the Music Corporation of America which is sponsoring her professional debut. Details of where or when she will make her first professional appearance have not been disclosed.

At Philadelphia, Bill (Chicken) Thompson, 21-year-old Philadelphia heavyweight, died Tuesday night from injuries suffered in a fight against Johnny Haynes of New York last Thursday. Thompson never fully regained consciousness after being floored by Haynes three seconds before the end of their scheduled eight-round bout at Philadelphia's Toppi Stadium.

A one-year suspension has been handed trainer Jack Engle, accused at Los Angeles, of doping race horses. The California Horse Racing Board announced its decision, effective Sept. 17, following a three day probe into charges against Engle. A former Howard Stable groom, Robert Brenan, 25, of Hamilton, Ont., faces criminal narcotics charges in the case.

Manager Jack Adams cut loose three more players from his 78-man Detroit Red Wings' training camp at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Tuesday.

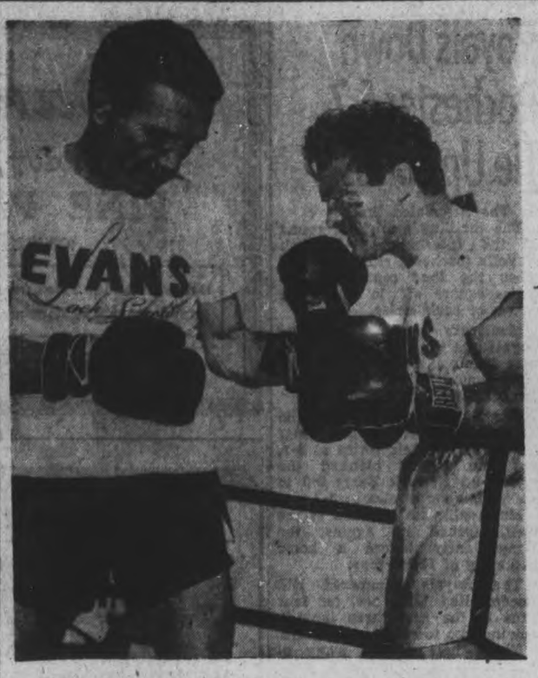
The National Hockey League team manager weeded out two of the last year's regulars with the Ontario Hockey Association Windsor Spitfires, and also sent another man home. Earl Frezell and Fernand (Butch) Houle left for Windsor while the third player cut was Sonny Lowes.

Montreal Royals of the Quebec Senior Hockey League whirled through their opening workout at the Forum in Montreal Tuesday. Coach Frank Carlin had 21 players in action, nine holdovers from last season and 12 rookies. Members of the 1947-48 team on hand included Jimmy Orlando, Erne Laforce, Pete Morin, Jimmy Haggarty, Bobby Pepin, Cliff Malone, Grant Morrison and Fernand Gladu.

Ray Gariepy of Timmins, hard-hitting defenceman with Barlyers Juniors last season, took part in his first workout with Montreal Canadiens Tuesday and impressed railbirds at the St. Hyacinthe, Que., training camp with his lusty body checks. Another recruit from Barrie and also a Timmins boy, Gil St. Pierre checked in Tuesday. He and Gariepy likely will be sent to Dallas Texas, Canadiens' farm club in the United States Hockey League.

Release Whitlock

TORONTO, Sept. 22 (CP) — Ken Whitlock, former Virginia State College halfback, today was released by Toronto Argonauts and the Dominion Football Champions returned to their all-Canadian status. The 175-pound Negro joined Argos this season as the first United States import to crash the lineup since the start of their post-war string of three straight dominion titles. The last two titles were won while other clubs took advantage of relaxed residence rules allowing five US imports to any team.



GEORGES CARPENTIER, French heavyweight idol of another generation, puts on padded mitts with Marcel Cerdan, European middleweight champion, in a friendly sparring match included in Cerdan's training routine for his bout with Tony Zale, world's middleweight titlist. Carpentier, no mean puncher himself, fought Jack Dempsey in 1921 in the first of Tex Rickard's tremendous spectacles at Boyle's 30 acres.

Cerdan Takes Boxing Crown From Tony Zale

JERSEY, CITY, N.J., Sept. 22 (CP). — Fifty million Frenchmen weren't wrong; their hopes that Marcel Cerdan would win the world's middleweight boxing championship were fulfilled Tuesday night when the mighty Moroccan mauled Tony Zale into submission in 12 rounds.

A crowd of 19,272 who had watched the five dull preliminaries served up by the tournament of champions was brought to its feet round after round in the headline bout. The scrappy 158-pound Casablanca cat took the fight right out of the defending champion's hands from the first round and left the 159-pound 34-year-old Zale winded, weary and worn.

It was evident after the sixth round that the highly-rated Zale could only win by a knockout.

Six rounds later Zale was declared knocked out, under New Jersey law, when he couldn't answer the bell.

Actually the 32 year old Frenchman finished his opponent at the bell which ended the 11th round. But under the state's boxing laws the count was made between rounds and thus it was officially made a 12th-round KO.

In State of Collapse

The end of the 11th round was not the only time that Zale was in a state of collapse. His Slavic features mashed and red, the former title-holder was carried into his corner at the end of the sixth and seventh rounds.

The Canadian Press scorecard gave Zale the fourth round and called the third even. The rest were Cerdan's. The Associated Press gave Zale the third and fourth rounds while referee Paul Cavalier credited the loser with rounds three, four and called the ninth even.

Otherwise, the fight followed a fairly set pattern. Cerdan, a dark, murderous little mauler, waded in with his chin protected and poured cruel left hooks and short punishing rights to Zale's head.

Zale, who had been expected to cut the Frenchman in two with his deadly rights to the body, seldom could find a target.

Hamilton Tigers trounced Mimico Mountaineers 6-5 Tuesday night at Mimico in the opener of the best-of-seven final series for the Ontario Lacrosse Association senior title. Millions of test miles have proved that the NEW IMPROVED GOODYEAR DeLuxe IS DESIGNED TO GIVE YOU

34% MORE MILEAGE

DeLuxe IN EVERYTHING BUT PRICE

For the STOP and GO of modern traffic ... for increased speed on the open road ... for the punishing travel of rocky roads, grinding gravel, ruts and ice ... the heat and chill of year 'round driving you need an up-to-date tire that's stepped up in quality ... to perform better under any condition. You need the new improved GOODYEAR DeLuxe.

The new GOODYEAR DeLuxe was given millions of miles of road tests. It averaged 34% more mileage than the big mileage Goodyear tire it replaces.

Stronger cord means extra body strength, permits a heavier tread, provides greater blowout protection. Huskier, more flexible shoulders give longer, more even wear. The wider, flatter diamond tread puts more rubber on the road, gives better traction. You get a bigger, better tire at a standard price.

We have a Goodyear "Factory-Fresh" Battery for your car, truck or tractor.

8 CSU Members To Stand Trial

PORT COLBORNE, Sept. 22 — Eight members of the Canadian Seamen's Union (TLC) Tuesday were committed for trial by Magistrate T. George Street on charges of having offensive weapons in their possession July 9. The weapons displayed in court included a softball bat, four clubs and three large stones.

The eight, who have been free on bail of $1,000 each, will be held in Welland County Jail until bail set in the same amount by Magistrate Street is renewed by their bondsmen on Thursday.

Committed were Gilmour Monson, 16, Winnipeg; James Cluckie, 25, Fredericton, N.B.; George Katona, 19, St. Catharines; Arthur Cross, 17, London; Ross Lothin, 19, Toronto; Gerald MacDonald, 17, Pickering; Robert Mace, 20, Stratford and Alfred Petipas, 19, Point Deschene, N.B.

Constable Louis Polyok testified to seizing the weapons from the jeep owned by the Canadian Seamen's Union and registered in the name of Dewar Ferguson, Toronto, secretary of the CSU, about daybreak on July 9. The eight accused were occupants of the jeep along with a 15-year-old Humberstone driver. Constable Polyok identified six of the accused in court.

Magistrate Street said the weapons found in the jeep were certainly weapons within the meaning of the code.

Greek Rebels Lose Enough Arms to Equip An Army

By L. S. CHAKALES.

ATHENS, Sept. 22 — (CP). — If you ask whether the guerrilla Vafiades Markkos is getting arms and supplies from outside Greece the Greek general staff will laugh at you.

During the last 18 months the Greek army has captured enough arms and supplies to disarm Markos' present estimated 25,000 guerrillas, But this has not diminished the guerrilla firepower.

Where is all this material coming from?

Markos' broadcasts insist that the "democratic (Communist) army" is capturing all its needs from the Greek army.

This the general staff dismisses as fantasy.

Two former United Nations commissions and the present Balkan observers have concluded that substantial help is coming across the borders.

The general staff says there certainly are no arms or munitions plants in so-called "free Greece." And if there were, these plants would not be making German, Italian, Cechoslovak, Yugoslav and British arms, it adds. Stores of German and Italian weapons were seized by the Partisans of Albania, Bulgaria, and Yugoslavia immediately after liberation.

Old Balkan Custom

The replacement of old arms with new from "friends" is an old Balkan custom. When Franco was running his revolution both the Loyalists and rebels bought tremendous amounts of Greek army equipment. This was strictly a business deal, approved by Dictator Metaxas. A well-known Greek arms merchant sold Greek army weapons to the Spaniards He replaced them with new weapons purchased legitimately and at lower prices from English, French, and Cechoslovak munitions makers. He pocketed the difference.

However, there is no indication Markos is paying for his arms with money. Usually reliable sources says Markos signed an agreement with Premier Marshal Tito (before the Cominform blast) to give Yugoslavia part of Macedonia for Tito's physical and moral assistance.

A year ago the general staff complained, before the United States program became effective, that it was not uncommon for the guerrillas to fire three times as many rounds as the national forces in any sort of skirmish. This disparity was not caused by the unwillingness of the army to fire its guns. The army just did not have that much ammunition. Now, with American assistance, it is the other way around.

In 18 months the regular Greek army has captured 21,063 rifles, 1,174 sub-machine guns, 283 heavy machine guns, 222,000 rounds of ammunition, 6,702 mines, 1,614 tons of explosives, 189 radio transmitters and receivers and six artillery pieces.

'Magnetic Hill' Is An Actuality

Maurice Ketcheson says the "magnetic hill" near Moncton in New Brunswick is an actuality. He was on it last week and experienced its phenomenal action, apparently magnetic, of drawing an automobile up the slope.

Some accounts of this preternatural influence have been appearing in the press recently.

"Some people would dismiss it as an optical illusion or some kind of hallucination," Mr. Ketcheson said. "I can say that I was there and saw the effect. We drove out from Moncton about six or seven miles to it. And we were on it."

Metal cars going down the hill are drawn backward, defying even gravity.

That's the story and Mr. Ketcheson vouches for it, although he says he can't explain it.

Kept Budget Secrets For Quarter-Century

CAPETOWN, Sept. 22 (CP). — A woman who knows how to keep a secret — she's kept budget secrets for 25 years — has been presented with an inscribed silver tray by the South African Treasury.

The recipient is Miss Elizabeth Hay Anderson, confidential typist to the Treasury, who has typed the annual budgets of South Africa's finance ministers since 1924 and shared their secrets with only two others, the Minister and the Secretary of Finance.

Miss Anderson, who was born in Glasgow, came to South Africa as a school girl.

Use Canadian Wood In London Houses

LONDON, Sept. 22 — (CP). — Canadian wood used to build a temporary bridge across the Thames in London now will provide floor and roof timbers for about 250 London County Council houses.

The bridge connected Battersea Park with Chelsea and is the last of three to be dismantled. The Millbank bridge is already gone and the county Hall bridge, used only once during the war, is nearly gone. The Home Security Ministry spent £500,000 ($2,000,000) on the bridges in case permanent structures should be bombed.

The two 90 tons steel spans for Battersea bridge will be shipped to Uganda for use in bridges there.

Church Must Meet Problem Of Day's 'Beanery Gangs'

HAVELOCK, Sept. 22 — (ENS) —Rev. G. Young, who assumed the duties as minister of Marmora United church in July, was the guest speaker at a "pot luck" supper in Havelock United church on Friday, when the Young People's choir, friends and members of the congregation enjoyed a social evening. The Women's Association undertook all the work entitled as a mark of appreciation of the services rendered by the choir.

Rev. F. R. Vanderburgh officiated as chairman and introduced and extended a hearty welcome to Mr. Young.

Mr. Young said it was his first experience in living and working in Ontario and expressed his appreciation for the invitation to visit Havelock as it gave him an opportunity to understand what was going on in a neighboring community and church.

His theme was taken from an old legend dealing with the leader of a band of adventurers, who was feared by the countryside, yet respected for his many acts of service.

Today, Mr. Young said, we are in the position of his waiting men, pausing on the threshold of great events, reviewing the things of the past and awaiting the final order.

Mr. Young has had a wide experience in young people's work. He was with the YMCA War Services during the war in administration work in various areas of Canada and prior to coming to Marmora was superintendent of a boys' farm and training school for juvenile delinquents in Quebec.

Blames Background

In speaking of the Beanery gang as an example of juvenile delinquency, he said it is the result of background, lack of training and utter neglect. At this time of the year he continued as church activities are shifting from the low gear of the summer months, to second gear with the hope of reaching high by the end of this month, he admonished the church membership to take on responsibility of definite church relationship, particularly stressing the training of youth for leadership.

Short addresses were given by James Watson, superintendent of the Sunday School, Miss Helen Anderson, president of the Young Peoples Society and Mrs. R. Easterbrook, president of the Women's Association.

$90 Realized

W. M. Platt, leader of the choir, explained the reasons for starting the five travelling garments for which the choir members had been soliciting donations during the holidays.

Mrs. G. W. Chiles and Mrs. A. Anderson officiated as a committee to open the donations, from which the sum of $90 was realized

Violin and banjo numbers were played by William Rylott and P. Hopkins with Mrs. M. Rylott at the piano.

Thousands of Noises Filed For Use In Movie Films

By JACK QUIGG,

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 22 (AP) —A short burp, the plaintive whistle of a distant train, a cougar's cough, and a gallows' clatter are a few thousands of odd noises that are the daily concern of the movie sound men.

The noises, recorded on the sound tracks of standard movie film, are kept ready for short notice use. Thus, if Mickey Rooney's sneeze comes out off key, sound men merely dub in one of hundreds on file in the library.

MGM'S collection is typical. Sounds from airplanes to zippers are carefully catalogued and stored in fireproof vaults. This "library" consists of four walk-in vaults, each holding 2,000 cans of film.

Under airplanes, for example, are listed sounds for planes idling, taxiing, taking off, landing, and diving, as heard from both inside the craft and on the ground.

Most animals found in zoos, and many that aren't, have had their vocalizing immortalized on celluloid. On hand are a bull elephant's bellow, the chatter of a squirrel, and the unmistakable warnings of rattlesnakes and the bumblebees. Camels are classified as barking, growling or crying. Dogs are listed by breed.

Belches Numerous

Belches are classified as "long," "short," "man's," "boy's," and "through a handkerchief" and numerous other ways.

The sounds of a pea shooter, a candle being blown out, a spittoon being hit, a skull crushed are there. Native cants and yells are catalogued geographically. Baby's cries are listed by age and whether the infant is happy or fretful.

"Our sounds are 99 per cent authentic," says Mike Steinore, in charge of the library. "It's easier to record the real thing than it is to invent a substitute."

For the atomic bomb explosion in "The Beginning or the End," the sound men simply amplified and extended their biggest explosion, a 16-inch cannon blast.

His toughest assignments, Steinore says, were duplicating the din of the earthquake in "San Francisco" and the rustle of millions of locusts for the plague in "Good Earth."

ON YOUR FEET ALL DAY?
HERE'S FAST RELIEF
FOR FOOT DISCOMFORT

IRRITATING, PAINFUL, BURNING FEET—RAW, CRACKED, PEELING SKIN BETWEEN TOES
RELIEVED OVERNIGHT

If your job requires you to stand up while you work . . . perhaps in a shop or factory . . . or on a railroad job, you know that hot, steamy summer weather can mean acute foot discomfort. Foot specialists examining thousands of patients have found that many common foot ailments are due to one cause—Tinea Pedis—a virulent infection known as "Athlete's Foot".

If you have peeling, soggy skin and painful cracks between toes; if you are plagued by persistent itching and excessive, malodorous perspiration start using AERO-PED Powder at once. It contains P.M.N. (Phenyl-mercuric nitrate)—a powerful germicide and fungicide which kills the germs and fungi that cause "Athlete's Foot."

A B C ROUTINE FOR QUICK RESULTS

MAKE THIS TEST:

(a) Wash feet night and morning with soap and warm water. DRY WELL BETWEEN THE TOES.

(b) Dust AERO-PED P.M.N. Powder over feet and between toes, also inside socks and shoes. Change footwear daily.

(c) Notice how quickly pain and irritation are soothed, cracks between toes begin to heal, perspiration is checked. Get a tin of AERO-PED P.M.N. Powder and start your A B C Treatment today. You'll get fast, lasting relief.

"WORKS WONDERS" says R.M.B. "I wish to express my sincere thanks to AERO-PED. I have spent four years abroad and suffered terribly with my feet until I used AERO-PED. It sure does wonders. I was amazed at the results. I shall at all times recommend AERO-PED"

Buy AERO - PED from your druggist today. If he is out of stock send 89c to E. R. Bolyea & Co. (Dept. 110), 2374 Bloor St. W., Toronto. And your AERO-PED will be sent postpaid.

Ask your druggist about AERO-PED P.M.N. Ointment, the original P.M.N. emulsion for mycotic skin infection.

"Do's" For Fall Dry Spells

BY DEAN HALLIDAY

Dry spells are not infrequent during the fall of the year and they often prove injurious to shrub and tree plantings. There are certain "do's" which will lessen such damage.

Water is an important factor in shrub maintenance. During dry spells artificial watering must be supplied or the growth becomes stunted and the leaves shrivel.

The best method of watering a shrub border, or one which has just been set out, is to dig a trench several inches deep near the planting, as illustrated in the accompanying Garden-Graph.

Allow hose to run slowly in this trench for several hours. The water will seep deeply into the soil where it will do the most benefit, encouraging the roots to grow downward instead of remaining near the surface as a result of light surface sprinklings.

Transplanting that has to be done in dry weather requires a special kind of watering. Whether it be shrubs or clumps of perennials, it is advisable to soak them thoroughly for several hours before they are moved, so that as much soil as possible will adhere to the roots. The holes for transplanting should be dug in advance and filled with water so that the surrounding soil is damp to receive the new plant.

As illustrated in the Garden-Graph, soil basins placed about newly set out trees or shrubs will catch and hold moisture at the roots. They can be filled by hose during dry spells.

Water evergreens again a few days after planting. In fall planting not so much water is required and once weekly during autumn drought periods is sufficient until cold weather sets in a. A heavy watering should be applied freeze in early winter.

Send Canned Goods To 130 In England

TRENT RIVER, Sept. 22 — (ENS). — Mrs. Walter Lewis was hostess to the September meeting of the Women's Institute on Thursday afternoon when Mrs. Harry Mann, social welfare convener gave a detailed report.

Mrs. Earl Greenly, president, was in the chair.

Arrangement were made for transportation of members to Westwood on Tuesday, to be guests at the branch institute meeting.

Plans were made to send each member of the 130 members of the British institute which the branch has adopted, one article of canned or prepared food, and to be received by them after Christmas.

Mrs. Harold Thompson was program convener.

Readings were given by Mrs. Walter Lewis and Mrs. Harry Mann and a contest was won by Mrs. Earl Greenly.

BORDERLINE ANEMIA*
brings that tired, "middle-aged" look!

Is your face pale and worn-looking? Are you low on energy and enthusiasm? Do you seem "old before your time"? These effects often come from a blood condition. You may have a Borderline Anemia, a mild anemia due to a nutritional deficiency of iron.

Yes, if you look pale and feel overtired, your red blood cells may be too small, faded and weak to transmit full energy to every tissue of your body. Many people — women, men and children — drag through life with this Borderline Anemia.

How Ironized Yeast Tablets Build Up Your Blood and Vigor

If your color and vitality are fading due to this blood condition, take Ironized Yeast Tablets. They are formulated to help build up faded red blood cells to healthy color and size. Of course, continuing tiredness and pallor may be due to other conditions — so consult your doctor regularly. But in this Borderline Anemia, take Ironized Yeast Tablets to help build up your blood. Take them to start your energy shifting back into "high" — to help restore your natural color! Take them so you can enjoy life again!

* A mild anemia due to a nutritional deficiency of iron.

BORDERLINE ANEMIA
why it can make you
TIRED • PALE • LISTLESS

Blood that builds energy! This is how energy-building blood looks under a microscope. Here are big, plentiful red blood cells that can release vigor to all your body.

Blood in Borderline Anemia! Many have blood like this; never know it. Cells are puny, faded. Blood like this can't release the energy you need to feel and look your best.

Only 2 Premiers Still In Office After 10 Years

ONLY TWO MEN now heading provincial governments held the same post 10 years ago, according to a survey made as Canada's busiest election year since 1912 is under way with votes in five provinces.

As noted above, several of the prominent provincial leaders at that time have now retired, or are working in other positions. The remainder are men serving as premiers today.

OTTAWA, Sept. 22 — (CP) — This is Canada's busiest election year since 1912 with votes in five provinces.

None of the 1948 elections made any changes in Premiers. However, only two men now heading provincial governments held the same post 10 years ago.

Premiers who led their parties to re-election this year were: Hon. Gorge A. Drew, Ontario Progressive Conservative who met personal defeat in his own riding in Toronto High Park; Hon. J. B. McNair, New Brunswick Liberal; Hon. T. C. Douglas, Saskatchewan CCF; Hon. Maurice Duplessis, Quebec Union Nationale; Hon. E. C. Manning, Alberta Social Credit.

Only Premier Duplessis and Hon. Angus Masdonald, Liberal Premier of Nova Scotia, headed their provincial governments in 1938.

One of the 1938 Premiers is dead, William Aberhart, the Bible teacher who laid the foundation in Alberta for the successive victories of the Social Credit Party.

Liberal Thane Campbell, of Prince Edward Island, now heads the Supreme Court in his province. A. A. Dysart, former Liberal Premier of New Brunswick, has been Judge of the County Court of Kent and Westmoreland since he resigned the Premiership in 1940.

Back in the Country

In Ontario, Liberal Mitchell F. Hepburn is back on his Elgin County farm near St. Thomas listening "to the grass grow." He resigned as Premier of Ontario and Liberal Leader in the fall of 1942.

In 1944, he came back to take over the leadership again and forced an election in 1945 when his Liberal supporters voted with the CCF to defeat the Progressive Conservative administration on a want-of-confidence motion. But met personal defeat in his home constituency and headed back to the farm.

John Bracken resigned as Liberal-Progressive Premier of Manitoba in 1942 to become National Leader of the Progressive Conservative Party from which he resigned recently because of his health. He operates a large farm at Manotick, Ont., near Ottawa. He represents Nipiwan, Man., in the House of Commons and it is expected he will continue as the member despite his resignation as Leader.

Still a Member

W. J. Patterson, former Liberal Premier of Saskatchewan, went out of office when the CCF won the provincial election of 1944. He remained as Opposition Leader in the House and is still a member although he has been replaced as Leader by Walter Tucker.

T. D. Pattullo, resigned as Liberal Premier of British Columbia in 1941 rather than join the Conservatives of forming a coalition government. A jaunty figure despite his 75 years, he still maintains a keen interest in public affairs.

Neither Mr. Duplessis nor Mr. Macdonald have had an unbroken 10-year reign as Premiers. Mr. Duplessis was ousted by the Liberals in 1939 but went back into power in 1944 and was re-elected this year. He says his "Union Nationale is in power for 20 years."

Mr. Macdonald left the Nova Scotia Premiership in 1940 to serve in the Dominion Government as Navy Minister. He returned to the Provincial Leadership in 1945 and that fall led his party to a sweeping provincial election victory.

WEDDING RING: "I have a wedding ring which has never been worn. It's a good ring, 18k orange blossom and it's cost was $15.95. Could you tell me where I could sell this wedding ring?"

Easiest way to dispose of your wedding ring is to advertise it in your local paper. If you prefer not to use your name, you could advertise using a box number.

PERMANENTS: "How soon after confinement is it safe to have a home permanent? I had one about two months before the baby was born and it was a failure. My baby is now six weeks old and my hair a mess."

The most important thing to do is build yourself up by taking Vitamin B Complex and drinking plenty of milk. If you are afraid of putting on weight by drinking whole milk, use skim milk. You should be in condition for a home permanent any time now.

RUGS AND BLANKETS: "Could you tell me where I could get some woollens made over into a rug or scatter rugs or blankets?"

Take your woollens to Yorkshire Textiles, 4 Wiltshire, Toronto. They can make your woollens into blankets

THESE MEN at the entrance to Parliament buildings find time to laugh at some of their difficulties they are encountering in planning the Progressive Conservative national convention in Ottawa Sept. 30-Oct. 2. Left to right they are Donald H. Morrow, member of the Ontario Legislature for Carleton County, and Secretary of convention arrangements; Clarence V. Charters, director of public relations for the party; Gratton O'Leary, chairman of arrangements committee for Ottawa; and Richard A. Bell, national director of the party.

Primate Returns From Parley

QUEBEC, Sept. 22 (CP).—The Empress of Canada arrived here Tuesday night with a passenger list reading somewhat like an international Who's Who.

Among those aboard was most Rev. George F. Kingston, Archbishop of Nova Scotia and Primate of the Church of England in Canada, heading a group of Canadian churchmen returning from the world council of churches at Amsterdam.

He said the meeting did not attempt to set up a super church, but rather to set in process a creative influence which will lead to greater co-operation and to a growth of evangelistic effort throughout the world. This was a miracle of the future.

Find "Nudists"

VANCOUVER — (CP). — Police summoned by phone to a wharf here found two reported "nudists" fully dressed. The mother of two girls, aged two and three, admitted they'd eluded her at bathtime earlier.

Canadians Have Grave Decisions If Peace To Be Kept–Pearson

KINGSTON, Sept. 22—(CP).—In the view of Canada's new External Affairs Minister, the risk of a third world conflict is greater today than at any other time since 1945. Lester B. Pearson told the 50th annual convention of the Ontario Municipal Association Tuesday night that far-reaching international decisions must be reached in the realization that a new war may break out at any moment.

"The United Nations cannot guarantee the peace of the world and Canada looks forward to the formation of a North Atlantic security pact with other Western democracies."

He warned that Canadians will have grave decisions to make, probably in the near future, when results of military talks in Washington and London are announced. These talks concern formation of a Western regional security alliance.

"We will likely agree with other allies on the duties of each, production of material and military defence," he said. "If resources are shared, then all who group together will have an equal voice in the over-all policy. To insist on dignity and pride might make the pact unworkable.

Gravest Decisions

"Never before in history have Canadians had such grave decisions to make—military, political, and economic—with other powers....

"Decisions must be reached in the realization that war may break out at any moment. Canada and her Western friends need a steady nerve in the days ahead and determination to pursue an unprovocative policy against any nation or group of nations which may threaten the peace of the world."

Mr. Pearson said the bright hopes for world peace which surrounded the formation of the United Nations were gradually fading.

"The United Nations has been weakened politically to the point of impotence. But we must not regard the future with despair. Defeatism is the worst sin today....

"In my view, however, we should not scrap the United Nations, which is serving as a forum to mobilize the world's conscience. But we need not sit idly by and watch our collective security disappear. We can still use the UN, if not universally, at least on a regional basis."

Hospital Tax

A resolution urging that a greater share of the municipalities' cost of caring for indigent patients in public hospitals should be borne by the Provincial Government was passed by the urban section of the OMA. The resolution said the Province recently imposed a 20-per-cent. amusement tax for hospital purposes, part of which the resolution said could be used for indigent care.

Speakers urged that the Criminal Code and the lash be invoked to protect wives and children deserted by wage earners. The OMA welfare committee decided that courts should be urged to insist that a man convicted of deserting his family pay at least 50 per cent of his wages toward their support.

A motion that money received by aldermen and mayors for their civic duties be tax free was rejected.

Grandmothers Of District Honored By WI

HAVELOCK, Sept. 22 (ENS)—Grandmothers of the district were honored recently when the Belmont Women's Institute celebrated Grandmother's Day at the Township Hall.

To Mrs. George Smith of Havelock went the honor of being the great-grandmother with the largest number of great-grandchildren, while Mrs. Harry Scott was the prize-winner for the grandmother who had become such for the first time and had the youngest grandchild. Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Scott were presented with a cup and saucer and water pitcher respectively by Mrs. William Harris.

A number on the program was a vocal solo by Mrs. H. Haryett of Havelock, a great-grandmother, accompanied at the piano by her daughter Mrs. H. Scott.

Mrs. W. E. Anderson and Mrs. M. Rylott were program conveners, the former giving the address of welcome. Mrs. H. Scott gave a talk on the Institute motto "Youth is a garden of roses, Age is a crown of success." Readings were given by Mrs. W. Ketchen and Mrs. W. Smith. The latter also played a harmonica solo.

It was decided to hold a cleaning bee at the Township Hall on Thursday of this week, in preparation for fall and winter activities. Proceeds from the recent bingo were announced as $26.

Several dozen cups and saucers are to be purchased for use at the hall and a social evening and lunch for members and their families is planned for October.

Lunch was served, with the grandmothers seated at a lace-covered table centred with a large bouquet of flowers blanked with white candles in silver holders. Hostesses: Mrs. M. Rylott, Mrs. R. Vansickle, and Mrs. E. McLaughlin.

Juliana Will Work For Economic Union

THE HAGUE, Sept. 22 — (Reuters). — Queen Juliana today said Holland will strive for "the idea of an international community in the framework of the United Nations." She was opening the new sitting of the Dutch parliament — the first state function since her installation as Queen.

Outlining the policy of the new Dutch cabinet, she said the government will work hard to remove all barriers in the way of an economic union with Belgium and Luxembourg.

The Netherland's main military effort will be aimed at maintaining a force in Indonesia "capable of fulfilling the task alloted to it," she stated.

She added that government is starting arrangements for the Dutch naval and air force contributions to the joint defence scheme of the five west European signatories of the Brussels Pact.

French Couple Send Thanks

NORWOOD, Sept. 22—(ENS)—The following letter was received by Miss Mary Edwards of Lakefield but now residing at Crowe's Landing, Stony Lake. Written in French, this is the translation:

"Miss—You will be surprised when you receive this little note from France, but we are very happy to be able to thank you, which we do with all our hearts. . . ."

"Some time ago you sent a parcel which was distributed to us by the Red Cross. In our parcel we found your name. . . . Hasten to write to show our pleasure. . . ."

"We have three children, six, five, and six months, and in their name we again thank you for your kind gesture."

". . . Canada is a country where the French feel at home and which they love to become acquainted with, as you Canadians love to become acquainted with France.

"And now we say good-bye and perhaps one day we shall surprise you by speaking with you personally.

"Receive all the thanks of a French family, and God protect you.

M. et Mme. Andre Guemene,
Paris, France."

Would End Catching Immature Lobsters

HALIFAX, Sept. 22 (CP). — Dr. S. A. Beatty of the Dominion Fisheries Experimental Station here, says that Nova Scotia fishermen are depleting the lobster industry by sending small and immature lobsters to the canneries in ever-increasing numbers.

The canneries will accept them seven inches long.

"Were the lobsters allowed to grow to the nine-inch minimum required for live shipment, fishermen would realize an additional 15 cents a pound and would be assured of a steady supply."

This would mean a slack season while waiting for the crustaceans to reach maturity, but after that the industry would be on a firm foundation and the fishermen woud make a larger margin of profit, Dr. Beatty said.

Accuses Press Of Clouding Hyderabad Issue

LONDON, Sept. 22 (Reuters)—V. K. Krishna Menon, Indian High Commissioner in London, Tuesday accused the British press and the British Broadcasting Corporation of misrepresenting the facts of India's action in Hyderabad.

At a press conference which he called immediately after his return from India Monday, Menon said of "some leading newspapers" and the BBC: "We do not charge them with malice, but it is extremely difficult for even informed people of India to accept the view that 'It is just one of those things'."

"It will become pretty apparent that the majority of the press correspondents in India have been pretty poor reporters. It is not my business to be concerned with motive. I am only concerned with the consequences of misrepresentation."

Reading extracts from news stories and editorials in a pile of cuttings, Menon said that contrary to declarations in the British press "India was not at war" with Hyderabad and that Indian troops and airmen, acting on "the strictest instructions not to use more force than was necessary" to restore order, had confined bombing to two airfields and military targets.

"These articles in the British press make the work of peacemakers extremely difficult in the delicate task we have to perform," Menon said.

Hold Anniversary

CAVAN, Sept. 22 — (ENS). — Ebenezer United church held its anniversary service on Sunday. Dr. Reddick, Springville, had charge of the service. A male quartette from St. Andrew's choir, Millbrook, assisted with the music. Those taking part in the quartette were M. McDowell, H. Ouelette, D. McKnight and G. Might. Miss Stella Hetherington as the accompanist. The church was filled to capacity for this service and as decorated for the occasion with baskets of fall flowers.

Thanks For Parcels Sent From Overseas

FRASERVILLE, Sept. 22 — (ENS)—The WA group of Fraserville United Church held its September meeting at the home of Mrs. W. Waterman.

The afternoon was spent in quilting and before the supper hour the program part of the meeting waso pened by music by Mrs. L. L. McClenaghan. The Lesson Thought given by the president Mrs. R. B. Lobb. Mrs. S. Hogg read the scripture.

Letters were read in recognition of donations sent to "CARE" being received by families overseas.

It was decided that the ladies would occupy the choir for the WMS service in November. Mrs. Lackey gave a talk from the study book.

Ed. Hogg Heads Fraserville YPU

FRASERVILLE, Sept. 22 — (ENS)—Fraserville YPU met on Wednesday at the home of the president Miss Margaret Waterman for the purpose of reopening for the fall term.

Rev. Heyward was in charge of the election of officers for the term which resulted as follows:

President, Edward Hogg; vice president, Miss Margaret Waterman; secretary, Miss Greta Moncrief.

The remainer of the officers will be elected at a future meeting and it was decided as an opening meeting for this term a social get-together would be held on Sept. 28 in the Orange Hall.

Eight Men Burned, Flown To Hospital

HALIFAX, Sept. 22 (CP). — Eight seamen, injured in an explosion, are in hospital at Argentina, Nfld., today after being flown from Flower Island Light where the Greek freighter Orion piled ashort Monday and a resulting blast tore her No. 1 hold.

A United States coast guard plane landed in choppy water near Flower Island Light, on the northwest coast of Newfoundland, and took the eight men burned off late Monday. Six were stretcher cases.

There was no immediate report on their condition.

The remaining 27 members of the 35-man crew were back aboard the Orion after getting the explosion-caused fire under control, the RCAF here reported.

VOL. XCVII, No. 67 WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 22, 1948

2000 Spectators Jam Park At Army Show

A large crowd, estimated at more than 2,000 people, watched a second demonstration on Tuesday evening of the 50th HAA Regiment RCA of an anti-aircraft gun site in action. A marker searchlight, used to guide the aircraft taking part in the demonstration and not featured the previous evening, was a special centre in interest.

Highlight of the evening's demonstration of modern army equipment was an Active Force display of more than a dozen command, tactical, workshop and special vehicles and equipment with crack operational teams to explain their uses.

There were workship lorries to cover every type of mechanical and electrical repair in the field. Artillery towing vehicles (FATS) with 17 lb. and 25 lb. guns, a 20 mm Polsten quad and a Bofors 40 mm self-propelled LAA guns. Signals lorries containing long and short range transmitters made up for headquarters in the field to cover distances of 12 to 500 miles, jeeps fitted with wireless sets, a line maintenance truck and a truck containing a complete signals office were a particularly popular attraction.

Recruiting continued throughout the evening and several more young men have joined Peterborough's Reserve Force regiment. Enquirieh regarding Active Force enlistment were particularly heavy.

200 Men Attend Sales-Ad Meet

Taverns of Old England, those storied meeting places whose history is interwoven closely with most of the great events of English history, were described in an entertaining manner to the Sales and Ad club Tuesday night.

More than 200 members attended this opening meeting held at the Kawartha Club, and the speaker was Stuart Richardson, public relations manager with the Northern Electric Company, Montreal. Mr. Richardson is a noted speaker, and the fact that it was a return engagement locally was tribute to his skill and eloquence as an after dinner entertainer.

Introduced by Jack Howard, Mr. Richardson took the group on a trip to several of the better known taverns, especially "Ye Olde Trip to Jerusalem." This tavern nestles at the base of the rock where Nottingham Castle is built, and it was built in 1189. He told how it got its name from a recruiting visit by Richard Coeur de Lion, who was raising an army for the Crusades. His talk was spotted with humorous incidents, and he told how the saying "Here's looking at you" originated. In early days, beer was drunk from a quart size pewter mug, and the drinker's vision was obscured by the size of the mug. Some person hit on the idea of putting a glass bottom in the mug, thus allowing the drinker a clear vision through the drinking vessel.

Taverns and churches were usually built close together, Mr. Richardson said, because in early times, pilgrims came great distances to church, and the taverns served food and refreshment, and also provided lodging. In support of this statement he noted that names of taverns were "The Mitre," "The Bishop's Staff" and others, and these were built on church property.

Thanks of the meeting was expressed by Clarence Boorman, who also presented the speaker with a gift. Percy Dallin was chairman and extended a special welcome to several new members.

Prize-winners in a draw were Earl Hanbidge, Bert Cowan, Toby Westbye and Jim Archibald.

THIS BIG MASKINONGE was caught in Buckhorn lake by Gladys Gilson, Cleveland, Ohio. Mrs. Gilson has been coming to Finnie's cottages on Buckhorn lake for more than ten years and this 24 pounder is the largest fish she ever caught.

Huge Muskies Numerous Anglers Report

At least 15 maskinonge, weighing in excess of 20 pounds have been reported from points in the Kawartha lakes chain, within the past three days. This bears out the belief that September is the best muskie month of the year, producing the whoppers after the first frosts knock down the weeds, and give fishermen a better chance in trolling and casting.

Largest fish reported was taken at Rice Lake, by Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Springer, Geneva, Ohio, who battled a 30½ pounder to a finish. Mr. and Mrs. Derwood Bower from Geneva on the Lake, Ohio, tangled with a 29 pounder that hurled the gaff 25 feet after Mr. Bower attempted to land it. The Americans figured it took half an hour to boat the fish.

At Buckhorn lake, Mrs. Gladys Gilson, Cleveland, caught the biggest fish of her ten years in this district, when she snagged a 24 pounder and landed it without assistance. Another American, Clark Bender, Columbus, fought twenty minutes with a 25 pounder and got one weighing ten pounds the same day in Buckhorn.

Mr. and Mrs. Odie Miller, Akron, landed two in one day at Rice lake, a 12 pounder and a smaller one weighing 8½ pounds. Out at Lake Chemong, Bruce Forsythe landed a 21 pounder and Ab White got another weighing an even 20 pounds.

In the Otonabee river, above the Auburn dam and inside the city limits, Halley Jewel, 1013 Water St., got a 22 pounder and had a brisk battle before he got the big fish into a canoe.

Donald Starr, Peterborough, landed an 11 pounder in the Trent canal, half a mile north of the city.

Mental Health Facilities Great Need Says CAS Head

Need of mental health facilities was stressed by Miss Rachel Young, superintendent of the Children's Aid Society, at its meeting on Tuesday in the Council Chambers. "The Society," she said, "is at this time placing considerable emphasis on its adoption work, because of the increasing recognition of the value of permanency in these placements rather than the too frequent moves of children in boarding homes. However, we are greatly hampered by the lack of mental health facilities, particularly for the examination of the parents of the children, where the academic achievement of the parents does not appear to justify adoption."

"The service given by Dr. Mathews with the children is greatly appreciated and has made it possible to arrange adoption placements for several children. One child, who could not be placed except on his own merits owing to his background, rated slightly above normal when examined. This rating, plus an adorable child, makes placement easy."

Foster Homes Scarce

The lack of sufficient foster homes was also emphasized by Miss Young. "Children," she said, "are having to remain in the Shelter because foster homes are not available, and we cannot give some of the our unmarried mothers complete assurance that we can help them with their babies because we need foster homes. We are also greatly in need of layettes."

The grading analysis of the Department of Welfare for the year ending March 31, 1948, was read by T. T. Rodger, who presided. The analysis reported a general improvement in all the work of the Society.

"Supervision of children," it stated, "is above average and is the strongest phase of your work. While work with families has shown improvement, more attention to family background would lead to a better understanding of the total situation and a clearly defined plan on the part of the worker would facilitate this service. Social work with the unmarried mother before confinement and assistance in planning for the baby is highly satisfactory. Contact could be carried on with advantage to the mother beyond this point in many instances."

"Lack of psychiatric service is a definite handicap to the Society. This is particularly true in making adoption placements. Foster home investigations are carefully made. More detailed information regarding the financial position of adoption applicants would be helpful."

"Your Shelter is home-like and well managed and is proving a real asset as an observation and receiving home. Health services are excellent but might be extended to include older children who are working. Your staff has now grown to a point where administration, staff supervision and community contacts require the full time of your superintendent who is now, in addition to these duties, assuming personal responsibility for a large case load."

Mr. Rodger said that the suggested improvements in the analysis cannot be carried out until it is possible to find a new member for the staff, whose case load at present is approximately twice the recommended load. The Department of Welfare, he said, is aware of the shortage of staff, but must naturally make recommendations where possible.

James Dutton said the report was "indicative of the very fine work done by Miss Young," and he proposed a vote of appreciation. "The members of the board," he said, "are basking in reflected glory."

32 Geologists To Visit Area

LONDON, Ont., Sept. 22. (CP) — Equipped with haversacks, pocket-lenses and a thirst for knowledge of the earth's beginnings, 35 young geologists of the University of Western Ontario will start a 700-mile trip Oct. 4 to Madoc, east of Peterborough, where the age-old pre-Cambrian rocks of Ontario meet the comparatively new Paleozeic era.

The area is rich in minerals. The trip will last five days and will be an annual event, said Dr. G. H. Reavely, professor of geology.

Near Bancroft in northern Hastings county is Wilberforce, the site of the new discovery of radio-active minerals including pitch blende from which radium is recovered.

Narrow Escape

THE PAS, Man. — (CP). — Gabriel Sayeese, crossing Cold Lake in a freight canoe during a storm, was struck by a bolt of lightning and knocked overboard. The cold water revived him and he climbed back into the canoe.

Berries Out Of Season

HIGH RIVER, Alta. — (CP). — Saskatoons or June berries, generally found in June or early July, turned up near this southern Alberta town three months late. A group of berry-pickers found a well-laden patch of Saskatoons and returned with 20 gallons of fruit.

False Teeth Will Disappear In A Century Dr. Craig Tells Federation Of Agriculture

"One hundred years from now false teeth will be only queer relics of this generation, and children will wonder what on earth they were used for," said Dr. J. J. Craig to the executive of the Federation of Agriculture last night.

His prospect of an oral revolution in the 21st century was no exaggeration, Dr. Craig said. The Dean of the Faculty of Dentistry said here last fall that the accomplishment was possible in 25 years, although the strangeness of dental sets would not be possible in that time.

Dr. Craig admitted the essential "ifs" in setting dental sights on that toothy target.

"Certain things have to be done. There will have to be more dental health weeks like that of next week, and more attention will have to be paid to them. Knowledge of dental needs and then care of teeth will have to be begun in childhood and carried through."

Relegation of bridgework to the lost arts is one of the hopes of the profession according to those visions of the generation without toothache and decay.

On the rural section next week, a survey will be made of school children of the county on the basis of one school in each township. Reeve James Gifford is representative of the Federation on the dental health committee.

Lawyer Says Appeal To Be Launched

Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, today delivered his judgment in the case against John Russelle, city garage operator, in which he upheld the bylaw of the city governing the operating hours of retail gasoline outlets in Peterborough. Russelle was fined $25 and $18.50 costs for "unlawfully keeping . . . . (his service station on Water St., North) . . . . open between 8 and 9.30 p.m. on July 24 . . . . and did unlawfully sell or cause to be sold retail gasoline for customers and received payment therefore . . . . contrary to bylaw 4701 of the City of Peterborough. . . . "

W. J. Arthur Fair, counsel for Russelle and three other city garage operators charged under the bylaw, said that the decision would be appealed to the Supreme Court of Ontario "as soon as possible." In view of this, the court adjourned the other charges, pending outcome of the appeal.

In his judgment, Magistrate Philp dealt with objections of the defence, which had argued that the bylaw itself was invalid. He pointed out that the law required that parties challenging the validity of a bylaw must prove its invalidity.

Reasonableness No Issue

On the argument of defence that the bylaw was "undemocratic, unreasonable and dictatorial," and prejudicial to common law right of the minority of the operators who had not petitioned for the passing of the bylaw, the judgment cited legal precedents that the argument of unreasonableness is no defence if it had been established that the body passing the bylaw has the required authority to do so.

The defence objections that the petitions of the operators had been delivered to the City Clerk at separate dates and that no check had been made by the clerk personally of the list of all retail outlets did not invalidate the bylaw. His worship quoted from procedure sections of the city council and ruled that it was not required that a personal check be made by the city clerk or chief of police.

Magistrate Philp also discarded defence argument that the list of retail outlets had not been "satisfactory" to the city council. The bylaw had eventually been passed on the basis of it, he said.

On that point that the bylaw had not been passed within one month of the presentation of the petitions to the council, he said: "Although this may be interpreted by the layman as mandatory . . . . (it has been held by courts) . . . . that such a provision is purely directory. . . . "

No Re-check Needed

There is no requirement that a recheck of the lists on which a petition is based must be made by the City Clerk before the petition is again considered, said the magistrate, in reply to another argument of defence. The lapse of time in this case does not necessarily call for it, he said.

Final defence objections in support of the invalidity of the bylaw were that the procedure followed by the city council in "allegedly" passing the bylaw had not adhered to the council's own procedure requirements.

"There is no bar to a legislative body reconsidering a bylaw unless it is specifically forbidden by statute or its own rules . . . " said his worship.

"The right to reconsider is inherent in all legislative bodies . . . , the procedure of a municipal council has been held by the courts many times . . . . " (to be a matter of its own concern) "unless it violates statutory requirements or is in bad faith or fraudulent . . . . "

"The conditions under which this bylaw was passed were not irregular enough to invalidate it . . . . and I have no hesitation in registering a conviction . . . . "

Other charges pending are against: Russelle (further charge), Leo Burke, Albert Bianco, John Thompson and George Thompson.

Obituary

MRS. DOUGLAS LOOMIS

The death occurred in hospital today of Bessie Lee Loomis, of 309 Pearl Ave., wife of Douglas Loomis, school attendance officer of the Board of Education. Daughter of Thomas Gillespie and Mary Duncan, she was in Peterborough.

She leaves, as well as her husband, one son, William, at home, also two sisters, Mrs. C. E. Sisson (Mabel), of Toronto, and Mrs. R. C. Hambidge (Edith), of Peterborough, and one brother, Stanley Gillespie, of Peterborough.

Mrs. Loomis was a member of Murray Street Baptist Church and an active worker in the Women's Mission Society. Until recently, she was divisional treasurer of the Baptist Women's Mission Society of Ontario and Quebec.

The funeral will be at 2 p.m. on Friday from the Comstock Funeral Home, and burial will be at Little Lake Cemetery. The officiating clergyman will be the Rev. Ivan Morgan, of Murray Street Baptist Church.

400 Inspect 6 New Rooms In West End

Peterborough citizens had their first chance to see the new six-room annex at Queen Mary School on Tuesday night when it was officially opened. More than 400 persons crowded into the new auditorium to hear brief addresses from members of the local Board of Education, the contractor, architect, Mayor William Ovens and guest speaker, C. F. Cannon, Superintendent of Elementary Education for Ontario.

Included on the program were a number of selections played by the PCVS Band under the direction of Bandmaster Croasdale and songs from a well trained mixed children's choir led by Miss M. Stenton, with Miss Musa Cox at the piano.

When the addresses were over the crowd filed through the newly-opened wing of the school inspecting the ultra-modern design of the new classrooms.

Mr. G. Wilson Craw, chairman for the evening, said that due to the increased number of school-children the original 12 rooms of Queen Mary School had proved insufficient even with three additional basement rooms opened. As an indication of the rising attendancae he pointed out that 19 of the 21 rooms are now occupied; the 20th will be filled in a few weeks, and the final one probably by the end of the term.

He said exact cost of the addition was not known but it was believed to be about $220,000. He then complimented the architect and the contractor for their work and told the audience that modern schools of similar design were being erected in other parts of the province.

Referring to the new auditorium Mr. Craw said that it was built because it was felt that any school having 18 rooms or more needed one. "This school has been built by your money," he said. "We are only the trustees. We want your children to enjoy coming to this school.

John B. Parkin, architect, Hu-Mayor Ovens spoke highly of the bert Eastwood, contractor, and new wing and described the building of it as a co-operative effort from the time the first plans were drawn up until it was ready for occupancy.

O. M. Steer, principal of Queen Mary School, said: "This marks the realization of a wish, a dream, a hope that I had talked about for 13 years, ever since I've been associated with Queen Mary School . . . but nobody is more proud of it than the 700 boys and girls of this city who have already enjoyed meetings, pictures and assemblies in this new auditorium."

Mr. Cannon said that while it was desirable that adults should be able to hold functions in schools, it was necessary to observe the fact that schools are built primarily for girls and boys.

He spoke of the excellent architectural design of the new wing but added the warning that physical improvements and scientific advances are not the most important element in a school. The greatest objective he said was social harmony or "get-along-ability."

152 New Schools

During the last three years 152 new elementary schools have been built in Ontario and 117 additions to schools completed. (These figures did not include the Queen Mary project.) He said this was a remarkable thing as during the previous 15 years not a tenth of that number had been built in Ontario.

"During the thirties there was plenty of need for extra school accommodation in Ontario, but but it takes more than need. The various parties concerned must get in the mood."

"Here is a healthful school building," he said. "We live in a democratic society basing itself on the Christian ideal. I know the boys and girls will do their best to carry that out."

The speaker was introduced by Keith S. Wightman, Superintendent of Education and he was thanked by F. H. Jobbitt, vice-chairman of the Board of Education.

Prayer of dedication was given by the Rev. Dr. Bruce Gordon of Trinity United Church.

Peterborough City Rated A Richer Market In Buying Power Survey

NEW YORK, Sept. 22—(Special).—Peterborough is shown to be a prosperous market, with more "spendable" money in the hands of the average family than is the case in most Canadian cities, according to a copyrighted survey of buying power just completed by Sales Management. Retail sales in Peterborough's stores reached the high level of $23,122,000 in 1947, the data shows. Thus the city accounted for .400 per cent. of Canada's business with only .223 per cent. of Canada's population, indicating it to be a superior market. It stood out in Ontario also, doing 1.04 of the province's business with but .67 per cent. of the province's population.

This was made possible by better incomes. The survey shows that the 6,800 families in Peterborough had an effective buying income, before taxes, of $31,332,000, an average of $4,608 per family. This was better than the $3,830 family income elsewhere in Canada and than the Ontario earnings, $3,971 per family.

A measure of the purchasing ability of Peterborough, compared with that of the Dominion, per unit of population, is given by a "quality of market index." This rates Peterborough 40 per cent. above average in buying potential.

Much of this potential was not tapped, according to the survey. It found its way into savings and into investments.

MAIN ST. TOPICS

AN EIGHT POUNDER

W. Thompson, 267 Westcott St. bagged four pickerel while casting above the Auburn dam on the Otonabee river this week. His best effort was an eight pounder, and all the fish hit on a red and white plug.

STILL ABOVE QUOTA

Continuing the record of Peterborough's electric power use, consumption Tuesday was 286,000 kwh. The permitted maximum according to the Hydro quota taking effect today is 240,000 kwh. daily.

CLEAN PIPES AND CHIMNEYS

Every fall as soon as the season of cool weather begins the fire department is called out two or three times a day to put out chimney fires. Fire Chief George Smith has asked all householders to co-operate with the department by making sure that chimneys, pipes and furnaces are properly cleaned out.

MAKE TWO TRIPS

Firemen made two trips last night. The first was shortly before 7.30 p.m. when an oil burner was reported flooded at the home of Mrs. M. McFadden, New Romaine St. Shortly before 3 a.m. on Wednesday a quantity of gas was reported leaking from a car parked on Hunter St. W. Firemen flushed the gasoline down the drain.

TO ERECT SIGN

Jim Fraser of the Chamber of Commerce lost no time in getting action on a shopping section sign at Exhibition Park. Peterborough Businessmen's Association will pay for the sign, and it will be erected as soon as permission is obtained from the Board of Works. The sign will indicate to motorists using No. 7 and 7A highways the direction of the shopping section. At present many cars pass through without stopping and it is believed proper direction would encourage them to stop for a meal and a shopping expedition.

Find Horses Big Attraction At London's Annual Fair

By STUART UNDERHILL

LONDON, Sept. 22 (CP) — Because Britain is a hungry land, one of the oldest fairs to be held on the outskirts of London still is a bustling annual affair.

Nearly 3,000 horses and ponies changed hands at the three-day Barnet Horse Fair in North London, and more of them were bound for stew-pot and frying-pan than for harness or saddle.

The Fair had its beginnings in the 18th century and there's still a colorful rural touch about it. Farmers in bright neckerchiefs and caps drive to it in ponycarts from remote Hertfordshire villages, and gypsies mingle with thousands of Londoners who pour out to enjoy the thrills of the midway.

The side-shows stayed on another three days after the last pony had been sold and driven home. The rattle of roller coasters and crash of swing music made veterans shake their heads and say it wasn't like the old days.

Steak or Sausage

"I reckon most of these nags will finish up as steak or sausage," said one dealer. "Buyers turn them out to graze for a year or so and get them good and fat. Then they can get up to £80 ($320) apiece for them at the slaughterhouse.

Statements like this draw horrified protests from the Animal Defence and Anti-Vivisection Society. It decided recently to ask the government to reduce the controlled price of horseflesh for human consumption to sixpence (about 10 cents) a pound, so that the slaughtering of horses would be less profitable.

Horses for human food are killed in slaughter-houses and their flesh sold at stores which deal in no other kind of meat. They abound in London's poorer districts, and often there are queues outside them.

Horse Cutlet?

Its consumption is pretty well limited to these areas, although wealthier people sometimes buy it for their dogs. The average Briton would be shocked at the suggestion that he dine on a horse cutlet.

Dealers at the Barnet Fair seemed indifferent to the fate of their charges as long as they received a wad of pound notes to tuck in their pockets. With cigarets dangling from their lips, they put the horses through their paces and hoarsely exhorted potential buyers to close the deal.

Black Family In Business For 36 Years In City Open Store On George St.

Opening of two ultra-modern, adjacent stores by Towne Togs and Isadore Black's on George St. between Hunter and Simcoe, will bring the three businesses of the well-known Black family under one roof. The family have been in business on George St. since the late Philip Black opened his store in 1912 at the corner of George and King Streets.

On his way from his native Lithuania to America, the late Mr Black passed through England and sensing a freedom on British soil that he had never encountered elsewnere, he decided to make Canada his home and not the United States. He first settled in Kitchener, then Berlin, where he was a teacher and conducted services in the synagogue.

The following year, 1912, he moved to Peterborough and was married to Miss Annie Florence. The young couple launched into business for themselves and opened the store which lately became known as Black's Ladies' Wear, although for many years it specialized in both ladies' and men's wear.

Early in the 1930's, his eldest son, Isadore, opened an office in the Barrie Building as an agent for men's clothes. In 1939 he opened his present store, in the Capitol Building, carrying a complete line of men's wear and accessories. In 1946, another brother, Aaron, graduated from the University of Toronto in commerce and finance and entered the business. A steady increase in trade since the war has made the present store inadequate, and to meet requirements it is being moved to the larger premises, formerly the Mayfair Cafe.

Father Died In '41

The late Mr. Black became ill in 1938, and so his second son, Morris, returned from the University of Toronto to carry on his father's business. In 1941, after the death of his father, Mr. Morris Black took over the management of his father's store.

Towne Togs was opened by Mr. Isadore Black and Mr. Morris Black in 1944 as a specialty store for ladies' sports and other types of clothing. This comparatively new business is now being combined with Black's Ladies' Wear and will retain the present name.

Mrs. Irving Moldaver, formerly Ruth Black, the late Mr. Black's only daughter, helped in her father's store until her marriage in 1938. Since that time, she has been very active in both Black's Ladies' Wear and Towne Togs.

In an interview with the Black brothers today, they said, "We wish to express our appreciation of our many valued customers and friends who have made this expansion to larger premises necessary, and we hope to be in a better position to serve the public in our new ultra-modern location. We intend to do the utmost to serve the citizens of Peterborough in the best possible manner and will try to do our best to continue in the tradition set by our parents, Mrs. Annie Black and the late Philip Black."

The two new stores will be completely modern in design, with modern style store fronts. They will be air-conditioned throughout and maximum use has been made of all available space. The second floor is to be used for storage purposes. Ed English is the contractor for all alterations and internal constructional work.

Isadore Black is well-known in Peterborough as past president of B'Nai B'Rith, and Mrs. Annie Black was at one time president of the Prince of Wales Home and School Association.

THE BLACK FAMILY from left to right, Mrs. Ruth Moldaver, Mr. Aaron Black, Isadore Black, Morris Black and Mrs. Annie Black. Mrs. Black was formerly proprietress of Black's Ladies' Wear which has now been combined wtih Towne Togs under the one roof. The three brothers, Isadore, Morris and Aaron will conduct the business Black's Men's Wear in its new, large quarters. Mrs. Moldaver, formerly Ruth Black, has been on the staff of Towne Togs for some time and will continue in that capacity.

Request Extradition

PRAGUE, Sept. 22 — (Reuters). — The Czech government has asked France to extradite Dr. Jan Papanek, Czechoslovakia's former United Nations representative. Ceteka, Czech News Agency, said Papanek has been charged with embezzling $125,000. He arrived in France a few days ago to attend the United Nations session as "a private citizen."

Believes Many Vets Drop Leftist Views

TORONTO, Sept. 22.—(CP). — Veterans Affairs Minister Gregg said today that veterans who leaned toward the Left at the end of the Second World War in the hope of "quick results" in obtaining security have started to "realize their folly."

He told the Liberal Business Men's Club that Left-Wing tendencies on the part of veterans were not surprising.

"They had lived dangerously and they wanted security today. However, I believe a good many of them are coming to realize how much they would have to sacrifice to obtain those quick results."

C. A. Ostrom Dies Was Educated Here

Charles A. Ostrom, 76, founder and president of the Beiger Furniture Co., Mishawaka, Indiana, died two weeks ago. He was born in Belleville, and come to Peterborough with his parents when two years old. The family lived at 351 Charlotte Street, now occupied by Mrs. Hawley, a niece of Mr. Ostrom.

The family lived in Peterborough from 1874 to 1891, and during that time the late Mr. Ostrom was educated in the Public and High Schools of the city. He married Miss May Jernegan, in Mishawaka in 1899. Surviving are his widow, two sons and two daughters, Alfred in the furniture business and Charles of Wyoming, Pa., Mrs. Morris Goodman of Mishawaka, and Catherine of Phoenix, Arizona.

Plan Nine Performances

LONDON, Ont., Sept. 22. (CP) —In the 1948-49 season the London Little Theatre will give nine consecutive performances of each play it will present. This was decided Tuesday night at a meeting of the board because of the continued demand for membership. The seating capacity of the Grand Theatre had been filled for the eight performances of each play already scheduled and the board agreed that one more performance should be added, bringing to nine the total number of presentations of each of the six plays.

No Road Expenditures

BRANTFORD, Sept. 22 — (CP). — The Ontario Department of Highways positively will not approve any supplementary road expenditure by-laws submitted by municipalities, Highways Minister Doucett said here Tuesday. Speaking before members of the Brant County Council road committee and suburban roads commission at an informal meeting, Mr. Doucett declared that municipal road expenditures had reached an all-time high and the department's budget could not stand it.

Dr. Willard Brewing Named United Church Moderator

By ROBERT PHILLIPS

VANCOUVER, Sept. 22.—(CP).—Rev. Dr. Willard Brewing, moderator-elect of the United Church of Canada, today prepared to lead his General Council into its 13th biennial conference.

The 67-year-old cleric from Toronto St. Cecrge's Church said in an interview after his unanimous election Tuesday night: "The challenge of the church now is to breathe a spiritual significance into the new social order."

He succeeded for a two-year term the Rt. Rev. T. W. Jones of Montreal. Dr. Douglas H. Telfer of Vancouver, was the only other candidate. Dr. Brewing's installation to the United church's highest office took place in the chancel of St. Andrew's-Wesley church here where he ministered from 1929 to 1938.

The General Council's 470 official delegates from all parts of Canada and Newfoundland today swung into the discussions scheduled on the heavy agenda for the eight-day conference.

Needs Emphasis

Dr. Brewing, following his election, said the spiritual basis of the church's social gospel now needs new emphasis.

He sees two primary tasks before United church in the coming two years: An emphasis upon its foreign missions and preparation for its 25th birthday in 1950.

High also among the coming problems he said is the task of fostering the ecumenical (world-wide) movement within the church.

Retiring moderator Jones said earlier the church must strengthen its fight against the imperialistic conception of life based on Communism.

"There are forces working here to make it progressively more difficult for men and women to maintain loyalty to their convictions," Dr. Jones said. "There is a desperate need in Canada for converted men and women."

He urged the United church to take a strong stand against gambling and liquor, both of which he termed "unrighteous" and "jeopardizing to honesty."

W. J. Holliday of Montreal, was named first United church secretary of lay activities at an opening business meeting of the 13th General Council's lay members. Mr. Holliday, a former YMCA auxiliary services officer in the Canadian army overseas, will also succeed W. W. Brown of Hamilton, as secretary of the church's lay advisory council.

Favor Diefenbaker

WINNIPEG, Sept. 22 — (CP). — Manitoba's approximately 90 voting delegates to the Progressive Conservative national convention favor John Diefenbaker as national party leader by a three-to-one count, Dufferin Roblin, secretary of the Manitoba Diefenbaker-for-leader committee, said Tuesday.

No Trouble Nowadays In Dentist Session

OTTAWA, Sept. 22.—(CP). — Proving that there is nothing to visiting a dentist these days, J. M. Bradley, retired deputy fire chief of Ottawa, Tuesday had six teeth pulled and new ones inserted at a session of the Eastern Ontario Dental Association convention.

Approximately 100 delegates looked on as Dr. Rudolph Schlosser, professor of the Northwestern University Dental School in Chicago, conducted the operation on the convention hall stage of a large hotel room and delivered a technical lecture on the subject on "the advantages of conservative proceedings in complete immediate denture prosthesis."

When Dr. Schlosser had finished the half-hour operation, Mr. Bradley, smiling, said it was completely satisfactory.

Five Baptized At Rally Day Service

MILLBROOK, Sept. 22 — (ENS).—A successful rally day was observed in the Sunday school of St. Andrew's United church on Sunday, with special selections by the orchestra featuring the musical part of the service.

Officers of the school, J. J. Powell and Milton Challice, acted as ushers, and the offering was received by Fred Weatherilt and J. Guthrie. The school joined with the congregation for the rally; and the minister, Rev. George McQuade, gave a brief sermon. Miss Jean Burnham, superintendent of the primary department, told the story.

Five children were presented by their parents for the baptism. Carol Pidge preceded them to the chancel carrying a basket of red roses used in the baptismal ceremony. The names are: Michael Anthony Harker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Harker; Gary Clifton Guthrie, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. Guthrie; Lynda May Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Nelson; Barbara Helen Reid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Reid; and Mary Isabella Shank, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Shank.

In an anthem by the full choir, Mrs. G. Baker and Homer Ouellette took the special parts.

Butter Production Increases In August

TORONTO, Sept. 22.—(CP).—Some 8,513,000 pounds of creamery butter were produced in Ontario during August—an increase of 3.9 per cent over the 8,195,800 pounds of August, 1947. This was shown Tuesday in the Ontario Agriculture Department's monthly dairy report.

Production for the first eight months of this year, however, was 2.4 per cent less than the 53,671,300 pounds manufactured for the same period last year.

The report said the cheddar cheese output is lessening. In August 10,809,400 pounds were produced—18.1 per cent less than the 13,191,100 pounds in August, 1947.

3 Tourists Drown

MANIWAKI, Que., Sept. 22 — (CP). — Three Pennsylvania tourists were drowned Tuesday when a rough breeze capsized their canoe in Rapid Lake, about 100 miles north of this Gatineau community. Three other men in the large craft, one an American and the others residents of Maniwaki, swam against heavy breakers to reach shore safely.

PICTURED ON LEFT is nine-months-old Lester Weinman, Jr., tossing happily in the arms of his grandfather, who has just come to Waukegan, Ill., to reclaim the child whose mother agreed to allow another family to adopt him because he "deserves a better break." The mother, Mrs. Shirley Weinman, is on right of photo. She says she communicated with her husband, a private in the US Army in Korea, and received his written consent to give the child to Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pitt of Waukegan. But after the transfer was made, and the Pitts prepared to take out formal adoption papers, the child's grandparents arrived from Reading, Pa., claimed their son had never given his written consent and prepared to take the baby back home with them. The issue is still unsettled.

Seek Reprieve In Dog's Death Order

FRESTON, Suffolk, England, Sept. 22 — (CP). — Every dog-lover in Britain has his eyes turned today on the rectory in this little village where Bruce, an 18-month-old Alsatian dog, is under sentence of death.

In a last-ditch fight to save the pet's life, his owner, Rev. Henry Mayne-Young, 73-year-old rector of Freston, says he plans to appeal directly to the King for a reprieve.

Magistrates ruled last July that Bruce must be destroyed after neighbors had testified that he had torn the clothes of four men and killed a chicken. Mr. Mayne-Young protested that the dog acted as the "eyes" of his 79-year-old wife, who is blind, but the decision stood.

The case was widely publicized and dog-lovers all over the country raised a fund of nearly £400 ($1,600) to fight for an appeal.

Mr. Mayne-Young led his congregation in a prayer that the dog's life might be spared.

Widely Publicized

National newspapers again gave wide play to the story of Bruce and carried pictures of the handsome black-and-brindle animal with Mrs. Mayne-Young on what should be his last day. The dog wandered disconsolately through the rectory and grounds with Mrs. Mayne-Young.

"Bruce should have died today but we just could not bring ourselves to carry out the order," she told reporters. "I just don't know what I shall do without him."

Then new hope came to the rectory with a telegram from the officer commanding an army veterinary unit in Leicestershire:

"I can guarantee Bruce a job. We need such dogs in the army."

The rector said Tuesday night: "I shall beg the King to let Bruce follow in the footsteps of his father who had a distinguished army career in the last war as a guard dog."

He planned to forward the appeal today.

THE FAIRCHILD C-82 cargo airplane, more familiarly known as the "Flying Boxcar" has made its bow on Operation Vittles," as the aerial supply line to Berlin is called. Its design in comparison to other cargo airplanes on the freight run has made it an object of curiosity and attention. Pictured above is the crowd which greeted a C-82 when it arrived in Berlin with 5 tons of quartermaster supplies from Odly Field, Wiesbaden. They were impressed by the fact that two automobiles were driven up a ramp into the airplane for its return trip. Picture was made at Tempelhof air field.

PERPETUAL FLAME

The candles burned at funeral services are descendants of the earthen lamps found in the Christian catacombs at Syracuse. These lamps were kept constantly burning. As symbols of immortality, they were designed to ward off evil from deceased persons. The Syracuse lamps, in their turn, were born of an ancient world-wide tradition that maintained perpetual fires in veneration of the warmth and light of the hearth-fire, the sun and the moon.

Millbrook School Enrolment High

MILLBROOK, Sept. 22 (ENS). —The local Continuation School has an enrolment of 85 pupils this term, a considerable increase over last year. Outside pupils come from Ida, Bethany, Mount Pleasant and other points north, and the school bus again provides transportation. There are tentative plans to have a second bus in operation shortly.

Last year the study of agriculture was begun in the lower form. Three extra-size potatoes now on display in a village store were raised in the school garden.

Last week the Student Council was organized with the following slate of officers: president, Robert Bigelow; secretary, Jessie Dawson; treasurer, Bennett Handley; class room representatives: Grade 9, Fred Weatherilt; 10, Robert Thompson; 11, Allan Wright; 12, Velma Powers.

Social convener, girls, Betty Wright; boys, Fraser Carr; athletic convener, girls, Betty North; boys, George Smith. Conveners will choose their own committees, and the program for the annual Field Day, the first week in October, was left in the hands of the Athletic Committee.

The staff of the Continuation School remains unchanged from last year: Principal J. A. Thompson; BB. E. Ingham and James A. Powell.

Congregation Fetes Newlywed Couple

SPRINGVILLE, Sept. 22 (ENS) —Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Chadsey of Toronto, a June bride and groom, were honored at Springville Church on Friday. Mrs. Chadsey was the former Mary Staples, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Staples of Springville.

During her Collegiate and Normal School days, Mrs. Chadsey had been an active worker in the Young People's Union, and in other activities of the church.

An address was read by Mrs. Lloyd Whittington and on behalf of the congregation, Gordon McIntosh made the presentation of a mantel clock. Clarence Johnston recalled when Mrs. Chadsey had been in the church play and recreation convener of the YPU.

Other items on the program included community singing led by Bruce Sargent and accompanied at the piano by Audrey Fair; piano selections by Irma Shaw, Marilyn Bowles and Audrey Fair; boys quartette by Jack, Carl and Donnie Sargent and Lionel Chretien; readings by Mrs. Dunford, Mrs. Visee, Mrs. Reddick and Clarence Johnston.

Those in charge of the evening were Mrs. Ray Wood, Mrs. Bruce Sargent, Mrs. Walter Lord and Mrs. G. McIntosh.

To Save Life Wielded Ax Woman Testifies

TORONTO, Sept. 22 (CP)—A jury will decide today whether Yvonne Broullette is guilty of murder in the mid-summer ax-slaying of John Farrell, 33, with whom she lived in central Toronto.

The 38-year-old woman said Tuesday in court she struck Farrell with a hatchet after he beat her during a drunken midnight quarrel.

"It was my life or his," the black-garbed woman related between sobs. "I pushed him and I hit him."

"What did you hit him with?" asked Harry Rose, her counsel.

The woman slowly lifted her face from her tear-soaked handkerchief. In a steady voice she replied:

"With the ax."

"Once, or how often?"

"I don't know how often. I could see those hands in front of me. After I hit him I was afraid he'd grab me again."

Dr. E. C. Fielding, pathologist who testified Monday, said the man was struck 35 ax-blows.

In A Daze

The woman said that after she wielded the ax, she was in a daze.

"I found myself sitting in a chair. I looked and couldn't stand the sight. I started to cover him up but I couldn't finish. I washed myself and put on a dress. I had to call somebody."

The woman was in the witness box most of the day as Mr. Rose traced her life from its beginning to the night of the slaying. She said she was married at 15 and had a baby which lived four months.

She met Farrell in May, 1947, she said. She had a house then and he came as a roomer, but soon they were living together. He drank and beat her time after time, she said.

She left him several times but she always went back to him, convinced of his promises that he had "learned his lesson."

Biggest Home-Building Year In Canada's History

OTTTAWA, Sept. 22 — (CP).—Despite a merry-go-round of shortages, Canada is heading into the last quarter of 1948 sure of the biggest home-building year in her history.

And for citizens plagued by the housing squeeze, there is added comfort in the fact that the estimate of 90,000 new dwelling units is linked with evidence that the brakes are being applied to the cost of home construction.

These costs are still going up, but the rate of climb has slowed down noticeably.

For the first six months of this year, figures compiled here by the Canadian Construction Association show house-building costs up 5 per cent from last year. This was about half the rate of rise for the same time last year.

A comparable slowdown has been noted in the cost climb for construction generally, the association says.

The easing of the cost rise has developed in the face of a cycle of shortages—of both labor and materials— chronic in some essentials and recurring in others.

Cement Bottleneck

At the moment, the biggest bottleneck is in cement, though Canada is turning out more of this product than at any time in her history.

Last year, the Dominion had a peak output of more than 12,000,000 barrels of cement. This year, for the first quarter, production was up almost 25 per cent.

But still cement is in tight supply because of unprecedented demand. What cuts down the supply is the construction of such projects as hydro-electric dams, which eat up millions of bags at a crack.

Another vital building element hard to get is soil pipe. Availability of this product in Canada depends to a large extent on imports from the United States, and these have been curtailed by scarcity of US dollars and by a US pipe shortage of its own.

On the other hand, the lumber picture has brightened after a long perion in which that material was a headache. Plenty of it—and of better quality—now is available, and the rate of its price rise has been levelling off.

But with that situation clearing up, the shortage headache has broken out in another direction in recent weeks. The new sore spot is the bathtub.

Bonus Failure

Despite a Federal "incentive bonus" to manufacturers to step up production, this essential has had an off-again-on-again career for several years. At present, it is off.

The various "shortages" do not develop from lack of production. Actually, production is at record levels in practically all commodities except for those in which the supply lines are already filled. It is a supply-and-demand scarcity created by an unprecedented boom.

Over and above the material factor, perhaps, is the chronic shortage of labor in the building trades. Skilled workmen, particularly trowel workers, are hard to get.

Construction men say this condition probably would hold down building to its current pace even if all materials were plentiful. A current drift of Ontario bricklayers to US jobs paying up to $267 a week won't help any.

Looking over the whole situation, experts here are inclined to think Canada this year is hitting about the peak of her overall construction capacity, taking into account available manpower and the production of building materials.

Construction Ahead

In construction generally, progress was ahead of last year. In that period, more than $1,000,000 worth of building was carriedout. This year, contract awards for the first eight months are running well ahead of 1947 except for industrial building.

Decline in industrial construction follows a trend started last year. It is regarded as reflecting industry's caution against overreaching itself in case of a business slowdown.

But for the eight months as a whole the contracts awarded are up to $664,000,000 from the $472,000,000 of the same period last year. Residential contracts are up $135,000,000; business and institutional, $28,000,000; engineering, $38,000,000; inlustrial building contracts are down $10,000,000.

Brides Honored

TRENT RIVER, Sept. 22 (ENS)—Prior to her marriage Saturday Miss Reta Glenn was honored at a kitchen shower at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Glenn, given by the neighbors. The bride's trouseau was on display and shown by Miss Florence Shearer and Mrs. June Dew. A small covered wagon, loaded with gifts and prettily decorated in pink and white ribbon was drawn nto the room by little Diane McLaughlin, Sharon Brown and Diane Dew. Miss Glenn was asked to take off the "roof" of the wagon and read verses and names attached to each gift.

A hymn book was presented to Miss Glenn from the King's Daughters' Class of the United Church.

Mrs. George Brown, Trent River, and Mrs. Richard Scalzso of Buffalo, recent brides, were also presented with hymn books from the class at this time.

Lunch was served by Mrs. Frank Spencer, Mrs. June Dew and Miss Florence Shearer.

Charming Setting Arranged For Parr-Glenn Union

An arch of evergreen decorated with asters and banked with baskets of fall flowers and ferns was the setting in Trent River United church Saturday for the wedding of Reta Margaret, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emmerson Glenn, RR 2, Hastings, and Raymond Grant, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Parr, Hoard's Station. The ceremony was solemnized by the Rev. F. R. Vanderburgh of Havelock.

Mrs. Douglas Dart of Trent River, played the wedding music, and Miss Marie Vanderburgh of Havelock, sang "I Love You Truly" before the ceremony and "O Perfect Love" during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white slipper satin. It was fashioned with long sleeves, full skirt and tight bodice and had a nylon seed pearls. Her fingertip veil of seed pears. Her fingerttip veil of net was appliqued with satin and held in place by a heart-shaped coronet of orange blossoms. She carried red roses.

Mrs. Frank Spencer, Hoard's Station, was her sister's only attendant. Her gown was powder blue sheer over taffeta and her shoulder veil of blue net was caught to a band of pink flowers. She carried pink roses.

Mr. Harold Parr, Hoard's Station, was groomsman for his cousin. Guests were ushered by Leslie Glenn, cousin of the bride, and Everett Parr, brother of the groom.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where her mother received wearing blue faconne with black hat and accessories and a corsage of roses. The groom's mother, who assisted, wore black crepe with matching hat and accessories and corsage of roses.

Later the bride and groom left by motor for a trip to south-western Ontario. For travelling the bride wore a blue suit with wine hat and accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Parr will reside on the groom's farm at Hoard's Station.

St. James' WMS

The Women's Missionary Society of St. James' United Church held their September meeting in the Primary Room with Mrs. H. F. Doig at the piano. A hymn and prayer opened the service. The president, Mrs. E. G. Johnston, presided.

A collection was taken for the Bible Society. The sectional rallies held each year throughout Peterborough Presbyterial were mentioned by Mrs. Johnston and Mrs. Kemp was appointed convener for the local thanksgiving meeting. Mrs. George Rowe reported six home calls and two at the hospital, for Community Friendship, while Mrs. Sloane told of the recent setback to temperance department in Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island.

"Is giving better than to receive?" asked Mrs. F. W. Craik, in her talk on Christian Stewardship as she pointed out duties of a Christian steward

The offering was received and dedicated by Mrs. R. B. English, the treasurer, and Mrs. Peel took the worship service leading with prayer and a hymn and was assisted by Mrs. G. H. Rowe, in a scripture reading on Faith.

"West of the Gorges", the new WMS study book on China, was introduced by Miss May Bowers, who spoke of the home life, customs, religion and scenery of West China in her interesting synopsis. Following her address, Mrs. J. Dinsdale offered prayer for the work and workers in China, and the meeting closed with the benediction.

Reds Highly Organized In China, Missionary Says

The puzzle of China today, from the standpoint of the missionaries who fled before the Communists, was explained to delegates attending the WA conference for the deanery of Peterborough Tuesday. "Your money has not been wasted and the work is still very much alive," Mrs. G. A. Andrew, former missionary for the MSCC in China, told 150 Women's Auxiliary members in St. Luke's Church at the afternoon session.

"The Communists are not helping China and they are definitely working on orders from Moscow," she declared. Explaining how the party works, she said they do not go to big cities, for a large population would become a liability, but rather they approach villages where the farmers live. The army comes first and they are very kind and polite to these simple people who understand only what they are told and so think they are "nice." Then comes a civil delegation which bears down, gathering the people in groups and organizing them.

Boys are taken from the schools and taught by the Communists. Very soon they become young "spies," reporting every word their parents say, and anyone who tries to leave or enter the village without a pass. Four punishments are given to people without passes, the fourth offence bringing death. "You see they take all liberty away at once," said Mrs. Andrew. The women and girls are organized separately in a similar way. Men are allowed to continue work on the farms subject to call to other points at any time, when they serve as camouflage for the Communist army. Landowners are frequently victimized as "pow-wows" when paid opium-sots planted in their midst testify against them. The land is confiscated and the man punished, usually by dragging him around on a rope until he is dead.

"China does not welcome them," Mrs. Andrew declared. "Refugees are fleeing in great numbers all the time." But that is difficult for everything is so well prepared and marvellously organized that they are "in" before it is realized.

"The misionaries have not run away," she pointed out. "They have left at the request of the Chinese Christians and the clergy because the Communists treat these people more cruelly if the missionaries are there." Having lost everything that she owned in China four times, Mrs. Andrew said she no longer attached much affection to material things, but it is very hard for some of the missionaries to leave their homes and all their possessions. "We will go back to China whenever possible and we will be welcomed," she said speaking particularly of those serving in Honan.

"We will need strong backing from the WA and funds to help people dying of starvation," she said. "When one has watched children's lives ebb out from lack of food they do not feel like eating themselves, and I often feel like speaking out when I hear a shopper in Canada say 'Seventy three cents for butter—isn't that simply awful'?"

"Wake up to the real menace of Communism," Mrs. Andrew entreated WA members. "If you believe in prayer, pray, and pray as if you meant it." You have your children to think of too. This thing is growing so insidiously you cannot see it. Turning to God is the only way to be saved."

Fern R. Whitmore Bride of Alvin C. Clements

Coe Hill United Church, decorated with mixed fall flowers, was setting for the wedding Saturday afternoon of Fern Rosella Whitmore and Alvin Clifford Clements with the Rev. Mr. Hancock officiating. The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Whitmore, Coe Hill, and the groom a son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Clements, Warsaw.

The bride was wearing white chiffon with the sweetheart neckline caught with gold sequins and a coronet of orange blossoms holding her veil of silk net. She carried Talisman roses, and was given in marriage by her father. Miss Dorothy Donnelly as bridesmaid was in light blue net over taffeta, and Margaret Donnelly, flower girl, wore yellow. Their hats were in matching shades and they carried bouquets of pink roses and baby pink and white roses.

Groomsman was Mr. Bazil Clements. Wedding music was played by Miss Marguerite Hanthorn and during the signing of the register Mr. Reginald Peters sang "Because."

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Whitmore wore black crepe trimmed with gold, a black hat and corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Clements, the groom's mother, was in brown crepe with satin trim, brown hat and rose corsage. A buffet luncheon was served by Misses Reta Whitmore and Lois Ferguson. The bride and groom served their wedding cake to the guests.

When leaving on a wedding trip to the United States the bride was wearing a flowered silk jersey dress with black accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Clements will live on the groom's farm at RR 1, Warsaw.

Mrs. C. R. Spencer Elected Deanery Head

Holy Communion in St. Luke's Anglican Church Tuesday morning with the rector, Rev. W. J. Gilling celebrant, opened the WA Conference of the Deanery of Peterborough. The Rev. C. H. Boulden of St. Mark's Church, Port Hope, gave the sermon. Afterward Ministers of the Deanery separated for a meeting, and Mrs. Gordon Langley, WA Deanery Officer, took charge. An address of welcome to more than 130 delegates was given by Mrs. R. G. Maniece, president of St. Luke's branch.

Announcements were made by Mrs. Schuyler Snively, Diocesan WA representative, who later addressed the delegates. Her message was with regard to the "Little Helpers" groups, urging WA members to be an example to them. "Pass the feeling of responsibility to them for they are the WA members of tomorrow" she urged. "It's up to everyone of us to do our best to have the girls work into an Auxiliary. The Anglican Church needs the young people and they need us to lead the way a little bit."

Mrs. Snively also spoke of the Thankoffering which is used to equip and send forth new missionaries and provide pensions and said it should be included with the pledges. A motion to have the Thankoffering presented at Deanery meeting to be handed to Council by the Deanery Officer was made later and was defeated.

Mrs. C. R. Spooner, president of Roseneath WA, was elected Deanery Officer for a two year term. It was decided that the past and present Officers and a member appointed from the hostess society would arrange for the next Deanery meeting to be held at Lakefield. A slight increase in the price of luncheons at future meetings was approved and members were in favor of continuing the morning session. Collection for the day of $48.72 was voted to a donation to the Yukon Diocese. Mrs. Mark Burnham, Deanery secretary, read minutes of the last meeting.

Thanks for support to her mission diocese in Saskatchewan was given by Mrs. Horace Ashmore who is visiting the city. "Our work is made possible by your Thankoffering" she said. Making a strong appeal for more young people to train in this type of work, she declared "We're losing out, and other religions are taking over." An area of 90,000 square miles is being handled by 26 clergymen. She told of the highly successful job being done by two girls as Bishop's messengers in that area and said "their reward for good work is satisfaction, though the material gain is small."

Short reports of the year's activities were presented by branches of Norwood, Hastings, Lasswade, Havelock, Roseneath, Young's Point, St. Mark's Otonabee, St. George's, All Saints', St. John's afternoon and evening branches, St. Luke's and All Saints' Junior branch.

Votes of thanks to speakers and hostesses were made by Mrs. H. E. Connolly and Mrs. Jas. Howard of All Saints' WA.

Home and School

MAY'S SCHOOL

May's Home and School Association meeting Monday evening was opened by Mrs. E. Ephgrave, vice-president. Mrs. A. W. Nelson, Council president, later installed Mrs. C. S. Todd as president.

The regional conference will be held in Peterborough Friday, October 22, and speakers will be Mrs. J. O. Arrowsmith and Mrs. C. S. Downie on "Home Education" and Mr. C. E. Wilkinson on "Visual Aid."

Mrs. B. Sherry was nominated press correspondent for the coming year.

A pleasing program was presented with Mabel McLaren singing, accompanied by Mrs. W. Johnston, monologues by Mrs. H. Turner, and piano solos by Bob Dummitt.

Mrs. J. Chamberlain and her committee served refreshments during a social half-hour at the close.

Business Women Plan Big Bazaar

First dinner of the fall season for Business and Professional Women was arranged in the YWCA Green Room Monday evening by the East City group. Tables were attractive with bowls of deep colored zinnias flanked by silver candles. Miss S. Eastwood, president, presided

During the business session following $25 was voted to a donation to the British Columbia flood victims. A letter was received from the Truro, England, club acknowledging a parcel of soap. It was decided to continue sending boxes overseas. Mrs. R. Young thanked the club in a letter from the CAS for giving a two week vacation at YWCA Camp Inglestane to one girl.

Delegates chosen to attend the Provincial Conference of Federation at Cobourg October 16 and 17 are vice presidents, Miss Vera Heyes and Mrs. H. Watson.

A resume of sessions at the Provincial Council of Women held here in May was given by Mrs. H. Dunford, representative to Local Council. A talk by Miss Myrtle Knapp was on the tourist trade as an industry.

Plans were partially made for a bazaar to be held in November with the following committee appointed: Miss Aleitha Davidson, convener; Miss Anne Deyell, leader of South group; Miss Mina Edwards, West group; Miss Birdie Dawson, North group; Miss Muriel Morrison, East City group.

DOROTHY DIX

Despite Snobbish Critics Go-Getter Real Husband

DEAR MISS DIX: Is it right to condemn a man on account of his family? My daughter and a young man are deeply in love with each other, but all of my family and friends disapprove of him because he comes from the wrong side of the tracks. He left his family five years ago to better himself which he has done, and he is now holding a fine job. He is all my husband and I would want in a son.

Dorothy Dix

What is your advice?

A Mother

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: If the young man is all you say, I would hurry up the wedding, because I would be afraid that some other girl would get him away from my daughter. Don't ever disparage a self-made man, because they are the men who make such a good job of themselves. It is the lads who have to have somebody else make their opportunities, and get them started, and help them over the stile who just stay where they are put and never get anywhere in their own stream.

Humble Background

Many years ago I had a girl friend who fell deeply in love with a boy with whom she went to school. He was a fine chap, a student who stood always at the head of his class and who did extra work on the outside to earn enough money to dress decently. But he was a poor boy who came from a poor family and had a very humble background. The girl, on the other hand, belonged to an artistocratic family. They raised such a row over the disgrace that she would bring on them if she married this boy whom she loved, that they finally harried her into giving him up.

It simply broke the girl's heart and ruined her life. It turned her into a bitter cynic who was soured on the world, who never went into society, or had anything to do with young people. And after her father died she had to go to work to support herself and the family. But the boy, who waited a long time to see if the girl wouldn't have courage enough to defy her family and marry him, went on from success to success. He finally married, and I have seen his wife's automobile splash mud on the shabby dress of the girl whose family thought she was too good to marry a self-made man.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a boy 22, attending college, and have a girl of 25 who also goes to college. My mother objects to this, saying a girl that much older than I will want to marry and that I have nothing to marry on. She also thinks that a girl being older, bosses me now and will run our affairs if we should marry, and mother just doesn't approve of her.

My mother and sister visited me and I took all three of them out to lunch. Because I seated Mother first and not the girl, she became very peeved about it. Which one should I have seated first?

HARRY

ANSWER: The elder woman is invariably seated first, and if the girl has been familiar with good society she would have known this.

Your mother is quite right in thinking that it will be a mistake for you to marry a girl who is three years older than you are, because at your time of life you can't estimate age by the calender. It is a matter of development, and a girl of 25 is really five years older than a boy of 22. You need no better proof o fthat than the fact that she is already bossing you and treating you as if you were her inferior.

Also, you should listen to your mother's warning not to marry until you are in a financial position to support a wife. If this girl She is only marrying you because she sees old maidenhood staring her in the face, Be warned in time.

HOT FLASHES?

Are you going thru the functional 'middle-age' period peculiar to women (38-52 yrs.)? Does this make you suffer from hot flashes, feel so nervous, high-strung, tired? Then DO try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to relieve such symptoms! Pinkham's Compound also has what Doctors call a stomachic tonic effect!

LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND

NEW DETAIL FOR DRESSES —The fashions of elegance that mark the fall sartorial parade call for more trimming than has been seen on the style horizon for some time. Beading and sequins, passementerie, which includes braid, fringe and such, silk fringe, applique and nailheads are all at home on new frocks, coats, suits and even furs. This starkly simple dress of gray wool is given drama and charm by emphasizing the full sweep of the skirt with horizontal bands of tiny steel nailheads.

THE STARS SAY . . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Thursday, September 23

While the day starts out with almost spectacular promise of outstanding success or far-flung progress, yet stability and security by hard won accomplishment, could be suddenly switched in the opposite direction by some untoward or erratic procedure. This giving offense or losing the confidence and financial support of those in influential places.

Those whose birthday it is, may encounter a conflicting and contradictory state of affairs, in which high hopes, prospects and attainments may suddenly swerve to a complicated, inept and inharmonious situation. This from unforesen circumstances, a wayward impulse, or a physical letdown, causing estrangements, difficulties, and loss of prestige and power. Shun emotional tantrums, erratic tactics, lest the reactions cause estrangements, of those kindly disposed and willing to render justice and due reward for right action.

A child born on this day may possess many conflicting and contradictory traits, being impulsive but of marked originality.

Barbara Beamish Married In St. Catharines

HASTINGS, Sept. 22 (ENS).—A marriage of interest took place Saturday afternoon at Memorial Chapel, Ridley College, St. Catharines, when, given in marriage by her father, Barbara Anne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Beamish, Hastings, became the bride of Robert William Boyd, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Boyd, Trinidad, B.W.I.

Standards of pink gladioli decorated the church with the Rev. R. C. Good and the Rev. H. M. Coulter performing the ceremony.

The bride wore a gown of ivory faille, and her great great grandmother's veil of Limerick lace over a full length tulle veil of ivory, held by a tiara of roses. A double row of ruching edged the low square neckline and a panel of accordion pleated tiers down the back of the bouffant skirt was topped with a bustle bow. She carried roses and heather from Scotland in a crescent bouquet.

Maid of honor, Miss Carol Beamish, was frocked in rose faille with a flared skirt ending in a slight train. The bridesmaids, Misses Mary Hulse and Joan Hamilton, wore similar frocks of soft green faille. All wore bonnets with tulle scarves, and carried crescent bouquets of gladioli.

The groomsman was Mr. J. W. L. Goering of Toronto and ushers were E. R. S. McLaughlin of Oshawa and Stanley O. Carter of Newfoundland. Dr. S. G. Bett played wedding music and Mrs. G. W. F. Johnston of Montreal was soloist.

After the reception the couple left for a trip to Northern Ontario, the bride wearing a grey flannel suit with navy accessories and a corsage of roses and heather.

The bride and groom and the groom's attendants are all graduates of the University of Toronto.

Health Minister Gives Advice

OTTAWA, Sept. 22 (CP)—Ontario's Health Minister Russel Kelly suggested Tuesday night that young women forget their worries over a slimmer waistline and think more of the joys of eventual motherhood.

He told the 150 members of the Eastern Ontario Dental Association meeting here that they were in a unique position to dispense sound advice, particularly among the young people of the day.

"Tell them to stand and walk erect," said the health minister. "Tell them to get away from the soft-drink-and-cigaret luncheon ...and eat proper food and drink milk. Tell them not to stint on milk, but it's too expensive. It's not too expensive and we can all afford a quart a day."

To those "over forty," he advised: "Take life a bit easier, walk instead of run and take a short nap after lunch."

Mr. Kelly said that when people call on him immediately after lunch, they are "invariably informed I am busy."

"Well, I am busy! I'm busy sleeping for 20 minutes or so and I believe that is one of the most important functions of my day."

6—In Memoriams

HANWELL—In loving memory of our mother, who passed away one year ago, September 22.
While you, dear mother, rest and sleep,
Your loving memory we'll always keep.
Time takes away the edge of grief,
But memory turns back every leaf.
—Ever remembered by husband and family.

REED—In loving memory of my dear wife, Mrs. Emily S. Reed, who passed away September 25, 1947.
Her loving face I hope to see again
Though the days have passed away
Sleep on dear wife and take your rest
They miss you most who love you best
—Sadly missed by her husband, William Reed, of 447 Mark and brother of Fred Scrivens of Royal Oak, Michigan.

7—Cards of Thanks

The family of the late W. W. Brown, wish to convey their heartfelt thanks to all kind friends and neighbours for their many kind expressions of sympathy during their recent bereavement.

St. Catharines Squad Whips B.C. All-Stars

VANCOUVER, Sept. 22—(CP).—A lightning fast St. Catharines squad Tuesday night defeated British Columbia All Stars 17-13 in the first game of a best-of-five series for the Canadian junior box lacrosse championship. The second game will be played Thursday night.

After taking a 4-1 first quarter lead, the easterners were outscored 6-2 in the second period by superior stick-handling of the B.C. crew.

Bert Titehurst, leading pointgetter of the game, racked up three of his four goals in the second frame and also got three assists.

St. Kitts ran away with the third session, smashing in six of the seven goals scored, to lead 12-8 at the three-quarter mark.

The visitors, outweighing the B.C. boys by an average 15 pounds, split the 10 fourth-quarter goals with the All Stars.

Borrowed Goods Fined For Theft

An error in ownership brought elderly William Eley, who lives near Hastings, into court today, where he was given a light fine of $10 and no costs after pleading guilty to theft of a fishing rod, minnow pail and tin can from D D. Hagerty.

W. B. Gordon, defence counsel, explained to the court: "The trouble was that the accused had been in the habit of sort-of exchanging belongings with Hagerty . . not with his consent, I'm afraid, but there has been quite an exchange of belongings under another kind of relationship. . . ." he smiled.

"The trouble here was that the accused saw this stuff lying there, thought it belonged to Hagerty, which it did not."

In view of his age and the circumstances, the light fine was given.

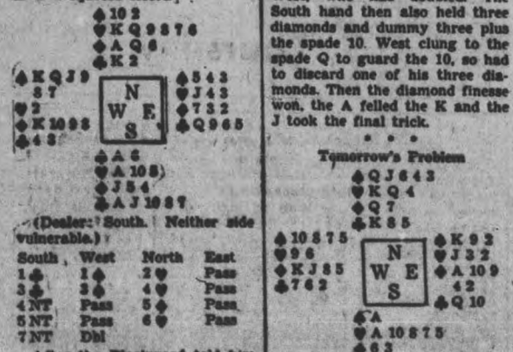
BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

MUST KNOW SQUEEZES

IF YOU are one of those players who is going to attempt top tournament scores by choosing No Trump contracts when other declarers select trump suits, you must know your squeeze plays. On lots of hands, especially those reaching slam contracts, the suit declarer manages to amass enough tricks by taking one or more through ruffing out losers. The No Trumper manifestly cannot do that. So, if enough tricks for his objective are not otherwise in sight, his sole recourse is to a squeeze effort.



(Dealer: South. Neither side vulnerable.)

After the Blackwood told him North had two kings and an ace, Herbert J. Gerst of Norfolk, Va., chose his favorite No Trumps for the grand slam which others played in suits. The heart contractors made it by finessing clubs, discarding a spade on the third club, ruffing a fourth club, discarding a diamond on the fifth club and then finessing diamonds. The club declarers scored by a grand coup against East, ruffing a fourth heart to shorten trumps, finessing diamonds for an extra dummy entry, discarding a diamond on the next heart and so trapping East's club Q.

In No Trumps none of those methods could be used. After the spade K lead to the A, Mr Gerst took six heart tricks, the club K, finessed the club J and then led the club A. That squeezed West, who had doubled. The South hand then also held three diamonds and dummy three plus the spade 10. West clung to the spade Q to guard the 10, so had to discard one of his three diamonds. Then the diamond finesse won, the A felled the K and the J took the final trick.

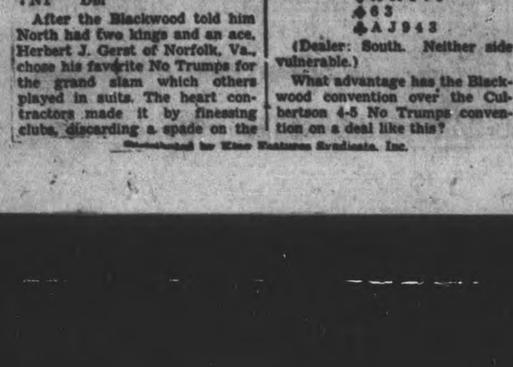
Tomorrow's Problem



(Dealer: South. Neither side vulnerable.)

What advantage has the Blackwood convention over the Culbertson 4-5 No Trumps convention on a deal like this?

120 Students Registered At Grove School

The start of school for most children means a short trip for each pupil and a chance to come home for lunch. Those who live 2 or 3 miles away must take sandwiches, but to the Lakefield Preparatory school they come from Vancouver on the Pacific to St. John's, Nfld., and Halifax on the Atlantic. Donald Cole comes from the Bahamas, B.W.I., visiting Old Boy Harry Hutchings comes originally from Parrita, Costa Rica and Nicholas Powell from Maracaibo, Venezuela. Billy Rashley's home used to be in Bexhill, Sussex, England, and from the other side of the Globe, the Rowell brothers, Pieter and Michiel, came all the way from Medan, Sumatra, Dutch East Indies.

The Rowell brothers spent three hideous years in Jap prison camps with their parents, they father was sent as slave laborer on the infamous Burma Road. Head Master G. Winder Smith, said that the Rowell boys are fitting into public school splendidly and they are popular with the other boys.

One hundred and twenty boys are enrolled in the LPS this term which started Sept. 14. They are already warming up on the playing fields and will have a Field Day in mid-October, and they will buckle down to naval training under guidance of "Chief" Lee. Like most boys, sports are welcome but minds unlimbering for the learning of Latin and mathematics, is just another burden.

Need Armed Might

HAMILTON, Sept. 22—(CP).—Lt.-Gen. Charles Foulkes, Canadian chief of general staff, said Tuesday night that peace apparently cannot be assured without a considerable display of armed might on the democratic side. "We must convince some people that we will fight again to preserve the freedom for which we fought the last time," he told an Army Week citizens' gathering in the main armories.

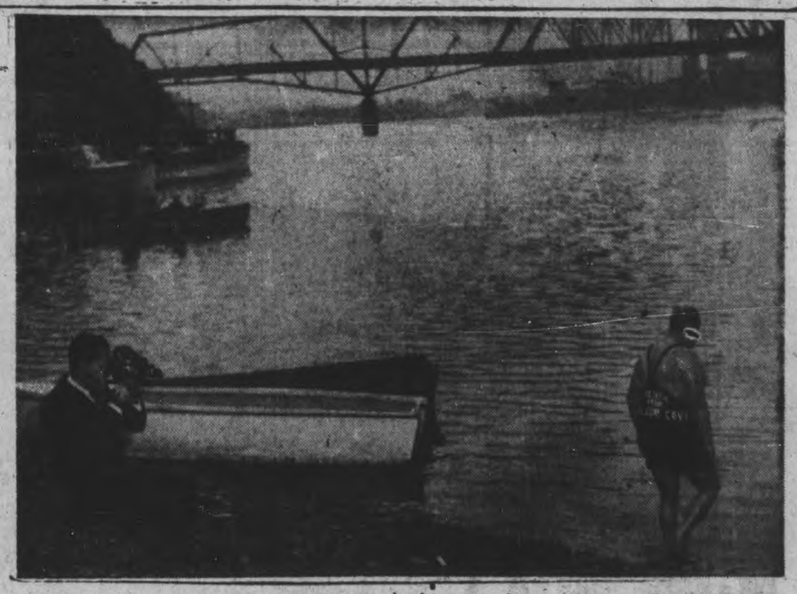
27 Lb. Muskie At Trent River Season's Best

TRENT RIVER, Sept. 22 — (ENS).—Jay Brown of Trent River and Hayden Butters of Brighton, were fortunate anglers on Saturday, while trolling in Thompson's channel two miles below Trent river bridge. Jay hooked a lunge of such proportions that intense interest resulted until 6.30 p.m. while the occupants of a dozen boats on the river watched keenly the outcome of this battle.

All felt satisfied that this was the monster so often encountered by fishermen during the season in this particular location. Bob Bryans, Toronto, who formerly won distinction this season by catching a particularly fine trout weighing two pounds and fourteen ounces, was an enthusiastic on-looker, and Bob barely refrained from chewing the end off his pipe while drifting and watching the Brown and Butters lunge proceedings.

The excited pair at the controls, Butters at the motor and Brown with the rod, cautiously gave Mr. Lunge plenty of freedom, allowing him to remain in deep water for almost an hour. He finally rose to the surface in view of the amazed onlookers. Then, with the aid of Clarence Revoir, a Trent River guide, who had been among the spectators in an adjoining boat, the coveted prize was finally hauled in.

The fish proved the season's greatest catch at this Trent River resort, weighing 27 pounds and measuring 45 inches in length. The fish was caught on a plug.



"THE FISH MAN"—Rene LaFleche, who claims he prefers sleeping in water to a bed, walks confidently into the cold waters of the Ottawa river without a backward glance at the cameraman. Once, while in the West Indies, he spent 31 days living in the water. He also claims to have made two unrecorded swims from Ottawa to Montreal before—in 1928 and 1929.

Fear Dominates World Anniversary Message

LAKEFIELD, Sept. 22 (ENS)—Lakefield Baptist Church was filled to capacity Sunday when anniversary services were held. The minister, Rev. W. S. Watson, welcomed those present and was in charge of the services.

Dr. J. B. McLaurin, Secretary of the Canadian Baptist Foreign Mission Board, was guest speaker and delivered two addresses.

His morning sermon was based on the theme, "Am I My Brother's Keeper?" In it Dr. McLaurin said that moral responsibility is often frustrated by seifishness and sin. He pointed out our sense of responsibility to the community, the individual and to God.

"One World In Christ" was the topic of the evening address in which Dr. McLaurin painted a vivid picture of world conditions today in Germany, France, China, India, Africa and other countries which showed a state of unrest and fear to exist.

"The international situation is dominated by fear," declared Dr. McLaurin.

"If we cannot find a body of men and women who will stand up for righteousness we will loose the innocence of our people, and sink to a level with the heathen nations of the world."

Mrs. Rita Peel was soloist at the morning service and Mrs. Donald Hendren soloist in the evening. The choir sang several anthems. Mrs. Hendren was accompanied by Mrs. Wilfred Lee. Mrs. Peel was at the organ and Miss Grace Yonge at the piano for both services.

Approve Lords' Curb

LONDON, Sept. 22 — (AP). — The House of Commons Tuesday night approved finally a measure cutting the House of Lords' veto power from two years to one year. The vote was 323 to 195. Today the measure will be introduced in the House of Lords where it is believed the Lords will vote it down again. If so, the House of Commons may enact the legislation by passing it a third time at the next session.

Fairmount United Marks Anniversary

FAIRMOUNT, Sept. 22 (ENS). —Successful anniversary services were held on Sunday at Fairmount United Church, conducted by Rev. Mr. Crandall of Bethany, formerly of Manitoba. He took for his text in the morning "What shall it profit a man if he gain the whole world and lose his own soul." In the evening he spoke on: "Except a man be born again he cannot see the Kingdom of God."

Special music was sung by the choir, and in the morning Mr. B. Preston sang a solo. In the evening a duet was sung by B. Preston and R. F. McIndoo. At the close of the evening service a religious film was shown. A special thankoffering of over $190 was added to the church funds.

The woodwork around the walls has been covered with eight foot plywood; the doors leading from the Sunday School room and the double doors of the lobby have also been recovered with plywood. The floors have been painted and the rest of the interior has received a coat of varnish. The work was done by Little Bros., contractors of Campbellford, and financed by the Women's Association of the church.

Absolve Detective

HAMILTON, Sept. 22—(CP).—Detective William Homer was absolved Tuesday of criminal responsibility in the fatal shooting Aug. 19 of Frank Wasnie, a fleeing robbery suspect. A grand jury at the Fall Assizes returned "no bill" in a manslaughter charge against the city policeman. The jury said that "the action of the officer was fully justified."

Britain Plans To Organize Her Ex-Servicemen In Pool For Immediate Call

Government Acts Swiftly In Russian Crisis
Three Services Plan Reserve;
Home Fleet Sailing On Big Manoeuvres

LONDON, Sept. 23—(Reuters).—Plans to prepare Britain for any emergency were announced by Defence Minister A. V. Alexander in the House of Commons today. Mobilization machinery has been overhauled, he said, "and if unhappily such machinery had to be used it would be found to work satisfactorily."

Declaring that the "plain fact" was that collective security had not been achieved, Alexander said "we have an obligation to maintain our armed forces that should a major emergency arise they can be expanded to make full contribution to collective security."

Plans for emergency recall had been prepared as "a matter of common precedence."

Britain plans to organize her ex-servicemen into a vast reserve pool subject to immediate call to the armed forces in an emergency.

Reserve Plans

For Britain's general preparedness the build-up of reserve and auxiliary forces "is one of the most urgent and necessary measures we are undertaking," he said. He outlined the government's aims for the various services as folows:

Army—It was vital in the next few months that the strength of the territorial reserve army should be increased by 100,000 men and women.

Air force—The auxiliary air force and air force volunteer reserve between them wanted 60,000 volunteers.

There would be a scheme for the registration of reserves confined to men and women with previous experience of anti-air-

Believe Stalin Has Called Crimean Parley

LONDON, Sept. 23. — (CP).—Reports reaching the foreign office suggest that a conference of heads of eastern Europen states is at present meeting in the Crimea under the presidency of Stalin, an official spokesman said today.

The spokesman added that, while reports of such a meeting could not be confirmed there were a number of strong indications that Romania, Czechoslovakia and Bulgaria were represented.

Such reports had been received at the foreign office and it had been established definitely that both Anna Pauker, Romania's foreign minister, and Klement Gottwald, president of Czechoslovakia, are absent from their capitals. Moscow reported last week that Gottwald was vacationing in the Crimea.

There also have been unconfirmed reports that Georgi Dimitrov, Bulgaria's premier, is away from Sofia. All three are key members of Cominform (Communist International Information Bureau).

Stalin, it is understood, had been on holiday in the Crimea for some days and it was for this reason that, last Saturday in Moscow, the three envoys of the western powers were forced to hold their last discussion in the Soviet capital with Foreign Minister Molotov, instead of with Stalin.

There is no indication in London of the reason for the discussion believed to be in progress inn the Crimea and there is no evidence here that Poland or Hungary are represented.

The meeting, for whatever purpose, is considered to be distinct from a formal session of the Cominform.

Won't Get Visas

PRAGUE, Spt. 23 (Rutrs). — The United States Consulate here has refused United States visas to most of the members of a hockey team of the Czechoslovak national athletic organization, Sokol, it was announced today.

Fall Of Tsinan Said Imminent

NANKING, Sept. 23 (AP)—The fall of Tsinan was imminent today.

Last main national base north of the Yangtze river in the eastern zone of Central China, Tsinan was besieged by overwhelming Red forces.

Military experts here conceded the probable loss of the Shantung province capital. In fact, official sources wrote it off as lost several days ago.

Some 220,000 Red troops were attacking the city defended by less than 50,000 national soldiers. Government troops seemed to be losing ground steadily.

The loss of Tsinan—if it comes—will be a staggering blow both politically and militarily to the government.

US Patience Not Weakness Marshall Warns Russians

PARIS, Sept. 23 — (AP). — State Secretary Marshall said today in a thinly-veiled warning to the Soviet Union that American "patience" should not be mistaken for "weakness."

Marshall outlined the United States' basic foreign policy in speech to the fall session of the United Nations general assembly.

He referred to the Russians and their six eastern European satellites as the "small minority" which consistently boycotts the Balkan and Korean U.N. commissions and the "little assembly."

"It would be a tragic error," Marshall declared, "if, because of misunderstanding, the patience of others should be mistaken for weakness."

Marshall served notice the United States will not 'compromise the essential principles" or "barter away the rights and freedom of other peoples."

Seek Settlement

In an apparent reference to the Berlin crisis, Marshall said the United States "is prepared to seek in every possible way, in any appropriate forum, a constructive and peaceful settlement of the political controversies which contribute to the present tension and uncertainty."

The first reply to Marshall from the Soviet bloc came from Poland's foreign minister, Zygmunt Modzelewski, who savagely attacked the European reconstruction program and western efforts to unite their zones of occupation in Germany.

Gen. Carlos P. Romulo of the Philippines led off the general debate in the assembly with a call to the small powers of the world to unite in a "third force" that could maintain a balance of power between east and west.

Romulo said: "The conscience of the world deserves a stronger voice than has spoken for it during the past three years. Let the small nations, speaking in unison, be that voice."

Later, in an obvious reference to the Soviet-led eastern European bloc in the assembly, Marshall said the work of the United Nations had been seriously hampered by "the refusal of a group of nations to participate in certain of the important commissions established by this assembly.

Asleep At Wheel

BELLEVILLE, Sept. 23 — (CP). — Believed to have fallen asleep at the wheel of the truck he was driving, George Bartlett, 19, of Hagersville, was killed today when the vehicle crashed into a culvert and was wrecked. The accident occurred on Highway No. 2 at Bayside, six miles west of Belleville.

Half A Million In Gold Found In Bush

EDMONTON, Sept. 23 (CP)—A strong contingent of police and air force officials today screened off an arid stretch of bushland housing the five-year-old wreckage of a transport plane, as rumors persisted that there was half-a-million dollars in currency and gold bullion aboard.

Air force headquarters in Washington discounted the reports, merely confirming that the 11 bodies found with the plane were those of three Canadians and eight United States citizens, who went down in a U.S. air force transport Feb. 5, 1943, on a flight from Fort Nelson to Fort St. John, B.C.

But stories kept trickling out of the northland that the plane had carried nearly $500,000 in gold and currency. The rumor, first heard shortly after the plane disappeared, was re-echoed by a United States hunter, newly returned from the area, who said: "piles of currency" had been removed by officials investigating the crash.

The plane was found about five days ago in Lake Tuchodi region, about 45 minutes flying time from Fort Nelson, and 500 miles northwest of Edmonton.

The finders were Johnny Bahne, an Indian trapper, and Bill Fallert of Yorktown, Ore., a member of a hunting party, guided by Bahne.

Member of Party

Dr. W. H. Stevenson of Houston, Tex., said here Wednesday night that he was a member of a hunting party that had been less than a mile from the scene of the wreck when the plane was found. He had not seen the plane but reported that a number of trappers who had come to the area were being turned back from the vicinity of the wreck.

He said investigators had brought log books and other data from the plane, establishing the identity of the crash victims.

A casualty list issued after the plane crashed identified the Canadians aboard as Paul Cote, medical attendant of the U.S. public roads administration, whose father, William Cote, lives in Alberta, and Steve Kerluk and Peter Ukrainetz of Insinger, Sask.

Seven United States airmen and an American civilian were also aboard.

Berlin Quarrel Heading For UN

PARIS, Sept. 23.—(AP).— Sir Hartley Shawcross, attorney-general of Britain, today said the Berlin quarrel will be given to the United Nations Assembly if Russia rejects a "final three-power note" for prompt settlement.

The foreign ministers of Britain, France and the United States sent identical notes to the Kremlin last night, asking a yes or no answer to this question:

Is a Berlin settlement possible along lines already broadly drawn at recent conferences in Moscow and Berlin?

Sir Hartley, in response to a reporter's question today, asserted:

"It is the understanding (among the three powers) that the whole question of Berlin will be tossed into the Assembly agenda if the latest and final three-power note does not produce Russian agreement."

This was the first confirmation from an official source that the three western powers intend to turn the Berlin problem over to the United Nations if Russia does not end her blockade of the German city and discuss four-power control of the Soviet mark in Berlin.

Hint Canada May Aid Berlin Lift

Dominion Reconsiders As Crisis Grows; Others May Help Too

OTTAWA, Sept. 23.—(CP). — Canada's stand against participation in the Berlin air lift may be reconsidered if the lift continues through the winter, according to indications today in government quarters.

The outcome of current Allied-Russian negotiations over the explosive Berlin issue will determine whether or not Canada re-examines her position in the matter.

Up to now, this country has not taken a hand in the airborne system of supplying blockaded Berlin, though some others of the commonwealth countries have volunteered aid.

The attitude of the Dominion has been based on the fact that Canada was not asked specifically to come to the aid of the United States and Britain in the airlift, and also to a persisting belief of the government here that the necessity for the lift might be removed at any time.

Now, with the negotiations over Berlin at a critical stage, the Dominion government is giving serious thought to the plight of the Allies if they are forced to supply Berlin through the winter.

It is recognized here that will be a much more difficult task than the job has been up to now, both because of the weather's effect on flying and the need of hauling fuel into the German capital.

For that reason, the government is veering to the view that not only will its own stand have to be re-examined, but those of all other western countries also will have to be reviewed.

At present, the only countries taking active responsibility are the United States and the United Kingdom. Australia, New Zealand and South Africa have volunteered help.

The view here is that if the lift is to be a long-drawn-out proposition, responsibility may have to be widened generally.

So far, there is no indication of what the government might have in mind in the way of assistance. It might be either aircrew alone or both crews and planes.

Meanwhile, it is not considered likely that Canada, in return for any help she might extend, would seek a hand in formulating German policy with the big powers.

Thief Returns Loot, Gets Easier Sentence

BRANTFORD, Sept. 23 (CP)—Everett L. Kelso of Bobcaygeon Wednesday got a bargain from Magistrate R. J. Gillen.

A week ago the magistrate convicted Kelso of theft of a ring and radio owned by Ross Anguish of Scotland. He told the accused he'd get a two-year sentence if he told where the loot was, and 2½ years if he refused.

Today police said Kelso had talked and the radio and ring were recovered. Kelso was sentenced to nine months definite and three months indefinite.

Donald Fleming Enters P.C. Leadership Race

OTTAWA, Sept. 23 (CP)—Donald M. Fleming, member of the Commons for Toronto Eglinton, announced today that he will be a candidate for the Progressive Conservative leadership at the national convention here Sept. 30, Oct. 1-2.

The 43-year-old former member of the Toronto city council made his announcement at a press conference in the parliamentary press gallery.

He is the fourth to enter the contest for the leadership which John Bracken, 65, is giving up because of his age and ill-health.

The others who have stated that they will allow their names to go before the convention are Premier Drew of Ontario, John Diefenbaker, member of the Commons for Lake Centre in Saskatchewan, and Garfield Case, member of the Commons for Grey North in Ontario.

John W. Hanna, member of the Ontario Legislature for Huron Bruce, withdrew his name when Mr. Drew announced his candidature.

Mr. Fleming, a lawyer by profession, entered the Commons in the 1945 general election while most newcomers spend their first term in the Commons feeling their way, Mr. Fleming drew early attention with his brisk, fiery delivery in debate and his ability to talk on equal terms with some of the best speakers on the government side.

His ability to speak French as well as English won him the admiration of Quebec members and a following in that province. He took acting prime minister St. Laurent to task at one time for saying that by a simple majority of parliament, French could be abolished as an official language in Canada.

In his statement Mr. Fleming said:

"After long consideration and in the face of inescapable challenge, I have decided to allow my

Highways Minister Inspects Chemong Lake Causeway

Hon. George H. Doucett, Ontario's Minister of Highways, expressed satisfaction with the rate of progress in the construction of the Chemong Lake causeway Wednesday afternoon. The Minister discussed road programs in his annual visit to the roads committee of the County Council and the members of the Suburban Area Commission. Thirty miles of development now under way in the county, he said, was the limit of the Department's undertaking this year in Peterborough. They comprise the Buckhorn Road job which has been assumed by the province, work on the road to Nepheline Products Ltd. mine at the east end of Stony Lake, and a third stretch of road in Harvey township, from Buckhorn to Gannon's Narrows bridge.

Hon. Mr. Doucett was accompanied by J. E. P. Marshall, Toronto, chief municipal engineer with the Department. Warden James Humphries was chairman of the meeting. Pending the completion of the Department's work this year, Mr. Doucett said he could not make any definite promises at this stage about the undertakings for 1949.

Russians Go After Acting Berlin Mayor

BERLIN, Sept. 23.—(AP). — Communists launched a new assault on Berlin's elected city government today. The official Communist press demanded the removal of Acting Mayor Ferdinand Friedensburg.

The Communists accused Friedensburg, a Christian Democrat, of "anti-Soviet provocations" which they said no longer could be tolerated.

The new attack indicated a Communist campaign to drive the executive branch of the government from their headquarters in City Hall, which is in the Soviet sector of Berlin. Communist rioters already have driven out the City Assembly and forced it to seek refuge in the British sector.

Hint Blackouts For Some Cities

TORONTO, Sept. 23—(CP). — Blackouts by areas for some Ontario cities were forecast today by Hydro officials unless voluntary power-saving measures prove adequate in Ontario's growing electric supply shortage.

Brief cut-offs already had affected two centres, Windsor and Owen Sound, which Wednesday exceeded their daily quota. Toronto also fell down badly, going 186,730 kilowatt hours over the new low quota. One Hydro official predicted that unless a better showing is made, power blackouts such as the city had last spring may be necessary.

At Kingston, F. J. Parker, general manager of the Public Utilities Commission, warned that lack of co-operation, particularly from domestic consumers, may force Hydro cut-offs. He said response to power conservation pleas had been disappointing.

Court action may be launched against Hamilton merchants who have disobeyed rules restricting industrial lighting. General Manager A. W. Brandt of the Hamilton Hydro Commission said complaints had been received that some merchants left store lights burning after 9 p.m.

14 Dead, 47 Hurt In Cairo Explosion

CAIRO, Egypt, Sept. 23 (AP)—A shattering explosion in the Jewish quarter killed 14 persons and injured 47 Wednesday, a high Egyptian public security official said. The official expressed fear additional victims might be found beneath the debris of four houses wrecked by the blast.

Offer $20,000 For Bernadotte Murderers Fear Terrorists Strike At Israel Leaders

TEL AVIV — (CP).—All Israeli cabinet ministers, including the head of the Provisional Government, David Ben-Gurion, today received letters threatening them with death for their action against the Stern gang terrorists' "fatherland front."

TEL AVIV, Sept. 23 (CP)—David Ben Gurion, Israeli prime minister, today announced a $20,000 reward for information leading to arrest of the murderers of Count Bernadotte, the United Nations mediator.

Earlier Justice Minister Felix Rosenblueth said that the lives of Israeli government leaders are "in danger as long as terrorism survives."

"No Jew has been killed yet by terrorists, but that's no guarantee," the minister said in an interview. "I am hopeful that in several months — perhaps three months — terrorism can be eradicated. But it will require stern enforcement of government measures and education, chiefly through the press, so that the terroristic minded will not feel they have the slightest public support."

A special United Nations investigation team left Haifa for Latrun to investigate the Arab attacks on a Jerusalem-bound convoy yesterday near Latrun. Four persons were killed in the attack on the convoy, which had been proceeding under United Nations sponsorship.

Rosenblueth said anti-terrorist measures adopted by Israel "are not so extreme as those by the American government against Communists in the United States."

Czech Captain To Die As 'British Spy'

PRAGUE, Sept. 23 — (AP). — A Czech army captain has been sentenced to death, charged with spying for Britain. The government said 32 other persons are under arrest, accused of spying for the United States.

The captain, Rudolf Hrazdilek, was sentenced Wednesday night to be hanged for high treason and "crimes against the people's democratic regime.' He was accused of turning information over to a British intelligence agent.

The announcement came during a search for persons circulating anti-government statements charging that Jan Masaryk, former foreign minister, was murdered. The government called Masaryk's death, a month after the Communists seized power, a suicide.

Twenty-two men and women charged with circulating such pamphlets have received prison sentences ranging from one to nine years. Another 76 have been arrested on the same count.

Turns Gun On Himself, Dies At Noon

Sneaks Into House
Kills Victim
Before Other Roomers

PARIS, Ont., Sept. 23 (CP)—Miss Stase Stonkute, 33, a Lithuanian displaced person employed as a hospital laundry worker, was shot three times through the heart today as other occupants of the rooming house looked on.

Police say she was shot by Antanas Virbickas, 38, also a D.P., who turned the gun upon himself and who died at noon in hospital.

Coroner Dr. E. B. Patterson said the double shooting was a result of a "lover's quarrel" a few days ago.

Virbickas is reported to have left his home in Brantford where he was employed as a carpenter, and arrived in Paris early today.

It is alleged he slipped into the rooming house through the back door which was left unlocked. The coroner said the man walked into the woman's bedroom and without saying a word, fired a revolver at almost point-blank range.

"He paid no attention to pleas of two other roomers to go away," Dr. Patterson said. "While one of the girls ran out for help, he fired as the other watched."

Dr. Patterson said he believed the couple knew each other in Europe.

Intended To Marry

Virbickas is reported to have told National Employment Service officials at Brantford last Saturday that he intended to marry Miss Stonkute. However, friends here say the woman said she didn't think she would marry him because she preferred Canadian to European men.

National Employment Service officials at Brantford say Virbickas came from a displaced person camp in Europe a few months ago. He worked in the Kirkland Lake district, and after completing his contract terms there he moved to Paris. He stayed in a Paris hotel for about two weeks, and friends said they believe he came to see Miss Stonkute.

Hurricane Heads For Bermuda

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 23 (AP) — Severe gales of near-hurricane force threatened the island of Bermuda today as a hurricane that left three dead and an estimated $25,000,000 damage in Florida expanded at sea.

A noon weather bureau advisory said heavy gales will cover the area from near the Carolina coast to and beyond Bermuda.

Winds along the Carolina coast will be fresh to rather strong, but no dangerous winds are expected on shore. Small craft were warned to stay in port.

The hurricane moved into the Atlantic yesterday after crossing Cuba and Florida. In Cuba, six persons were killed and the damage estimated at $3,000,000.

Key West alone estimated loss at $1,000,000, principally to its waterfront and shipping.

Australia Badly Shocked By Lack of Preparedness

SYDNEY, Australia, Sept. 23.—(CP).—With the East-West tension over the Berlin deadlock increasing daily, Australians have been shocked by charges of the country's complete lack of preparedness for another war emergency.

In the Tasmanian House of Representatives, Liberal member Charles W. Falkinder, one of Australia's most decorated Pathfinder navigators during the war, described the state of the RAAF as "pathetic."

Falkinder said Australia has only 84 operational aircraft which could be used as front-line machines in emergency. RAAF air crews transferred to the reserve were not getting enough flying to keep them in touch with modern equipments, and the radar equipment now in use was obsolete.

In Adelaide, South Austra..., Army Minister Cyril Chambers, replying to criticism of recruiting results for the citizen military force, said Australia would be unable to equip men at a greater rate than the present intake of 700 weekly.

The citizen military force, a volunteer militia group, is to compromise 50,000 men when recruiting is completed.

"Even if Australia had 10 times its proposed post-war armed-force strength in uniform it would be impossible to equip them with modern weapons and machines," he said. "This condition is not peculiar to Australia.

"It is universal, and despite alarmist claims about the Soviet Union the fact remains that most of the equipment the Russians have at the moment is obsolete."

Cripps To Meet Cabinet For More Talks

OTTAWA, Sept. 23 (CP)—The Anglo-Canadian economic and financial talks here today rolled into their third day.

Sir Stafford Cripps, the British Chancellor of the Exchequer, and his financial mission again were expected to meet members of the Canadian cabinet for a further discussion of the financial and economic relationships between the two countries.

There were indications that the talks may end today or tomorrow though Sir Stafford does not leave Ottawa until Sunday, when he is scheduled to fly to Washington for international financial meetings. Finance Minister Abbott will accompany him.

Sir Stafford told a press conference Wednesday that the discussions were "going very well" and that "progress" was being made. Beyond that, he had little to say.

The discussions, he went on, were on a general basis, with the whole long-term program of trade between the dollar and non-dollar countries as the major item under consideration. He was not dealing with food contracts "or that sort of thing."

Haven't Discussed Loan

He said he had not yet sounded out the cabinet on the possibility of Canada unblocking the remaining portion—$240,000,000—of the frozen Canadian loan to Britain. Nor could he say whether that would come up later in the talks. It would depend upon "how they go."

As for the question of whether his proposals contemplated a lower rate of trade with Canada, he said the delegation had not "got down" to the question of a detailed program.

He said he was not here to negotiate the purchase of strategic materials, but there were certain raw materials that Britain would buy in larger quantities if her production continued to rise.

Sir Stafford told the conference it would be 1952, at least, before holders of the pound sterling could exchange it for hard currencies. This long-sought convertibility of sterling "certainly won't" come in the immediate period following the end of Marshall aid in 1952.

No Rush

Sir Stafford told his press conference that this convertibility of sterling "certainly won't" come in the immediate period following the lapsing of Marshall aid and predicted that some export and import controls still might be necessary in that interim period.

(Convertibility of sterling would mean that it could be converted into any other currency. Countries receiving sterling in payment for goods sold to Britain would easily be able to exchange it for any other currency they wished.)

But, at the same time, Sir Stafford said there was "absolutely" no possibility of a devaluation of the pound. Such a move would be "suicidal" because it would mean that Britain would have to pay more for her imports and would get less for her exports.

Plan Local Elections For France In Oct.

PARIS, Sept. 23. (AP)—The National Assembly decided Wednesday that local elections will be held in France next month. The action climaxed a party quarrel and, threatened the existence of Premier Henri Queuille's recently-organized government. By a vote of 284 to 271, the assembly reversed its decision for postponement of the balloting taken three weeks ago.

Woman Escapes Gallows Convicted of Manslaughter

TORONTO, Sept. 23 — (CP). — Freed of a murder charge, Yvonne Brouillette, 38, will be sentenced Friday for manslaughter in the hatchet-slaying last June of John F. Farrell, 33.

The Assize Court jury Wednesday rejected a defence plea for acquittal on the grounds that when the woman hacked Farrell 35 times with a hatchet in the couple's roominghouse bedroom she was defending herself against the man who had earlier threatened to kill her.

Mr. Justice Keiller Mackay told the jury he agreed with its verdict and its decision to reduce the charge. He added:

"The evidence did not support a charge of murder."

The trim, dark-haired woman showed no emotion when she heard the jury foreman announce that she had been spared the gallows. She had broken down and wept in her cell when the jury retired three hours earlier at the close of the three-day trial.

Th most dramatic moment of the hearing came late Tuesday when the black-garbed woman, sobbing in the witness box, declared she took the ax to Farrell, with whom she had lived intermittently for a year and a half, after he beat her and threatened to kill her. She told the court:

"It was his life or mine."

In Great Fear

Mr. Rose insisted the woman was in fear of her life when she seized the hatchet in the roominghouse basement and took it up to her bedroom. When Farrell sought to attack her again, she struck him.

Crown Counsel W. O. Gibson told the jury that when the woman left the room where Farrell lay intoxicated, she could have either fled or gone to others in the roominghouse for protection. Instead, after a few minutes, she returned with the hatchet.

"Did she stand at the doorway at the head of the bed and cut him to pieces without any more ado?" Mr. Gibson asked. "There is strong evidence to support that. She went at the business enthusiastically, exhaustively, then went and asked the landlord, Nicholas Tennyson, to come and see what a lovely job she had done on him."

Find Trends Firmer In Light Trading

TORONTO, Sept. 23.—((CP).—Trends were firmer in light trading today on the Toronto stock exchange. Selected industrials edged narrowly upwards and golds and base metals held steady on mixed gains and losses. Western oils were almost inactive.

Papers showed improvement in industrials while utilities, steels, liquors and foods were mixed. The new $25 par value shares of Bell Telephone were posted for trading today on a "when issued" basis and were selling at $43. Canadian Vickers Pfd rose $2 at a high of $185 to add to Wednesday's $5 gain.

Senior golds were ahead and juniors weakened on penny losses. Dome Mines, Hollinger, and Teck-Hughes fgirmed in seniors. Preston, San Antonio, Nicholson, Conwest, Delnite and Dulama dipped 1 to 10 cents in juniors.

Base metals opened weakly but firmed in mid-session and were climbing steadily. Noranda, Hudson Bay, Pen Oreille, Base Metals Corp., Falconbridge and Sherritt were among gainers.

Obituaries

MRS. ROBERT L. CRERAR

Mrs. Robert L. Crerar, of 297 Pearl Ave., died today in hospital following a short illness. She was born in Peterborough, Ida May, daughter of the late Thomas Rehill and Jane Redmond, and lived all her life in the city.

Besides her husband she leaves one daughter, Mrs. E. G. Norman of Barrie and one John M., of Peterborough. There are three sisters, Miss Ethel Rehill of this city, Mrs. N. V. Greenlee of Chicago, Ill., and Mrs. H. Johnson of Brockville. One brother Howard also lives here.

She was a very active member of Trinity United Church, a member of its women's Missionary Society, a member of the Elizabeth Parker Auxiliary and of the Canadian Red Cross Society.

Funeral service will be held on Saturday at 2:30 p.m. at the Nisbett Funeral Home. The Rev. Dr. Bruce Gordon will officiate and burial will be at Little Lake Cemetery.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Sept. 23 — (AP). — Wheat advanced fractionally at the opening of the Board of Trade today while other grains held about at yesterday's close. The advance in wheat was attributed to some mill buying against sales of flour to the government.

Wheat opened ⅛-½ cent higher than yesterday's close, December $2.26-2.26⅛; corn was ⅛ higher to ¼ lower, December $1.41⅝-1.42, and oats were unchanged, December 73.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, Sept. 23 (CP). — Oats and barley futures advanced slightly in early trade today on the Winnipeg grain exchange as eastern and commission house buying appeared in both grains. American interests also were on the buying side in oats, but turned sellers in a small way in barley. Offerings, mostly in the form of hedging sales, were light.

Rye prices also scored gains on light local buying. Offerings here too were light. Flax trade was light and thin and prices remained unchanged from yesterday's close.

Britain Plans

craft work.

Navy—The Royal Naval volunteer reserve was seeking to increase its strength to 7,500 ratings in the next six months, mostly from those who have already served.

Civil defence — Thousands of men and women in the forces were being trained in civil defence duties, except fire-fighting.

Alexander said there would be new types of armament for the gradual re-equipment of Britain's post-war forces. Much of Britain's stocks had become depleted since the end of the war and were not well balanced. Measures now taken provide for the increased production of certain of the latest types and for reconditioning of certain other existing wartime equipment.

Production of the latest type of jet interceptor fighters was being increased to nearly double the planned rate.

Acting swiftly as Moscow talks on Berlin are deadlocked, Britain has, within the last few days, ordered a slowdown of demobilization, launched an intense recruiting campaign, especially for the RAF, and begun a revival of her elaborate wartime civilian defence system.

In addition, the Admiralty has ordered 100 of its 500 idle warships overhauled for active service, and the Air Ministry has called for double jet-fighter production.

Viscount Hall, First Lord of the Admiralty, disclosed Wednesday night that Britain's defence forces plan an emergency reserve of war veterans for immediate service.

His announcement was made in a defence debate in the House of Lords.

The British home fleet will sail for the West Indies in what Lord Hall said will be "the biggest and most important naval cruise and exercises since the war."

Emergency Reserve

Lord Hall told the peers that the Admiralty will set up a "new emergency reserve consisting of men in previous service in the Royal Navy and Royal Marines who will volunteer for immediate recall in the event of an emergency."

The army and air force will make similar announcements soon, he said.

Lord Hall's announcement came as W. J. Edwards, Civil Lord of the Admiralty, in the House of Commons reported "satisfactory progress" in the planned build-up of the Royal Navy's peacetime strength.

But he declined to disclose the present strength of the home fleet. He said refitting of destroyers and escort vessels had been speeded up in accordance with government policy.

During the Lords debate, some peers suggested that the government again muster the home guard for Britain's defence.

This suggestion caused men who were civilians by day and soldiers by night and during week-ends for four years to prick up their ears and wonder if they will take their khaki tunics from moth-balls. They were the men who were ready to repel Hitler with pikes and shotguns.

Organize in Short Time

When they stood down in 1944, more than 1,700,000 were then in the guard. They drilled, patrolled and stood by in every city and hamlet. Some nad only clubs for arms in 1940 but by 1944 they had 140,000 on anti-aircraft duty, 7,000 with the coastal artillery and 7,000 on bomb disposal.

While Foreign Minister Bevin told the House of Commons that Britain would stand firm against Russia in Europe, Lord Blackford in the Lords', defence debate said the whole electoral roll of the country should be enrolled under the generic term of the home guard and parceiled out to specific duties.

Lord Hampton said plans to revive the home guard should be ready now. Reorganization of the essential force could be done rapidly.

Viscount Hail, for the government, said that the cabinet is alive to the value of home guards but civil defence generally is likely to make a demand on manpower and this factor is vital in considering re-establishment.

He said an announcement on reserves policy is likely in the House of Commons today.

Port Hope 'Master Plan' May Come; Needs Outlined

PORT HOPE, Sept. 23—"Your town is very interesting, picturesque and well developed," John Bland, Director of Architecture at McGill University, told the Board of Trade Annual Dinner Tuesday night. He added that, "it is one of which you should be proud."

The speaker addressed a meeting of more than 50 board members and guests, including members of the town council and other prominent citizens of Port Hope.

Mr. Bland outlined the make-up of the average town, how it was originally planned, how the foundations of that planning met future requirements and what was to be kept in mind for future town planning.

"All towns," he said, "are fundamentally similar. Differences are really only superficial. They all have a core, containing the main businesses, administration, the highest land values and easy accessibility. In the outskirts, there are the residences and gardens and farther out, the low cost houses."

All towns are basically concentric, the speaker said, the "area of accessibility" was not strictly concentric, but actually star shaped, along the routes of easy transportation. This divided towns into sections each sharing at the centre. This average plan, disregards construction of the terrain on which the town is built.

Grow Slowly

Declaring towns were better off when they grew slowly, he pointed out that in large cities, people of the highest income level lived in the very centre of the "area:" However, it was pointed out, in a small town the rich homes became Bohemian areas if the town grew very rapidly. They became the low cost areas of even the slums.

It has been found, he said, that people of about the same income bracket live in and make a particular area. These are known as "natural areas." In many cases they are bounded by natural features such as railway tracks, heavy traffic arteries, hill sides, escarpments and even cemeteries and church-owned property.

If town planners utilize the space they have in each area, he said, wealth will be preserved for a long period. To bring home his point he referred to Port Hope and how, when it was first planned, and allowed to expand along the river. Mill street was a street of mills. The hill sides and tops were utilized for valuable houses.

When the town expanded between 1837 and 1888, it developed along Walton Street. The Drill Shed once by the Town Hall, was torn down and a park enlarged. That area, he said "would be expected to have the oldest buildings in town." He also mentioned the railways which separate the town.

Must Consider Needs

In planning a town, he emphasized, be conscious of inter-action which is always shaping the pattern of the town independent of anything we may do. You can't make a town fit a pattern because of these natural forces, which include: geography and habits or customs of the people.

"You must consider the needs of people, the way they compete and select," he said.

A rapid growth of a town, however, increased the difficulty of the difficulty of the planners' problems, he said, as people were not always able to grasp the problems and in making a hasty decision did not always do the best thing.

He commended the Town Council for passing the Town Building and Zoning By-laws, saying they were on the right track when they started out to solve the problems themselves.

"You know your problems," he continued, "and according to the Ganaraska River Conservation Authority report, floods and the river have affected the growth of Port Hope. The fulfillment of the report should be reached. Street traffic is another problem according to the sings re-directing trucks around the town. By-passes have been used to solve that problem, but some don't like them."

The speaker declined speaking on the area for industrial expansion stating he would like to have more information first. He did say, however, that such areas required lots of space and flat ground and that they be served by good roads. He advised adequate conservation of well developed areas, "as no areas should be considered worn out."

Housing a Problem

Wartime Housing Areas have raised a problem, he said. There is need to plan for parks, schools or facilities to school, shops. Then there are the problems of water and sewage, electricity and other services which must be solved.

"Consider the economic pattern of the plan and the use of the land. If this is not respected, it will collapse."

Referring to the matter of education for the areas as they required them, such as the Wartime Housing areas, he offered the advice that the people would arrive at the best solution by airing the problems in discussion

Mr. Bland was thanked by R. B. Baxter.

Master Plan

A short discussion period followed, during which Councillor W. N. Moore, chairman of the Town Planning Committee of Council, said that he had been appointed to the office with Reeve E. B. Lingard and Councillor W. J. Austin. They had done much reading and thought the committee should be made up of the whole council. He said, "The matter requires a great deal of consideration."

It all requires lots of money and all should be in on it, he pointed out. They should decide; they have to raise the money. There is talk of a $200,000 public school, an addition to the Dr. Powers public school, a sewage disposal plant is under consideration and then there is a High school, all probably to come within the next three or four years.

Councillor Moore suggested a Master Plan be drawn up which would be put to a vote of the people.

"It seems to me," he said, "that we should have a Master Plan to be voted on by the people or else let's drop the whole thing." He also pointed out that the Town Planning committee was not supposed to bring in a report on the subject but just to recommend.

Welch Tries Second Jail Escape

TORONTO, Sept. 23 — (CP). — Reform Minister Dunbar said Wednesday night that guards had foiled a second attempt by Joseph Vernon Welch to break out of Elgin county jail at St. Thomas, Ont.

Welch has been in custody since last March pending an appeal of a 10-year sentence for poisoning his wife. He was convicted of manslaughter. His first bid for freedom was made July 29 and, while he made his get-away, he was picked up in Toronto two days later. His latest attempt occurred Sept. 2.

Mr. Dunbar said Welch had made his way to the county jail attic by removing bricks from his cell. He used a nail file to scrape away the mortar and loosen the bricks.

By using a chair in his cell he was able to cover up his work in a corner so the guards never detected him. He flushed the mortar as he removed it down the toilet.

Eventually, Welch squeezed through a small opening in the bricks, and from a corridor he made his way to the attic where he was confronted by solid masonry. He was in the midst of smashing a hole through the slate roof when discovered.

When he escaped July 29 Welch used a clothesline to scale an 18-foot wall. He dropped to a laneway at the rear of the jail and fled.

name to be in nomination for the leadership of the Progressive Conservative party at the forthcoming national convention.

"Holding strong views, as I do, as to the necessity of restoring fully the national complexion of the party, I must accept the responsibility of sharing to the utmost in the task of rebuilding it and of regaining for it the confidence of Canadians in all parts of this land. From many responsible quarters have come challenging assurances that I am in a position to contrbute particularly to the winning of confidence and support for our party in that part of Canada where we have for the last thirteen years been so weak in numbers.

"At forty-three years of age, I hope I am still young enough to interpret the aspirations and ideals of those with whom rests the future of Canada, and old enough to appreciate the responsibility of our nation and our party, and the tasks of leadership.

"Into these tasks, if it be the will of the delegates, I am prepared to throw all the vigor and energy which I possess, and to seek to intensify and extend the party's efforts and activities for the benefit of Canada in a spirit of team play."

Armed Forces Have Become Pioneers In Arctic Life

OTTAWA, Sept. 23.—(CP). — Canada's armed forces have learned the "importance of preparedness" and are setting out to conquer the "Great North" for our "collective security," Deputy Defence Minister Paul Mathieu said today.

"Through force of circumstances and for the good of all Canada, they have to take upon themselves the role of pioneers," the deputy minister said in a speech prepared for delivery before the Ottawa-Hull Richelieu Club.

It was not just a matter of "pushing back the limits of civilization," Col. Mathieu said. "The army has, as it were, to lay the foundation of a new civilization, as living conditions are all new problems in the Arctic."

"This is why the army has put up the testing station at Fort Churchill. This is truly an Arctic university, intended to facilitate research and experiments, and to pierce the mystery of the Great White Silence."

Many Difficulties

There were difficulties. One was in the field of signalling, "due to the rather abnormal ways of the top air layers."

As new armed forces establishments "are spreading out towards the north," new diet standards had to be established and new scientifically - adapted clothing had to be perfected.

"Special attention was paid to certain medical problems particular to the Arctic," Col. Mathieu said. These included snow blindness and fog blindness.

"The problem of surface transport was solved by building a new type of snowmobile, tried out during the musk-ox expedition and greatly improved upon since...."

"All these researches are being made with the closest co-operation of our other armed forces, of our good neighbors, the Americans, the Mounted Police, the Northwest Territories Administration Board, the Transport Department and Mines and Resources Department.

"We are not, and we have never been, militarists," concluded Col. Mathieu. "However," after taking part in two world wars within a quarter of a century, we have learned the importance of preparedness. . . .And are now setting after the peaceable conquest of the Great North to ensure our collective security."

Nail Production Down

OTTAWA, Sept. 23 — (CP).— Nail production in Canada declined during July from the June level but was still well above the corresponding 1947 output, the Bureau of Statistics reported today. July output totalled 6,482 tons compared with June's 7,960. In July, 1947, however, production was only 5,636 tons.

"Kennel bred, Gro-Pup fed...this champion!"

Mrs. E. R. MacNeil's prize-winning "Will Winkie" — with breeder, O. A. Sawler, Brookside Kennels, Dartmouth, N.S. Mr. Sawler writes: "After feeding Gro-Pup for five years, I recommend it for all dogs. You can see the results in strong teeth, glossy coats, and well-formed bones . . . yes, Gro-Pup helps build champions!"

WHY BREEDERS FEED GRO-PUP. Breeders know it is not safe to try to raise dogs on "table scraps." Dogs need a properly balanced diet that gives them everything they must have for strong bones, sound teeth, and a beautiful coat. That's why breeders feed Gro-Pup.

GRO-PUP IS A PROPERLY BALANCED DIET to keep dogs of all ages, sizes and breeds at their natural best. Not only do dogs like it but it contains every vitamin and mineral they are known to need.

—feed your dog as famous kennels do...

GRO-PUP SAVES YOU MONEY. It costs only 5¢ a day to feed a good-sized dog. It is all dry solid food. That is why Gro-Pup is so economical. A 2-lb. package actually contains as much solid food (dry weight) as your dog could get in five 1-lb. cans of ordinary dog food.

Feed your dog as famous kennels do. Buy him Gro-Pup. Your grocer has it in both cubes and meal form—for variety.

War Nervousness

The prospect of war,' perhaps of imminent war, must be faced. There is no need to become hysterical about it; indeed there is danger if we should become excited and give way to hysteria, wild words and quavering thinking. We feel sure that the sober and calculating General McNaughton must have been misquoted in the report from Paris which discredits him with saying: "We have a short time, perhaps five years, in which to try to reach a system on international atomic control before a time for hysteria really arrives". Canadians at least would be untrue to themselves and their traditions if they allowed a "time for hysteria" to blanch their society either now or five years hence. If we cannot face the future with confidence, we can and must look at it steadily, with calm and fortitude. Looking at it that way, we can even have hope.

* * *

General McNaughton is "quite certain" that Russia has not yet produced an atomic bomb. International agreements and conferences are providing for western and Canadian security in war or peace. Although the Minister of External Affairs admits that the danger of a third war is "the greatest since 1945" and that the international situation is grave, he also said in the same Kingston speech: "The United Nations has been weakened politically to the point of impotence. But we must not regard the future with despair. Defeatism is the worst sin today". Now is the time to be copy to men of our own blood and the spirit of Mr. Pearson, not a time to mimic excitable American broadcasters and news commentators, who are crying havoc and letting slip the dogs of war.

Democracy And Conventions

When the Liberal party held its convention in early August there was some criticism of its proceedings in the Conservative press, on the grounds that the convention was not "democratic". The national organization, in the opinion of these critics, controlled too many delegates. We confess that we do not follow the reasoning of those who say that such control is undemocratic; democracy does not imply an utter lack of organization, nor does it mean that no one should give thought to the outcome of a convention before the delegates meet. However, the Conservative organization has assured the public that its forthcoming convention would be conducted on the most democratic lines; let us therefore examine the composition of the voting power at that convention.

First of all, Conservative privy councillors, senators and members of Parliament will have votes, as will also the members of provincial legislatures and party executives. We estimate that there are about 237 such voters altogether. Then there will be three official delegates, with alternatives, from each federal electoral district. And finally there will be 311 delegates-at-large, chosen by the party organization.

As there will be 1,313 delegates in all, we see that 548 of them will not be chosen by local Conservative organizations. What about the other 765? There are many electoral districts where no Conservative organization exists, and this is particularly the case in Quebec. In such districts the convention executive chooses delegates—and unless we are greatly mistaken the delegates who are chosen will be told which candidate for leadership they are expected to support.

It will be seen, therefore, that the convention executive controls approximately half the votes at the convention. We have no objection to such a state of affairs. We belong to that despired minority which maintains that professional politicians make a better job of running political parties than well-meaning but inexperienced amateurs. We would bet a considerable sum that the party executive will get their man elected, and that their man will be Mr. Drew. That is quite all right with us. But we wish that the Conservative executive would stop pretending that their convention is going to be run on some plan which differs from any convention plan that Canada has ever seen.

The Girl Who Walked Into The River

There was an outburst of editorial indignation when the news became public that Violet Goglin, of Palmer Rapids, had walked into the Madawaska River and drowned on September 1; such conduct, said the papers, was sheer folly, and the insistence of the girl's relatives that she had done what she did at the bidding of God was wicked nonsense.

We are not altogether sure that we agree with our editorial brethren that Violet Goglin's action was nonsense. Strange, inexplicable — it was both of those things, but nonsense? Who is to say that such an action is nonsense? And what newspaper editor in Canada—however great his circulation—dares to say that God did not command the girl to behave in this extraordinary way?

We venture to suggest, however, that the inexplicable behaviour of Violet Goglin might have something to do with a lack of sound theological teaching in her education. We are constantly surprised by the number of people we meet who suffer from the same lack. There are, as everyone knows—or ought to know—four Cardinal Virtues, and one of them is Prudence. Now Prudence in this connection does not mean playing safe, but it does mean practical commonsense—a thorough consideration of the nature and probable outcome of your actions. Prudence is the mortal enemy of those pipe-dreams of holiness which are so popular with the members of the theologically wobbly sects which exist on the outskirts of evangelical Protestantism. Faith is a very great—an indispensable—part of any religious belief. But faith without a firm theological structure to support it leads to such vagaries of behaviour as that which took Miss Goglin into the Madawaska River.

Sometimes we are surprised by the lack of interest in theology which is evident in many churches today. Theology is hard chewing, but without it faith is a dangerous intoxicant.

A Compromise Touching Dr. Worton

The Board of Health's bond has not been quite as good as its word in the case of Dr. Worton, veterinary surgeon in its employ. Dr. Worton, who is on leave of absence to take an eight-month course in Toronto, will receive salary for the period of $2,000 instead of $2,400 as initially decided, and will contract to serve the Board for three years after completion of the course.

The Board of Health acted originally without due study of the issues involved but it could not honourably nullify its first decision. The compromise now reached will satisfy some of the critics and not outrage the others. It is not an extravagant grant—the net cost to the taxpayers will be merely $400. Nevertheless, a precedent has been set which may be embarrassing to future Boards of Health, the Board of Education and other civic bodies. Local teachers who have been granted a year's leave of absence to advance their academic qualifications have not received salary for time out.

Dr. Worton's position is not really analogous with a teacher's. His services will be available on week-ends and his additional qualifications will fit him into any extended pattern of our public health service. It can be observed that university teachers are granted sabbatical years (when they receive full salaries less the cost of employing a substitute), that the army sends able soldiers to universities on full pay, that industries send their employees on courses and pay all expenses as well as the full wages. The Board of Health's action was more unpolitical than unjustifiable.

NOTE AND COMMENT

The constant agitation of unions for shorter working hours is perfectly logical. The boys are just trying to make week-ends meet.

The most interesting headline we have seen recently is this: "Minna Everleigh, Who Made $1,000,000 in Chicago Brothels, Dies of Respectable Old Age in New York". But it doesn't say whether it was the age or the respectability which polished her off.

"In Grandma's day", writes Dorothy Dix, "kisses were jewels". Meaning, we suppose, that when a girl with teeth like pearls, ruby lips, and sapphire eyes consented to kiss a young chap with a heart of gold and sterling character, they exchanged letters from their bank managers before edging a little nearer on the parlour sofa.

'Oh Paddy Dear, And Did You Hear?...'

By T. J. A.

AND did you hear the news that's going around? The news is that the cry for a United Ireland has been revived by the new head of the Eire Government, Mr. Costello (who has been visiting Canada), and his lieutenants. Mr. Costello is not the kind of Irish politician who will let shamrocks shrivel. A demand for the "return" of the six Ulster counties to Ireland is never unpopular in Eire, and has its supporters even in the North (Ulster). Ulster has also an ardent group who, touching a question like this, are more British than the British. They will never let the old flag fall. They have kept the same party in office at Stormont (the seat of government in Belfast) since the partition in 1920. Sir Basil Brooke is now the Prime Minister of Northern Ireland.

* * *

THE six pages of the weekly "Mid-Ulster Mail", of August 21st, published in Cookstown, County Tyrone, reflect the agitation and reactions in rural Ulster. A "Monster Anti-Partition Demonstration" was advertised to be held on the next Sunday, and cheap excursion fares were offered from Cookstown, Stewartstown, Coalisland, Dungannon, Donaghmore, Pomeroy, Carrickmore, Beragh etc., as an inducement to attend the Demonstration at Bundoran. "Fast Excursion Train, Nine Hours At Sea". Bundoran is in Donegal, Irish Free State (Eire). Another big Demonstration was advertised to be held at Ballygawley (County Antrim, Ulster). This was to take place on the preceding day, and was anti-Anti-Partition, of course.

* * *

A NEWS item headed "The Hand of Friendship" and subheaded "Right Hand Or Left?" (the "Mid-Ulster Mail" is not notoriously in sympathy with Eire) began as follows:

"Special shorthand writer attached to the Royal Ulster Constabulary were present and took notes at the A.O.H. demonstrations held at Stewartstown and Newry over the weekend.

"Speaking at Stewartstown on Saturday Mr. Joseph Stewart, M.P., one of the principal speakers, said Sir Basil Brooke had no authority to speak for the people of the Six Counties, because the majority of the people of Tyrone, Fermanagh, Derry City, South Armagh, and South Down had repeatedly demonstrated their desire for a united Ireland.

"Mr. Stewart referred to the presence of a police notetaker, and said: 'I hope this representative of Mr. Warnock's will go back and tell his boss that we, the Hilbernians and Nationalists of Tyrone, loathe and despise every Act of the Northern Administration, and that we deny the right of Stormont or the British Parliament to govern this part of Ireland.'"

* * *

ON the 12th of August "20,000 members of the Apprentice Boys of Derry and friends"" travelled to Londonderry to attend the celebration of the 259th anniversary of the Relief of Derry. "The loyalist parts of the city were a blaze of colour" says the news report. By 'Loyalist' is meant 'loyal to Britain'. The Dean of Derry preached—a remarkably peaceful sermon, it would seem. "The same old watchword of 'No Surrender' is needed today just as much as it was needed and used in 1689". He had a few sharp things to say about the 'Ne Temere' decree of Pope Pius X in 1908.

* * *

ON the same day a loyal gentleman addressed a meeting at Moy (County Tyrone). The report begins:

"The answer of Ulster loyalists to the blandishments and cajoleries of Mr. Costello, and the latest offer of Mr. McKeown to give them a fifth share in the Government of an United Ireland, was 'No Surrender,' declared Mr. W. F. McCoy, K.C., M.P., addressing a meeting of several thousands of members of Royal Black Preceptories at the historic fort, Charlemont, Moy, on 12th August.

"Referring to the lying propaganda, vilification and pernicious attacks by their enemies, Mr. McCoy said they could be disregarded in Ulster, but the effect produced across the water (i.e., in England) had to be considered and steps taken to nullify it. He could inform their opponents that there was no Border problem between Northern Ireland and Eire, because that was settled under the Act of 1920, and no man dare alter it. They would never suffer themselves to be put under the domination of any Church that would deny them civil and religious freedom."

IT would be misleading to assume from these reports in the "Mid-Ulster Mail" that trouble is brewing in Ireland. There are cool heads at Belfast and Dublin which would prevent the folly of the 'throubles' of 1919-21 recurring. Nor has the "Mid-Ulster Mail" anything to say editorially about the matter. It has, however, no editorial columns.

* * *

PROOF that fun and games are still being had is in the Notices, though one might suspect some political shenanigans even in them, from the strange way they read. There was one large advertisement for "Football and Camogie" sponsored by the "Ardboe O'Donovan Rossa G.F.C. & St. Mel's Camogie Club". There were three events: Ardboe O'Donovan Rossa versus Clonoe O'Rahilly's, in East Tyrone Senior League (2) Ardboe St. Mel's versus Nebridge Sean O'Leary's, in Challenge Camogie Match, (3) Ardboe O'Donovan Rossa versus Belfast Tyrone O'Neill's in a Challenge Football Match. These were held on Sunday at the Gaelic Park, Ardboe. Admission was two shillings. The advertisement had this interesting footnote: "Ceilidhe will follow in Joseph Devlin Memorial Hall". 'Ceilidhe' is not a damsel with smiling Irish eyes, but the Erse and Gaelic word for "A gala party", which in both Wales and Ireland usually turns out to be a dreary church social. It is interesting to find in a Northern Ireland paper these Erse terms ('camogie, ceilidhe') used in several advertisements.

RETREAT FROM MOSCOW

Letters To The Editor

TOOT! TOOT! FROM HA! HA!

Sir: So industry in Peterborough is discussing ways and means to alleviate the power scarcity. Well, here's hoping the General Electric starts a shift at midnight to treat the City Fathers to five extra blasted blasts of that whistle. Maybe some action might then be taken to stop it.

MRS. HA! HA!

THANKS, PETERBOROUGH

Sir: I wish to thank you for publishing the article regarding my inability to find rooms.

I had numerous phone calls from people in Peterborough and in the surrounding country and I greatly appreciate the kindness shown to me, a stranger.

I would be glad if you would extend my thanks to all of the people who opened their door to me, and as a Scot I would say "thanks, Peterborough".

I have now been fixed up for a time, which will give me a breather to look around for a place of my own. I shall always be grateful and remember throughout the years the proposition of finding a place to stay, and how the 'Examiner' aided me.

I am, Yours faithfully,
MR. AND MRS. QUINTIN DICK & ALAN.

SOME QUESTIONS FOR HYDRO

Sir: The autocratic government of Hydro has apparently not paid off. Sitting on top of the best water supplies on the continent the Hydro has been too anxious to build big executive quarters where unlimited time is spent to writing a second Bible—regulations governing just how everyone is going to live, and use their power. Incidentally they do not abide by the regulations themselves.

If the extensive quarters on University Ave. had been turned into power development, it would have been a definite help, and if the small plants in this vicinity had not been scrapped, and if the great moguls on University Ave. would think in smaller quantities than 50,000 h.p. machines, and if our own resources would be developed, rather than be dependent on Quebec—then our power situation would be different.

Have you heard of signs being turned out in Montreal or Quebec city or have you heard of the things that are happening here going on in any of the United States?

Why are we burdened with this terrific overhead and realizing nothing in foresight? Why are these people in a position to tell the municipalities just what they have to do? Why should such a fascist regime exist in our midst? Why do we never have a public report in our newspapers as what happens to the millions of revenue that goes through their coffers?

Get those fellows out from behind the big flat top desks and get some post holes dug.

Yours truly,
W. A. K.

Seven-Cent Coin

What the United States needs is a good seven-cent nickel. At least that's the opinion of Representative John W. McCormack of Massachusetts. He has already introduced a bill to provide for such a coin, and it will again come before Congress at its next session.

The United States mint has experimented with odd coins before now. At various times such curiosities as 20-cent pieces, three and two-cent pieces, and even a half-cent piece (for church collection plates, no doubt) were in circulation.

They are now sought by collectors only. A 12½-cent coin was also considered, but never authorized.—Calgary Herald.

Niagara Dim-Out

Niagara Falls city councillors, protesting a proposal to reduce street lighting there as a power conservation measure, claim that their city, located in the heart of the power section, is the poorest lighted community in Ontario—even in Canada.

We rise to take exception to that claim. In our considered opinion, Fort Erie, also in the heart of the power section, is in a position to make a strong bid for that dubious honour. And the most dimly-lighted section of the whole community is the Niagara boulevard—which should be the brightest.—Fort Erie Times-Review.

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Thus saith the Lord, What iniquity have your fathers found in me, that they are gone far from me, and have walked after vanity, and are become vain?....Wherefore I will yet plead with you, saith the Lord, and with Hath a nation changed their gods, which your children's children will I plead.... are yet no gods? but my people have changed their glory for that which doth not profit... For my people have committed two evils; they have forsaken me the fountain of living waters, and hewed them out cisterns, broken cisterns, that can hold no water....

As the thief is ashamed when he is found, so is the house of Israel ashamed; they, their kings, their princes, and their priests, and their prophets, saying to a stock, Thou art my father; and to a stone, Thou hast brought me forth: for they have turned their back unto me, and not their face: but in the time of their trouble they will say, Arise, and save us. (Jer. 2: 5, 9, 11, 13, 26, 27.)

Unconsidered Trifles

Father didn't approve of a lot of things which happened these days, especially did he dislike the modern modes.

"Pah!" he snorted. "I don't know what the world's coming to. Let me tell you that your mother never dressed to catch a husband the way you girls do today."

But her daughter was ready for that one.

"No," she replied, "and look what she got."

* * *

"Ah, there you are, waiter. The sea air has made me hungry. I think I'll have some chicken. It must be a young cockerel this year's bird, and I want a leg—nothing else, mind."

Two hunters, enjoying a meal, had rested their rifles against a tree some distance away. Suddenly a bear emerged from the woods and made towards them. One man quickly climbed the nearest tree; but the other, somewhat portly, started to run, with the bear at his heels.

Just as it was about to catch him he suddenly disappeared into a hole in the ground. The bear overshot the hole and, quick as a flash, the man scrambled out and fled in the opposite direction, again pursued by the bear. Leading the chase back towards the hole, he repeated the first performance, and once more the bear overshot the hole.

After this had happened several times, his friend shouted down from the treetop.

"Hey, you dumb fool! Why the heck don't you stay in the hole?"

"Can't," gasped the portly one, still running, "There's another bear in that hole!"

Mr. and Mrs. Woggins had just returned to their boarding-house after a few hours on the sands.

"Did you see that ventriloquist on the beach?" asked another boarder.

"Do you mean the fellow sitting on a ladder?" asked Mrs. Woggins.

"Yes."

"Well, I didn't think much of him," said Mrs. Woggins, "but the boy sitting on his knee was awfully clever!"

Mine Leaders Know Pits At First Hand

By DAVE McINTOSH

TRURO, NS, Sept. 23—(CP)—The men who run the United Mine Workers are blunt miners who talk straight from the shoulder.

They are the men who will carry the ball for 13,000 Maritime miners when the union opens wage negotiations for a $2.56 daily wage increase before its contract runs out next January.

All the delegates who sat in convention here recently to thrash out union policy had worked—or are working—in the pits.

Stocky, black-haired Freeman Jenkins, the UMW's 35-year-old president, spent 10 years underground before he became head of the union in 1942.

Then there was leathery-faced vice-president Tom Ling who fought in labor wars for 40 years, was beaten up and saw a fellow-miner shot to death in the 1925 strike.

Some of the others who attended were:

Howard Tattrie, board member for Springhill, NS, for 19 years, who said: "A strike is not a strike. It is a war. You have to fight and you have to pay."

Left Legislature

Douglas Macdonald, board member for New Waterford, who gave up his seat in the Nova Scotia Legislature because he thought he could not do both jobs efficiently. He was a CCF member.

Jack Delaney of Glace Bay, NS, whose father helped to found the UMW.

Andrew Conron, president of the powerful Phalen local in Glace Bay, known as 'the thinker.' He is one of the Jenkins' chief lieutenants.

Quiet-spoken Frank Guss, board member for New Brunswick, one of the most respected men in the union.

Steve Dolhanty of Florence, NS, one of Jenkins' chief opponents. Just past 40, he has worked in the mines for 25 years.

Sid Oram and Bernie Fortune, town councillors of Sydney Mines and Dominion, respectively, and Bob Stewart of Glace Bay, a Scot who has never lost his burr.

Johnny Odo of New Waterford, the kid who came out of the pit to win the Maritime lightweight championship—and then returned to the pit.

There was one physical characteristic common to all of them. Even at the end of the summer their faces were not tanned. They were almost white from years underground, with a tingle of blue-black from coal dust.

Clad in Leopard Skins Barotse is Crowned King

LUSAKA, Northern Rhodesia, Sept. 23 — (CP). — Lealui, the crowded capital of Barotseland, resounded recently to a brief and vigorouus beating of drums which marked the end of the coronation of Mwanawina III, the new paramount chief of the Babrotse nation.

Although Barotse custom decrees that the paramount chief must have at least six wives, Mwanawina, a Christian, has only one.

Mwanawina was chosen after long deliberations by the council of chiefs of this native reserve in northwest Rhodesia. The secret initiation took place at Makono, a little village across the Zambesi near Leahi.

Dressed in the traditional trappings of leopard and lion skins and wearing the head-dress of a lion's mane, Mwanawina set out alone for the spirit houses of Mbuywamwambwa, the original ancestress of all the Lozi. There he sought the guidance of her spirit

Then he was escorted to a tiny island in the Zambesi, where, attended by high priests, he was licked by a white cow to have anything unclean in body or mind washed away.

Extinguish All Fires

Another of the coronation rites included the extinguishing of all fires in the capital as soon as its inhabitants were informed that the new king had been selected. They were relighted from a fire started by the new king.

After the coronation ceremony the prime minister (Nyambela) made a speech on behalf of the king who, according to ancient custom, is not permitted to speak on the day of his coronation.

He assured the official British representatives of Mwanawina"s loyalty to Britain and to the present government of Northern Rhodesia and of the Barotse's friendliness towards the European community. The prime minister also said that the new king had promised to follow in the footsteps of hs father, Lewanika, and his brother, in the ruling of the people.

The British official in charge of Barotseland replied on behalf of the government and wished the king a long and prosperous reign. He assured the king of continued friendship between the Barotse nation and Mis Majesty's government.

100-Year-Old Hotel Sold At Cobourg

COBOURG, Sept. 23 (ENS).—The British Hotel, Cobourg's 100-year-old hostelry, was sold Wednesday by the proprietor, Lester Caughey, to Mr. and Mrs. R. Stephens of Toronto. The amount involved was not revealed but it is said to be in the neighborhood of $125,000.

For 22 years the hotel has been in the Caughey family, Elgin Caughey and son running it together until Caughey senior died 10 years ago. Since then, Lester Caughey has been the proprietor. There will be no change in the staff. The Caughey's bought the British Hotel from George Kingsley and before that it was operated by Albert Woods. The hotel has always enjoyed a big commercial trade and is one of the best known establishments of its kind in this part of the province. It can accommodate 50 guests.

Need Peace In World For Prosperity–Dewey

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M., Sept. 23 (AP)—Thomas E. Dewey Wednesday night said in a U.S. presidential election campaign speech that world peace and control of inflation are inseparable. "It is perfectly clear that we cannot get economic stability at home and go forward to a better life for everyone of us so long as we live in a world racked by the fear of war," he declared.

Man, 61, Charged With Attempted Rape

LINDSAY, Sept. 23. — James Steadman, 61, who has recently been released from jail, where he was serving a sentence of one week for stealing money from milk bottles, was remanded on Tuesday by Magistrate E. A. Gee for one week on a charge of attempting rape of an eight-year-old girl.

Post-War Criminals Said More Cynical

LONDON, Sept. 23.—(CP). — Britain's young post-war criminals apear even more cynical, irresponsible and unco-operative than their predecessors, says the current report of the prison commissioners.

One prison governor described the younger prisoners as "self-centred, unappreciative and idle."

Prison populations now total nearly 20,000. Convictions for crimes of violence, burglary and house-breaking have been more than doubled since 1938 and nearly trebled the 1913 figure.

The commissioners commented: "This reversion to conditions which have not been seen for some 40 years is more than disturbing in that the peak has clearly not been reached."

Hospitals Given Huge Apple Surplus

KENTVILLE, NS, Sept. 23 — (CP). — The Dominion Government is going to donate $2,000,000 worth of processed apples, now in Annapolis Valley storage plants, to Canadian hospitals and charitable institutions, it was learned here Wednesday. The government owns the apples, part of last year's surplus crop.

Gen. Nye Brings Wide Experience To Job In India

By JAMES MCCOOK
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Sept. 23—(CP)—A Dublin sergeant-major's son who honored his father by being a good soldier is the British government's representative in the new Dominion of India.

Ted Nye, tall, unobstrusive, even-tempered, carries his new title of nigh commissioner with the same ease as when he was a lance-corporal in charge of eight men in the First World War and a lieutenant-general in the Second World War helping to shape history as vice-chief of the Imperial General Staff.

Nothing seems to upset him, his friends say. And yet, in a burst of confidence, he told these friends in 1946 that he would not go to India as governor of Madras unless his daughter, then seven months old, could go too.

All the stories of Lt.-Gen. Sir Archibald Edward Nye, G.C.I.E., K.C.B., K.B.E., C.B., M.C., trace the picture of an agreeable personality clad as a staff officer who could speak the private's language.

The Indians liked him as a soldier and governor. When the Dominion government took over its own affairs last year he was one of the few governors invited to stay, and he did until his new appointment.

Dislike Palace

The sergeant-major's son did not like the governor's palace in Madras and with British government consent gave it to the Indians and used a small private residence. But no one thought Nye an easy mark. When an official searched his private summer home looking for some furniture, Nye snapped to the Indian prime minister, Pandit Nehru:

"I still happen to be governor. No one has a right to trespass in my private residence."

War records show Nye's success in dealing with men as well as in military planning. All the diverse personalities of the Allied High Command were his associates, the men who could make or break the proposals devised by strategists.

The Canadian generals—McNaughton, Crerar, Simonds—were his friends and colleagues. The Americans liked his dry wit. He gave the Russian generals the key to Britain's fighting spirit when he went with Foreign Secretary Eden to Moscow in December, 1941, to Dovetail Allied campaign plans. They agreed on everything.

That year he went on a holiday in an English village, where he wore plain tweeds and the little hotel knew him only as "that nice, quiet chap in a cap."

But wherever big things were afoot, there was the sergeant-major's son—at Winston Churchill's right hand at vital conferences, in the Near East talking to Arab notables, in India in 1942 with the Cripps mission to offer Indians a new constitution.

In 1939 he married a general's daughter—Coileen, whose father is Maj.-Gen. Sir Harry Knox.

OVER THE STRONG protests of Trans-Jordan and Iraq, Ahmed Hilmy Pasha (above), military governor of the Arab-held section of Jerusalem, has been appointed prime minister of the new Arab government for Palestine. The appointment was announced by the Arab league which, Trans-Jordan's King Abdullah declared, was tantamount to recognition of the partitioning of Palestine.

Police Nab Brothers

CORNWALL, Sept. 23 (CP).—Twelve Ontario Provincial Police officers Wednesday set up a successful road block near here to capture two Montreal men, wanted on theft charges at St. Anne de Bellevue, Que. The men, G. A. Pilon 35, and A. Pilon 32, brothers, were apprehended at nearby Lancaster as they drove towards Cornwall in an automobile.

'Starling Shoots' Scaring Birds Away

COBOURG, Sept. 23.—(ENS).—Second shoot Wednesday night by the Fish and Game Club against the starlings netted only a few birds as compared with 500 on Monday night. However, the small bag was encouraging as it indicated that the birds have rapidly become gun shy. After the first few blasts by the gang of gunners, the startlings rose in a huge crowd, flew around in bewilderment and then headed for out of town.

Those that remained to seek shelter in the trees were searched out by the probing shots, some of the starlings being killed and the rest lighting out for safety east of the town. If they disappear at the rate they did last night, a couple more shoots should clean them all out. It was found in Port Hope that four nights of organized shooting were all that was necessary to rid the town of them there.

Factories To Start Power-Saving Shifts

COBOURG, Sept. 23—(ENS).—Following consultation with industries, the public utilities manager said Wednesday that local factories would put into effect a staggered system of operation beginning next Monday. The scheme would operate alternately in the four districts into which the town has been divided for that purpose. Coincident with the particular district in which the factory has shut down for a period, power would be off also for domestic consumers. Cobourg continues to use considerably more than its quota of 29,750 per day.

J. J. Armstrong, Specialist, Ottawa, Ontario
355 King St., Ottawa, Ontario. Sept. 18, 1948

Dear Sir,

You will recall that some time ago I went to your office and had you adjust one of your Patented Appliances for rupture. The day I called I was pretty much discouraged. I had been operated on three times at a cost of over eight hundred dollars, and in each case the rupture returned worse than ever. You went to a lot of trouble getting me properly fitted as I was really in bad shape and very tender as a result of these operations.

Well, I wore your Appliance for nine months according to your instructions and it caused a complete cure. I have not worn it for the past five months, although working right along as a General contractor and builder, often climbing, taking heavy lifts, etc. I do not feel any weakness and just recently passed a medical examination. The Examining doctor said I was all right.

To say I am greatly pleased is putting it mildly. I wish every ruptured person knew of you and your ability. What a difference it would make in their lives as it has mine.

I know of a doctor who was ruptured for over fifty-two years. He wore your appliance for fourteen months and it cured him.

Please accept my sincere thanks for what you have done for me.

Yours very truly,
(sgd.) William O'Donovan.

Marvel Flattens Wagner In Top Bout of Mat Show

The Masked Marvel beat Strangler Bob Wagner in the deciding fall of the main mat bout at the Brock Arena last night to open the pro wrestling season here before a good-sized crowd. It was a rather fluke win at that and the crowd didn't like it, as Referee Bert Maxwell—whom Wagner accused of being the Mask's cousin—inadvertantly helped the Marvel.

The fall came in four minutes for the Marvel, weighing 257 to Wagner's 242, after Bob had roughed him plenty. Wagner finally threw the Mask out of the ropes in a softening-up process. Then, as the unknown one started back in, the Strangler gripped him with a bear-hug. The Mask clamped a foot in the ropes to hold himself but the referee jerked the ropes and loosed him. This caused the Mask to roll in on top of Bob, who was caught off-balance, and pin the latter for the fall. After the gong, Wagner roughed the Mask up hard as the crowd applauded, but it was too late then.

Bob Still Rough

Wagner had won the second fall in three minutes flat. He rushed the Marvel from the start and, forgetting that he was the fans' hero for the evening, treated him in brutal fashion. He hung him in the ropes first, then went to work with fists and knees and after getting him set up right, slammed him hard twice to the floor and fell on top of his opponent to win the fall. At that, the usually villainous Strangler got a big hand, being the less hated of the two by the customers. Bob seemed startled at the cheers to end the fall.

The first round went 27 minutes before the Mask clamped on the "cobra" hold—an unconscious grip on either side of the neck—to make Wagner helpless. They were both big and strong and dished up a lot of grappling and plenty of rough stuff. Neither tried to be a hero in this one, but Wagner gradually drew most of the applause. He worked hard on the Mask's left knee for awhile but each in turn got in a lot of punishing work before the end.

Ben Popular

Ben Sharpe, at 235 popular pounds—especially with the feminine fans—and 244-pound John Katan battled to a time limit draw in the semi-final. It was a good scrap and they mixed it after the bell, with Ben having a big edge. The referee had to warn both several times as they mixed it hard. Katan had a good margin on rough stuff and all-around mat experience, but big Ben pretty well balanced this up with strength and speed. Both were husky and in fine shape, and they dished up a lot of stuff to please the crowd. At times Katan looked to be having it all his own way but Sharpe would revive and turn the tide decidedly. The draw decision was a pretty fair call.

Bill Stack of Bowmanville, scaling 224 pounds, earned Referee Maxwell's decision in the prelim, which went the limit, over 237-pound Jack Moore. The crowd really went for this opener as the pair fought it out hard from start to finish. Stack, a 23-year-old husky farmer from outside of Bowmanville—and not too long in the pro mat game — showed plenty of pep and fight agaist an experienced old-timer, who played it rough. Bill was fast and sharp to more than make up for illegal stuff and ring trickery. There was lots of action with fists and elbows being used frequently by either one, as the fans yelled, and the award at the finish suited everyone but Moore.

Bantams Lose To Toronto In OBA Series

By FRED MAYBEE

East City bantams suffered elimination at the hands of North Toronto last evening at Riverside as they went down 18-12, in the second of a best of three OBA series, after dropping the first contest in Toronto.

Both clubs used two twirlers, with Gord Ivens the winner. McGrath pitched well after relieving Cunningham in the second. For the visitors, McFayden and Hunt led at bat with four hits apiece, the former getting two homers. For Peterborough, Scriver had three for six, including a homer, while McGrath drove in three runs and Pammett and Ferguson each had two safe bingles.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

Bucko McDonald's hustling Huntsville lacrossers play the Petes at nine tomorrow night in Miller Bowl. First of their best-of-seven OLA senior "B" final series and it ought to be a dandy. The scrappy young northerners pulled an upset by ousting a strong Oshawa squad and they'll make the classy locals hurry all the way. Likely the biggest crowd of the season will view this one. Don't be surprised if this series goes the distance and sees a lot of close scores. Three OLA minor playdowns listed for the Bowl Saturday aft. Toronto St. John's meet our midgets at 1.30, Orillia plays the local bantams at 2.45, and Orillia juves tackle the local boys at four o'clock.

And rugby returns to Peterborough on Saturday afternoon at the Oval when the junior and senior Riverdale teams of Toronto mix it with PCVS juniors and seniors in exhibition games. These will be real tests for the PCI-ers as Riverdale C.I. always comes up with strong clubs. Football fans will be out in force, especially those rabid Collegiate rooters, as the autumn sport swings into action once more. In ORFU intermediate company, our Panters play Saturday in Orillia, while Oshawa opens in Oakville. These are scheduled fixtures.

Ashby Lasses Ready

While they lost a 1-0 thriller in Toronto in the opener, Ashby's are confident they can defeat DuVals in the best-of-three PWSU series. The girls clash Saturday afternoon in the Ashburnham Bowl and, if Ashby's win that one, back there in the evening. One loss for the local lasses will eliminate them. But they're a peppy young team, playing heads-up softball all the way, and if Doris McFadden pitches up to her usual form, they stand a good chance of squaring the series before the supper hour. It should draw well.

Down in London, Ont., the utilities commission states that the fate of floodlight baseball and football rests in the hands of the fans, and public generally. If folks here will save 50,000 kilowatt hours in power a day, floodlight games will continue. The park arcs there consume less power than limits established by regulations, but nonetheless, if voluntary saving fails, the commission will pull the switch, 'tis said. Mike Rodden writes: "The park where the mighty London Majors perform will, it is alleged, not be affected an iota by the new restrictions on artificial lighting. It appears that the 60 watts per 100 square feet ruling flatters hte system long in use in the Forest City park, and thereof it is suspected that the same conditions will meet demands in other cities." For rinks, too.

Petes Tackle Staffs

The Petes were away early today for their game in Toronto. Second one of the best-of-five OBA senior "A" semi-finals, third one being back here Saturday aft at three in Riverside. As the Staffs took the first one here 7-6, a local loss in Toronto tonight would put the men o' Murphy right on the w.k. spot, whereas a Petes' win this eve would square it up and gives the Petes a little edge in having the third one in their own backyard. Rather expect Bill Edger to get the twirling chore this second scrap, with Doug Loucks—if his arm feels okay after a lengthy ailment — going Saturday. Winner of the series will step into provincial finals.

* * * * * *

Quite a few turned out to the Brock last eve to see those colorful pro matmen open their indoor season. The beef trusts put on three lively bouts, with the Masked Marvel gaining a doubtful win over Bob Wagner in the main go, Ben Sharpe and John Katan going to a semi-final draw, and Bowmanville's Bill Stack getting the prelim nod over Jack Moore. Fun and fury as these huskies—they rate you a lightweight if you don't go over 220 pounds — dished it out. Wagner later accused Referee Maxwell of being the Mask's cousin, but the CPR house dick at the Royal York strenously objected. We asked Phil Lawson how Whip Watson's soft-drink business was going and he said: "Swell, we can't meet the orders." Hm, them that has gets.

Puckists Play Here

Prexy Ed Riley of the Peterborough Hockey Club tells us the Petes will be back in OHA senior "B" action again and likely with several new faces in the lineup. They've made application to play home games at the Civic Arena and this has decided several of the veterans—who were fed up on playing "home" games out of town—to give it another whirl this winter. The club will hold its annual open meeting next Monday evening at eight in the "Y", everyone interested (especially officials and players) being invited. They'll elect officers at that time and make general plans for the coming puck campaign. Glad to hear they'll be playing here.

Ashbys Defeat Lock Co. By 21-3 Score

Ashby's trounced Lock Co. 21-3 at the Bowl last night to go ahead in their Girls' Softball League intermediate round-robin series. There was no advance word on this game and the crowd was small. The losers tried hard but were outclassed, being held to six hits and having half a dozen errors. The winners went good afield and bashed out 17 hits, a number for extra bases, to roll up the count in the seven innings played.

J. Dunk and D. Manley went best in the field for Ashby's, while B. McMahon and D. Westlake were the pick of the losers in a defensive way. D. Callan led Ashby's at bat with four hits, while D. Dracup and E. McFadden had three each, one of the latter's being a homer. M. Freeman also hit a four-bagger, and D. McFadden a three-base blow.

CHAMP JOE LOUIS (left), still training just in case he decides to defend his title once more, is shown adjusting the gloves of his sparring partner, "Shadow", Coley Wallace. Wallace, an up-and-coming amateur, earned the nickname "Shadow," because of his amazing resemblance to Champ Louis. Latest reports concerning Louis' retirement say that the champ has changed his mind and will defend his title again.

Syracuse Drubs Newark Bears In 11-4 Triumph

By the Associated Press

Syracuse Chiefs, for the third straight season, have fought their way into the final round of the International League's Shaughnessy playoffs.

Syracuse slugged its way into the finals of the current playoffs Tuesday night, drubbing Newark's Bears 11-4 in the seventh and final game of their best-of-seven series.

In the other semi-final round series, the scheduled seventh game between the Rochester Red Wings and Montral Royals was postponed because of rain.

Rochester is slated to meet the Royals in Montreal again tonight with the winner clashing with the Chiefs in the finals, also a best-of-seven affair.

The Chiefs piled up an 8-1 lead for Erautt going into the seventh inning. But the Bears drove him cover in seventh, scoring three times on a pinch-hit homer by Lou Novikoff. Following Novikoff's blow, Erautt walked two batters and was relieved by Frank Seward who got out of the jam and blanked the Bears the rest of the way.

Les Mueller started for Newark and lasted less than three innings. Kermit Wahl rocked Mueller for a two-run homer in the first and Al Rubeling socked him for another homer in the second. Mueller was lifted in the third during a three-run Syracuse rally. The Chiefs clipped Frank Lamanna for two more runs in the sixth and completed their scoring with three runs in the ninth on Frank Davis' homer at the expense of Johnny Mackinson.

Metz Leading Second Round

VANCOUVER, Sept. 23 (CP)—Only two Canadian golfers could equal par or better on the first day of the Canadian open golf championship, but prospects today that the course will be "taken apart" by United States golfers, looks pretty good.

Leading the way into the second round of the 39th Canadian open are Dick Metz of Virginia Beach, Va., who just missed the title in a playoff with George Fazio in 1946; Herman Keiser of Springfield, Mo., still searching for a major win this year, and young Bill Nary of Phoenix, Ariz. Several American stars said after practice rounds earlier on the Shaughnessy Heights 6,590-yard layout that the course would be easy pickings for some of their top shotmakers. A cold, wet and windy day limited the par-equaling field on the first round to only 19. But improved weather is in prospect for to-day.

One stroke behind the three-way lead is former tennis star Ellsworth Vines of Iowa City, Ia., with a 68.

They'll Do It Every Time — By Jimmy Hatlo

Indians Beat Red Sox 5-2 Tie Boston In League Lead

By RALPH RODEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cleveland's pennant outlook is extremely bright today. How long it stays that way depends directly on the fifth-place Detroit Tigers.

The Indians beat the Red Sox 5-2 Wednesday night to tie Boston for the American-league lead, half a game ahead of New York Yankees, who brushed off Chicago White Sox 7-2. Another victory over Chicago today would jump the Yanks into a three-way tie for first as both Boston and Cleveland are idle.

Cleveland's advantage lies in the remaining schedule. The Indians have eight games to go, all against second division clubs. The Red Sox also have eight games to play, but five are against the Yanks who have nine games left.

Six of Cleveland's eight contests are against the Tigers, three in Detroit and three in Cleveland.

Bob Feller, who has had his ups and downs during the season, pitched the "must" game against the Sox Wednesday night and the big boy came through in brilliant style. Feller stopped Boston on three hits and fanned six in winning his fifth straight game and 17th of the season. He held the Sox hitless until the sixth inning when Birdie Tebbetts doubled and rode home with Boston's first run on losing pitcher Joe Dobson's single.

Rake Dobson

The Indians raked Dobson for three runs in the first inning to clinch the decision. The big blow was Ken Keltner's 28th home run of the season with one on. It was Cleveland's seventh straight triumph and its 14th out of the last 16 games.

A standing room only crowd of 76,212 paid fans observed "Don Black night" with the injured Cleveland pitcher receiving approximately $40,380 of the net gate receipts.

The Yanks also got some great pitching as Lefty Tommy Byrne checked the tail-end White Sox on six safeties and fanned 11 in the process. Byrne blanked the White Sox until the ninth inning when two singles, a walk and double spoiled his bid for a shutout.

The pesky Tigers downed Philadelphia Athletics 5-1 as Lefty Hal Newhouser scattered seven hits in gaining his 19th victory and 150th of his career.

In the other American League game, Washington Senators nosed out St. Louis Browns 5-4 when Cliff Fannin walked Sherry Robertson with the bases loaded in the 10th inning.

Hog Spotlight

St. Louis Cardinals and Stan Musial hogged the National-league spotlight. The Cards prevented Boston Braves from clinching their first pennant in 34 years by trouncing them 8-2.

The Braves had they beaten the Cards, would have won the flag as a triumph would have eliminated both the Cards and Brooklyn Dodgers. The Dodgers, beaten 5-1 by Rip Sewell and Pittsburgh Pirates, dropped to third place as the Cards ook over second.

Boston needs to win two games to nail down the pennant. They can also clinch it if they win a game and the Dodgers and Cards each lose one. Boston and Brooklyn have eight to go and the Cards nine.

Musial led St. Louis' 17-hit attack against Warren Spahn and four relief pitchers with five hits —a homer, double and three singles. It was the fourth time this season that Musial had collected five hits in a single game, tying the major league record established by Ty Cobb of Detroit in 1922.

Chicago Cubs took a doubleheader from the New York Giants, 3-2 and 11-7 and Cincinnati Reds edged the Philadelphia Phillies, 4-3, in the league's only night game.

Here and There in Sport

By The Canadian Press

Rugged Frankie Mathers can't make up his mind whether to remove teeth professionally by body checks or with a pair of dentist's forceps.

The 24-year-old defenceman who came from Winnipeg to star with Ottawa Senators as an amateur, is rated by managing director Conn Smythe as No. 1 candidate to fill the vacancy left in Toronto Maple Leafs' rearguard by the deal which sent Wally Stanowski to New York Rangers.

Mathers was toying with the idea of pursuing dentistry when he was invited to the Toronto hockey school at St. Catharines, and a chance to make the National Hockey League.

Stan Musial, St. Louis Cardinals slugger, Wednesday, set a National League batting record by collecting five consecutive hits, in one game four times in a season. Musial hit his 38th homer, a two-bagger and three singles, against Boston Braves, at Boston.

Ty Cobb established the major league record in that department with Detroit Tigers in 1922.

Wallace Diestelmeyer, North American pairs champion and Canadian singles and dance champion, Wednesday night at Kitchener, denied a report that he had signed as instructor at the Regina Wascana winter club for the coming season. He said he had discussed the appointment with the club but had reached no definite decision.

At Cleveland, an attendance of 76,772 at Wednesday's Cleveland-Boston game assured Don Black, injured Cleveland pitcher, approximately $40,380 from the gate receipts. President Bill Veeck of Cleveland Indians had promised that Black would receive net receipts over the 25,000 advance sale, minus the share of the visiting Red Sox. Black, still in serious condition in hospital from a cerebral hemorrhage suffered when he was at bat against the St. Louis Browns Sept. 13, was unaware of his good fortune.

Coach Red Douglas announced Wednesday at Sarnia that assistant coach Trip Trepanier will return to the active line-up Saturday when the injury-riddled Imperials meet the Windsor Rockets in a Senior ORFU fixture. Trepanier likely will play inside, with Clare Sutton being moved to the middle post in place of the ailing Tony. Lee.

Puck stars Jim Drummond and Kenny Kilrea arrived Wednesday at the Galt Training Camp of the American Hockey League Philadelphia Rockets. General manager Max Kaminsky said Bill Hergesheimer, leading scorer last winter, is due to arrive to-day. Kaminsky said his team will play Springfield Indians in Barrie Friday night. Pittsburg Hornets will go to Galt from their Welland training camp for a game Monday.

Montreal Canadiens will inaugurate the hockey season at Montreal on Saturday when they meet Buffalo Bisons of the American Hockey League in an exhibition tilt, General Manager Frank Selke announced on Wednesday at Montreal. Three ex-Canadiens will be facing their former teammates. They are Hector (Toe) Blake, coach of Buffalo, and Leo Gravelle and Floyd Curry.

In the harness races at the Tillsonburg Fair Wednesday, Alice G., owned by Nate Neeley of Sarnia and driven by Harry List, equalled the track record of 2.08 in the second heat of the 2:16 pace with the first half in 1.03 2-5. He lowered his own previous record of 2.09 2-5.

Bruce Woodcock will defend his European heavyweight title this year against Olle Tandberg if the big Swede will go to London. Promoter Jack Solomons on Wednesday cabled Tandberg, who hasn't done much since his sensational decision over Joe Baksi in July, 1947, an offer to meet Woodcock either November 2 or December 7 in London's Harringay Arena.

Frank Boucher put his NHL New York Rangers through their first real workout Wednesday at Lake Placid, NY, resulting in one casualty. Forward Buddy O'Connor was slashed by a stick on the right cheek and required five stitches.

Enos (Country) Slaughter, St. Louis Cardinals, left fielder, was carried off on a stretcher after being felled by Nippy Jones' hit-and-run liner Wednesday during a game with the top-place National League Boston Braves at Boston. Slaughter's nose was fractured.

Three Contests Run Off In Soccer Loop

King Edward School made amends for a previous loss on Wednesday, when they defeated Central 8-0 in a school soccer game at King Edward Park. The lack of youth was evident in the Central even against the more aggressive King Edward boys. Hunt got two, Buchan score one on a penalty, and Hunt got the third. In the second half Whatley scored twice to be followed by Buchan and G. Frizzelle.

King Edward: G. Stuart, goal; F. Milligan and C. Chambers, full back; R. Crowe, H. Mullen and R. Killingbeck, half backs; D. Whatley, B. Murduff, M. Buchan, T. Hunt and G. Frizzelle, forwards; L. Ball, D. Grant, subs.

Central: J. Cooper, goal; D. Harte-Maxwell and G. Paiten, full backs; B. Withers, W. Foster and W. Lush, half backs; D. Patterson, J. Rowley, R. Delahaye, J. Black and R. Kelly, forwards; D. Gibbs, R. Taylor and D. Cuffe, subs.

Referee, Mr. Olmstead.

Prince of Wales

King George boys concentrated their efforts in defensive tactics instead of the offensive system; while the west-enders carried the attack in every movement inside the goal area with Pollard and Rowe holding the winners until near the finish, Buott passed to Paul Evans who scored on a pass to gain full points.

Prince of Wales: A. Smith, goal; R. Moffatt and K. Lockie, full backs; R. Jay, J. Downer and R. Mongraw, half backs; R. Williams, P. Evans, J. Buott, R. Deck and J. Haliday, forwards; J. Kennedy, B. Green, subs.

King George: V. Crouder, goal; R. Rowe and H. Pollard, full backs; L. McKenzie, G. Barker and D. Barclay, half backs; F. Ash, D. Dubay, R. Rose, P. Harding, P. Harvey, forwards; M. Schweir, O. Thompson and G. Johnston, subs.

Referee, Don Crawford.

Q.M. and Q.A.

A keen soccer game throughout at Nicholls Oval saw Queen Alexandra boys getting the opening counter through Nicholls on a pass by Oliver. Queen Mary were more aggressive in the second half to get the equaliser when Woodgate went right through to allow Dunn to convert.

Queen Mary: J. Drury, goal; C. Stave and K. Woodgate, full backs; R. Burgess, R. Dunn, and R. Nesbett, half backs; G. Patterson, R. Deck, D. Sisson, J. Stewart and D. Nesbitt, forwards; J. Eastwood, K. Cullen, F. Hillier, subs.

Queen Alexandra: C. Chane, goal; R. Nicholls and J. Harrison, full backs; F. Griffon, D. Woods and N. Nicholls, half backs; R. Kingston, T. Reed, R. McEachran, D. Bell and Bill Oliver, forwards; J. James, sub.

Referee, Mr. Rutherford.

Charge Quebec Raiding Leafs

ST. CATHARINES, Ont. Sept. 23.—(CP). — Managing director Conn Smythe of Toronto Maple Leafs Wednesday charged an official of a Quebec senior hockey team with raiding his training camp with offers of good jobs and big money.

Smythe said Punch Imlach, coach of Quebec Aces, visited the Welland training camp of Pittsburgh Hornets and offered $3,500 and jobs to at least two players.

He added that one of the players involved, Dean McBride, did not show up at the Pittsburgh practice Wednesday. McBride played last year with Toronto Marlboro seniors.

"If McBride turns up in Quebec, we will have to suspend him," said Smythe. "We have a big investment in these players and have jobs ready for them at comparable rate of pay."

He said Hannigan was the other player approached.

PCVS Squads Ready For Rugby Season

Saturday, for the third straight year, Riverdale Collegiate senior and junior teams will open the PCVS rugby season. The two schools have divided evenly the four games played. In 1946 the Toronto senior team defeated the strong PCVS team 6-5, while their juniors were also victorious. Last year both victories went to PCVS, the senior 12-0 and the junior 36-32. As it turned out, this latter defeat was the only one suffered by the Riverdale juniors as they went to to win the Toronto Secondary schools championship. The 1946 Riverdale senior team was also Toronto champions, giving that school two titles in two years. This is a record equalled by PCVS in its league too, as both the 1946 and 1947 senior teams were undefeated in COSSA competition.

Saturday's games should give the rival coaches a pretty good idea as to the success of their respective teams in this brand new season.

Filchock Leads Tigers To 32-12 Win

HAMILTON, Sept. 23 (CP). — Frank Filchock, the stocky United States import who earned all-star rating in the Big Four last season in his first year in Canadian football, is building up his reputation even further this season by his great playing in the Ontario Rugby Football Union.

The former New York Giants ace did just about everything as Hamilton Tigers drubbed Toronto Beaches Indians, 32-12, Wednesday night. It was the third-straight victory for the Filchock-coached forces and put them all alone on top of the league standings.

A crowd of 11,000 watched Filchock outpass, outrun, and outthink the Combines under the floodlights. Though playing with a badly swollen elbow, he completed seven of 12 passes for a total yardage gain of 128—one of them 30 yards for a touchdown and another 40 yards to set up a field goal.

He ran 55 yards for one major after intercepting a forward and even dragged out a variant of the old Statue of Liberty play to set up another.

Rise To Example

The game was prevented from being a one-man show, however, by the way the remainder of the Tiger team rose to their coach's example. The four Tiger touchdowns were shared by Filchock, Jack Stewart, Jack Harper and Gerry Walsh, the reformed English rugger player.

The other Hamilton points were scored on a 20-yard placement by Joe Chiconi, another that Pat Santucci booted 37 yards, two converts by Santucci, one by Joe Capriotti and a single punted by Doug Smith.

Beaches standouts were Don Crowe and Garry Smith, who combined to score all their points. On both their touchdown plays, Crowe sent the stocky Negro racing around end on lateral passes while Crowe converted the first major and Smith the other.

The game marked the first meeting between the Combines and the Tigers, who shifted to the ORFU, after trailing in the Big Four last season. They went into the contest tied for first place, both holding victories over Sarnia Imperials and Windsor Rockets.

HOW YOU VOTE IN NEW YORK state is your business, but you don't vote unless you register. So the Henry Wallaces, whose farm home is in the more rural reaches of suburban Westchester, came to the board of elections at White Plains, N.Y., to register for the November elections, and incidentally fill out their political preferential ballots. Wallace said he had enrolled with the American Labor party because it has an "honorable record of fighting for a program to benefit all the citizens of New York state." Photo shows Mr. and Mrs. Wallace dropping their ballots in the ballot box.

Robinson, Williams To Match Their Fists

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—(AP).—The boxing "war" moves across the river to the Yankee Stadium tonight where a Twentieth Century Sporting Club double-header, starring champions Ike Williams and Ray (Sugar) Robinson, ends the outdoor season.

Buried in the uproar over Marcel Cerdan's smashing upset victory at Jersey City, this attractive show will be lucky to gross $100,000. The crowd probably will not be more than 15,000 as compared to 19,272 who paid $254,399 for the Cerdan-Zale show.

Sol Strauss, acting promoter for Mike Jacobs' organization, says $100,000 will keep the card out of the red ink.

Lightweight King Williams will risk his crown over the 15-round route against Jesse Flores, a capable ring "cutie" from Stockton, Calif. Robinson will not try to make the 147 pound welterweight limit for his non-title 10-rounder with Kid Gavilan, Cuba.

Costello Gov't. Has Fooled Irish Experts

DUBLIN, Sept. 23 (AP)—Eire political observers who predicted a short and stormy life for Prime Minister John A. Costello's coalition government are changing their tune.

It has been seven months since the smiling, golf-playing lawyer who recently visited Canada pushed veteran Eamon de Valera out of power by a five-vote margin in the Dail and scraped a cabinet together from five oddly-assorted political parties and outspoken independents.

Gone are the days when even Costello's friends thought a combination of Conservatives, Socialist-minded Labor members and hot-tongued Republicans would split in a few weeks.

Most observers agree the coaliton government is more popular with Irishmen now than it was when it took over after last winter's elections. A new trade pact with Britain and aid from the United States European Recovery Program has brightened prospects for prosperity.

(In Amsterdam yesterday, Paul French, executive director of C.A.R.E. — Co-operative for American Remittances to Europe—said Eire no longer needs American gift parcels and C.A.R.E.'s activities in Eire have been suspended.)

The reason for the solidarity among the cabinet's strange bedfellows is simple. If they don't hang together, De Valera and his Fianna Fail (Soldiers of Destiny) party might get back in the government they ran from 1932 to last February.

Catch Two 'Lunge

COBOCONK, Sept. 23. — The largest fish of the season to be hauled from Balsam lake was caught here yesterday by Howard Russell of Coboconk, and Steve Crowley, of 9 Roncesvalles Ave., Toronto. The catch was a 28-pound maskinonge measuring 48 inches in length. The fish put up a 45-minute battle before it was finally landed and carted away to be photographed with its proud captors.

Suggest Repeal Of Police, Fire Departments Act

KINGSTON, Sept. 23 (CP) — Repeal of the Police and Fire Departments Act was recommended to the Ontario Legislature by the Ontario Municipal Association today.

The following amendment to the recommendation of resolution committee, which was moved by Mayor Ced Price of North Bay and seconded by Mrs. M. A. Shipley, reeve of Teck Township, was approved: "Be it resolved that the legislation dealing with the Police and Fire Department Act, be repealed, and that immediate representations be made to effect that steps be taken that will rectify the mis-uses of the act and unjust awards that have been made during the term that it was in force."

The recommendation of the resolution committee:

"Whereas recent amendments to the Police and Fire Departments Act provide for final decision with respect to wage rates and working conditions by an arbitration board, which is not responsible to any body of electors in cases where the employees and the municipal authorities are unable to agree; and no provision is made for any appeal from an award by such boards:

"And whereas the power to determine such matters constitutes, in fact, the power to impose a tax that is contrary to the fundamental principles of responsible government in asmuch as it provides for the power of taxation without responsibility.

Standard Out of Line

"And whereas there has been a wide variation in the awards already made throughout the province, such awards in some cases establishing a wage standard far out of line with standards in other branches of municipal service.

"Be it resolved that the legislation dealing with such matters be amended to provide that where an award is made by an arbitration board under either of these acts referred to, there shall be an appeal allowed to either party to somebody which is responsible to the Legislature."

Mayor Price, speaking to the resolution, said in part:

"Early in the year the fire department presented North Bay City Council with a brief, along with every other department, asking us for increases in pay. This, with requests of all departments, was considered long and wisely when working out our budget, and endeavoring to strike a tax rate, and they, the firemen, were given a hearing at a public Council meeting.

"Our final decision was one in which as far as salaries were concerned, we gave every municipal employee an increase of $10 per month across the board. . . This was refused by the fire department, the only refusal, by the way, since they had us over the barrel.

Jeopardize Structure

"On the basis of a letter, to last year's Council, and by virtue of this year's amendments to the Fire Departments Act, they were able to demand a board of arbitration, who would bring in a finding, as late as August, being made retroactive to January, even though our budget had been struck and most of the taxes collected by that time.

"To have a decision brought down on us which jeopardizes our whole municipal structure with no recourse to appeal or reconsideration in any court, I submit is not in accord with British justice, for the lowest criminal has this privilege at any and all times.

"This decision is not a matter of only the additional cost involved through the fire fighters' arbitration, but one which will probably involve a further tax bill being issued this year to the tune of five or six mills, after recognising this award, and showing the just equality due all other municipal departments who must be treated as fairly as the fire fighters if there is any justice at all in our administration."

Politicians Plan Drive To Win British Youth

By JAMES McCOOK

LONDON, Sept. 23.—(CP). — The politicians' campaign to win the youth of Britain grows more vigorous.

Conservatives, away to a strong start with more than 153,000 young Conservatives helping their work, now are challenged by the revived Labor League of Youth.

In three months since the Scarborough, Yorkshire, annual Labor party conference, League of Youth branches have increased by more than 100 to 417. The party reported that Deal, Kent, had the highest league membership in the south with 300 enrolled. This would indicate that as other branches will have fewer members, the Labor youth enrollment is far below that of the Conservatives.

The Scarborough conference was frankly worried about Labor's inability to attract more young people into its organization. Delegates said they had noted with concern the vigor of the young Conservatives, who have been front-line workers in by-elections and who staged a national rally in London last June.

Too Leftist

Labor's youth movement was disrupted just before the war when party leaders came to the conclusion its leaders were too far left in their opinions. The organization was allowed to fade.

The Scarborough conference agreed that youth organization must receive more attention. An initial step was to raise the age limit for members from 21 years to 25 and invigorate the assistance given from party headquarters in London.

First meeting of the league's national consultative committee will be held in London next week. Then—perhaps taking a leaf from the young Conservative book — arrangements for a national rally will be discussed.

The Labor newspaper, Daily Herald, said, "A special effort should be made to get all party organization, including the League of Youth, into fighting readiness." The general election is due in 1950, but the municipal elections, in which Labor received a severe pounding last year, will be held in the spring of 1949 and will "provide a hardly less critical test."

New York Atom Research Shows How Life May Have Started Half Billion Years Ago

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE

BROOKHAVEN, NY, Sept. 22. (AP)—Radioactive atoms are in use at the Brookhaven National Laboratory to find out what may have happened to start life on earth half a billion years ago.

These atoms, from the atomic piles at Oak Ridge, Tenn., make it possible to recreate chemical reactions that are no longer at work, but which may have existed at the beginning of the world.

The work is in the biology department headed by Dr. L. F. Nims. The radioactive studies on bacteria are being made by Dr. B. A. Rubin.

The work is starting with a microbe known as E. Coli, one of the commonest forms of germs. But E. Coli is also one of the amazing forms of life. Dr. Rubin says this microbe, or something very closely resembling it came into existence about 500,000,000 years ago. That was earlier than any known evidence of more complex forms of life.

When seen under a microscope, E. Coli is merely a cube-shaped dot of protoplasm.

Yet each manufactures in its own tiny body all the vitamins man needs. It also makes all the score of different amino acids that human bodies use. These acids are the substances that form all the proteins.

E. Coli has another surprising quality. It can make all these necessities of life out of inorganic substances; that is, out of ordinarily inedible minerals. Most life now requires some organic substances for food—things made by living plants or creatures.

Early Origin

So it is fairly clear that E. Coli could have originated before there was any other form of life to supply it with food.

It came into being when the earth's radioactivity was stronger than today. There was more urnium, radium and other heavy metals which emit powerful rays.

Dr. Rubin says it is possible too, that cosmic rays may have been more plentiful in the primitive days. These rays even today manufacture countless numbers of radioactive atoms in the air, water and first few feet of the earth's surface.

To recreate what may have been the radioactivity at life's beginnings, the Brookhaven laboratory is using radioactive phosphorus (P-32), a fairly powerful ray emitter.

It has been found that a small amount of radioactivity may stimulate the growth of E. Coli. These microbes can stand 300 times the dose of radioactivity that kills animals. This tremendous dose will kill E. Coli too, provided it does not have anything to eat, but not when it has plenty of food.

The chemical compounds in the new forms of E. Coli that come from exposure to radioactivity may be early forms that will explain how complex life followed the first simple creatures.

In addition to the radioactive phosphorus atoms, there are about 100 others, all now made in Oak Ridge atomic piles, that can also be used in microbe work. Each one holds new possibilities for useful knowledge.

RIGHT TO FUEL.

Firebot, in English law, is the right of a tenant to cut wood from the estate for fuel.

Fiery, Itching Toes and Feet

Here is a clean, stainless antiseptic oil that will do more to help you get rid of your trouble than anything you've ever used.

Its action is so powerfully penetrating that the itching is quickly stopped; and in a short time you are rid of that bothersome, fiery torture. The same is true of Barber's Itch, Salt Rheum, Eczema — other irritating unsightly skin troubles.

You can obtain Moone's Emerald Oil in the original bottle at McDermid & Jury and at any Tamblyn Drug Store, or any modern drug store. It is safe to use and failure in any of these ailments is rare indeed.

New Disposal Plant Aids Sewage Problem for Toronto

TORONTO, Sept. 23. (CP) — A new multi-million-dollar sewage disposal plant on Toronto's eastern outskirts which will go into partial operation next year is expected to end many of the city's sewage troubles.

For some time raw sewage has been emptied into Lake Ontario only a few miles from the intakes that supply the city with drinking water; the city's eastern beaches have not been free from pollution for more than 20 years; and uncovered sludge beds have made life hard for citizens when an east wind blows.

Originally scheduled for completion in three years, the first two stages in constructing the huge plant took six years. It took 36 months to build a pair of sluice gates, and even yale locks could not be delivered for 16 months.

But when the present units are completed, Toronto will have a partial-treatment plant, that is more effective than the existing plant, in use since March, 1913.

Overworked Plant

The old sewage plant has a capacity of some 38,000,000 gallons a day, and in recent years has been called upon to handle from 70,000,000 to 90,000,000 gallons a day. Much of the sewage was dumped, untreated, into the lake.

First step in building the new plant was a huge 1,350-foot protecting sea-wall. Then six sedimentation tanks—huge vaults 22 feet high and capable of holding several million gallons of sewage —were built.

Sludge is carried from these to big digestion tanks, holding 1,250,000 gallons each, where sewage is made harmless, chlorinated, and then emptied into the lake through a 3,300-foot pipe laid along the bed of the lake.

Still to be built is a conduit 1,362 feet long which will convey all sewage from the old disposal plant to a chlorinating and grit removal building, yet to be constructed.

Mrs. Crawford Hostess

NORWOOD, Sept. 23. (ENS)—The Evening Auxiliary of Norwood United Church met at the home of Miss Crawford. The president, Miss Weir, opened the meeting and read an article. The theme of the worship service and the chapter from the Study Book were in charge of Mrs. John McConnell's group.

Scripture readings were given by Miss McConnell, Miss Borland and Miss Crawford. A chapter from the new study book was given by Mrs. K. Pakenham, Mrs. J. McConnell and Miss McConnell and Mrs. R. Pakenham.

NO RAIN, NO RIVER—One of the Laurentian area's prettiest rapids sites, La Chute Mines (the mined waterfall) has all but disappeared under the impact of the worst drought in the Namur region since 1880. Through this deep cut in the Rouge River bed thousands of galons of water would dash madly into the depths below in other summers. Taken from the bridge roadway, this photo shows the effects of weeks of dry weather.

Aid From U.S. Saves Queuille

PARIS, Sept. 23 — (AP). — The French government, harassed by strikes and political sniping from left and right, today will weigh labor's urgent wage demands.

The cabinet meets today amid reports that a timely American financial gesture had saved it from collapse.

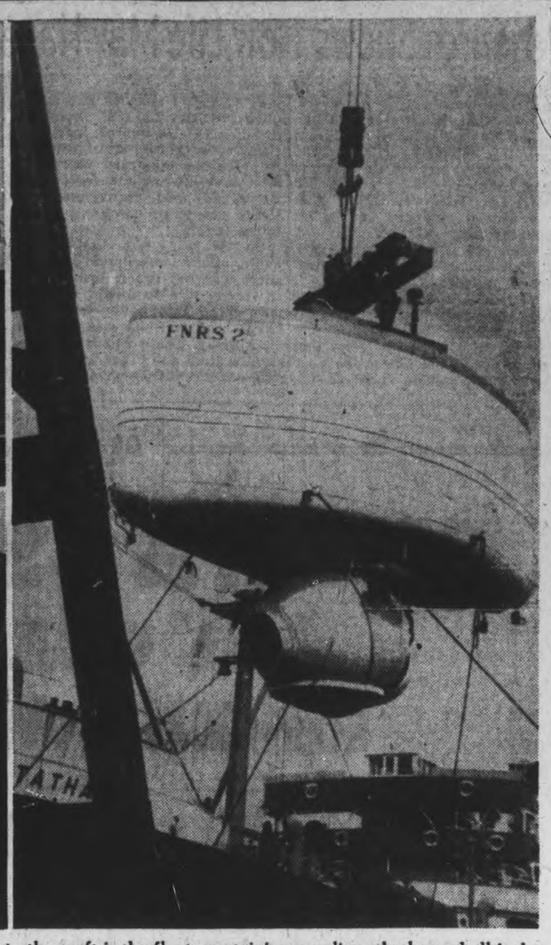
Reliable United States sources said Premier Henri Queuille had received aid in the form of a Washington decision to unfreeze 70,000,000,000 francs (about $230,000,000) representing profits from sales of goods such as coal and tractors furnished to France under the European recovery program.

Both American and French sources said this fund will permit Queuille to stave off disaster in the form of strikes and dissension within his cabinet.

It appeared today, with the reported decision of the United States to unfreeze the E.R.P.-derived fund, that the cabinet will grant a 15-per-cent wage increase for labor.

Ex-Canadian Nominated

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 23 (CP)— George M. Smith, who came to the United States from Winnipeg in 1941, defeated four other candidates for the Republican nomination for Lieutenant-Governor of Wisconsin. He will appose the Democratic Rarty candidate for this office in the November elections.



THE FIRST PHOTOGRAPHS ever released of the strange Bathyscape or underwater balloon in which Prof. Auguste Piccard hopes to cruise at depths of some two and a half miles below ocean's surface (above. The diving bell is shown (right) as it was loaded on board the Scaldis (left) which will take it to the Gulf of Guinea. The upper part of the craft is the float, containing gasoline; the lower ball is the cabin in which two men at a time can plunge into the black sea depths. Professor Piccard is shown (lower centre) aboard the mother ship. His associate Dr. Max Cosyns of Brussels University is shown (lower left) working in one of the observation port holes of the Bathyscape.

Scientists Plan To Plunge Two and Half Miles Into Sea

DAKAR, Sept. 22.—(By Wireless Exclusive to Canada Wide Service, and The Examiner. Copyright)—On the stroke of midnight last night the Scaldis, a ship of Belgian registry, sailed from this North African port en route to the Gulf of Guinea on the last leg of a journey culminating in one of the strangest scientific explorations ever attempted by man.

On board the Scaldis, Prof. Auguste Piccard and his associate, Dr. Max Cosyns, are busying themselves with last minute adjustments to a paraphernalia of scientific machinery which they will use in their attempt at sea explorations to depths of 2½ miles.

Sponsored by the Belgian Government (National Fund for Scientific Research), the expedition has been under preparation for nearly two years. Problems, never before encountered by science, had to be solved in the building of the Piccard-designed Bathyscape, in which the sea dives will be made.

A party of eminent Belgian and French scientists are also on board the Scaldis to make observations. They include Dr. J. P. Vanden Eeckhoudt, zoologist; Dr. G. Marlier, zoologist; Dr. Theodore Monod, zoologist; Dr. Cl. Francis-Boeuf, expert on sediments, member of the Ocean Research Society and director of the Paris Undersea Geological Laboratory at Sorbonne University, Mrs. J. Cosyns, bio-chemist.

Also a member of the party is the expedition's doctor, the eminent surgeon, Dr. Daniel Bouchet. Professor Piccard's 20-year-old son, Jacques, is acting as secretary of the expedition.

While the exploration will have scientific significance comparable to Professor Piccard's flight into the stratosphere, there are elements to this adventure into the ocean's depths which give it an added touch of mystery.

All over Belgium, in town, and village, people talk of the Professor's great experiment, except possibly in the household of Professor Piccard himself, where his wife and four daughters anxiously await news that the expedition is over and has been successful.

What is the object of Professor Piccard's project to dive 2½ miles below the surface of the sea?

Simply a scientific experiment. He has said and he repeats it: there is no adventurous or sporting side to his expedition; he is not out for a record. He will dive 2½ miles into the sea in the same spirit as that in which he sailed in his balloon ten miles up in the stratosphere; as a scientist and only as a scientist.

What will he find in the abyssal depths? He does not know: "If we knew what was to be seen there," he has written, "there would be no point in going down. It is because our knowledge of animal life in the depths and the conditions under which it exists is very limited that curiosity impels us to go there."

Ocean Depths Unknown

Submarine exploration is, in fact, a field in which mankind has so far failed to make any appreciable progress. Altogether he has left hardly an inch of the earth's surface untrodden, although he has conquered the air, he has scarcely penetrated beneath the surface of the oceans.

Certainly the oceans have been studied and their depths plumbed by indirect methods, but the depths have still to be actually visited. Professor Beebe and Barton went down about 3,000 feet off the Bermudas, but that is not a tenth of the abyssal depths.

In planning to go down 2½ miles, Professor Piccard is the first to attempt the scientific conquest of the ocean depths. He proposed to win for science, as a field of studies, the two-thirds of the planet which hitherto have been forbidden her.

The researches of the professor, and of the collaborators who are going with him will have to do with two main subjects; oceanic fauna and oceanic geology. Each of these fields has sub-divisions which will be studied separately.

The bathyscape itself attracted a great deal of attention when it was loaded by cranes into the hull of the Scaldis.

Sphere Seems Tiny

The sphere or rather the two hemispheres hermetically joined together by a new and revolutionary process—despite its two metres (more than two yards) diameter, seemed tiny, dwarfed by the huge petrol-tank on top of it which carries the marking FNRS 2. This stands for Fonds National de la Recherche Scientific Number 2. Number 1 was the balloon in which Piccard and Cosyns invaded the stratosphere.

On the right, low down in the wall of the sphere-cabin, is a large porthole which serves also as a door—the passengers will have to go down on their knees to get into the cabin. High up, on the left, is another porthole. Above each of them is a searchlight which will light up the ocean depths to make it possible to take photographs and make scientific observations which the explorers will dictate as they go along into a dictaphone, since they will have neither room nor time for writing.

The passengers in the bathyscape are likely to see creatures whose very shape is unknown, and discover geological formations whose nature is as yet a closed book. They will journey through a mysterious world — mysterious now, but tomorrow, thanks to them, it will be much less so; a few more secrets will have been wrested from Nature.

Wheat For Sale, Says Canada, Lean Years Over

LONDON, Sept. 23 — (CP). — Canadian Wheat Board officials have completed a European tour during which they said the Dominion may have a substantial quantity of wheat for sale this autumn.

Chief Commissioner George McIvor of Winnipeg and European Commissioner in London R. V. Biddulph were welcomed in France, Belgium and the Netherlands. They indicated Canada wants to sell wheat and that the leanest years of the food shortage are over.

In London they met Food Minister John Strachey, whose department buys the largest quantity of Canadian wheat—contracting his crop year for 140 million bushels.

In the first two years of a four-year wheat contract, Canada sold 160 million bushels annually to the United Kingdom. The 20 million bushels difference this year will likely be made up by British purchases from Australia where good supplies are available for sterling.

This leaves more Canadian wheat for sale in hard-currency countries or other markets where advantageous trade deals can be made. Informed sources said it seemed unlikely Britain would get much more than the contract quantity of 140 million bushels.

GET'S MONEY BACK

TORONTO — Two gunmen held up taxi driver George Lott and robbed him of about $2. However Lott got his money back when he followed instructions to drive to a west-Toronto park. The thugs then drove off in the car. It was recovered several hours later.

IN 1913 ... an ideal was born

In that year the first little Laura Secord Candy Shop was opened as a demonstration of an Ideal, which began as a tiny bud, and ultimately blossomed into a full-blown flower of idealistic simplicity.

That candies which would be the freshest, and of the most superior quality, should be sold in an atmosphere of friendliness from a neighbourhood shop to neighbours, was the ideal which we set before us.

Today the daintily distinctive Laura Secord Candy Shops have come to be familiar landmarks in many Canadian neighbourhoods.

Yet our greatest pride is not merely in this unprecedented development but in the pleasant fact that down through the years, the neighbourly touch has grown stronger too.

It is in the friendly smiles exchanged across the counter . . . in the years-long preference given to these favourite candies by so many friends and families.

It is this loyalty we appreciate and value above all else, as neighbourly approval of the Laura Secord Ideal which was born thirty-five years ago, to blossom throughout the succeeding years . . . and which today we pledge ourselves to maintain in the highest degree.

Sincerely,

President.

Plan To Include Republics In Commonwealth Assoc.

By JAMES McCOOK

LONDON, Sept. 23.—(CP).—A new form of commonwealth association to allow the inclusion of republicans may develop from the conference of Dominions' prime ministers in October.

Important developments are in the offing, for these reasons:

1. Eire is to discontinue the use of the King's signature in the accreditation of foreign representatives. This would sever the formal link which joins Eire with the Commonwealth. But the Costello Government, even when this step is taken, appears to anticipate some form of association with the commonwealth.

2. The new Dominion of India has in mind the historic resolution passed by the constituent assembly proclaiming India's objective is to be a "sovereign independent republic." But none doubts the desire of the Indian Government and the Indian people for close association with the United Kingdom and other commonwealth countries.

3. Another new dominion, Pakistan, has been fostered on the idea of the commonwealth as a family of nations, and would like more definite understanding of commonwealth members' responsibility towards each other. Pakistanis, who hoped for mediation by other dominions in Pakistan's quarrels with India, have been disappointed by their unwillingness to support the argument that a family row should be settled within the family.

Harmony Disturbed

4. Commonwealth harmony has been disturbed by a dispute between two members of equal status. India claims that South Africa has treated Indians in her territory with less than fairness, and argues that the "Commonwealth Club" of free members should have the right to eject a member who fails to follow certain rules.

5. Beyond purely commonwealth affairs is the impact of new regional associations, like the Western Union agreement which brings the United Kingdom into new close co-operation with France, The Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg. These countries now stand to benefit from an association as close as that between the United Kingdom and the dominions.

One solution would be the creation of "part-time" commonwealth members, that is, countries which have absolute sovereignty and do not recognize the British King as their ruler, but who enter into formal agreements with commonwealth countries.

U.C. Condemns Gambling Habit

VANCOUVER, Sept. 23. (CP)—The United Church considers gambling "a grave moral and social evil."

Rev. R. J. Mutchmor of Toronto, secretary of the Board of Evangelism and Social Services, at the United Church of Canada's 13th biennial General Council here, issued a formal statement on gambling Wednesday.

It cited with approval a pronouncement of the Lambeth Conference of Anglican bishops which said "the habit of gambling . . . has led in so many cases to deterioration of character and ruin of homes.

Dog racing was "the most recent threat on Canada's gambling front." Toronto's new dog racing track was "a new potential form of gambling," he said, although there had been no betting at Toronto park yet.

Profits from Britain's $4,000,000,000 gambling industry "are being used to back current efforts to establish gambling in Canada."

SEAFORTH, Sept. 23 (CP). — Editor, sportsman, and lifelong resident of Seaforth, Keith McPhail McLean, publisher of the Huron Expositor, died suddenly at his home here Wednesday. He was 70. Surviving are his widow Elitabeth, two sons A. Y. and K. I. McLean, Seaforth, and two daughters, Mrs. G. C. Jarrott, of Stratford, and Mrs. J. H. Grant, Kingston.

Arnprior Cheers Alexander On Visit

ARNPRIOR, Sept. 23. (CP) — A rousing welcome Wednesday greeted the governor-general when he paid his first official visit to this eastern Ontario community, 48 miles northwest of Ottawa.

Cheering throngs lined the streets. More than 700 schoolchildren hailed him as he inspected a veterans' guard of honor, toured the Arnprior hospital and woollen mills and chatted with former battle comrades of the Second World War.

He was formally greeted by Revenue Minister McCann and Mayor Stafford Rudd.

Viscountess Hospitalized

OTTAWA, Sept. 23 (CP) — Viscountess Alexander of Tunis, wife of the Governor-General, Wednesday night was admitted to Civic Hospital. Hospital authorities would not elaborate on her condition. She is believed suffering from a throat ailment.

Make Big Plans For Jane Greer At RKO Studio

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 23. — (AP).—Big plans are being made for Jane Greer, according to a wind sweeping out of the RKO lot.

Announcements and rumors (and dropped employees) have been about the only things coming out of the studio since Howard Hughes took over. Latest report is that the tycoon has big picture plans for Miss Greer.

Else why would he turn down offers from four other studios to borrow her for starring movies? The actress, former wife of Rudy Vallee, has long been RKO's prime candidate for top star brackets.

Family Affairs

The whole Huston family is slated to appear in "Rough Sketch."

Walter makes his usual guest appearance in son John's picture as a bank teller. And John and wife Evelyn Keyes (in a black wig) are planning to enact spectators in a bank-robbing scene.

The Dreamer

Lolling beside a Pacific shore for two weeks gives a guy a chance to view the Hollywood scene from a comfortable distance. So maybe you won't blame me for dreaming up a fantasy of what I'd do if I were czar of Hollywood.

I'd enforce noiseless popcorn in all theatres...Bring back the two-reel comedy as an antidote to double features...Advertise pictures for what they are...Stop the industry's catering to certain misbehaving stars and give their roles to newcomers...Establish a fund for experimental films...

Make sure starlets can carry dramatic loads before ballyhooing them into stardom...

Stop making musicals until some new ideas are uncovered... Look to the classics for story material instead of present-day trash ...Well, I can dream, can't I?

Farm Wages Up

OTTAWA, Sept. 23 (CP) — Farm workers wages in August were the highest ever recorded, the bureau of statistics reported Wednesday. With board provided by employers, the average daily wage on farms last August was $4.40 compared to the average in August of 1947 of $4.13. When board was not provided by the employer, the average farm wage was $5.44 against $5.17 a year earlier.

Cousins Meet For First Time

MARMORA, Sept. 23 (ENS). — Two cousins who had never seen each other before, met in Marmora on Monday. The lady is in her late fifties, while her male cousin is in his late sixties.

The home of Mrs. Peter Brawley (nee Rose Doyle) was the scene of the meeting and her newly-met cousin, Herbert Osborne, travelled with his wife and Mr. and Mrs. George Horne all the way from Tilden, Nebraska.

It was estimated that about 80 years has elapsed since Elizabeth Jane Doyle and her husband, George Osborne left this district for Nebraska. Mrs. Osborne was one of 12 children born to the late Mr. and Mrs. John F. Doyle.

Mrs. Brawley is a daughter of Thomas Doyle.

Only surviving daughter of Mrs. John E. Doyle is Miss Martha Doyle of Belleville, now in her 89th year. Miss Doyle was born in Madoc but was confirmed and received her first communion in the Sacred Heart Church, Marmora.

It was largely a desire to see her that brought Herbert Osborne on the long trip. Through ill health he has had to retire from farming and the prospect of making his first trip to Canada appealed to him. He says that Canada impresses him.

Miss Doyle claims to be the only survivor of the family of the late Sir John Burgoyne, who was her great uncle. A prized possession of hers is his last will and testament. Some years ago when in Rochester, she was greatly interested in witnessing the play "The Surrender of Sir John Burgoyne" which had been produced earlier in New York.

Little Olympics Scheduled For October 16

Kiwanis Club is holding its second annual track and field meet in Morrow Park on October 16. The athletic meet of last year was the first venture for Kiwanis and this year plans are more extensive.

The meet will be known as the Little Olympics, and will include competitions for Grade and Collegiate schools as well as open events. A new class this year will be events for girls from the Grade Schools and High Schools. The committee is also endeavoring to have some outstanding athletes come here to demonstrate their ability in high jumping and pole vaulting which will add greatly to the public interest.

The school classes will include competitions in dashes, runs, relays, high jump, and broad jump. The co-operation of the school staffs is assured in the entering of the pupils, and everything points to successful Little Olympics.

Entry forms will be distributed to the schools by the Kiwanis Club, and entrants are urged to get into training now for this year's meet. The closing date for receiving entries will be October 11.

40 Men Added To Regiment

Tonight will see the final display of the 50th Heavy Anti-Aircraft Regiment's gunsite at the Armoury parade ground on Murray street, where to date, more than 5,000 people of the city have watched the local gunners at their work.

More than 40 recruits have joined the regiment during the past two weeks and an outstanding number of requests for information on the Active Force have been received and answered.

Tonight's program includes continued training on the gun site with explanations by experienced Army personnel and the gleaming army searchlight will again highlight the effort.

Many attended the Armoury centre last evening, despite the fact no display was scheduled and an equally large attendance is expected this evening. Recruit centres will continue to be open for the remainder of the week and on all training nights of the local regiment.

HOME ECONOMICS INSTRUCTION will be taught to leaders of county groups of the Women's Institute for the first time, commencing in November. The organization was set up on Wednesday in the lecture room of the Department of Agriculture by Mrs. A. W. Conn, who supervises in the counties of Peterborough, Northumberland, Durham and Victoria. Shown above, Left to Right, seated, Mrs. Harry Shearer, Buckhorn; Mrs. Conn, Mrs. Frank Andrews, Norwood. Standing: Miss Elaine Savigny, Otonabee, and Miss Barbara Bullock, Lakefield.

Citizens Fail To Meet Quota

Peterborough used 52,000 kilowatt hours of electricity more than its quota Wednesday, the first day of the increased restrictions which Hydro-Electric Commission has applied to the municipalities of the province.

The total here was 292,000 kwh as compared with the permitted maximum of 240,000 and also with the 302,000 kwh of Wednesday last week. The average consumption for the first three days of this week has been 286,000 kwh.

Attitude of the Utilities Commission today was more or less a marking of time and observing of the first results from the Tuesday meeting of the executives of the city's industrial plants.

Western Clock Company has issued a circular that is being distributed among its employees urging power saving at home as a means of maintaining employment in the factory. In that respect, Robt. H. Saunders, chairman of the Hydro-Electric Commission, has said publicly that there is enough power available for all Ontario requirements providing it is not wasted.

Several reports were heard today of main street private installation of deisel engines to drive small generators, providing power for store use. Ross L. Dobbin, Utilities manager, said he did not know of any retail store equipment for that purpose. None had been reported, and in the meantime he said that use of such power was likely to cause resentment, unless the standby resource was generally known. Merchants complying with the power curb might not know the facts if such were the case, and there might be some invidious comparisons tending to weaken the appeal of the power authorities.

Daily meter reading is now in effect in all the big industries of the city. Along the industrial front as a whole, response to the Utilities appeal has been prompt and willing.

Domestic saving of power can be a real help during this period of emergency. The message of Western Clock that power saving at home means job saving in the factories is a form of assistance to the authorities which is likely to have substantial effect.

VO Nurses Increases Fees Now Occupy New Quarters

Increases in fees charged by the Victorian Order of Nurses were approved at a meeting of the Peterborough Board on Wednesday afternoon at the Council Chambers. James Dutton, chairman of the finance committee, explained that "while we are non-profit organization, our operating costs have increased considerably." Fees are being raised from $1 to $1.50 per visit, $5 to $6 per confinement and $2 to $3 per minor operation.

In her report, Miss Mary Ross, nurse in charge, referred to the new office recently opened in the Royal Bank of Canada building. "The VON," she said, "opened in Peterborough in January, 1941, and was fortunate in finding office space through the courtesy and co-operation of the Department of Health and its staff. During this seven and a half year period, the Board of Health has continued its co-operation, and the staff of the Board of Health has been most kind in taking the VON calls and all the incidental services that it entailed."

"It is now possible for the first time," she continued, "and without imposing on the good offices of the Board of Health and its staff, for the nurses to invite the public to the office for consultation on such problems as may face them and if necessary, to make payments for nursing service rendered. We also invite the public to view our new quarters."

J. E. Girven, who presided, proposed that a letter be sent to the Board of Health and to Dr. Kelly and his staff thanking them for their co-operation and assistance during the past seven and a half years. The motion was carried.

Approval was given by the Board to the appointment of Miss Armstrong as a replacement for Miss Elson, who had left to take a post-graduate course in Public Health. "Once again," said Miss Ross, "we feel we have lost a valuable member of our staff, but Miss Elson will be even better prepared to give a more valuable contribution to the Victorian Order of Nurses on whatever staff she may be placed following her course of study."

Miss Hazel I. Miller, supervisor from National Office, Ottawa, who is at present visiting Peterborough, said she appreciated having "such a progressive board." Miss Miller outlined several publicity plans, and said that the Dominion-wide poster contest, in which Jack Hamer, of Peterborough, won second prize, is to take place again next year.

ELECTED VICE-PRESIDENT

City Clerk E. A. Outram of Peterborough and H. H. McFadden of Lindsay were elected vice-presidents of the Ontario Municipal Association at the closing session of its convention at Kingston Wednesday. W. W. Gardhouse, municipal treasurer of York county, was elected president.

Pastures Burned To a Crisp Milk Output Is Affected

"Most dairy farmers are feeding their milking cows as they would in winter in order to maintain production," says the agricultural representative in Haldimand county for the department's weekly review.

Some Huron farmers have been forced to the extremity of drawing water, and one or two other counties mention this same penalty of two months' parching.

"In south Halton pasture has been non-existent for some weeks. Feeding of hay or corn is common practice" . . . Pastures are completely burnt up in Hastings. Milk is at the lowest ebb of the year in Prince Edward.

Prescott-Russell says the land is desperately dry. In Waterloo farmers are stable-feeding their dairy cattle. "A great number of farmers' well have gone dry." These are spot reports from here and there in the province, indicating that Ontario is suffering a virtual drought, in spite of occasional stray rains.

Little Wheat Seeding

Counties are reporting hesitancy and delay in sowing fall wheat, but another phase of rural spirit is reflected from Haldimand: "A great deal of the fall wheat has been sown in spite of dry weather."

Here is Wentworth: "There is an increased acreage of land ready for the sowing of wheat, but practically none has been sown as yet. In one township a trucker has two water tanks, and is doing nothing else but drawing water for farmers whose wells are dry."

Bruce, on the west fringe of the province, sums up the situation as follows: "Continued dry weather has created a serious situation in the drying up of pastures and the seeding of fall wheat."

One of the bright spots in Eastern Ontario is "the excellent corn crop that is being harvested" in Carleton. Husking corn in Grenville is maturing well and gives promise of a good yield.

Prescott-Russell reports that trials of hybrid corn for cob and grain production are exceptionally promising.

Stormont: "There will be more corn left for grain than had been anticipated earlier, because of the excellent corn crop in the county."

Weather forced the crop in most other sections of the province, but from Hastings easterly the evidence points to highly satisfactory yields.

Kosh, Ketchecum And Jacks Most Popular

More isolated sections in the northern part of the Kawartha Lakes area are due for a heavy spurt of building of new summer homes in 1949. Indicative of this trend to less crowded regions is the flood of applications for building sites being received currently by the District Forestry Office at Lindsay. More than 250 permits to build summer homes have been issued within the past three months, most of them in the Ketchecum Lake chain about 40 miles north-east of Peterborough and on Kosh and Jack's Lakes.

Applicants for the permits include residents of Peterborough city and county, Toronto, other Ontario points. There are many from the United States—tourists who have been in the habit of vacationing in this area and have decided to make it a permanent summer months proposition.

A. B. Wheatley, Lindsay, District Forester, said that the two areas in which most of the applications have been requested and made are the Ketchecum chain and the Kosk and Jack's Lake district.

The Ketchecum chain is at present practically inaccessible by road, which may account for the fact that it has been comparatively undeveloped until lately. There is only one road leading into Jack's Lake.

People who now have establishments in the effected lakes are hopeful that the expected influx next year will bring added importance of the road systems of the north and lead to increased expenditures on them.

The Ketchecum chain included Ketchecum Lake, Mississauga (Gull), Beaver, Bottle, Sucker, Deer, Eagle, Serpentine and Copper Lakes. Kosh Lake (Kasshabog) is also the objective of some of the prospective summer builders.

The 250-plus builders mentioned were handled through the government office as they were all for shoreline lots, which are crown property. Applicants accepted are sold the land at 30 cents a foot frontage on the lake, plus the cost of surveying the lot. The lots are actually "sold" to the buyers, although the usual legal reservations applicable to all crown property is retained.

A minimum value of $500 is required by the crown before granting the lot, and the cottage must be built within 18 months of the acceptance of the application. Thus, with prospects to date, there is a minimum of $125,000 new construction scheduled in the two areas within the next 18 months. It is expected that actual value of the new summer homes will be more than double the required minimum, or half a million dollars.

The scenic beauty of the lakes is also protected by the contract entered into with the buyers. Timber rights on the lots are retained by the crown and builders are not permitted to cut standing timber or otherwise mar the shorelines.

Population Shows Little Increase

Peterborough's population is not likely to show an increase in the 1948 assessment roll which Bert C. Graham, assessment commissioner, will complete next week and deliver to City Clerk Outram.

"It is up a little in two wards and down in two others." Mr. Graham said this morning. "Our figures are not quite complete. We are giving them another check. But, that is the outlook. It may be that the final count for the part of Monaghan that was annexed will show some increase, but that is about all we have to expect."

The present assessment roll has been prepared for the purpose of the 1949 taxation.

BAG FIVE MASKINONGE

One trip to the Kawarthas was not enough for Guy Arnbrewster and Bon Musch, both of Medina, Ohio. They are back at Cameron's Kawartha Lodge on Katchawanooka Lake, and in the past two days have landed three muskies weighing 10, 15 and 18 pounds. Two other guests at the same lodge also landed keepers. Mrs. Cameron reports the lunge fishing this week is tops.

MAIN ST. TOPICS

ON NOMINATING COMMITTEE

Ald. Dick Raine was appointed to the nominating committee of the Ontario Municipal Association at Kingston.

CLEARINGS SOAR

Bank clearings soared over the two million mark again this week, for a total of $2,498,517, to hold a consistently high level, indicating heavy money transactions in the city banks.

OPENS KAWARTHA BALLROOM

Guest of honor at the official opening of the Kawartha Ballroom, Empress Hotel, will be M. Paul Martin, French Consul in Toronto. A Kiwanis dance will be held, proceeds to go to the club's welfare fund.

CAR AND BUS COLLIDE

Minor damage to both vehicles was caused Tuesday afternoon in a collision at Hunter and George Sts. Driver of the city bus involved was V. Fairburn, 92 Dufferin St. Miss Marie Hicks, 528 Gilmour St., was driving the car.

STILL UNSOLVED

It was a year ago this month that Iris Scott, pretty Toronto girl and George Vigus were found murdered in High Park, Toronto. Police have failed to find the murderers in this case.

MORE BIKE LICENCES

A second shipment of bicycle licences has been received by the Police Department for sale. The Department's current drive against offenders on bicycles had an apparent effect, for the first shipment of 5,000 sold out days ago.

WOULD INCREASE FARES

CNR, operating Oshawa buses, is proposing an increase in fares from four to three for 25c, or 14 for one dollar. Wage boosts from March 1 to July 31 this year amounted to $11,506, and gasoline prices advanced 29 per cent. Cost of vacations with pay were up 53.5 per cent. over last year. Wages were now 88.4 per cent. higher than 1940.

DOUSE SAWDUST FIRE

Firemen made a run to the Peterborough Canoe Co. early today when the sprinkler system went off. A workman was firing the boiler when a whiff of flame came out of the door and ignited some sawdust nearby. The blaze was quickly extinguished by the workman but the heat was sufficient to trigger off the sprinklers.

"Y" MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

A. L. Elliott, chairman of the YMCA membership committee, has selected his majors and assistants for the membership campaign starting Monday. Dr. R. C. Honey and L. C. Bateman are to be majors, and their assistants will be D. A. Loomis and S. G. Payne. The drive will open with a meeting at 6.15 p.m. on Monday at the YMCA, to which all campaign workers are invited.

EXAMINER FINDS CAMERA

The U.S. tourist who lost a box camera in Peterborough will get it back by mail one of these days. He wrote Heard's drug store trying to get trace of it. Receipt of the enquiry was published in the Examiner yesterday. "I guess that must be the camera that was left here weeks ago," said Carman Kelcey of Kelcey's tobacco shop, reading the news brief. Some one had left the camera on the counter, and probably had no recollection of the oversight.

CCF Leader To London

MONTREAL, Sept. 23 (CP)—M. J. Coldwell, Leader of the CCF Party, left here by air Wednesday night for London where he will atend the Commonwealth Parliamentary Conference, starting September 25. Mr. Coldwell, expected to return to Canada on September 28, was accompanied by William Irvine, CCF member of Parliament for Caribou, BC.

County Council Opposing Opening Game Preserve For Controlled Deer Hunt

County Council today went on record as opposing any attempt to hold a controlled deer hunt in the Peterborough Crown Game Preserve. This followed a report from the Department of Lands and Forests on the subject of overbrowsing by deer in the preserve. A four-day survey of the game preserve and the adjacent region was made last May by A. H. Lawrie of the Department and V. O. Windsor, game warden. They checked six areas which were known deer haunts for signs of overbrowsing. These were the Jack Lake region, a road running through several cedar swamps about a mile south of Apsley, Haultain region, Jack's Creek, Kasshabog Lake, and Colborne Lake.

According to the survey where the foundamental requirements of cedar browse and running water were found overbrowsing was evident. The Haultain area was singled out as particularly serious in the area extending to the shores of Stony Lake and adjacent islands in the vicinity of Young Bay and Quarry Bay. The observations of Charles Kingan, Peterborough, were cited as authority for the statement.

The report also said: "The situation on Jack Creek also appears to be serious but the relatively smaller amount of Cedar probably does not support as large a wintering population. Jack Lake appears to show an early stage in the same sequence of events."

According to Mr. Windsor, while no exact deer loss figures were kept, 30 to 40 deer died of starvation in the preserve last winter. This he estimated was 30 per cent higher than usual and was caused chiefly by the deep snow.

In view of this report the Hon. Harold Scott, Minister of Lands and Forests, suggested to the County Council that a round table discussion be held to decide upon some course of action to remedy the situation. He suggested local associations such as the Chamber of Commerce, Peterborough Fish and Game Association, members of the County Council and other interested parties as well as Departmental officials.

Will Cooperate

The Council agreed to cooperate in this matter, but made known its disapproval of allowing a hunt in the preserve.

"I'm strongly in favor of an organized method feeding deer rather than an organized hunt," said Reeve Norman Wilson. "If it weren't for the park there would be no deer there today.

And Reeve Wilson suggested a remedy for preventing starvation. "If every week or so a couple of men could cut down some of the scrub cedar trees of no commercial value, that would be first class feed."

Mr. Wilson then stated that cedar browse was the natural feed for deer and that it was better for them than hay. "They'll leave the hay and go for the brush and cedar every time," he said. Reeve Charles Flynn of Harvey thought Mr. Wilson's suggestion was a good one.

Warden James Humphries said he knew of a man who would partially cut a cedar tree then bend it over so that it could keep growing for some time. He quoted this woodsman as saying that it was easy cropping for the deer and the tree might continue to grow for as long as three or four years.

"I think it would be a bad thing to let people into the preserve," said Reeve James Gifford, Ennismore. "Regardless of what measure of control is adopted there will be indiscriminate killing of deer." He thought that Mr. Wilson had a sensible suggestion.

"I think an arrangement should be made to feed the deer rather than have it thrown open to hunters," said Mr. Gifford. His motion was seconded by Deputy-Reeve Harry McIntyre of Otonabee.

On a motion by Reeves Gifford and Griffith the Council decided to start payment of superannuation fees for jail employees as of July 1, 1948.

No Bush Fires In This Section

There are no forest fires in Peterborough-Lindsay district at present, A. B. Wheatley, District Forester at the Lindsay office said today. He added a warning that the recent dry weather, the approach to autumn with falling leaves and other fire hazards, means the woods would have to be watched closely.

There were two fires last week, both in Peterborough County, he said. Both were in wooded areas near lakes, one on Mississauga and one on Ketchecum Lake, and were brought under control quickly. One had spread to about an acre's size, but the other was doused while it was still in a small area.

DAYLIGHT TIME ENDS IN CITY EARLY SUNDAY

To conform with the change from Daylight Saving Time being made throughout Canada and the United States, the City of Peterborough will return to Standard Time at 2.00 a.m., Sunday, September 26th.

It is suggested that all citizens should turn their timepieces back one hour before retiring this Saturday night, September 25th, since the city will be on Standard Time on Sunday.

He's a Champion Baker— But Wifie Can Cook, Too!

LONDON, Sept. 23 — (CP). — Charles Lawton, 45-year-old London baker, has just been crowned champion bread-maker of England and Wales but he thinks more of his Canadian wife's pie-making ability than his own prowess.

After Lawton's loaf was proclaimed best at a bakers' exhibition—he also used to be a champion cyclist—he would say little about himself. But he was eager to tell of his 48-year-old wife's lemon and pumpkin pies which she learned to bake in Tavistock, Ont., as a girl.

As for bread he considered the perfect loaf should have a good appearance with crisp crust. It must cut well and the crumb must not break or tear; it must be easy to butter and when a wife runs her finger over it, it must give the same velvety feeling she would get from the feel of a good silk stocking.

The Lawtons have been operating their bakeshop in the Blackfriars area of London since before the war. They kept operating through the blitz and thousands of Canadian and United States service men came to know Mrs. Lawton's pies on invitations to their home. They still correspond with many.

The couple still have a Canadian connection through two daughters: Mrs. R Yaeger of Aylmer, Ont., wife of a Canadian airman, and Miss Eunice Battenburg, a daughter of Mrs. Lawton's by a former marriage.

Lawton, who won the gold medal for cycling at Herne Hill in 1924 took time off from his baking during the Olympic Games to act as starter in all the Olympic cycle races.

Mrs. G. Colquhoun Turns First Sod for Church For Which She Has Worked Hard Two Years

PAUDASH LAKE, Sept. 23—(ENS). — St. John's United Church of West Paudash, observed its first anniversary on Sunday in SS No. 6, Cardiff, where services have been held since early Spring. The temporary house of worship was filled to capacity. There were many visitors from Apsley, Peterborough, Oshawa and Toronto.

The guest speaker, assisted by Mr. Robb the regular pastor, was the Rev. M. J. Aitken of St. Andrew's United Church, Peterborough.

Duets were sung by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hunter, and Misses Tucker of Apsley, and Emerson Baumhour sang "The Old Rugged Cross," accompanied by himself on the guitar.

Immediately following the service the congregation travelled to the site of the new church opposite the Fred Hunter residence, and watched Mrs. Gordon Colquohoun turning the first sod for the new building. Mrs. Colquhoun, a former resident of Toronto, and now of Paudash, was the sole means of starting Sunday School classes nearly two years ago in her own home, and has, since then, kept up her untiring efforts to establish a church.

The perfect weather added its note of beauty to the happy occasion as nearly 100 voices sang "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow."

Many Attend Funeral Of Mrs. Samuel McGee

NORWOOD, Sept. 23 (ENS).—The funeral of Mrs. Samuel McGee took place on Thursday from her residence on Peterborough Road, Norwood. Interment was in Norwood Cemetery and was attended by a large gathering of relatives and friends. There were numerous floral tributes.

Rev. E. E. Pugsley, pastor of Norwood United Church conducted the service at the home and performed the last rites at the graveside.

Pallbearers were Max Scott, Arthur Stinson, Johnson Blakeley, Percy Gardner, Andrew McGee, Gordon Stinson.

Flower bearers were Dick Bannon, Roy Scott, Milton Blakeley, Armar Weir, Rod Webb, Gordon Stevenson, Kenneth Pakenham, and Grant Casseman.

Beside the immediate family, other relatives from a distance present were: Mrs. Edith Spencer and Gordon of Brighton; Mr. and Mrs. Percy Gardner, Brockville; Mr. and Mrs. David Collins, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Casselman, all of Toronto; George McGee, Hamilton; Mrs. G. McMillen, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Begg, Mrs. Robert McGee, all of Fenelon Falls; Wm. Bannon, Belleville.

Mrs. McGee was born at South Dummer, Mary Ellen, daughter of the late Richard and Martha Stinson. She was married to the late Samuel McGee in 1898 and resided with him on their farm in Asphodel until his death 11 years ago.

Four years ago she moved from her farm in the Elgin district to Norwood. She was a member of Norwood United Church, and a member of the Norwood Women's Institute.

Mrs. McGee is survived by a family of six girls and five boys. They are: Mrs. Stephen Elmhurst (Laura), Otonabee; Mrs. Clarice Knox, at home; Mrs. J. F. Sykes (Josephine), Washington, D.C.; Mrs. Harry Sherwin (Helen) who resides on the homestead; Mrs. J. J. Stewart (Marguerite) of Norwood; Mrs. E. R. Harrigan (Doris), Toronto; Darcy at home; Dr. Andy of the East General Hospital staff, Toronto; Dr. George, Detroit; Ted of Asphodel and Dr. Barclay of Orangeville.

Also surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Eliza Blakeley of Cottesloe; Mrs. A. S. Rosoe of Tuscon, Arizona; and 10 grandchildren, Richard, Mary and Blanche Elmhurst; Donald McGee, Ross and John Stewart, Jackie McGee, Paul Sherwin, Gerry Sykes and Andy McGee.

Give Gun To Sweden

STOCKHOLM — (CP). — The British Navy recently donated a 12-pounder gun to the Swedish Navy as a token of gratitude for efforts during the war years. The gun will be mounted at the Marine Museum in Gothenburg.

IN THE RECENT five-day war between the Dominion of India and the independent native state of Hyderabad, the defenders of Hyderabad had an enemy within to contend with. Hyderabad Communists cooperated with the invading Indian army and diverted groups that should have been in action against the invaders. Hyderabad police are seen in Nolgonda with part of the bag of Commie prisoners, who are huddled against the wall in the rear. The Hyderabad incident ended with capitulation of the Nizam to India. But the case is still to be aired before the United Nations.

No Hope of Solving Housing Municipal Association Says

KINGSTON, Sept. 23.—(CP).—D. B. Mansur, president of Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, believes no relief is in sight from Canada's housing headache.

Nor does he think building costs show any sign of coming down, he said Wednesday at the closing session of the Ontario Municipal Association's 50th annual convention.

The head of the federally-owned housing corporation said the Dominion government hopes to complete 85,000 housing units this year. But an additional 90,000 family groups will need housing by the end of 1948.

"Our estimates today show that 800,000 household groups in Canada are sharing accommodation. And of these about 250,000 families wish to have a place of their own.

"Our surveys indicate that 17 per cent of houses are shared by more than one family, while in small towns in Ontario it is as high as 20 per cent."

Breaking Records

The volume of construction of new housing units was breaking records. But under present economic conditions coupled with an extremely high marriage rate and heavy immigration, that construction was only preventing the situation from becoming worse.

It costs 188 per cent more to build a house now than in 1939, in addition to added costs for inefficiency of labor and delays in delivery of material. Costs increased in the first half of 1948 by 4.9 per cent.

"As to future needs, I would not dare to make an estimate. I will only make the comment that as long as construction of all kinds is proceeding at a rate beyond the full capacity of the construction industry, it would be amazing if the cost level fell."

The OMA, which elected York county treasurer W. W. Gardhouse as its president, heard charges that the Provincial government is "acting like a dictator" by forcing municipalities to arbitrate wage disputes with civic police and firemen without appeal.

K. L. Thompson, warden of York county, argued that the municipality should have the sole right to say how much of the taxpayer's money shall be spent and where it goes, including wages for firemen and police.

"The authority of the municipality is being taken away by a dictatorial government," said Seth Bush, North Bay welfare commissioner. "This is the thin edge of the wedge."

Urge Assistance For Students Of Theology

VANCOUVER, Sept. 23.—(CP).—Internal church topics were high on the agenda today of the 13th meeting of the United Church of Canada as it entered its third day. The problem of recruits for the ministry was scheduled to be one of the first matters to be discussed.

A finance committee report Wednesday recommended top priority be given "the securing and training an adequate supply of recruits for full-time service."

The Council's treasurer, Rev. Victor T. Mooney of Toronto, said "we must help our theological candidates through."

In his treasurer's report earlier, Dr. Mooney had said "many of our ministers are living in near poverty." The Council heard from another source that "its ministerial salaries were higher during 1947 than any other time in the 23-year history of the United church.

Stern Warning

The Council heard a stern warning Wednesday night that Communism can never be accepted by the church, a reiteration, with perhaps more emphasis, of what other leading speakers had voiced earlier.

Rev. Gordon A. Sisco, of Toronto, the church's general-secretary said the church "must press on by peaceful means to seek solutions of our social and economic ills in the light of the Christian revelation."

Communism must be rejected by Christianity for three reasons, he said: "Its materialistic determinism, its emphasis upon one class—the proletariat—and its redemption of man by mere historical processes."

In one of the Council's major addresses, Dr. Sisco urged the 470 ministerial and lay commissioners here from across Canada and Newfoundland to "press for social reform . . . to raise their voices and the church's voice in protest wherever men are the victims of terror . . . are denied such fundamental human rights as security against arbitrary arrest and whenever governments use torture to override men's consciences."

Boys Taking Horses For Midnight Canters

BELLEVILLE, Cept. 23. — Youthful neighborhood lads who apparently have a yen for playing at cowboys, or who at least have a liking for horseback riding, are causing horses owned by a Belleville dairy to be worked overtime.

At least this is the complaint of the dairy manager who has informed police that during the night boys are taking horses out of the dairy stable and apparently riding them about the city. After the ride is over the horses are returned to the stable.

Neighbors have complained of the horses being out during the night while drivers reporting for work in the mornings have discovered the horses loose in the stable.

"I don't think the boys have done any harm by their horseback riding but they return the horses to the stable without tying them and on one or two occasions they have got out of the stable," said the manager.

With The Canadian Legion

By The SECRETARY

Saturday, September 18, was a gala day in the life of the Canadian Legion across Ontario. Representatives form all points converged on Toronto to overflow the Crystal Ballroom of the King Edward Hotel in a complimentary dinner for the Immediate Past President of the Ontario Command, Comrade Erle Burgess, who is now president of the Ontario Service Bureau. Your correspondent, who was present, would like to remark on the grandeur of the occasion. This was particularly noticeable as the Union Jack and the flag of the Ontario Command were paraded through that large room, filled with men and women, stiffly at attention, representing every branch of the armed services of the Dominion of Canada. The respect shown to the Colors was something which I think would be an example for all citizens of Canada. Towards the end of the dinner Comrade Burgess was presented with a trophy, which had been bought with donations from all the branches in Ontario.

Monday, September 20, was the first meeting for the members of the Peterborough branch. Reports were made regarding the hall, finance, recreation, entertainment and sports. The meeting was short and most of the business was left over to the October meeting.

Comrade Al Wade was present at the Legion Hall Wednesday night after a long summer spent in hospital. He received a hearty welcome. For comrades who do not know that Al is home, here is your notice.

One thing that will be particularly brought to the attention of the citizens of Ontario during the next few weeks will be the Poppy campaign. Ontario, under the capable leadership of Comrade Tom Magladery, hopes to go over the top this year in wreath and poppy sales. The Peterborough citizens will remember the float we had in our annual picnic parade depicting the grave of a soldier and having a display of the 1948 wreaths which we had just obtained.

Mrs. F. Crate Elected President Of H and S

HASTINGS, Sept. 23 (ENS).—The Hastings Home and School Association re-opened its activities on Tuesday. E. McKeever read a letter from Mrs. J. Radcliffe who has tendered her resignation as president.

The treasurer reported that the purchased projector and microphone are paid, leaving a balance of $62.23.

The following were elected to office: President, Mrs. F. Crate; vice-president, C. Scriver; secretary, Mrs. C. Baker; treasurer, F. Kravel; executive, Canon C. R. Spencer, Mrs. L. Humphries, L. Switzer, Mrs. J. Jones, and J. Ryder. It was decided to present the graduating class with school pins. Mr. McKeever asked for interesting material for the children taking part in the oratorical contest in the Town Hall on October 25.

12 To Be Graduated

HASTINGS, Sept. 23—(ENS).—The graduating class of the Hastings Public School pupils to be presented with school pins by the Hastings Home and School Association are: Edith Warrington, Wayne Dodd, Louis Henry, William Smith, Jean Hay, Roy Ashe, Diane Howse, Carol Baker, Lee Glennie, Dorothy Fisher, David Cook and Terrence Johnston.

Trent River W.I. Visits Westwood

WESTWOOD, Sept. 23—(ENS).—The Women's Institute met on Tuesday afternoon in the Town Hall for the September meeting and had as their guests about 20 members of Trent River Women's Institute.

A program was given by the visitors, with Mrs. Mann, district president, in charge.

The program included community singing, with Mrs. Little at the piano; readings by Mrs. T. Brown, Mrs. W. Lewis, Mrs. Little and Mrs. Pollock; a guitar duet by Mrs. Vanness and Miss Afton Vanness; a vocal chorus by seven ladies: Mrs. Rutton, Mrs. T. Brown, Mrs. Umphrey, Mrs. Vanness, Mrs. Lewis and Misses Afton Vanness and Chum Lean, with Mrs. Openshaw as accompanist. A musical contest was won by Mrs. Little and a flower emblem contest by Mrs. F. E. Birdsall.

Historical research featured the meeting, with a display of ancient relics in charge of the convener, Mrs. J. E. Thompson. The Tweedsmuir village history was also shown by Mrs. Thompson.

Mrs. Lorne Hutchinson was chosen as delegate to the annual convention in Toronto. The motto was given by Mrs. T. J. Cardwell and Mrs. Hutchinson gave interesting current events.

It was decided to hold a bingo on Oct. 1, and a series of card parties will start soon.

The interval represents years of hard work for the blind man to obtain an education which qualified him for such a position. He attended the Ontario School for the Blind, McGill University, and finally Columbia University at New York. All his notes had to be taken in Braille and his examinations written with aid of a typewriter.

Wallace Only Man Slinging Election Mud

By CLYDE BLACKBURN

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23—(CP)—The United States presidential election campaign, now in full swing, today finds Progressive candidate Henry Wallace the only one of the three leading candidates making positive and personal charges against his opponents.

Wallace bluntly holds President Truman and Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York, and their advisers, responsible for the troubles with Russia. He implies that if war comes it will be their policies that brought it.

Truman blasts away at the 80th Congress but neither Dewey nor his running-mate, Governor Earl Warren of California, can be held responsible for the failure or success of the Federal Congress. Nor does Truman say they could.

Dewey and Warren almost ignore Truman and his advisers in their appeal but base their claim for support on the allegation that the 16-year-old Democratic administration is inept and incapable of doing what the needs of the moment call for.

Good In All People

Warren, and in a measure Dewey, admit that there is good in all people, including Democrats, and preach unity and cooperation but under a Republican congress and administration.

Politics being what it is and human nature being what it is, this lofty attitude of the Republican leaders may not be sustained under the Truman taunts, but it has drawn a great deal of editorial tribute

The likelihood is that Truman will ease up on his attacks against the alleged "Wall-Street" and big-business cliques which he claims rule the Republican leadership and wait their chance to gobble up the economically - smaller people.

Wallace Monday night told his radio audience that the Democratic-Republican foreign policy started the "cold war" with Russia. He said that "as never before in our history, the United States is in the hands of incapable and dishonest men."

Africa Passes Indian Bill

CAPETOWN, Sept. 23 (Reuters)—The South African House of Assembly Wednesday passed on second reading the Asiatic Laws Amending Bill, described by Interior Minister T. E. Donges as the first step toward repatriation of Indians living in the Dominion.

The vote was 63 to 54. Earlier the House rejected by 63 votes to 58 an opposition amendment to refer the Bill to a select committee for consideration.

The Bill would end representation of Indians in the Union Legislature and Natal Provincial Council by repealing the 1946 Act giving them that representation.

Prime Minister Daniel Malan said the bill is part of the government's policy of separation of races, for which the government had been given a mandate in the recent elections.

Field Marshal Jan Smuts, Opposition leader, said the matter is being handled with undue haste and declared that the Indians in South Africa are "a permanent part of our population."

There are 282,000 Asiatics living in South Africa, which has a population of 11,250,000.

Ban British Cars, Claim Safety Defects

BOSTON, Sept. 23 (AP) — The Massachusetts registry of motor vehicles Wednesday ruled that British-made automobiles fail to meet State requirements and will be barred from the road until they meet safety standards. In a departmental directive, A. W. Devine said headlights are too small and tail lights do not meet requirements.

Order Second Trial

LONDON, Ont., Sept. 23 (CP)—A second trial for Lloyd Penfold, charged with manslaughter in the street brawl death of Lloyd Lee was ordered Wednesday by Mr. Justice G. F. McFarland after an assize court jury reported it could not reach a verdict.

Use Photographs Of Death Bed As Evidence

SAULT STE. MARIE, Sept. 23 (CP)—Photographs of the slain May Rivers, 21, taken after her nude body was discovered on a hotelroom bed, were before the court as exhibits as the murder trial of the girl's brother-in-law, Richard Rivers, 19, continued today at Algoma district Fall assizes.

Argument over admissibility of the pictures took up most of Wednesday's hearing. Mr. Justice G. A. Gale questioned their submission by the Crown and said they might tend to prejudice the jurors. He dismissed the jury until the matter was settled.

Crown Attorney Arthur W. Wishart argued that the pictures, which showed the body sprawled on the bed, would indicate the motive for the crime and revealed facts the jury had a right to know. Such photographs had been shown at other trials.

Mr. Justice Gale finally admitted the pictures and recalled the jury.

Raoul Lauzon, owner of the hotel in the district town of Blind River in which the body was found the morning of July 23, said Rivers rented room No. 7 about 6.20 p.m. July 21.

Door Ajar

Lauzon said he saw Rivers in the room about 11 p.m. July 22 when the door to No. 7 was slightly ajar.

"I was in the hall looking after another guest when I saw Rivers, stripped to the waist, standing just behind the door. He asked to be awakened at 12 o'clock, which I took to mean noon the next day.

"The next time I saw him was around eight o'clock the next morning when we exchanged good mornings. He was going upstairs from the lobby."

Shortly after that, a chambermaid found the body in room No. 7. The slain girl's face had been battered and a man's leather belt was tied tightly around her neck.

Mary Proulx, 20, of Blind River, testified that Rivers made a date to go to a show with the victim, the estranged wife of his 18-year-old brother, at 8 p.m. July 22.

Miss Proulx said that she and her sister went to the town's only theatre that night but did not see either the accused youth or his part-Indian sister-in-law at the show.

Ask Rent Controls Lifted In Spring

LAKE OF BAYS, Ont., Sept. 23. (CP)—Removal of rent controls by next spring was urged Wednesday by the 26th annual conference of the Ontario Association of Real Estate Boards.

Salter Askin of Windsor was elected president, succeeding Ernest Oliver of Ottawa. Vice-presidents are E. C. Brisco, Chatham; Stewart Chambers, Hamilton; and Bert Weir, London.

The association set up a farm brokers' division with the following officers: C. R. Purcell, Toronto, president; P. J. Harvey, Brantford, vice-president; and C. E. Patterson, St. Catharines, secretary-treasurer.

Couple Honored At Apsley

APSLEY Sept. 23 (—ENS)—A pleasant event took place in Legion Hall Apsley where friends gathered with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tanner to celebrate the 30th anniversary of their marriage.

Christine Marsha Markham and Frank Arthur Tanner were married in Wilkinham England on September 18, 1918. Witnesses of the marriage were Harry Tanner brother of the groom and May Markham sister of bride. They came to Canada in October of the same year and returned to England with their little daughter in 1919.

In 1921 they returned to Northern Ontario where they remained for a short time before coming to this locality to reside. Mr. Tanner was in 93rd Battalion during World War I and in Veterans' Guard in World War II.

They have three daughters and two sons: Mrs. Henry Skelcher of Ajax, Mrs. Vernal Young of Apsley, Mrs. Don Carpenter of Barrie, Fred and Ken both of Apsely, and 7 grandchildren. One son-in-law Henry Skelcher served in the Army another Vernal Young served in R. C. A. F. and one son Fred served very creditably in R. C. A. F. for many months.

The many beautiful gifts presented testified to the high esteem in which the family is held, being china, linen, crystal, silver and pyrex.

The family presented their parents with a full set of China dishes and pyrex percolator. The President of Legion Glen Nichols read an address and President of Auxiliary presented a pair of Rainbow striped blankets in behalf of Canadian Legion No. 381 and Women Auxiliary.

Mrs. Owen Montgomery on behalf of the Women's Institute presented a linen table cloth and 2 china cups and saucers. The entire family spent Sunday with their parents.

One very happy thing was that Mrs. Tanner sister Mrs. Sid Pearce of Redding England arrived here on Friday and was glad to be present at this celebration.

The Women's Auxiliary assisted by members of Canadian Legion served lunch.

AT YOUR GROCER'S NOW!

Libby's "Gentle Press"

TOMATO JUICE

Fresh-From-The-Garden

It's Libby's! Now you can stock up with Canada's most delicious, most popular tomato juice—Libby's delectable "Gentle Press"! Libby's new pack has just arrived at your grocer's, fresh-from-the-garden, sparkling with flavour, loaded with health-giving vitamins.

Just a few days ago, Libby experts were out in the fields examining their crop of prize tomatoes—thin-skinned, sweet-flavoured, heavy with juice, the result of 36 years of expert seed selection. These were examined for flavour, for sugar content, for vitamin content. Libby's tomatoes are grown to Libby's exacting standards.

When these selected beauties reached peak perfection, harvesters moved out into the fields. As they filled their baskets with rosy ripe tomatoes, these were rushed to Libby's kitchens, washed, and pressed by Libby's famous patented "Gentle Press" process. Gently their fresh, sweet juice was extracted, a little salt added (nothing more), the tins were sealed and were on their way to your grocer.

This is why Libby's "Gentle Press" Tomato Juice is unsurpassed for freshness, for flavour, for vitamins—why Libby's is an excellent dietary source of vitamins A and C—good, and good for you!

Rich in flavour and health-giving vitamins, Libby's is one of the most economical fruit juices you can buy. The Libby habit is an economical, healthful one—for children and grown-ups too!

Right now is the time to stock your shelves with Libby's "Gentle Press" Tomato Juice. For the past several years there has not been enough of Libby's Tomato Juice to supply the demand. To those many thousands who have made Libby's the first choice among juices, Libby's suggest that you order your requirements promptly.

No New Clues In Search For Lost Plane

THE PAS, Man., Sept. 23.—(CP).—Group Capt. Z. L. Leigh of Vancouver, directing the search for a United States Navy plane missing with five men aboard since Sept. 12, was scheduled to return here today from Churchill, Man., where he discussed plans for continuing the hunt.

The plane, a twin-engine Beechcraft which carried two high-ranking naval officers was en route here from Hudson Bay Port of Churchill, 450 miles to the northeast, when it disappeared.

Since then, Canadian and American aerial search forces have droned for mile after mile over the northern Manitoba wilderness without finding a trace of the Beechcraft. Leads so far run down have proved fruitless, but the carefully-plotted search continues.

No New Developments

Meantime, search headquarters here had no new developments to report.

A clue considered by search officials the most promising so far received fizzled out when a check of times showed the aircraft which John Whitford, an Indian of Skownan, said he saw Sept. 12 could not be the missing one.

Skownan is about 100 miles southeast of the Pas.

Reports of lights or flares on the shore of Kississing Lake, 80 miles north of here, and the sighting of a flashing light near Skownan were found on investigation to be fruitless.

Capt. Robert W. Stirling-Hamilton, naval adviser to the British High Commissioner's office, and Capt. Ben Scott Custer, naval attache to the U.S. Embassy, Ottawa, were aboard the Beechcraft.

DONALD M. HUESTON, executive secretary of the Young Progressive Conservatives of Canada, who is visiting Montreal in connection with the forthcoming convention of the Party, to be held in Ottawa next week.

Russian Wife Asks Divorce Canadian

MOSCOW, Sept. 23 (Reuters).—Mrs. Eleanora Power, wife of George Power, former Canadian embassy official here, today publicly affirmed she has asked for a divorce.

Mrs. Power, the former Ballerina Eleanor Kuznetsova who married the Canadian in 1945 when he was stationed at Moscow, is one of eight Russian women who wrote to the government newspaper Izvestia making public their divorce intentions. Four of the women are married to Americans and three to Britons.

In their letters to Izvestia, they said:

"We protest against the slanderous anti-Soviet campaign in the Anglo-American press about the Soviet wives question. We state we do not want to proceed to England or America and have applied for divorces."

Mrs. Power applied for divorce more than 12 months ago.

Whalemeat Not Sold In Vancouver Shops

VANCOUVER, Sept. 23 (CP).—British Columbia whalemeat, retailing at about half the price of high-cost land meat, has little market in Vancouver.

For some weeks no whalemeat has been on the market here, although plenty is available. Western Whaling Corporation has, however, shipped some to Seattle, Portland and Sacramento.

Vancouver butchers have declined to handle the product, which some consumers have difficulty distinguishing from beef when cooked.

One reason given is that its status, from the government inspection standpoint, has not been clarified.

Scenic Areas Be Visited On Royal Tour

By JOHN CAPREOL

LONDON, Sept. 23—(Reuters)—The five-month Royal tour of Australia and New Zealand next year is planned to give the King and Queen and Princess Margaret a comprehensive picture of the life and people in cities, towns and isolated areas

In New Zealand, they will sail into the historic Bay of Islands, fly over the southern Alps, and visit the mineral springs at Rotorua.

In Australia, they will spend two days at the Great Barrier Reef, with its coral islands which stretch for about a thousand miles along the Queensland coast. They will visit the majestic Blue Mountains near Sydney.

The Royal family will see the great mining centres of Broken Hill in New South Wales and Kalgoorlie in Western Australia. At Kalgoorlie's "golden mile" miners picked up chunks of gold the size of a man's fist in the gold rush in 1893.

In Tasmania, they will see the sheep and dairy farms, huge apple orchards and the hop fields from which the state derives its world wide reputation for beer.

H.M.S. Vanguard will take them up the Derwent Estuary to Hobart, Tasmania's capital.

The Royal party will drive from Adelaide through the wine districts of the rich Barossa Valley, vineyard of the British Empire, producing wines worth more than $4,000,000 a year.

See Famous Sheep Farms

They will visit prosperous New South Wales sheep farming districts to see how Australia produces more than one-quarter of the world's wool from a total of only one - sixth of the world's sheep.

Travelling by air, train, ship and automobile, they will cover nearly 4,000 miles in 69 days in Australia alone. Sixty-seven different cities, towns and villages will be visited in Australia, and 40 in New Zealand, where they will spend the first 32 days of the tour. They will arrive there by way of the Panama Canal Feb. 28.

Maori receptions will be held at Christchurch, Gisborne, Rotorua, Waitangi and Ngaruawahia, where the Waikato tribes will probably produce their famous war canoes.

Peaceable, loyal and contented, the Maoris possess full citizenship. They send four representatives to the elected lower House of Parliament, while two of their chiefs sit in the nominated upper chamber. The cabinet usually contains one Maori member.

The Royal party will sail for Sydney on the H.M.S. Vanguard March 31.

They will tour the areas around Sydney, Canberra, and Brisbane, then visit the Great Barrier Reef before moving south to Tasmania. Thence they will go to Melbourne, Adelaide and Perth where farewell functions will be held June 11, the day they embark in Vanguard for their homeward passage by way of Capetown.

They will spend Easter in Sydney and attend services on Good Friday and Easter Sunday. They will probably visit the races there also.

Doucett Announces New Appointments

TORONTO, Sept. 23 — (CP).—Highways Ministers Doucett Wednesday appointed C. H. Nelson as chief engineer of construction and Charles A. Robbins, chief engineer of maintenance. The appointments were announced after a reorganization of department personnel.

Mr. Nelson was former assistant chief engineer and Mr. Robbins was district engineer for Southern Ontario. Their assistants will be T. F. Francis and W. B. Hutcheson.

Mr. Doucett said J. D. Millar remains as deputy-minister of highways and A. A. Smith as chief engineer.

He also said J. H. Hawes, divisional municipal engineer at Owen Sound, had been superannuated because of ill health. N. H. Cooke will succeed Mr. Hawes.

H. Irwin has joined the engineering staff of the municipal roads branch.

Cheese Factory Lost In Brockville Fire

BROCKVILLE, Sept. 23 (CP).—A Wednesday night fire virtually destroyed the 38-year-old cheese factory at the village of Philipsville, 29 miles north-west of here. Volunteer firefighters from the village and the volunteer group from neighboring Delta, were able to do little to save the building because of lack of water. Origin of the blaze was unknown. Some equipment and all but the day's make of cheese were removed.

Transport Arrives

HALIFAX, Sept. 23— (CP). — The United States army transport General Heintzleman arrived today with 822 displaced persons from Germany aboard. Following the General Heintzleman into port will be the General Sturgis, with 844 DP's aboard, due on Saturday.

Speech Down Under Has Traits Of Its Own But Resembles Cockney

By J. C. GRAHAM
Canadian Press Correspondent

AUCKLAND, N.Z., Sept. 23 — (CP)—Young winner of the title Miss New Zealand in a beauty-brains - and - personality contest, Mary Wootton, has set Australians and New Zealanders at loggerheads by her comments on the Australian accent.

Miss Wootton, who recently visited Canada as part of her reward for winning the contest, quoted a story about the Australian accent when asked in a broadcast in New York how it differed from New Zealand speech.

Asked what was a bison, she said, an Australian schoolboy replied: "A bison is what you wash your fice in." New Zealanders, she claimed, do not distort their vowels like that.

Australian war brides in America were the first to bite and their example was quickly followed at home and by Australians in New Zealand. Miss New Zealand's criticism of Australian speech was indignantly rejected.

Nevertheless, expert testimony is that there definitely is an Australian accent. It has been described as resembling Cockney in some respects with certain American influences and many features that are distinctively Australian.

However, it is just as definite that normal New Zealand speech also varies from standard spoken English. The New Zealand accent in many respects closely resembles Australian, although it is generally held, in New Zealand at any rate, to be nearer standard.

Prolong Vowels

The general tendency in both countries is to prolong the vowel sounds, especially of the diphthongs, and to alter their values. Thus cow becomes in extreme cases "keeow", goal post becomes "garwl parwst", no becomes "naow", and few is drawn out to "fyerw".

Even Australians and New Zealanders who speak very nearly standard English can usually be distinguished from Englishmen by their habit of drawling the names of days of the week. They say something approaching "Saturdayee" instead of the clipped English "Saturdy".

Students of the subject commented on the handicap sometimes suffered by Australians and New Zealanders abroad through the fact that their local accent happens to resemble in certain respects the dialect of the less educated classes in England.

Australians and New Zealanders of high scholarship and learning are often gravely underestimated by people who consider an Oxford accent the essential basis of culture, because they speak what seems a lazier version of Cockney.

On the other hand, Canadians and Americans, even those judged to speak badly in their own countries, suffer no such disability in English-speaking countries because their speech is not commonly associated with the English dialects.

2 Cornwall Industries Ordered To Cut Power

CORNWALL, Sept. 23 (CP).—Two of Cornwall's main industries, the Howard Smith Paper Mill and Canadian Industries Limited, have been instructed by the Ontario Hydro Electric Power Commission to reduce their consumption of power at once.

Worst hit is the paper mill, which has been ordered to reduce its consumption of 15,000 horsepower. Officials say the edict means a modification of work schedules or curtailment of production.

At the C.I.L. plant, schedules are being revamped to use the most power at non-peak periods.

The plants are the only ones here served by the HEPC.

St. Lawrence Power Company, which serves the city with power received from the Cedar Rapids project, has not yet received any notification to reduce consumption.

FOLLOWING the Communist seizure of the Indonesian city of Madioen, President Ahmed Soegarno (above) proclaimed martial law for all workers in vital industries throughout the republic. Soegarno declared the Red coup may be regarded as the start for seizing the whole republic.

Tax Collectors Find It Tough On French Isle

By ODETTE LAGUERRE

PARIS, Sept. 23 (Reuters). — French tax collectors in Britanny have turned the spotlight on living baits on l'Ile de Seine, a desolate island off the Breton coast known in Celtic times as "The Isle of Seven Slumbers."

As long as anyone knows, the 1,500 persons of the island have enjoyed special immunity from taxes because of their extreme poverty—except for a local one on dogs. Now, the collectors of Quimper, Breton town to which the island is linked, have upset tradition and demanded payment of state taxes.

Municipal authorities on the island are resisting. They have handed in their resignations in protest.

Inhabitants of the island live on the earnings from their lobster-catching and fishing and by growing potatoes on their barren land, about four miles long and less than a mile wide.

Isolated from civilization, the island has no police, no customs officials, not even a gamekeeper. The mayor is responsible for law and order.

Only in summer, when fishing crews from the mainland tie up for the night in the island harbor with its bleached, slate-tiled cottages are two policemen taken over from Quimper.

Until recently, the only doctor on the island was one sent on a duty tour by French naval authorities. He gave medical attention and medicine free of charge.

Hard For The Women

All the men on the island are fishermen. They go out at dawn with their nets and lobster pots and return at nightfall. The women do the rest of the island's work. They do a man's job on the land as well as tending their homes.

They cultivate the meagre crops of potatoes, onions, cabbage and poor quality grain which they feed to poultry. They help build the jetties and quays which protect the island from the sea. They carried the stone with which their local church was built.

Older women dress in black from head to foot, a relic of the mourning which came to the island less than a century ago when half the population died in a cholera epidemic.

Normally, the municipal authorities get along as best they can with the proceeds of the dog tax and their monopoly of salt, which they import from the mainland and resell to the population. Spirits and alcoholic drinks are subject to duty and another source of income is shooting licences.

In spite of their hard life and frequent interruption of communications with the Brittany coast by bad weather, the islanders are almost fanatically attached to their barren, wind-swept land. That, too, is tradition. Several times in their history French kings or governments have offered to transfer them to the mainland because of their poverty. They invariably refused.

NEW WASHING DISCOVERY WITH SUPER-WETTING ACTION

washes everything FASTER, CLEANER, EASIER than any soap on earth!

FAB's Super-Wetting Action means that when you wash with FAB, the FAB-and-water solution instantly penetrates materials . . . soaks them more thoroughly. FAB—with Super-Wetting Action—gets inside materials; pushes dirt out!

FAB means faster, cleaner, easier washing of dirtiest overalls, towels, work and play clothes . . . FAB brings extra-dirt-removing power for extra-dirty wash! FAB—with Super-Wetting Action—does away with clinging soap scum! Brings you whiter shirts, towels, and sheets!

Don't miss *FAB*ulous FAB . . . the only thing you'll need for everything you wash!

New scientific washing preparation by Colgate-Palmolive-Peet is a FABulous work saver for the dirtiest overalls, work shirts, children's clothes, towels, shirts... everything that's extra dirty!

WHAT IS SUPER-WETTING ACTION?

See for yourself! Take a length of cotton sewing thread. Roll it into a ball. Drop it into a glass of water. It floats; does not become completely wet for a long time.

Now drop another little ball of thread into a glass of water and FAB. It sinks, becomes completely soaked at once. This simple test shows you how FAB makes water wetter . . . instantly penetrates all washable materials faster . . . pushes dirt out! That's FAB's FABulous Super-Wetting Action . . . something no soap on earth can give you!

FAB WASHES DIRTIEST CLOTHES CLEANER THAN ANY SOAP

FAB—with Super-Wetting Action—instantly penetrates materials; pushes out dirt. Washes grimiest overalls faster than soap! Makes tough dirt like the "line" on shirt collars disappear like magic! FAB leaves no soap scum to "gray" or "yellow" white wash . . . Wash is whiter, cleaner when washed with FAB!

FAB BRIGHTENS SOAP-DULLED COLORS!

Soap-dulled washables look FABulously brighter, fresher, and newer after being washed with FAB. That's because anything you've washed with soap is made duller and grayer looking by soap scum . . . FAB—with Super-Wetting Action—removes that soap scum . . . leaves no film or scum of its own even in hardest water.

FAB WASHES CHEAPER... IN HARDEST WATER

Laboratory tests prove that cup for cup, in hard water, FAB washes up to twice as much family wash as soap. This economy is another FABulous miracle. Yes . . . FAB—with Super-Wetting Action—is up to twice as economical as soap in hard water. You'll notice that all of FAB washes . . . Nothing is wasted in soap scum!

Faster And Better for all family wash and Dishes

Saskatchewan Angry Festival Elsewhere

REGINA, Sept. 23. (CP)—William Reid, president of the Saskatchewan Drama League, said yesterday he was "surprised and annoyed" at the decision to hold the Dominion Drama Festival in Alberta in 1950.

The Reginian said he had extended an invitation at the Ottawa festivals in the spring to have either the 1949 or 1950 festivals here.

"Since the next festivals will be held at Toronto, I expected that Regina would be the meeting place in 1950."

Mr. Reid, a governor of the Dominion Drama Festivals, said he would ask an explanation of the chairman of the executive, Park Jamieson of Sarnia.

"We are better organized for drama work in Saskatchewan than Alberta is, I'm sure."

Abandoned Freighter Located Week Later

NEW YORK, Sept. 23 (AP) — A French vessel has sighted the derelict British freighter Leicester, earlier "presumed sunk" after a long search, the United States Coast Guard said Wednesday. The Leicester was abandoned by her crew last Thursday in the North Atlantic after she was battered by a storm Six of crew were lost.

Labor Council Protests Border Action

A letter from the Allied Labor Council to the Dominion Government was authorized at a meeting of the Council in which the banning of certain labor union members from the United States was protested. The letter also asks the Federal Government to take up with the United States Government "the matter of restoring democratic rights to trade union officials by allowing them free crossing of the border."

The letter claims that "the representatives of big business who have subsidiaries in Canada travel freely between the two countries, and on many occasions for the purpose of carrying on union negotiations."

Still another letter was authorized to be sent to the Ontario Government calling upon the Government "to act with despatch in correcting the extent possible the present critical power situation."

It was claimed that the shortage of hydro power is working a hardship on the workers, and that it is "reducing their already inadequate standard of living."

Still another letter to the Utilities Commission asks that labor representatives be included in any conferences held in an endeavor to cope with the situation.

Bicyclist 16 Hurt In Odd Accident

Injured when he plunged his hand through the windshield of the car about to strike his bicycle, 16-year-old Gary Goselin of 61 Crescent St., received treatment Tuesday for a cut hand and hip injuries. The accident happened about noon at King and George Sts. The car of A. H. Greenhalgh, RR 3, Havelock, was in collision with the bicycle of the injured youth. Goselin put out his right arm when he saw the car coming towards him. The window of a door of the car was smashed by the boy's arm.

PC Douglas Farthing investigated.

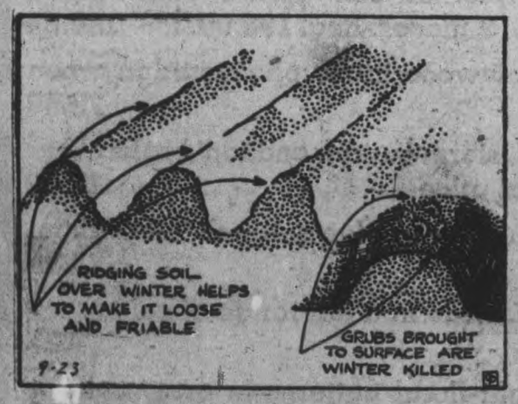
YOUR GARDEN . . .

Planning For Next Year



BY DEAN HALLIDAY

This is the time to improve the soil for next season with the expectation of growing bigger and better vegetables.

If cover crops are not to be planted, then heavy soils are best dug and left rough until planting time next spring.

A method of increasing frost action on soil is illustrated in the accompanying Garden-Graph. This is called ridging. It permits greater frost action on the exposed soil over winter and spring therefore finds it more loose and friable. In the small garden, ridging does away with the need of fall plowing.

Ridging also helps to bring to the surface many grubs, as illustrated, which are then killed by freezing or are eaten by the birds.

It takes some time for the effect of fertilizers to be absorbed by the soil, especially if organic ones are used, such as manures. Apply such fertilizers, therefore, in fall or early winter.

If the Freedom garden soil proved troublesome this year because it was a heavy, clay type, the chances are it has become water-logged and will never give adequate garden results until it has been properly drained.

Pipe or tile drainage is the method most commonly used for garden drainage. A less expensive, yet effective, method of drainage calls for the digging of trenches and then filling them in with rubble which will permit the water to run off. The rubble should be about nine inches in depth and, if possible, covered with a layer of old sods turned upside down.

Green Peppers Plentiful Why Not Try Some Baked?

By MARY MOORE

This week I bought processed cheese at 42 cents per pound (by buying a 2-lb. piece) and found that one-half pound was ample to make the Cheese Pie I have described today. With it I served green peppers stuffed with rice, and Harvard beets. It was a beautiful meal.

Some of our readers want me to give them exact directions for making and baking stuffed peppers; and I want to remind you to make Harvard Sauce for beets. So, for the moment, some of us are happy.

Quick Cheese Pie

Using 1-3 inch thick slices of stale white bread cut them into pieces that will line a pie plate. Cover with a layer of cheese cut ⅛-inch thick; sprinkle with salt and paprika. Repeat these layers. Pour over enough whole milk to be seen through cracks of top layer. Dot with butter, sprinkle with paprika and bake at 350 deg. Fahr. until cheese is soft, and milk has soaked into bread enough to make the pie firm enough to cut, and top is golden. We discovered this was nice with new chili sauce.

Baked Green Peppers Stuffed With Rice

Boil 1-3 cup rice until tender in plenty of salted water. Cut off tops from 6 large green sweet peppers, remove seeds and ribs and wash. If desired they may be simmered in salted water for 5 minutes at this stage but I do not do it. Mix the boiled and drained rice with 4 tablespoons butter, 2 to 4 tablespoons chili sauce, 1½ teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, and about 1 cup soft breadcrumbs. Stuff this into the prepared peppers, dot top with butter and sprinkle with paprika and bake at 400 deg. Fahr. for about 30 minutes, having peppers standing upright in about ¼-inch water.

Emem's Harvard Beets

Cut 4 or 5 scrubbed and peeled beets into ½-inch dice or force through food chopper. To them add ½ cup water (if dice) or 2 tablespoons water (if ground) and 2 tablespoons butter and simmer, covered, until tender—about 10 to 15 minutes. Mix together ½ tablespoon flour, 1 tablespoon sugar, and 1½ tablespoons vinegar or lemon juice, and stir this into the beets until thickened. Season with salt and pepper, and just before serving add ¼ cup thick sour cream. This is an elegant dish and makes beets into an item you can serve at your proudest dinner.

Gingerbread Peach Pudding

To keep using peaches as long as the season lasts I think we ought to vary our ways for serving. We found this pudding delicious.

In bottom of buttered baking dish place about 12 peach halves —OR put 1 large peach half in each of 6 buttered custard cups. Pour over gingerbread batter made by putting3 tablespoons shortening in mixing bowl and add ¼ cup boiling water and ½ cup molasses. Sift in 1⅓ cups flour sifted with ½ teaspoon each soda, salt, ginger and cinnamon. (½ cup walnuts may be added to batter if desired.) Bake in oven 350 deg. Fahr. for about 30 minutes for large pudding—about 15 minutes for individual.

Sliced peaches are a good addition to ordinary bread pudding if a little extra sugar is added to allow for sweetening them.

One of my friends says that the following method of serving squash is the only way her family will eat it. You may have folks in your family that are not squash-enthusiasts that might find this good:

Scalloped Squash

Measure 2 cups cooked mashed squash. Mix ½ cup cracker crumbs with ¼ cup melted butter. Put half the squash in buttered baking dish, sprinkle with salt and half the crumbs. Repeat, then pour over ½ cup cream. Bake at 400 deg. Fahr. until heated through and brown.

Don't Neglect Slipping

FALSE TEETH

Do false teeth drop, slip or wabble when you talk, eat, laugh or sneeze? Don't be annoyed and embarrassed by such handicaps. FASTEETH, an alkaline (non-acid) powder to sprinkle on your plates, keeps false teeth more firmly set. Gives confident feeling of security and added comfort. No gummy, gooey, pasty taste or feeling. Get FASTEETH today at any drug store.

Says French Still Best Cooks Despite Shortage

MONTREAL, Sept. 22 (CP)—With no milk, no butter, no cream and pastry only once a week, French cooking still is the finest in the world. This is the opinion of Marcelle Barthe, CBC producer and commentator, who has just returned from a three-month visit to Europe.

What milk is available is reserved for children and the aged, she explained in an interview.

"The old saying, give a French cook a bone and an onion and she will produce the best soup on earth, is still true."

Her opinion of French chic is much the same. "Even the poorest girl in Paris has an interesting way of wearing her clothes."

Miss Barthe found a quiet gravity replacing the traditional Gallic sparkle. But what impressed her most was the all-out effort being made by Parisians to regain their reputation not only in the world of fashion but also in the arts and theatre.

"No money is being spared to make the theatre perfect, in every detail,' she said. "Stage settings, costumes, acting, lighting are all superb."

Miss Barthe visited the Canadian embassy in Rome during her trip.

Excellent work in interpreting Canada was being done by Jean Desy, Canadian ambassador to Italy, she said.

She attended a dinner party at the embassy at which the cocktail was sweeted with maple syrup, the entree was Canadina salmon, the bread made from Canadian flour—a decided treat in Italy—and the meal concluded with strong Canadian cheese.

CAUSES BREAKS

WINNIPEG — (CP).—Twenty-two breaks occurred in city water mains during August, and for three days in September mains cracked at the rate of three a day. Dry weather, causing drying and shifting of the clay soil, was responsible, officials of the city engineer's department said.

BIG PLANT EXPANDED

GLASGOW — (CP). — A large air-conditioning firm here, claiming to be the largest in the world, recently increased its capacity by 50 per cent to cope with the heavy volume of home and overseas orders. Most of the demand comes from luxury liners, officials say.

SCHOOL ASSIGNMENT—Wool and rayon make the fabric with its gay red plaid which is used for the schoolgirl dress, above. Smooth feeling because of the rayon content, people who feel a scratch from wool will go for this dress. Note the pointed bib which details the bodice, and the use of both bias and straight goods in the full skirt. White pique collar and cuffs are detachable.

Apsley Personals

Mrs. Sid Pearse of Redding England is making an extended visit with her sister Mrs. Frank Tanner and family. These two sisters have not met in 27 years.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Reynolds have returned from a motor trip to Ohio and Pennsylvania. This is a well earned holiday from their duties in the Post Office.

Mrs. (Rev.) Gordon Hazlewood and Lane and Lynda are spending two weeks with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Wellington Lean, Mr. Hazlewood being in Vancouver attending General Council of United Church of Canada.

Mrs. W. Lean has returned from a trip to Severn Bridge.

A member from here attended anniversary service at St. John United Church at Paudash. Misses Joan Wagner and Marie Tucker sang a Duett.

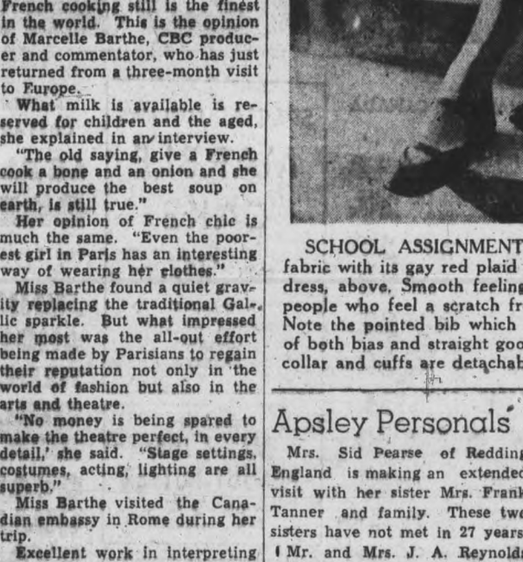
Misses Wilma and Wanda Deyell of Peterborough were recent visitor in the village.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Skelcher and children of Ajax and Mr. and Mrs. Don Carpenter and Ronnie of Barrie spent the week-end with friends here Mrs. H. Kidd of Lakefield was in the village on Monday.

Miss Thompson of Uxbridge spent the week-end with her Aunt Mrs. Kydd.

EARLY CIVILIZATION

Civilization flourished in the Egyptian Nile Valley at a time when all Europe was living in stone age barbarism.



A NEW HAT FOR THE BUDGETEER—Good looking hat, above, a team-mate for fall woollens of tailored turn, is a real budget value for all its look of custom made swank and originality. The felt is cloud white (always expensive looking) banded with forest green suede which is crossed by two gilt braid loops. The high, wide crown, the broad and curving brim, are high fashion details...and the price is really pin money. It is the product of a mass milliner who has the taste of a private salon designer.

Empire Silhouette Features Much Higher Waist-line

LONDON, Sept. 23 (CP)—The New Empire silhouette, a new and individual line, is making its bow in London this autumn.

It has, as its title suggests, a higher waist-line, and is expected to find favor because it uses a moderate amount of material in contrast to the very wide skirts introduced earlier this year.

Arthur Banks, who is primarily responsible for the introduction of the new line, carries it through from his suits for morning—where he makes a jacket half of solid color to match the skirt and a striped top which includes the sleeves and buttons to a high novel turn-over collar, strongly suggestive of a Regency neck-line.

For a semi-formal dress the higher waist is carried up to a satin band just below the bust with a striped top which shows a low decolletage only in front, the back being carried up to the nape and taking in the cap sleeves. The skirt, with its five rows of tucks, looks narrower than it is; in fact, it is easy to walk in, and is by no means of the bobble type.

On the other hand, Banks believes that the wider skirt also lends itself to the Empire line. This is achieved by the introduction of a wide hip-yoke, sloping shoulders and an adaptation of the Byron collar, often in striped taffeta on a dress of dark, solid color. The wide cape collar is interpreted in the form of a wide cape with two long wide scarf ends which are tucked beneath the belt, while the point of the cape at the back is buttoned to the dress.

Apple Days Here Again

BY KAY REX
Canadian Press Staff Writer

OTTAWA, Sept. 23 —(CP)—If the housewife wants to try a hand at some all-Canadian dessert—she doesn't have to go very far.

At her back door right now she may have a tree laden down with apples. And if not, the town market should be filled with bushels of the crisp, rosy fruit, which perhaps grow better in Canada, and in more quantity, than in any other country of the world.

To enjoy apples with baked ham the following ingredients are needed one slice of uncooked ham (about 1½ inches thick); one teaspoon dry mustard; two teaspoons vinegar; two apples; one-half cup brown sugar; one teaspoon butter.

Trim rind from ham. Mix mustard and vinegar together and spread on ham. Slice apples thinly and spread in layers on ham. Sprinkle with brown sugar and dot with butter. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees Fahrenheit) until ham is tender—about 45 minutes.

Apple cup salad makes a choice luncheon dish. Core the apple and scoop out pulp to make apple cups. Fill a bowl with cold water and as each apple cup is made, put the cup in the water.

Dice enough celery to equal one-half apple pulp. Mix celery and apple pulp with one cup cottage or cream cheese. Blend with salad dressing.

Dry apple cups and fill with mixture. Serve on crisp bends of lettuce.

And for a dessert you can never go far wrong with an apple upside-down cake.

Ingredients One-quarter cup butter; three-quarters cup brown sugar, three apples. . .One-quarter cup butter; one-third cup sugar; one egg; one-quarter cup molasses; one cup flour; one teaspoon salt; one teaspoon ginger; one-half teaspoon cinnamon; one-third cup boiling water.

Melt one-quarter cup butter in baking dish. Add the brown sugar and cook together. Pare and core apples. Cut each apple in half to make two thick rings. Arrange rings of apples in butter and sugar mixture. Cream one-quarter cup butter. Add white sugar and cream well together. Add well-beaten egg and molasses. Beat thoroughly. Sift dry ingredients and add to mixture. Lastly add boiling water, mixing quickly. Pour over apples in baking dish and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees Fahrenheit) for 40 minutes. Serves six.

Housewives have found that apples can be useful for other things as well as food. Discolored aluminum pans may be brightened by boiling apple parings in them for a time.

ALWAYS WARM AND READY—This husky coat is made of the sheared lamb and it is styled in the classic geatcoat tradition . . . but cut off shorter for a newer style. The model is just what a younger girl wants for every cold-weather purpose in her wardrobe . . . to wear over frocks, slacks, date dresses, evening dresses. This is a wonderful fur when it comes to taking wear and weather as it comes; won't curl or fade, mat or stiffen, under any snowy downpour.

Mink and Silver Fox Popular in Fall Styles

By BARBARA STEVENSON

PARIS, Sept. 23 (Reuters)—No wardrobe this season is complete without some fur. But the choice between being fur-trimmed, fur-clad or merely fur-felted or beplumed is left to the taste of the wearer.

One of the loveliest fur coats in this autumn's collections was shown by Balmain. In what is known here as platinum mink—London calls it silver mink and New York blue mink — it falls softly to a rippling hem-line.

A special feature of the latest treatment of this particular fur is its lightness. It appears to weigh no more than velvet.

Luxurious Persian lamb is treated also to give warmth without weight or bulk and fashioned in similar manner, with soft shoulders and full hem.

Balmain shows no long-haired furs this season. He uses moleskin to line a pale-blue wool coat and panther for belts, bags, hats and scarf bindings.

Raphel uses luxurious bits of fur on the pockets, removable cuffs and collars on his tailor-made costumes and jackets. Very youthful and pert was one three-quarter-length jacket in red fox, with an Eskimo hood.

Another youthful and very practical full length top-coat was made of raccoon, treated in the same way as mink to give it a silver-blue tone. This model had a full back and soft collar, the new color giving this practical fur a deceptively fragile appearance.

Seal and Ocelot

Dior used a five-inch band of seal around the hem of a skirt, and stable to cover the seams and trim another skirt. Ocelot was used for a pointed cloche, to edge a big scarf, and as a belt on one of his winged "fly-away" models.

He also showed a jacket and hat in silver fox — a fur used by several houses, too, for hats.

The 1948 version fur hat is shaved on top and fashioned like a beret, the long-haired edge giving a rolled-brim effect.

The most impractical but effective note in the fur picture is also fashioned from sliver fox: a flaring removable peplum shown by several houses. Ranging from 4 to 12 inches wide, it is fitted over a coat-dress to turn it into a suit.

Jacques Fath is partial to fur-trimmed suits, using silver beaver on a jewel-toned mauve wool and black Persian lamb on sapphire blue. Both coats were very plain with long, straight jackets.

A Fath collection would not be complete without a lavish display of silver fox. One of his models this season is a complete side-wrap-around, lavishly bound with silver white fox.

Furs Chez Heim are traditional and also a good deal more reasonable than one generally expects of a Parisian fashion house. His debutantes' department gives him scope for the more sporty type of coat in practical furs such as mouton, minked muskrat, and raccoon.

For more dressy models he uses a new silhouette, with high collar, large and roomy top and luxurious, loose wrap-around effect below. Mole and coney are dyed to harmonize with fabrics for use as linings and for little toques or cloches, worn well over the ears.

Tea Arranged October 1st

A meeting of the WMS was held at Trinity Church parlors Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. W. T. Fanjoy presiding. Plans were completed for the Thanksgiving tea on Friday, October 1. All members were urged to attend the sectional rally on September 29 at Stewart Hall. It was learned with regret that the secretary, Mrs. J. Colling, is resigning. Mrs. H. Martin read an article on "Christian Stewardship." Mrs. O. Taylor, literature secretary, gave a report. Mrs. W. T. Edmondson's group was in charge of the program and Mrs. Fanjoy and Mrs. H. T. Rehill assisted in the worship service. The life of Margaret Li, Chinese Christian, as portrayed in "West of the Gorges," new WMS study book, was presented by group members. A question period followed during which customs, people and home life in Western China were discussed.

Moore-Scriver

HASTINGS, Sept. 23.—(ENS).—The marriage of Winnifred Eugena Scriver, daughter of Mr. T. E. Scriver of Wolsely, Saskatchewan, and formerly of Hastings, and the late Mrs. Scriver, to Ronald Stewart Moore, of Swan River, Manitoba, was solemnized Saturday evening by the Rev. A. M. J. Gray, at the home of the bride's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Scriver in Manitoba. White gladioli decorated the drawing room for the occasion.

An afternoon frock of raspberry crepe fashioned with a high rolled collar and buttoned down the back with self-covered buttons was chosen by the bride for her wedding. The skirt was plain in front and draped from the hips, forming a slight bustle in the back. Her hat was of black felt in tam style and she wore a corsage of Johanna Hill roses. She was unattended.

A reception was held at the Laurentian Club and afterwards the club left for Wolsely, Sask., and Northern Manitoba, the bride travelling in a snuff brown wool suit trimmed with dark brown velvet buttons and a brown, off-the-face hat and brown accessories. They will reside at Severn River, Manitoba.

Joan Jackson in White Satin Bride of Gordon Freeman

The wedding was solemnized in All Saints' Anglican church Wednesday afternoon of Joan Selina, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vivian R. Jackson, and Harold Gordon Freeman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold G. Freeman, all of Peterborough. Their vows were pledged before the Rev. W. E. Kibblewhite. A background of vari-colored gladili and fall asters was arranged for the ceremony and Mrs. W. A. Logan played the traditional wedding march.

The bride chose white satin fashioned in a princess style with a graceful train. A sheer yoke gave the off-shoulder effect and was appliqued with satin, finished with tiny seed pearls and edged with a Bertha collar. The gown had long sleeves coming to points over the wrist. She wore a finger-tip veil of embroidered net caught to a bandeau of orange blossoms and carried red roses. Mr. Jackson gave his daughter in marriage.

Mrs. Allen Procter as matron of honor was frocked in pink Swiss embroidery made in off-shoulder style, and Miss Dorothy Jackson as bridesmaid wore powder blue taffeta with sweetheart neckline. They wore elbow-length mittens of matching lace and bandeau of flowers. Their bouquets were of pink roses and white 'mums.

The groom was attended by Mr. Allen Proctor and ushering was done by Robert Freeman and Harold Collins.

A reception was held afterward in the YWCA Green Room. The bride's mother received attired in dress of wine wool jersey, wine felt hat and corsage of white roses. The groom's mother was in a brown ensemble and had a corsage of pink roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Freeman will visit Toronto and Ottawa during their honeymoon and will reside at 173 Stewart St. When going away the bride was wearing a green wool suit with wine accessories and a corsage of white gardenias.

St. John's Church Kennedy-Clark Wedding Setting

The wedding of Eva Marion Clark to Mr. Clifford Charles Kennedy took place in St. John's Anglican Church on Saturday afternoon. The bride is a daughter of Mr. Frederick D. Clark and the groom a son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Kennedy of Havelock. Ven. Archdeacon W. P. Robertson officiated at the ceremony.

Chancel of the church was decorated with gladioli in pastel shades and banked with fern. During the signing of the register Mrs. Douglas Landry sang "O Perfect Love," accompanied by F. C. Mann, organist, who played the wedding music. Chimes were played after the service as the couple left the church.

The bride was wearing a fitted gown and long sweeping train of ivory satin. The bodice with Bishop collar was fastened to the waist with tiny buttons and the long sleeves fell in points over her hands. A crown of seed pearls held her train-length veil of fine embroidered net, and she was carrying a cascade of cream gladioli. Mr. Clark gave his daughter in marriage.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Kay Griffiths, who wore heavily blue taffeta made with shawl collar on a fitted bodice and a very full skirt. Miss Grace Stewart and Miss Jean McIntyre, as bridesmaids, were frocked alike in pink orchid taffeta and had slight trains on their gathered bustled skirts. Each wore mittens to match her gown and a halo of contrasting flowers and they carried nosegays of mixed fall flowers.

The groomsman was Mr. George Scholey, and ushers were Stanley Clark and A. R. Tompkins.

At the reception in the Parish Hall, Mrs. A. R. Tompkins, sister of the bride, received wearing black sheer dress and accessories in black and a corsage of pink gladioli. Mrs. Kennedy, mother of the groom, who also received, wore a checked suit, black accessories and a corsage of red roses.

For going away the bride wore a burgundy suit and accessories of the same and her corsage was of white gladioli. Following their honeymoon, at Kenwick-on-the-Lake, Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy will live at 680 Frank St. until completion of their new home in the city.

WMS Selling Cards For Christmas

After Auxiliary of St. Andrew's WMS first fall meeting was held Tuesday afternoon in the church parlors. Mrs. F. W. K. Harris, president, opened the meeting with devotions. She welcomed Mrs. F. Pilling, who has been on vacation to England. She also paid tribute to the late Mrs. L. A. Shearer, one of the older members.

Business followed with reports from the secretaries.

Tickets were on sale for the tea to be held Thursday, October 14, at the YWCA by the Local Council of Women.

Miss A. Moir read interesting letters from former members, expressing delight at hearing from the WMS.

Mrs. E. Hawley reported 10 calls made to homes and hospital during the month of August.

Mrs. F. Turner was guest soloist for the afternoon and was accompanied by Mrs. L. McNeill at the piano.

The M. J. Kerr group were in charge of the devotions on the theme, "The Faith Whereby the Church Must Live." Mrs. F. McNeely, Mrs. E. F. Reid and Mrs. F. Langton read passages of scripture, followed with prayer by Mrs. C. W. Holman. Mrs. H. Tremaine gave a brief report on Canada's position and responsibility to the displaced persons who come to Canada.

Mrs. J. Jessen, a guest of WMS, related experiences in coming to Canada several years ago.

Mrs. M. J. Aiken gave a summary of events that took place prior to the meeting of the Council of Churches held in Amsterdam recently.

Mrs. F. McNeely was in charge of display and selling of Christmas cards.

Mrs. Harris closed with prayer, after which refreshments were served by Mrs. H. Davis and Mrs. F. Langton.

Rural Girls To Study "Hospitality"

Five rural districts were represented Wednesday at a meeting to organize for Club work held in the rooms of the Peterborough Agricultural Office. Mrs. A. W. Conn, newly appointed home economist for Peterborough County, discussed the projects available and the girls chose 'hospitality' under the heading "A Club Girl Entertains" for study this fall and winter. They will also have a Garden Club in the spring.

Leaders were picked to attend a "Leaders' Training School" under direction of Mrs. Conn, to be held November 4 and 5 in the agriculture office, Simcoe St. Women's Institutes represented are Warsaw, Lakefield, Norwood, and Buckhorn, and Peterborough Junior Farmer Girls. It is expected other Institutes in the county will also send leaders for training.

The course will consider hospitality in the home, family meals teas and parties and similar hospitality in the club. They will learn how to plan and prepare refreshments for various occasions. These leaders will then conduct about eight meetings during the season with girls of 12 to 26 years in their own community.

Culmination will be "Achievement Day" in late spring when girls will bring in exhibits, do some judging, and present skits and demonstrations on the work.

Nutrition, clothing and housefurnishing are projects to be studied later in conjunction with gardening each year.

Prizes were presented after dinner by Mrs. Jack Cranfield. Miss Norma Shaughnessy, group captain, was also presented with a gift in appreciation for handling a very successful season. The door prize was won by Miss Jean Cranfield, a dinner guest.

The table was centred with a bowl of bronze 'mums and places marked with attractive cards made by Miss Joan Rahmel.

The Harrison Trophy for business girls' club championship, also the H. L. Garner Trophy for business girls' handicap competition, will be presented at the Club's closing day banquet on Saturday, September 25.

Nurses Plan Tea On November 13

Civic Hosital Alumnae Association held their first fall meeting Wednesday evening in the Argyle St. nurses' residence with 48 present. A delicious potluck supper preceded the general meeting, and was convened by Miss Mary Greer and Mrs. Walter Jones. Mrs. M. B. Pringle presided and roll call and minutes were read by secretary Miss Mary Robson and the treasurer's report by Miss Jean Gillespie. Correspondence was read by Mrs. D. Snelgrove, a report of the flower committee by Miss M. Langmaid, convener, hospitality by Mrs. D. Hill, program by Mrs. P. Logan, and bazaar by Mrs. E. Wellman.

Plans for the annual Purple and Gold tea to be held in the YWCA on Saturday, November 13, were discussed at length. It was decided to have a home cooking table.

Miss A. L. Thomson gave an informative and instructive talk on the Registered Nurses' Association of Ontario, tracing the professional organization from the Alumnae Association up to International Council of nurses. A humorous resume of her trip to the east coast this summer was given by Miss Shirley Beer.

Miss M. Pickens adjourned the meeting, and Mrs. E. Wellman invited members to her home on George St. for the October meeting.

Will Observe Golden Wedding On October 11

HAVELOCK, Sept. 23 (ENS)— Mr. and Mrs. David Seabrook will celebrate their golden Wedding anniversary at the home of their son-in-law and daughter Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ellis, Belmont Township, on Thanksgiving Day, Monday October 11. Their marriage took place in Oct. 13, 1898, but the celebration is being held in the holiday in order that members of the family living at a disturbance may be present. Mr. Seabrook 78, was born in the township of Asphodel and came to Belmont when 8 years old. He joined Havelock L.O.L. at 19 years. He has the honor being the oldest member of that order.

The celebration will take the form of a dinner party to be held on the lawn, weather permitting.

Sixty-three guests are expected which will include two sets of 4 generations of the Seabrook family.

DOROTHY DIX

Working Wives Too Often Let Husband Ease Up

Whether more husbands are getting to be tightwads, or whether wives are more resentful at being unpaid slaves than they used to be, deponent sayeth not, but certain it is that the money question is becoming a burning issue in many homes and is paving a hot road to the divorce court.

Dorothy Dix

Probably bridegrooms always had their tongues in their cheeks when they swore at the altar to endow their brides with all their worldy goods. Maybe they seriously, but, anyway, it is a curious fact that the emancipation of women has ironically enough resulted in the emancipation of men, multitudes of whom seem to feel that they have no responsibility whatever for the support of their families.

Naturally there was great rejoicing when the doors of opportunity were opened to women and they began to get paid for their work and had money of their own in their pockets, but their jubilation has been short lived, for they have found out that the working wife is all that the term implies.

Added Chores

The optimistic bride has discovered that a job isn't the bridge that would carry her over from the schoolroom to the alter, as she expected. It is a treadmill from which she rarely escapes, and instead of her being able to give up her job when she married she has had to add to her work a lot of additional chores, such as doing the marketing, the laundering, the cooking, etc., to say nothing of baby-tending.

Of course, occasionally, there is a domestic-minded man who lends a helping hand with the cooking and the dish-washing, but these are rare birds who are found oftener in museums than in kitchens. The average man's theory about the division of labor in the home is "let Georgina do it."

We do not think of fortune hunting being a popular avocation with American men, but thousands of Weary Willies give up their jobs just as soon as they have married girls who draw down good salaries, and thereafter they spend their lives in pool rooms and on golf links and in having affairs with girls who don't look so tired as working wives do.

And every street is filled with boarding houses that are run by women who support loafing husbands. Nor do the men who are good money-makers themselves always feel that they are in duty bound to support their families. On the contrary, many of them turn the matter entirely over to their wives.

My mail is hot with the letters from the wives who tell me that although their husbands command good salaries, they refuse to pay any of the household bills. Many of these Scrooges compel their wives to turn over their salaries to them, and the wives never get a penny of the money they have while a lazy husband takes it easy, that she hasn't had a new dress in years. She wears the castoff clothes of her sisters.

Nothing could be more pitiful than the lot of these working wives who thought they were to be their husbands' help mates, mates, but find that they are nothgoing to be their husbands' help factory or an office and then come home to wash and cook and clean, a lazy husband takes it easy, and and a stingy one robs her of even her carfare and threatens to take her children away from her if she even tries to make a break for freedom.

A mean, stingy husband is the most contemptible creature on earth, but let us thank God that he is still in the minority and that the great majority of husbands are good and kind and generous and the answer to every woman's prayer.

Of Interest to Women

A SMART SILVER BLUE CAPE (at right), suitable for either daytime or evening wear. To the left is pictured a new treatment of the shawl collar which will be much in vogue this coming season.

2 tins canned red kidney beans OR 1 lb. red kidney beans soaked overnight and precooked. Saute the onions and green pepper in the hot fat in frying-pan until tender. Add the cubed beef and suet, and saute uncovered until they are golden on all sides. Add the boiling water, tomato juice or paste, chili powder which has been mixed to a smooth paste with the ¼ cup cold water, salt, sugar, and minced garlic. Cover and simmer for 1 hour. Remove cover, and simmer ½ hour or until meat is tender. If needed add a little hot water At about 10 minutes before serving time add the kidney beans, heat through. Taste to see if it needs more chili powder or salt for your taste. We think this is best served with toasted dark rye bread.

✧ ✧ ✧

QUESTION: You mentioned your homemade mayonnaise in to-day's column. Could you give me the recipe, as I find it expensive. And do you think I could make it with a hand - beater? Thank you for your hints.

Dorothy G.

ANSWER: For years before I had my electric beater I made mayonnaise with a strong rotary beater. Even with the high cost of corn oil it actually turns out to be less expensive to make your own mayonnaise than to buy it. I have a suggestion to make. Boiled dressing is much less expensive; if it is made extra thick it may be added in the proportions of half and half—to mayonnaise and makes a dressing that is very popular, and keeps well, if covered and refrigerated.

Into cold bowl put three egg yolks and add 1 tablespoon each salt, sugar and dry mustard. Beat until very thick. Add 1 tablespoon cold oil, beat 25 turns, add another tablespoons cold oil, beat 25 turns and continue until ½ cup oil is used. Then add oil 2 tablespoons at a time, between 25 turns of beater until 3 cups of oil are added. At end of every half cup of oil add 1 tablespoon lemon juice. If you work in this slow way you will never have the oil separate from the emulsion of yolks and oil. You may use vinegar or lime juice in place of lemon if you wish.

✧ ✧ ✧

QUESTION: You printed a recipe once for a chocolate frosting beaten by standing pan in ice water—it was lovely by I have lost it.

Frieda.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: I think that is what I call Elsie's Fluffy Frosting: In cold bowl place 2 tablespoons very soft butter, 1 cup icing sugar, 1 egg, ¼ cup milk, 2 squares unsweetened melted chocolate, ½ teaspoon vanilla. Stand in large dish of ice water and beat until it stands in peaks with heavy duty rotary beater.

THE STARS SAY . . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Friday, September 24

The sidereal operations encourage concentrated efforts to achieve outstanding success, important issues and established basic interests on a practical, realistic and workable foundation. This is due to the innate tendency to indulge the imagination, idealism or vague notions in which it could be easy to mistake real values or to act on curious drives or impractical aspirations. Stick to facts and to accepted rituals for highest results, which may be intriguing and strange. At the same time look for "dreams to come true."

For The Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may not be surprised should the curious, inexplicable and bizarre complexion all their affairs, business, personal and cultural. While there is a strong creative urge to the unusual, idealistic and intriguing, with emotions and impulses keyed to the exceptional or unorthodox, sound factual issues may result in a surprising and thrilling manner. Dreams and hunches may materialize.

A child born on this day although being a "daydreamer," with ideals and imagination the compelling forces, with proper direction such faculties may realize cherished objectives. Intuition is strong.

ENQUIRY COLUMN

By MARY MOORE

QUESTION: Would you please print your recipe for Chili con Carne in your enquiry column. I have looked for it in several cook books but haven't been successful in my search. L.S.T.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER:

Chili Con Carne

One cup peeled chopped onions, 1 diced green pepper, 3 tablespoons fat or cooking oil, 2 lbs. stewing beef cut in ½-inch cubes, if available a few cubes of suet, 1 cup boiling water, 2 cups canned tomato juice or 1 cup canned tomato paste (available at most Italian grocery stores), 3 tablespoons chili powder, ½ teaspoon cayenne if desired, ¼ cup cold water, 1 to 2 teaspoons salt, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 or 2 peeled and minced cloves of garlic, 1 or 2 tins canned red kidney beans OR 1 lb. red kidney beans soaked overnight and precooked. Saute the onions and green pepper in the hot fat in frying-pan until tender. Add the cubed beef and suet, and saute uncovered until they are golden on all sides. Add the boiling water, tomato juice or paste, chili powder which has been mixed to a smooth paste with the ¼ cup cold water, salt, sugar, and minced garlic. Cover and simmer for 1 hour. Remove cover, and simmer ½ hour or until meat is tender. If needed add a little hot water At about 10 minutes before serving time add the kidney beans, heat through. Taste to see if it needs more chili powder or salt for your taste. We think this is best served with toasted dark rye bread.

6—In Memoriams

AKERS—In loving memory of a dear sister and mother, Mrs Ada T. Akers, who passed away September 23, 1946.
We walked together, you and I,
In sorrow and in joy;
We shared our pains and happiness
With love without alloy
And death shall never end our love,
For through the mist I see
Our glad reunion in the skies
For all eternity.
—Sadly missed and lovingly remembered by sister Annie, children Hilda, William, Lillian and families.

BRADY—In loving memory of a dear son and brother, Charles John Brady, R.C.A.F., killed in operations overseas (Germany), September 22, 1944.
Oh what would I give to clasp his hand
His dear kind face to see
To hear his voice to see his smile
Which meant so much to me
—Forever loved in life and death by his mother, brother Bill and sister

CAVALIER—In loving memory of our darling daughter, Janie, who was killed 2 years ago today.
Time speeds on, two years have passed,
Since death its gloom, its shadows cast
Within our home, where all seemed bright
And took from us a shining light,
We miss that light, and ever will,
Down here we mourn, but not in vain
For up in Heaven we will meet again.
—Ever remembered by mother and father.

CAVALIER—In loving memory of our darling, Jane Cavalier, who was killed two years ago today, September 23, 1946.
A beautiful memory dearer than gold,
Of a darling whose worth can never be told,
Alone unseen she stands by our sides
And whispers don't grieve, death cannot divide.
Deep in our hearts her memory is kept
Of one we loved and cannot forget.
And though the years may be many or few,
We will always be thinking dear Janie of you.
—Lovingly remembered by gramma and grandpa and Aunt Barbara and Harold.

Lady Cripps Finds Britain Full "Of Inspiration"

OTTAWA, Sept. 23 — (CP). — While there may not be much "gaiety" in life for many Britishers, the wife of Sir Stafford Cripps said today that she had found the present-day Britain "full of inspiration."

In a speech prepared for delivery to a luncheon meeting of the Women's Canadian Club, Lady Cripps described how Britain's men and women were striving to bring the country back to its prewar plenty. She said she had found "real inspiration" in what I see and know is taking place."

Making clear that she was speaking "in no way as the wife of the British Chancellor of the Exchequer," Lady Cripps described as "most encouraging" the situation of the last few months when "through effort on the part of the whole country, there has been an economic improvement, prices have steadied down and, on the whole, goods are more plentiful."

". . . But we know that a continual and great effort must be maintained, and that we must still further increase our exports, and deny our home market in order to live," she said.

Expressing thanks to Canadians who have sent parcels to Britain, she said these gifts, which have been chiefly of food, are a "tremendous boon and pleasure.

"We know our rations to be such to supply all, with a fair standard of health, but it is on a minimum basis," she said. "Apart from this the diet is pretty dull and monotonous, and often the already overtired housewife has to search from place to place if she wants to get variety for her family's fare."

BABY'S UPSET STOMACH QUICKLY CORRECTED

BABY'S little "Tummy" is often easily upset. It is easily righted again, too, if you know just how to do it. Let Mrs. M. S. Alwar, of London, Ont., tell you: "Baby's Own Tablets are a great help at the first sign of upset stomach, during teething time or when a cold is coming on. They work quickly yet gently to carry away poisons and promote restful comfort."

And Mrs. W. R. Sharp says: "I nursed my baby shortly after being alarmed over a motor accident and her stomach became quite upset. I gave her Baby's Own Tablets and she soon stopped crying — and quieted down."

Equally effective for teething troubles, constipation, simple fever. Sweet-tasting, easily crushed to a powder, if desired — prompt in action. No "sleepy" stuff — no dulling effect. Buy a box today for sickness so often strikes in the night. 25 cents.

Warkworth Wins Semi Final Drama Festival

Semi-finals of the drama festival of the Bay of Quinte United Church Y.P.U. Conference were held on Wednesday evening at Mark St. United Church. Warkworth, representing Cobourg Presbytery, were awarded a dozen more points by the adjudicator, Peter McCombe, of Peterborough, than Coe Hill, representing Belleville Presbytery, and so will present their burlesque one-act play at the Conference convention to be held at St. James' United Church, October 16 to 18.

Taking part in Warkworth's "Object Matrimony" were Jack Honey, Marion Stillman, Murray Laver, Keitha Greenly, Alan Buchanan, Mrs. Olga Evans, Douglas Edgar, Zella Gummer, Helen Denike, Howard Evans, Mrs. Norma McLeary, Carman Carr, Ina Shaw and Gordon Platt. The producer was Mrs. Lorne Evans.

Coe Hill presented a one-act comedy, "Home to Mother," produced by Mrs. Shirley Turner assisted by Eileen Whitmore. Those taking part were Clarke Terrill, Eva Terrill, Marjorie Martin, Phyllis Giles, Betty Campbell and Dale Hunter.

The evening was organized by Hilda Northey, culture convener of Peterborough Presbytery. The Rev. Frank Whiteley, of Oshawa, formerly minister at Coe Hill, opened the meeting with a short prayer.

Claims No Bias In Press Report

"There certainly was nothing biased in the report The Examiner obtained from this office," said City Clerk Outram this morning, referring to the ascription of Dr. R. A. Kelly, MOH, of bias in a report of the Board of Health relating to the Worton incident.

"I don't want to get drawn into any controversy, but my name has been mentioned in discussions in regard to alleged bias, and I just want to keep the record clear," Mr. Outram said. "The Examiner printed the minutes of that first meeting of the board since last June, as I read from my minutes book. To repeat it: "Moved by Dr. R. A. Kelly and seconded by Mayor Ovens, that Dr. Harold Worton be granted leave of absence for eight months on full salary."

"There can't be any suggestion of bias in a statement like that because it is without any comment whatever. I is only a record of what took place, and there can't be any suggestion of bias about it. And that is how The Examiner reported it. The giving of such information is a frequent bit of office routine and it is going to continue so long as I have anything to do with it."

Mr. Outram said his concern was to prevent any idea getting about that he had bias against the medical officer of health or anybody else, and particularly in the matter of his own personal duties as the clerk of the Board of Health.

Huge Ball Of Fire Noticed In Sky

"It was like a huge ball of fire in the sky" was the description given by Joseph Finn of R.R. 3, Indian River, of a phenomenon which he saw last week over his home. He said that it was about 3 o'clock Thursday morning when he was called by a sister to see the amazing display. They watched for an hour and a half.

The light, which was on the east horizon, filled the sky with a bright red glow. It rose in an arc and then two crossed pieces of light seemed to form beneath it. It disappeared gradually.

Mr. Finn added that he had been unsuccessful in inquiries in the district for other persons who may have seen the mysterious glow. No satisfactory explanation has been advenced for it.

Hospital Workers Are Entertained

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon K. Fraser, Burleigh Falls, were at home Wednesday evening to the Board of Governors of Peterborough Civic Hospital and Life Members and Board of Directors of the Hospital Women's Auxiliary. Logs burning briskly in the huge fireplace added to the welcome extended by the host and hostess in their beautiful home with its natural surroundings and garden, exceptionally colorful at this season.

Refreshments were served cafeteria style with members of the Auxiliary Board assisting. Appreciation of the hospitality was expressed by Mrs. Frank Neal, representing the life members, Mrs. Ross Williamson, president of the Women's Auxiliary, and Mr. Melville Johnston on behalf of the Board of Governors.

Fewer Teachers More Students In Manitoba

WINNIPEG, Sept. 23—(CP).—Qualified teachers are at a premium in Manitoba.

The provincial department of education already has issued permits to about 500 persons with grade XI and XII standing who attended a six weeks' training course this summer.

In the last school year 16.3 per cent of all teachers in the province held special permits. Of the 876 students who taught under permit in 1946-47, 562 took the short training course.

Permit teaching in recent years goes back to 1940. After only one year of war the profession was sufficiently affected to necessitate employing of 21 permit teachers. In the next school year the number was increased to 129, and it has risen since.

Permits are good for only one year in the specific school they mention. Should a student wish to break his professional training with periods of teaching he is required to do one year's academic work before taking another teaching appointment.

By 1946-47, the number of teachers trained at normal school and by the faculty of education was said to be adequate to meet average yearly replacements. Authorities also felt some progress was being made toward reducing the backlog which had grown up during the war years.

Steady Increase

There has been a steady increase in enrolment at both teachers' training centres.

Like other professions which rely on a large number of young women, teaching is seriously affected by the marriage rate.

The average career of a teacher is 10 years. There is an estimated loss of 30 per cent in the first year. Within the first three years the loss climbs to 50 per cent.

Annual minimum salary for teachers with a grade XII education and one year's normal training was raised this year from $1,000 to $1,200. University graduates with one year's professional training receive an average starting wage of $2,000.

Among teachers' organizations, financial complaints now are largely directed at the lack of over-all salary schedules. There is agitation for regular annual increases based on professional training and experience.

Lack of security of tenure is another grievance. Fear of isolation deters university students from entering the profession; many rural teachers are in accord with this feeling.

Three Edmonton Kids Run Hand-Car "Taxi"

EDMONTON, Sept. 23 (CP). — Three Edmonton youngsters have turned out a working and profitable version of the horseless carriage.

The three—Grant Bryenton, 13, Donald Carle, 13, and Allan Brookes, 12—have put into operation the "93 Street Taxi" a frail but serviceable contraption that operates on the same principle as the railway hand car.

Two operators sit at each side of the car, pumping oars attached to bars that turn the wheels. Passengers ride standing in the back.

Made of a few scraps of lumber and old bicycle rims, the vehicle runs up and down 93 Street carrying youngsters at the rate of one cent a block.

Since the start of the business in June, Manager Bryenton said the company has made a profit of 76 cents.

New York Yankees' Charles (Red) Ruffing stopped Washington Senators' bid for American League baseball pennant 16 years ago today by handcuffing the Nats with three hits in 10 innings. The big redhead won his own game when he drove in the winning run with a single hit in the last of the 10th.

Walters Quits Pitching

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 23 — (AP). — Bucky Walters, manager of Cincinnati Reds, handed pitcher Bucky Walters his release today. Walters, who replaced Johnny Neun as boss of the Redlegs last month, said he was stepping out of the active playing ranks for the season to make room for Steve Filipowicz, ex-Fordham football star who is getting a tryout as Cincinnati outfielder.

Regains Consciousness

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 23 (AP). —Actress Rita Johnson has regained consciousness in hospital after being in a coma for 16 days. A nurse said Wednesday that Miss Johnson could recognize persons in the hospital room but still was unable to talk. The actress was injured Sept. 6. Investigators believe a heavy hair-drier fell on her head.

TWO HUDSON'S BAY Scholarship winners, Norman Haden, of Birmingham, England, and Anthony Kerr, of Glasgow, Scotland (left), arrived in Montreal recently. Continuing studies of business methods, Haden will stay in Montreal and attend McGill University, while Kerr will go to the University of Toronto for a year.

World News In Brief

Taken from Wires of Canadian Press.

REGINA — The world-famed RCMP musical ride returns October 2, when the precision squad of 35 men and coal-black horses keeps a date at Portland, Ore., International Livestock Exposition, Inc. Next Tuesday, the squad leaves for Lethbridge, Alberta, in the first leg of a trek postponed nine years ago by war. From the show scheduled there October 2-9, the troupe moves to Harrisburg, Pa., for the Pennsylvania National Horse Show Association Show and thence to New York City for the National Horse Show Association of America Show November 2-9.

GUELPH — Completing a railroading career with the Canadian Pacific Railway which started 42 years ago, Conductor Bill Kellett of Guelph made his final run on Tuesday. Kellett, who retires to-day, was greeted by a group of railway officials and fellow-workers as he stepped down from his train for the last time in an official capacity.

FARGO, ND. — Children in a dozen public schools in North Dakota are getting accustomed to a novel sight—Roman Catholic sisters in modern dress. About 60 nuns are continuing teaching in those schools. By wearing ordinary dresses, they are complying with a law approved by North Dakota voters last spring which forbids any public school teacher from wearing garb denoting the membership in a religious order. The switch to modern dress in the 12 public schools was made after the Catholic church encouraged such a move.

LONDON, Eng.—The Earl of Craven, 31, was ordered imprisoned until he pays for the maintenance of his estranged actress wife and eight-year-old daughter. The Earl, who did not appear in court, was charged with disregarding a court order issued last July to pay £370 ($1,480) for maintenance of his family.

ENGLEHART.— J. Fraser, 69, was fatally burned when a can of gasoline exploded on his farm. He was discovered by his wife in a field after he had attempted to burn out a weed patch with gasoline-soaked rags. He was brought to hospital where he died.

LONDON, Eng. — The Central Land Board announced it will intervene in United Kingdom real estate transactions if the price asked is too high and may buy land compulsorily at a rate it considers proper. The board said land still is being bought and sold at prices inclusive of development value, although the New Town Planning Act which came into effect this summer provides that it must be exchanged at its "existing use value."

NEW YORK.—The New York Sun says in a Washington dispatch it has learned Arthur Adams is the Soviet agent who obtained files from Oak Ridge, Tenn., for transmission to Russia, according to a report compiled by the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Adams, accused of atomic bomb explonage by the House of Representatives Committee on Un-American Activities, is reported to be a Finn who spent some years in Canada.

TORONTO. — Premier Drew, acting in his capacity of Provincial Minister of Education, officially opened the Ryerson Institute of Technology in the old Toronto Normal School which during the war served as an RCAF station.

OTTAWA. — Discovery by an RCAF photographic crew of two previously-unknown Arctic islands off the west coast of Baffin Island was reported at Air Force headquarters. The islands, larger of which is between two and three times the size of Prince Edward Island, lie close together in Foxe Basin. They were found by the crew of a Lancaster of No. 413 photo survey squadron which has been engaged in the aerial photography of Baffin Island.

WARSAW. — Polish leftist Socialists purged more than a score of top party men. The move was part of a big clean-up to pave the way for absorption of the party by the Communists. The party's council swept its leadership clean of all suspected of rightist or nationalist leanings or those who opposed giving in to Communist demands.

SANFORD, Man. — Manitoba Pool Elevator No. 142, run by Sanford Co-operative, was almost completely destroyed by fire of undetermined origin which caused damage estimated at $300,000. The elevator contained 68,000 bushels of grain.

Fully Recovered

WASHINGTON. — Mrs. Hazel Lorimer, 35, who recently received three complete changes of blood in 12 hours during emergency treatment for a hemorrhage was released from hospital fully recovered. Hospital authorities said she had received 20 pints of whole blood and 12 pints of blood plasma in 32 separate transfusions Sept. 10.

HOLLYWOOD. — Carmen Miranda, fiery South American actress and singer, is going to have a baby, her agent said. She and her husband, film producer David Sebastian, expect an heir next May. It will be their first.

DARMSTADT, Germany. — United States authorities have forbidden a Nazi doctor to perform a delicate operation on the denazification prosecutor at an internment camp here. The doctor, Robert Neumann, allegedly caused the death of many prisoners at Buchenwald concentration camp by the same operation. The prosecutor, suffering from a liver complaint, had asked Neumann to perform the operation.

LONDON, Eng.—Music by Sir Arthur Sullivan was played and sung at a memorial service for Rupert D'Oyly Carte, head of the D'Oyly Carte Opera Company, who died 11 years ago.

HONG KONG. — A check-up showed that 135 persons died in Wednesday's fire disaster on Hong Kong's waterfront. Firemen have recovered 115 charred and unrecognizable bodies from the upper floors of the tenement building where the fire started. Sixty-six persons were taken to hospital with burns and other injuries.

LONDON.—Sir Eric MacLagan, chairman of the British Council of Fine Arts Committee, will fly to Canada Oct. 5 for a five-week lecture tour.

BERLIN. — Gertrud Paulinski, 51, German "Queen of the Pickpockets," who boasted that her hand "never came empty from a dip," has bee sentenced to two years in jail by a Hanover court. She had a record of 1,000 offences.

LONDON, Eng.—The British destroyers Fame and Hotspur have been sold to the Dominican Republic, the Admiralty announced.

LONDON, Eng.—Exarch Stefan, head of the Bulgarian Orthodox Church, has resigned after differences with the government. The government accused him of taking insufficient action against clergy recently arrested for political reasons.

LONDON, Eng.—Colonial Secretary Arthur Creech Jones told Parliament the Government had accepted with a few minor reservations a report proposing that British troops be stationed permanently in the protectorate of Aden to prevent possible recurrence of anti-Jewish riots.

ROME.—Italy's Chamber of Deputies approved a general budget providing a deficit of 374,000,000,000 lire ($623,000,000) for the coming year. This year's deficit was 721,000,000,000 lire.

WELLAND — Electrical engineer Robert William Scott, 61, died at his home. He was former manager of the Hydro Commission here. A native of South Africa, he is survived by his widow and two sons.

ST. CATHARINES — Police thought a resident of nearby Jordan was drunk when he passed out in a beer parlor. However in court it turned out that he had obtained some sleeping pills from his doctor for insomnia, took some of them just before drinking one beer and promptly passed out.

Sheet Nylon Aids In Healing Wounds

BIRMINGHAM, England, Sept. 23 — (CP). — Nylon, which gave the world new-type stockings and tooth brushes, may now revolutionize the dressing of wounds.

Three young British doctors of an industrial medicine research unit at Birmingham Accidents Hospital have found that nylon in sheet form can be used as a transparent dressing which need not be removed until the wound has healed.

Dr. J. R. Squire, leader of the team which is backed by the Medical Research Council, said:

"The new dressing keeps bacteria, dirt and moisture out but allows perspiration to escape so that the skin, though covered remains healthy and dry.

"And as you can see through the dressing without taking it off, the risk of infection is reduced."

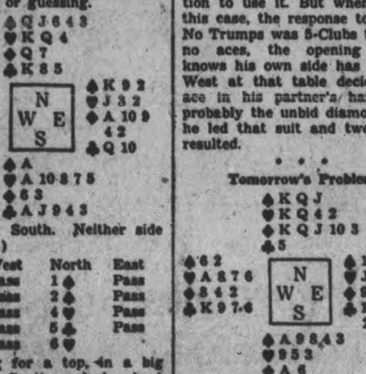
BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

WHY FAVOR BLACKWOOD?

THERE is one very simple reason why many first-rank players like to use the Blackwood slam convention, but never would employ the Culbertson 4-5 No Trump convention. It is because the latter gives the opponents too much information, announcing whether the declarer's side has all the aces or not. The Blackwood gives no such information. The maker of the 4-No Trumps bid under it tells nothing about his number of aces, but only asks how many his partner has. Hence the opponents can't tell how many the asker holds, except through estimating or guessing.



(Dealer: South. Neither side vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1 ♥	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
2 ♣	Pass	2 ♠	Pass
3 ♣	Pass	4 ♥	Pass
4 NT	Pass	5 ♣	Pass
5 NT	Pass	6 ♥

Shooting for a top, in a big duplicate, South asked about kings with the Blackwood 5-No Trumps after the response to the 4-No Trumps told him North had not the missing ace. West was unable to know whether South had all four aces himself and was merely hoping North had three kings in order to seek the grand slam. So he decided to try the "safe" lead of a trump, his 9. That enabled South to get rid of his two diamonds on spades, which he established by means of a ruffing finesse, to take all 13 tricks.

At one table of the same game, South and his partner were using the Culbertson 4-5 No Trump convention, whereby both the 4-No Trumps and its response give information. That has its advantages, as placing information in the possession of both partners, either of whom may be in position to use it. But when, as in this case, the response to the 4-No Trumps was 5-Clubs to show no aces, the opening leader knows his own side has an ace. West at that table decided the ace in his partner's hand was probably the unbid diamonds. So he led that suit and two tricks resulted.

Show Movie Mental Health

OMEMEE, Sept. 23—(ENS).—The Omemee Home and School Association started a new season Monday evening when 50 were present to see the film, "The Feeling of Rejection" which was introduced and commented upon by Mrs. M. Webster, VON, who is a graduate of the Ontario Hospital, Whitby and who has taken advanced work in psychiatric nursing in McGill University.

She was accompanied by Miss R. Aiken of the Public Health Department, Peterborough.

The meeting was in charge of the new president, Miss S. Northey.

Principal J. Hough addressed the meeting briefly, saying that the co-operation of teachers, pupils and parents upon which the success of a school depends, was characteristic of Omemee school. He introduced Miss Dunn, who has joined the high school staff as teacher of English and French. Mrs. Northey also welcomed her on behalf of the Home and School group.

T. M. Curtis was authorized to secure frames for music festival certificates and one for the Home and School Association charter.

The parents' roll call declared Miss Lamb's room holder of the shield for the month.

A motion by Mrs. A. Stephenson and Mrs. V. E. R. Zufelt to give a treat to the room receiving the shield most often during the year was carried.

It was voted to serve lemonade to the students of the public and the high school during intermissions in the sports on their respective field days.

A committee of management consists of Mrs. Zufelt, Mrs. Stephenson and Mrs. G. Robertson.

Mrs. Roland Clifford was presented with a past president's pin as a token of appreciation for two years' service. The address was given by Mrs. Stephenson and the pin presented by Mrs. Northey.

A reading was given by Miss M. Rea and Mrs. J. Hayes sang two songs. She was accompanied on the piano by Miss L. Rae.

The film, "The Feeling of Rejections," sponsored by the Department of National Health and Welfare, was much enjoyed. Mrs. Webster presented some startling facts regarding mental illness and its causes which often have their beginnings early in a child's life. Mental illness, she said, was nearly always due to emotional factors. One out of every two children never reach their full capacity in life because of emotional disorder.

Mr. Curtis moved a vote of thanks to those taking part in the program and to the program committee, Mrs. Hough, Mrs. Zufelt and Miss J. Lamb.

Refreshments were served by the social committee, Mrs. Robertson, Mrs. Given and Mrs. Rocky Clifford.
